Highway 67 Construction Project Website Now Available —Construction Will Start Soon

This year, Highway 67 through the Village of Campbellsport will be receiving a major facelift. The state is planning to reconstruct the roadway and the village is planning to replace the sewer laterals and water mains in that area.

This will be a huge project, which is expected to start next month and should be completed in December.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Northeast Region has announced a project website with information on the upcoming construction project. The project website can be found at <https://projects.511wi.gov/67urban/>.

A virtual meeting about the project is also being planned. The date and time for this meeting will be given on this website when it is available.

An urban reconstruction on 2.2 miles of Highway 67 through the village of Campbellsport will take place in 2021. Construction is expected to begin in March and finish in December. WIS 67 will be closed to through traffic during construction. Local access will be maintained. The website includes construction details, traffic impacts, detour maps and temporary signing information for businesses.

Virtual Story Time Connects With Children

By Anne Trautner

Every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m., families tune into Facebook so children can attend the Kewaskum Public Library's Virtual Story Time.

Kim Kluge, known by the young readers as "Miss Kim," greets the children by name each week. With a big smile, she waves to the children and thanks them for joining.

The Virtual Story Time has been popular. Many of the children know Miss Kim, who is the youth services librarian, from attending Story Time when it was held in-person at the library.

"We have had a lot of participation. Since people aren't able to make it to the in-person program, they still have something to do, which I think is awesome," Miss Kim said.

She tries to connect with the children through the computer, saying things like

"Oh you guys, this is so cool," or "Doesn't that rainbow look so wonderful?" Families are able to interact by typing messages on Facebook during the broadcast.

When the COVID-19 pandemic hit last year and groups were not permitted to gather, the format of Story Time had to be changed.

Miss Kim decided to use Facebook Live as a way to reach families. At first, she had to broadcast Story Time from her home.

She adjusted to talking to children through her computer. But she had to deal with some technical issues.

"Sometimes my internet itself can be a little quirky. I know the connections around here are kind of funny, just because of living in a rural area like this," Miss Kim said.

And she learned to cope with Facebook when it updates its programming.

"We did experience that one week when Facebook wanted us to download a different version, but it wasn't compatible with the internet browser we were using. It took me a couple hours to figure it out and get it back up and running, so I think we had Noon Story Time that day. But that's OK," Miss Kim said.

She now uses a laptop to stream the Story Time from the community room located in the village's municipal building. She accesses the internet through a library hotspot, which is also available for patrons to check out.

Because of copyright laws, Miss Kim needs to obtain permission from a book's publisher before reading that book on social media, a process that is not required for reading books at the library during traditional in-person Story Time.

Kim Kluge, youth services librarian for the Kewaskum Public Library, reads a book during a Virtual Story Time. In addition to reading stories, Miss Kim leads children in songs, fun activities and crafts during the weekly program.

Another Blow To The Free Press

By Kris Leonhardt
MMC Senior Editor

"The founding fathers gave the free press the protection it must have to fulfill its essential role in our democracy. The press was to serve the governed, not the governors."

That quote from Steven Spielberg's The Post sums up the role of media when it was created and a role media struggles to hold onto today.

The Post, released in 2017, does a great job of illustrating the struggle between the government and the press.

The movie chronicles a legal battle between the government and The Washington Post, when its publisher and editor expose a decades-long government cover up spanning four administrations. In the movie, the publication risks everything to publish the Pentagon papers and expose the corruption.

A fictionalized account of a very real battle to hold the government accountable, and one protected by our First Amendment.

Before the country's original 13 colonies declared independence, the British government made an effort to censor the established press by banning fledgling publications in the new country after they spoke out against government action.

To prevent that in the established United States of America, the First Amendment, adopted in 1791, protects the "freedom of the press."

From that day, history is filled with battles between the press and the government, as journalists serve their role and legislators serve theirs. It will always be a struggle, if the government continues to become less and less transparent and the press is forced to fill in the gaps.

The latest attempt in this matter revolves around Senate Bill 55. The bill will give local governments the option to discontinue publishing a summary of their proceedings in local publications, allowing them to post minutes to websites. State Statutes 985.01-985.15 — Publication of Legal Notes — now requires publication in print media.

This will leave some demographics unserved.

Freedom House reported that in 2017, just 13 percent of the world's population has access to free press — uncensored delivery of news in a variety of means. We continue to be at risk of losing this ourselves through a variety of means, but the restraining by government means is the most concerning.

During my time working in community media, I have watched people that I respect do great things, and I have witnessed people that I respect make bad choices that affect the public as a whole. It is our job to pursue both for the good of the community.

As staff sizes shrink across the media industry, it gets more and more difficult to cover all that needs to be addressed, but we are still providing checks and balances for the public.

While the publication you are reading may not publish government proceedings, because it is a free paper or does not fit the criteria for publication, many community publications also rely on the income to continue making ends meet.

Bill 55 will deal another blow to government transparency in several ways, but it may mean certain death to the remaining publications in some communities and leave those who still rely on local print media for their news without access.

Washington County Sheriff's Report

Fatal Snowmobile Crash

On Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 10:35 p.m. the Washington County Sheriff's Office was notified of a single snowmobile crash that occurred on the trail system in the area of Scenic Road and Pioneer Road in the Village of Richfield. The caller reported that the male operator of the snowmobile had struck a tree and was unconscious. Washington County sheriff's deputies, along with Richfield Fire and Rescue, were dispatched to the scene.

The first arriving deputy on scene was able to locate the snowmobile trail crossing of Scenic Road south of Pioneer Road and began making his way down the trail on foot. Another snowmobile operator located the deputy as well as a first responder from Richfield Fire and Rescue, and assisted in conveying them via snowmobile to the scene. The patient was unconscious and did not have a pulse. Rescue efforts were attempted by the deputy and first responder, and continued by Richfield Fire and Rescue. After he was brought out from the trail system and into an ambulance, the patient was ultimately determined to be deceased.

The Hill and Gully Snowriders Snowmobile Club, as well as multiple citizens in the area, assisted in conveying law enforcement, rescue personnel and supplies to the crash scene and in transporting the patient from the scene of the crash to the waiting ambulance.

The accident remains under investigation by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, the Wisconsin State Patrol and the Washington County Sheriff's Office. The initial investigation on scene indicated that the snowmobile operator had failed to negotiate a curve on the trail at the entrance to a wooded area and struck a tree.

The deceased operator of the snowmobile is a 32-year-old Wauwatosa man.

Wisconsin COVID-19 Vaccine Registry Launching March 1

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) is launching a new service March 1 that will help connect people with available vaccine. The Wisconsin COVID-19 Vaccine Registry will provide a central place to let people know where and when they can get vaccinated, and let them schedule an appointment.

The Wisconsin COVID-19 Vaccine Registry will be used by those who opt in and will not be a comprehensive resource for all vaccination options. Health care systems, pharmacies and local health departments may already have their own registration and scheduling software.

"This registry will be vital in our effort to get all Wisconsinites access to the COVID-19 vaccine," Governor Tony Evers said. "It will make it easier for the public to get vaccinated, and assist vaccinators in tracking available supply. It is important to remember that the vaccine supply in Wisconsin is extremely limited and that most people will not be able to get appointments to be vaccinated right away."

The vaccine registry will require people to answer several questions to determine if they are in one of the groups eligible for the COVID-19 vaccine and help them schedule an appointment. If they are not eligible, or if no appointments are currently available, they will be placed on a waiting list. Appointments can only be made through this system in communities with vaccinators who are using the vaccine registry.

In addition to helping Wisconsin residents schedule appointments for the COVID-19 vaccine, the vaccine registry can send reminders to those already vaccinated to make sure they get their second vaccine dose, as well as help them monitor for any side effects after they get the vaccine. Wisconsinites without internet access or who need help using the vaccine registry will be able to contact a call center to help guide them through the process or schedule an appointment.

A small group of local health departments will be testing the software during the week of February 22, to make sure it works. Beginning March 1, the software will be rolled out in increments to participating health departments. By April 1, DHS expects the vaccine registry will be available to all interested vaccinators in the state.

"We are thrilled to make the Wisconsin COVID-19 Vaccination Registry available to local and tribal health departments," said DHS Interim Secretary Karen Timberlake. "This registry will help make the process of getting vaccines easier for Wisconsin residents and will also help partners across the state who are administering vaccines."

The registry uses software from Microsoft for vaccination registration and administration. Wisconsin is one of several states that will be using Microsoft's software for a vaccine registry system.

For information, resources, and data related to Wisconsin's COVID-19 vaccination program, visit the COVID-19 vaccine webpage. Once the vaccine registry goes live, it will be accessible from this webpage.

Senate Bill 55: The "Pull The Wool Over The Taxpayer's Eyes" Act

Dear Reader,

They are at it again. This week the Wisconsin State Senate voted to pass SB 55 by a vote of 20 to 12. They should have called it "The Pull The Wool Over The Taxpayer's Eyes Act," because if Bill 55 is passed by the Assembly and signed by the Governor, governmental bodies would no longer be required to show their minutes and other notices in their local paper. This would make it much more difficult to find out what's going on with your government.

The background: Currently county, city, and town governments as well as school boards are required to publish their minutes and notices from governmental proceedings in the newspaper. SB 55 ends that obligation and allows these public bodies to "publish" this information on their web sites. This will dramatically increase the effort citizens need to make to follow what's going on in their local government.

How easy is it to find what you need on your local government's web site? In some rare instances, it's not too hard; but in many situations, it's extremely difficult, because the relevant page is buried in a large web site with many pages and a challenging layout.

Why does the Senate want to throw a cloak over the government? We don't know for sure, but we certainly have some questions about it. Is it because they think ordinary citizens like you and me "don't need to know about it?" Are they afraid that open access makes it easier for citizens to sniff out shady practices?

Local newspapers are one of the most trusted sources of information. Often they are the only ones sending reporters and editors to city council meetings, school board meetings, and the police beat. People would have to go to a clunky government website to see what their elected officials are up to each week. That's not a recipe for citizen involvement in our government; it's a formula for keeping citizens out of the government's hair. And sometimes getting in their hair is exactly what is called for.

We need to hold our government accountable. It should not be allowed to report on itself. Most governmental officials are honest men and women dedicated to serving the greater good of their communities. But as the saying goes, it takes only a few bad apples to ruin the barrel. A few dishonest leaders can make it difficult for everyone else. Highly visible legal notices are one way to prevent that kind of infection from taking over the government.

Please call or email your State Representatives and Governor Tony Evers to tell them to stop Bill 55. <https://docs.legis.wisconsin.gov/2021/legislators/senate> It is one more political move that just doesn't make sense.

Richard E. Schilter

It is with honor that we remember the life of Richard Erwin Schilter, who entered into peace on February 17, 2021. He was 92 years old.

Richard and his twin brother, Robert, were born on September 10, 1928 to Erwin and Lodie (Melius) Schilter. He became a U.S. Marine and was an airplane mechanic during WWII. He later met and married Rose Miracola, with whom he had five children. After Rose's unexpected passing at a young age, Richard found new love and a mother for his children in his marriage to Lorraine Schwamb in 1969. They were married for 40 years until her death in 2009. It is the love and memories of both Rose and Lorraine that have carried Richard through the past few years. We're sure they're playing cards, dancing and eating well in Heaven together. Richard worked at Badger Meter for 30+ years as an electrician and was a proud member of the IBEW Local 494 Union.

An outdoorsman at heart, Richard loved spending time with friends and family fishing, hunting, and golfing. He especially enjoyed driving to lakes across the Midwest and Canada. As a Grandpa, he spent countless hours at basketball and baseball games in Oostburg, West Bend, and across the state. But whether it was sports or education, Richard strongly believed in hard work and took pride in the achievements of his family. He was fiercely independent, but good-natured, always joking with his grandkids to "stay out of trouble." Richard also went on the Honor Flight in October 2017, accompanied by his son Raymond.

He is preceded in death by his parents, twin brother, and wives Rose (Miracola) Schilter and Lorraine (Schwamb) Schilter.

Written by Katie Evans, granddaughter of Richard Schilter.

Mary Ellen Schulz

Mary Ellen Schulz (nee Ritger) passed away on Monday, February 22, 2021 at the age of 85 years.

She was born on February 26, 1935 in Allenton to Gerhard and Gertrude (nee Aufdermauer) Ritger. On August 25, 1962 she married Donald R. Schulz and together they farmed in the Town of Wayne.

She enjoyed gardening, quilting (member of "Addison Hand Quilters"), and watching the Packers and Brewers.

Mary Ellen is survived by her eight children; Nancy, Michael, Diane (Ken) Kingery, Christine, James (Lisa), Linda (Scott) Dzimian (Scott), David (Nancy) and Julie (Daniel) Heino Jr.; and grandchildren Jacob and Martina Schulz, Daniel Heino III, Damian, Luke, and Clare Schulz, Danielle Kingery (Justin) Miller; her great-grandchildren Quinn and Wade Miller; her brothers Herbert (Shirley), Peter (Bev-erly), and sister-in-law Lillian Ritger, and brother-in-law Gerald (Elaine) Schulz.

She was preceded in death by her husband Donald, sisters Frances (Donald) Rettler and Marcia (Ronald) Jerde, brothers Anthony Ritger and LeRoy (Imelda) Ritger, and brother-in-law Allen (Patricia) Schulz.

A private Mass of Christian Burial will be held at Resurrection Catholic Church in Allenton. Final place of rest will be at Washington County Memorial Park.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

Jeanne A. Staehler

Jeanne Ann (Gill) Staehler, age 88 of Kewaskum entered eternal life on February 15, 2021 at Kettle Gardens Memory Unit, where she had been a resident for nearly nine years.

The family is not having a funeral service at this time, but plans to hold a memorial service in the future.

Jeanne Ann Gill was born March 24, 1932 in Plymouth. She was the daughter of the late Leo B. and Agnes (McMullen) Gill. Jeanne was a graduate of Plymouth High School, with the class of 1950. She married Robert "Bob" Staehler on May 9, 1953 at St. Michaels Catholic Church in Parnell.

She is survived by her husband Bob of 68 years; four children, Patrick (Deb) Staehler of Richfield, Kerry (Barb) Staehler of Wittenberg, Christine Staehler of Granger, IN, and Jack Staehler of La Grange Park, IL; nine grandchildren, Ryan (Pamela) Staehler, Adam (Jessy) Staehler, Scott (Tuesday) Staehler, Sarah (Jason) Fox, Brandon Koth, Joey Staehler, Samantha Staehler, Melisa (Matt) Britten, Matt (Kelly) Gray; and seven great-grandchildren.

Jeanne was employed in manufacturing at Regal Ware in Kewaskum for over 30 years and later was an associate at Kohl's Department Store in West Bend. She served her community in many ways over the years, including delivering communion to those unable to attend mass at Holy Trinity Catholic Church.

She took great pride in her Irish heritage and was the granddaughter of Alexander McMullen an immigrant who served in the American Civil War 27th Wisconsin Infantry from 1862 to 1865. She pursued a life-long dream traveling to Ireland to see the home of her ancestors and took the opportunity to go back to Europe for her eldest grandson's wedding in Valencia, Spain in 2005.

Like her husband, Jeanne was an avid snowmobiler and, along with Bob, carried the Torch for the Badger State Winter Games event in 1989. Together they advocated for the advancement of the sport and traveled thousands of miles on trails across the state. She was an amazing mother, had a deep bond with her three sisters and many cousins, enjoyed collecting vintage items and had a lifelong affinity for dogs. Jeanne greeted everyone with her warm and welcoming personality and was especially happy when surrounded by her family. She will be remembered as a strong woman with a soft touch whose beautiful smile and infectious laugh lit up the room.

The family would like to thank the staff at Kettle Gardens Memory Unit and Preceptor Hospice Care whose professionalism and compassion ensured Jeanne's days were filled with warmth and caring. In lieu of flowers, the family asks donations be made to the Alzheimer's Association or the charity of your choice.

Please consider signing our online guest book (www.myrhumpatten.com) to share your condolences with the family. Cards addressed to the family may be sent in care of: Myrhum - Patten Funeral and Cremation Service, 1315 W. Washington Street, West Bend, WI 53095.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral & Cremation Service of Kewaskum has been entrusted with Jeanne's arrangements.

In Memory of -

Ruben Oppermann Sr, Shirley and Ed Zastrow

You never said I'm leaving
You never said Good-bye,
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.

A million times we needed you
A million times we cried
If love alone could have saved you
You never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly
In death we love you still
In our hearts we hold a place
That only you can fill

It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone
As parts of us went with you
The day God took you home

Campbellsport Community Red Cross Blood Drive

The Campbellsport Knights of Columbus will sponsor the upcoming Red Cross Blood Drive on Tuesday, March 9, from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Campbellsport Public Library basement. Please mark your calendar and plan on responding to the plea for blood during the challenging times we are all going through.

Due to social distancing guidelines in place, it is currently appointment preferred. Wait times for walk-in donors may be long, so if at all possible, please make an appointment. To schedule an appointment, visit redcrossblood.org; or call 1-800-RED-CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Donors will be asked to wear a mask, if they do not have a mask, one will be provided. The Campbellsport Library and the American Red Cross are taking extra precautions on many levels to ensure the health and safety of donors, volunteers and nurses. Thank you for your continued commitment to the Red Cross and our lifesaving mission!

We will not be able to provide our normal lunch, or homemade cookies. There will be sandwiches, snacks and bottled drinks available, as well as our community volunteers to help donors through the process. Another change with our drive is that we will have all donors enter through the south-side utility door, which will be clearly marked.

Please check these simple requirements to be sure you are eligible. You must be at least 17 years of age. 16 year olds may donate with a parent, weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. Please bring along your blood donor card, or an identification card.

If you have any questions, or need additional information, please call the Red Cross, (1-800-733-2767), or Mike Serwe at 920-533-8114. Hope to see you at the drive, thank you for your understanding in our challenging times.

Peace United Church Of Christ Partners With American Red Cross For Community Blood Drive

Peace United Church of Christ will host a community blood drive with the American Red Cross on Wednesday, March 3, from 12:30 p.m.-6 p.m. at 343 1st St. Kewaskum.

For more information or to make an appointment to donate, call 262-626-4011 or sign up online at redcrossblood.org with sponsor code Kewaskum.

"Peace United Church of Christ is committed to strengthening our community and helping meet hospital and patient needs through blood donations," said Kathy Charland. "This blood drive is our way of giving staff, colleagues and neighbors an opportunity to help save lives."

Blood is a perishable product that can only come from volunteer blood donors. With someone in the U.S. needing blood every two seconds, blood products must be constantly replenished, according to the Red Cross.

"We urge community members to donate blood and help ensure that patients in local hospitals have a supply of blood ready and waiting before an emergency occurs. There's no better feeling than knowing that your blood donation may give someone a second chance at life."

According to the Red Cross, donors with all blood types are needed, especially those with types O negative, A negative and B negative.

Shepherd Of The Hills Early Childhood Parent Meeting

Shepherd of the Hills Catholic School will be holding an early childhood parent meeting on Thursday, March 4, at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Kewaskum's Days Gone By

5 Years Ago March 3, 2016

Clayton Stautz has been an active member of the American Legion in Kewaskum for 70 consecutive years. He was presented with a certificate from the American Legion's national headquarters in Indianapolis on February 25. Stautz, 89, joined the American Legion Post in 1946 after serving in the Army Air Corps. He served as commander three times, 1953-54, 1979-80, and 1987-88. Stautz was a volunteer firefighter for the Kewaskum Fire Department for 27 years, and a member of the Masonic Lodge for 61 years, the Kewaskum Lions for 32 years, the Veterans of Foreign Wars for 69 years, and the 40 & 8 for 29 years.

Anne Trautner, journalist for the Kewaskum Statesman, received the first-place award in a Wisconsin Newspaper Association's competition for a sports news story she wrote. The article was titled Cancer Survivor Raises Funds Through Golf Marathon, which was published July 16. The article was about Josh Stangl, who, at age 30, was diagnosed with Stage 4 tongue cancer in 2013. After fighting the disease, he wanted to do something to give back.

The Farmington Historical Society is hosting a panel of three genealogists who have used online resources to locate and find family information. The event will take place March 12.

Tom Kudek received the Outstanding Business Partner award from the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce on February 17. He owned Auto Body Dynamics in Kewaskum for more than 20 years.

Emily Goad is looking forward to getting to know the community as she embarks on her new career as director of the Kewaskum Public Library. Goad comes to Kewaskum with eight years of experience as a librarian.

In all, $1,157.25 was raised and donated to Friends of Abused Families when the Kewaskum Key Club held its annual Super Soup Social for the community.

Eric Bauer was the first freshman at Kewaskum High School to reach the finals of the WIAA D-2 State Wrestling Tournament. He lost the championship to Paul Bianchi of Two Rivers, a senior who won his third state title with the victory over Bauer. Bauer had a 49-2 record for the season.

UW-Parkside won the wrestling team title at the NCAA II Midwest Super Regional, a feat that was accomplished with the help of Brett Scoles. A redshirt junior, the former Kewaskum High School wrestler placed fifth individually.

Kewaskum has a new co-ed head track coach with the hiring of Kris Evans. Also the head cross country coach, Evans was the only candidate for the job.

Jim Wright, a Kewaskum village trustee, wanted to do something to support the Kewaskum Police Department. He got an idea when he saw signs in Germantown that supported that police department. Wright dubbed the program Sign Up To Sign Up because people can support the police both visibly and financially. There are three different signs available, each with a different message: Don't Text And Drive, Slow Down Children Present and We Support Our Police.

Gertrude M. Marx, 95, Kewaskum, passed away February 27. Joyce R. Gavin, 88, Kewaskum, passed away February 25. Dennis R. Zielicke, 63, passed away February 27.

15 Years Ago March 2, 2006

Senior Scott Rhoads finished his high school wrestling career with his second straight championship. He is the first Kewaskum High School wrestler to win back-to-back state titles.

In the Eastern Wisconsin Conference finale last Friday night, Kewaskum earned a 56-45 victory over Kiel.

Mitch Paulus and Danielle Yanke are the recipients of the $18,000 J.O. Reigle scholarships awarded by Regal Ware, Inc. Each will receive $4,500 per year for each of his or her four-year college program. Paulus plans to attend Milwaukee School of Engineering and major in mechanical engineering. Yanke plans to attend the University of Wisconsin-Madison and major in kinesiology.

The Village of Kewaskum's plan commission heard plans for another residential development during Tuesday's meeting. Mike Rosen presented the commissioners with a concept plan of 103 upscale single-family homes and 36 duplex condominium units. At that same meeting, Tom Timblin of Cherokee Lakes presented a concept plan reflecting changes from his original plan of a 76-unit multi-family building. He would now rather add 25 ranch-style units. The development will take place on the west side of the newly-constructed bridge on Caleb Drive.

Just after receiving a glowing update on their Tax Incremental District (TID), the Kewaskum Village Board decided to follow neighbor West Bend in asking Washington County for a piece of sales tax revenue pie. West Bend Mayor Doug Bade asked the village board to join his city in passing a resolution to ask Washington County to share the sales tax revenue they are going to be receiving in the future. The Town of West Bend also passed a similar resolution. Kewaskum unanimously approved a resolution.

The Kettle Moraine Classic Kar Club formed in 1975 with 12 area men who shared a love of classic cars is now 35 members strong.

Corin Groth and Garrett Donath were named Kiwanis Student of the Month for the month of February.

The Town of Auburn Charities collected $692.64. After paying $57.81 for the envelopes, the following is the breakdown of distribution: $144.46 to the American Heart Association-Wis. Affiliate; $134.71 to the American Red Cross; $215.46 to the American Cancer Society; $140.20 to the Arthritis Foundation-WI Chapter.

A daughter, Olivia Joy, was born February 14 to Jennifer and Adam Spiegel of Kewaskum.

25 Years Ago February 29, 1996

A tragic, six-vehicle accident in the Town of Wayne left four victims dead, including well-known Kewaskum resident Ruben Oppermann, and hospitalized three additional people. The accident occurred February 25 on Highway 29, west of Lake Bernice Road. Also killed were Oppermann's mother-in-law and father-in-law as well as 17-year-old Jason Wernicke. Wernicke, of Campbellsport, crossed the center line, sideswiped another truck, then crashed head-on into Oppermann's vehicle. A total of 16 people were in the six vehicles involved in the accident.

The second phase of the Golfview Apartment complex is nearing completion, and construction of the third building should be finished some time this summer. The first phase was a 12-unit building. The second building will contain eight apartments. Plans for the third show another 12 units.

Taxpayers of the Town of Auburn donated $971 to four charities in 1996: $208.60 to the Wisconsin Affiliate of American Heart Association, $194.60 to American Red Cross, $295.60 to American Cancer Society, and $217.60 to Arthritis Foundation Wisconsin Chapter.

Due to an early print time, the new column titled Ask the Candidates did not appear in this week's paper. Statesman staff promises that the first two questions and any additional questions will be printed in their entirety in next week's issue.

The Indians defeated Cedar Grove 66-59 in a non-conference game Tuesday night.

Joel Dziedzic became the third wrestler in Kewaskum High School history to advance to the finals of the WIAA State Wrestling Tournament. The junior placed second, losing to Matt Olson of Cuba City in the finals.

Ruben A. Oppermann, 44, Kewaskum, passed away February 25.

A formal resolution authorizing borrowing an amount not to exceed $2,915,000 for a proposed package building program and another resolution setting April 6 as the date when the matter will be submitted to the electorate for a vote won approval of the board of education at Monday night's meeting.

The Badger Packaging Corporation of Kewaskum, manufacturers of corrugated shipping cartons, has completed five years in business.

Supt. of Schools Marshall H. Boyd formally requested that he be released from his contract with Kewaskum Community Schools when the board of education met in regular session Monday night. The matter was not discussed in the session open to the public and news media. The board agreed to the release, but asked that he be available for advisory purposes after May 1.

Eighteen Kewaskum High School students will compete in the sub-district forensics meet later this month as the result of local competition held the past week.

Three cars were involved in a mishap which occurred Monday on Main Street. An accident Sunday night involved one vehicle.

A son was born February 20 to Mr. and Mrs. William Ruth, Jr. of Kewaskum.

William A. Buettner, 69, West Bend, passed away February 19.

The Newburg State Bank was robbed by a lone, hooded bandit who was inside the bank when F.P. Isselman, cashier, opened. The robber escaped with somewhere between $700 and $800 of the bank's deposits.

Notice is given to parents and children that the village curfew regulations will be enforced rigidly.

Alban Nigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nigh of the Town of Auburn, who was inducted into the Army is taking basic training at Fort Belvoir, VA.

Veterans discharged from the Armed Forces recently included Howard Backhaus, Myron Belger, Ernst Gruber, Harry Koch, Paul Kral, Sylvester Terlinden, all of Kewaskum.

All present officers of the Kewaskum Fire Department were re-elected at a recent meeting. They are Assistant Chief Arnold Martin, Secretary George Korbler, Treasurer A.P. Schaeffer, Foreman Clifford Stautz, and Assistant Foreman William Martin. Harry Schaefer, who is appointed to office, holds over as fire chief.

Waucousta Winter Carnival Is This Weekend

Are you ready for some winter fun? Then make sure you head out to Waucousta Lutheran Grade School this Saturday, Feb. 27, from 1 p.m.-5 p.m. for its Winter Carnival.

It is free to the public,

so bring your family and friends.

You will be able to enjoy lots of winter activities including arctic mini golf, snow sculptures, sledding, and pony rides. There will also be a snowball throwing contest and much more.

If you get a little cold, don't worry, there will be hot chocolate available to warm you up.

This will be a fun and safe outdoor event for the entire family!

A Community Of Readers

If you know a student from Campbellsport Elementary School, you may have already heard the buzz about their first annual One School, One Book program. The school is about to take part in a special, community wide shared reading event.

Every CES family will receive a copy of the same book. Videos of each week's readings will be shared with the families starring teachers, celebrities from local businesses, and other district staff members.

The school's goal, and the goal of this amazing program, is that we will build a "Community of Readers." Participants will only need to find 10-15 minutes each night to share in the enjoyment of reading. What a great way to spend time with the entire family!

During the school day, the students will participate in trivia questions and explore the book through activities and discussions. If community members want to read with us, the Campbellsport Public Library has books available.

Another awesome part of the program is that you will see several specials at our local businesses that are centered around the theme of the book — WORMS!

Stay tuned for more information in the coming weeks as we embark on this journey together as a community to build the love reading in all. This — and so much more — is sponsored by the amazing CES PTO!

Local celebrity Jeremy Schrauth from King Pin Lanes reads a chapter from the book How To Eat Fried Worms. Campbellsport Elementary School is participating in the One School, One Book program where community members help to try to instill a love of reading in students.

Youth Apprenticeship Program Going Strong In Campbellsport

Students at Campbell-sport High School continue to have a great opportunity available to help them get ready for their future. The Youth Apprenticeship program is a way to help prepare students for either furthering their education or going into their careers after high school.

For Campbellsport students, the youth apprenticeship program is a collaboration between CHS and CESA 6. The students are matched with employers who fit their future career path.

Some of the areas students can study include agriculture, food and natural resources; finance; health services; hospitality, lodging & tourism; information technology; manufacturing; arts, A/V technology and communications; STEM; transportation, distribution and logistics; architecture and construction; and marketing.

The Wisconsin Youth Apprenticeship program integrates school-based and work-based learning. Students accepted into an approved youth apprenticeship program will continue taking classes at their high school while working as an apprentice at a participating business.

Students will be enrolled in a technical class related to their youth apprenticeship program. These courses may be offered at either their high school or off campus.

CESA 6 Youth Apprenticeship By the Numbers

- More than 3,300 students served since 2006
- 95 percent placement rate following program completion

- CESA 6 currently serves 20 percent of the entire state enrollment in the YA program

- 11 Career Sectors and 55 Career pathways for students to obtain experience and training

- 52 districts served by CESA 6 Carl Perkins Consortium, largest consortium in state for schools served and funding received

- Five technical college regions, two workforce development boards and seven chambers of commerce included in partnerships

- 935 seniors graduates with an industry certification in schools supported by CESA 6, representing 23% of the total certifications earned statewide

- $592,000+ in school funding generated by industry certifications

Youth Apprenticeship Month

As Youth Apprenticeship Month draws to a close, it is fitting to see just how CHS students are being served by this program. There are 14 CHS students who have been matched with employers for this program.

Below is a list the students and who they are employed by along with some quotes from both the students and the employers.

Chas Brath Senior

Employer: EB Auto Body

Youth Apprenticeship: transportation-collision

"I like working on cars," Brath said. "I took welding class in school and that has helped me with mig welding on vehicles. I am learning many skills needed in auto collision repair like panel removal, rust removal, body work and paint prepping."

"Everyone that drives a car should know how to take care of it. I went to school for auto collision and I am glad I can pass my knowledge on to others. I like to teach the youth the right way to do this skill," said employer Eric Brath.

Kayla Braund Senior

Employer: Kettle Moraine Gardens

Youth Apprenticeship: health-nursing assistant
 "YA is a great opportunity to learn skills needed for your future career. I am learning a lot about health care which will help me with my nursing career," Braund said.

"We find fulfillment in our work when we can train and educate our youth to appreciate and care for our elderly population. Kayla is a compassionate, caring, responsible employee who provides excellent care to our residents!," said Angie Thull, RN administrator.

Cooper Cadman Junior

Employer: Roger Relic
 Youth Apprenticeship: transportation-diesel tech

"I like the hands on work I do with diesel mechanics. There is a variety of work to do and often new and different tasks," Cadman said.

"We like the opportunity to give directions to move the youth forward in a career. There is definitely a shortage in heavy truck repair skilled workers. We are happy to teach them skills in this area. We also appreciate their availability to work with their school schedule," said employer Royal Streen, co-owner of Roger Relic.

Jacob Emmer Junior

Employer: Emmer Dry Wall

Youth Apprenticeship: construction-carpentry

"I have learned how to hang, mud and texture dry wall. This is a great skill to learn. I realize how important it is to do quality work. I also like how work changes up the week with various work jobs," Emmer said.

"Installing dry wall teaches a good work ethic, something the youth needs to learn. Jacob is learning the full business from the installation to the business portion of bidding to billing," said employer Dean Emmer, owner.

Jacob Fabry
Senior

Employer: Advanced Tooling Inc.

Youth Apprenticeship: manufacturing-machining

"This is my first 'career bound' job with adult responsibilities. I like that I can apply knowledge I learned in school and use it in industry. I get to finish and sharpen a tool that has been made using Anca GX7 and TX7 to carbide, endmill and regrind in the manufacturing processing," Fabry said.

"The most significant benefit to employing a YA is the secondary recruitment benefits. We presume that Jacob enjoys the work he is performing, and while a he may decide on another direction following high school, hopefully he has shared his experience with classmates and friends whom may feel this is a career they wish to pursue. Jacob would definitely be a welcome, full-time addition to our company," said employer Greg Schrage, CPA.

Cameron Guell
Senior

Employer: Jimmy's Lawn Care, LLC

Youth Apprenticeship: agriculture-general plants

"I like being in YA because it has taught me the importance of a good work ethic and to work hard. If it is mowing lawns or plowing snow, we have a lot of work to get done in a day and we need to work efficiently and work together as a team," Guell said.

"I feel it is important to give young adults the opportunity to work so they can learn skills in a trade. I also teach about skills that are necessary at work to be successful such as communication. My employees work beside me so they get to see the way I want our work to be done — they are trained to work to my standards," said employer Jim Gneisner, owner.

Allysa Klahn
Senior

Employer: Serenity Villa

Youth Apprenticeship: health-nursing assistant, level 2

"I enjoy being in YA and working at Serenity Villa because both are preparing me for my future in the medical field. YA is benefiting my future because it has allowed me to have hands-on experience while receiving high school credits and allowing me to fully decide what path I want to take with my future education. I will be attending U.W. Madison pursuing a career in nursing," Klahn said.

"Serenity Villa's experience has been outstanding with the YA students. Allysa has and continues to provide above standard care to our residents. Allysa is an amazing person with a big heart to peers as well as residents. She has been a huge asset to our Serenity family," said Teri Bley, HR manager.

AJ KLOTZ

CAMERON GUELL

Junior

Employer: Drexel Building Supply

Youth Apprenticeship: hospitality-maintenance & grounds

"There is a lot that goes into building residential homes. This is a good experience to learn life skills and to build those skills. I like the Drexel concept of teamwork and friendly work environment," Klotz said.

"We enjoy teaching accountability and the concepts of the building industry. AJ has been on worksites to see project come together. We eventually would like to see AJ become a full time employee at Drexel," said Jake Junk, yard leader.

Youth Apprenticeship Program Going Strong In Campbellsport

"I like to work. Working on a farm gives me the opportunity to work. I milk the cows and do chores. We work together as a team to get everything done," Muelenbach said.

"It is always a challenge to find employees to work for just a few hours early in the morning. With Drake that has meant that he has been able to work. He is on the wrestling team, and needs to be at practice every night after school.

Being able to work early mornings (before school) and weekends gives him a chance to do more — school, wrestling, free time, and chances to earn some spending money. And it gives us an opportunity to fill in what are sometimes difficult scheduling times," said employer Jon Theisen, owner.

McKenzie Oelke Junior

Employer: Theisen Family Farm
Youth Apprenticeship: agriculture-general animals

"I like animals and spending time with animals is always fun. Working on the farm is teaching me a good work ethic," Oelke said.

"We like employing YA students because it is enjoyable to be around young people. It keeps us informed on what is important in the younger generation's lives, and it allows them a chance to work with two older generations. It is very interesting to see how the different age groups view each job, and how they can work together to get things accomplished. It is very important for all ages to learn from each other and to realize that we all have a lot to offer," said Joanne Theisen, owner.

Summer Ray Junior

Employer: Krueger Dairy Farm
Youth Apprenticeship: agriculture-general animals

"I help with the milking of the cows. I love working on a farm. I am learning work skills that will help me in my future," Ray said.

"Working on a farm teaches a strong work ethic. It is fun to see the pride and care Summer has for the animals. We like the flexibility in her schedule and it will be rewarding to see where the future takes her," said Sammi Krueger, owner.

Blake Weisser Senior

Employer: Mayville Engineering Company
Youth Apprenticeship: manufacturing-welding, level 2

"I have been in YA for two years working in manufacturing doing welding. I have learned different welding skills from welding on aluminum to Tig & Mig welding. I liked that I received a grade and credit for my employment. YA helped to make it possible for me to graduate early in January. I also was able to earn money by working two years, which included summer employment. I recently bought a car. Currently, I am a full-time employee at MEC working first shift," Weisser said.

"MEC is always grateful to have YA students working with us because they bring in new ideas, they are eager to learn, and we always love exposing the next generation to the amazing and advancing world of manufacturing! We benefit because after their apprenticeships, many of our YAs choose to continue their career and become lasting knowledgeable MEC employees who are willing to pass on their expertise to future new YAs and employees," said Jamie Eithun, organizational development manager.

Brandon Wiedmeyer Junior

Employer: Nick Wiedmeyer Farm
Youth Apprenticeship: agriculture-general animals

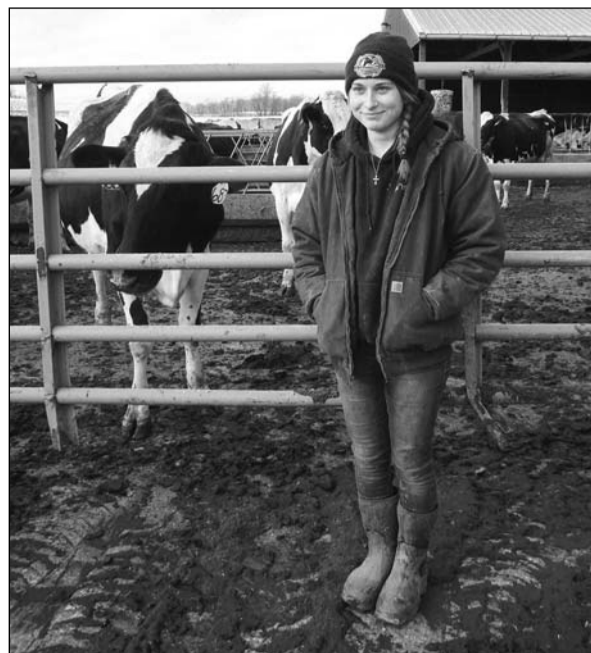

"I take pride in helping my uncle work on the family farm. I am at work by 4:30 in the morning to help with the milking and I come back after school to help with the evening milking. I know how to be a dedicated employee," Wiedmeyer said.

"Bandon is getting hands-on experience to learn about cattle. He is a good worker. I like his flexible work schedule so I don't have to hire a full-time employee," said Nick Wiedmeyer, owner.

Strengthening Community Partnerships Key To Future Of Students

—A guest editorial by State Superintendent Carolyn Stanford Taylor

With the month of February representing Career and Technical Education Month in our state and across the nation, there is no better time to recognize those who aid in providing these invaluable opportunities to Wisconsin students.

The unique partnerships between educators, businesses, and organizations help students gain the knowledge, skills, and abilities needed for lifelong success. For CTE to continue its growth and positive results, those relationships within communities must be strengthened.

As state superintendent, I have had the great honor of traveling across our state and witnessing firsthand the impact CTE has on the lives of students. Using interactive, hands-on learning, CTE forms a bridge for students from high school academics to the career or college of their choice. Whether aspiring to be a doctor, carpenter, chef, engineer, to name a few, CTE and its pathways are truly for all students.

Of course, these CTE programs would not be possible without our outstanding teachers, who provide the sequence of courses to lay the foundation for any career pathway. I am continuously amazed to hear stories of the innovative ways CTE teachers reach their students and encourage them to work toward their ambitions, whether it be in person or virtually.

Thank you, CTE teachers, for inspiring your students. Your tireless dedication helps advance their knowledge, enabling them to explore and master new, long-lasting skills.

In addition to the work of our teachers, partnerships with employers, organizations, and technical colleges help identify and implement real-world skills needed in various industries directly into CTE curriculum. Work-based learning opportunities and internships offered by local businesses give students hands-on experience in the workplace, and dual-credit courses allow students the chance for a head start on their futures.

Thank you for coordinating youth apprenticeships and offering students these meaningful training opportunities. Your commitment to the future of our students leads seamlessly into degree programs or industry-recognized credentials and directly to jobs.

While these relationships are all vital pieces to the puzzle, often the encouragement of parents and guardians makes the biggest difference in the lives of students. Recognizing the value of these programs and encouraging students to follow their career passions are essential not only to their future, but also to the future of CTE in our state.

The effort of all those in our communities is needed to better support the aspirations of our next generation through CTE. By working together to form new partnerships and grow existing ones, we can improve access to these programs and help achieve our vision of every child graduating college and career ready.

UW Health Expert Offers Latest Information On COVID-19 “Long Haulers”

COVID-19 “long haulers” is the informal term used for people who have recovered from COVID-19 but have one or more chronic symptoms that continue for many months. The scientific term is “post-acute COVID-19 syndrome,” and health experts are continually learning more about it.

Dr. Aurora Pop-Vicas, infectious disease specialist, is focused on this phenomenon at UW Health, and can share what experts know so far.

Who is most likely to get post-acute COVID-19 syndrome?

From what we know so far, there are two main categories of “long haulers.”

First, patients who have been hospitalized for weeks or months in the ICU often have greatly impaired function after being on prolonged life support. Some of these patients could also be recovering from severe complications caused by the virus, such as strokes, blood clots, cardiovascular disease, or other related organ damage.

Second, some patients who had only mild COVID-19 illness, not requiring hospitalization or other critical medical treatments, have developed either new or recurrent symptoms persisting for months after the initial infection. Many are young, previously healthy individuals. Research is currently underway to determine the risk factors that may predispose someone to this syndrome.

What are the most common symptoms of post-acute COVID-19 syndrome?

The most common post-COVID-19 symptom consistently reported in the studies to date is fatigue or generalized muscle weakness.

Shortness of breath, palpitations, sleeping difficulties, anxiety, depression, joint pain, chest pain, altered smell or taste, headaches, cognitive difficulties (brain fog) are also common. Not surprisingly, these symptoms significantly impair quality of life and can make normal activities very challenging.

How common is post-acute COVID-19 syndrome?

In studies of patients who required hospitalization for COVID-19, up to 75 percent reported at least one symptom persisting six months after infection.

Additionally, one in five still showed evidence of decreased lung function six months later, even if they did not require oxygen during their hospitalization.

The syndrome is less common in patients who had mild COVID-19 infection and did not require hospitalization.

According to reports from large population-based studies, approximately 10-20 percent of these patients go on to develop “long-haul COVID.”

Why does post-acute COVID-19 syndrome happen?

Research into the reasons behind post-acute COVID-19 syndrome are ongoing.

Some believe it is due to an over-reactive immune response to the virus, or the result of persistent inflammation after the initial infection.

What is the treatment of post-acute COVID-19 syndrome?

A treatment specific to these “long haulers” has not yet been identified. Pending more research, treatment would be determined based on the patient’s individual symptoms and condition.

Management includes a multidisciplinary approach, relying on what we have learned from similar syndromes.

In previous, related syndromes, most patients eventually returned to normal, with holistic support, rest, symptomatic treatment, and progressive activity increases, as tolerated.

Patients with new or worsening COVID-19 symptoms should undergo a comprehensive medical evaluation to rule out anything serious or life-threatening, be referred to specialty clinics, if appropriate, and formulate an individualized rehabilitation plan.

Gov. Evers Signs Bill Expanding COVID-19 Vaccine Administration

Gov. Tony Evers signed Assembly Bill (AB) 4, now 2021 Wisconsin Act 3, which would allow pharmacy technicians and students to administer COVID-19 vaccines under certain conditions.

“While we work to get shots in arms as soon as we have supply available, we also want to make sure we’re maximizing our capacity by expanding the number of people who can administer those doses once we have them,” said Gov. Evers. “Getting vaccine doses to folks across our state continues to be our top priority so we can recover and bounce back from this pandemic.”

Gov. Evers signed AB 4 at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh following a tour of the campus’ COVID-19 vaccination clinic that opened this week in partnership with Advocate Aurora Health of Oshkosh and the Winnebago County Public Health Department.

AB 4, now 2021 Wisconsin Act 3, allows a pharmacy student who has completed two years of pharmacy school to administer a vaccine under the supervision of a healthcare provider who is authorized to administer vaccines. Additionally, under AB 4, additional persons would be allowed to administer vaccines under certain conditions, including the following:

- The person has completed at least two hours in a course of study and training, approved by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education or the board, in hands-on injection technique and the recognition and treatment of emergency reactions to vaccines;

- The person acts under the direct supervision of a pharmacist who has completed a course in study on topics relating to vaccination; The person holds a current certification in basic life support or cardiopulmonary resuscitation; and

- The person holds a certified pharmacy technician certification from either the Pharmacy Technician Certification Board or the National Healthcareer Association.

Kewaskum Kiwanis February Students Of The Month

Benjamin Schellinger

Throughout my four years at Kewaskum High School, I've been blessed to have had many opportunities to participate in many clubs and other extracurricular activities, which have helped shape me into the compassionate and hard-working individual that I consider myself to be. Some of these clubs include FFA (four years), Peers 4 Peers (three years), NHS (two years), Academic Bowl (one year) and selected for Badger Boys State (however, it was canceled due to COVID), not to mention other extracurriculars such as mission trips and community service.

know that I want to continue my education in the agricultural field. I have made many good friends and memories during these past few years; however, I am looking forward to exploring what my future holds.

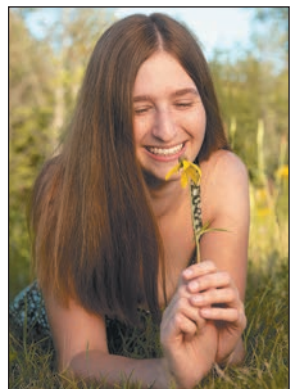

Elsa Kirkegaard

I am delighted to have been chosen as February's Student of the Month. Throughout high school, I have been involved in activities through my school and my community. I take part in many clubs at school, including Mock Trial, Key Club, National Honor Society, Social Change Club and Spanish Club. Outside of school, I have taken great joy in activities, such as musicals with Spotlight Productions, building houses with Habitat for Humanity on mission trips with my church, and playing the flute and piano.

I still consider my greatest blessing and opportunity to be growing up working on my grandparents' farm. It is there where I have learned the most life lessons and learned the value of hard work, all while spending time with my large (but amazing) family. Between growing up with this work experience and my experiences at school, I will carry these life lessons and characteristics to my future career and further education.

At the current moment, I am not sure what route I want to go for further education, whether it be at a university or a tech school. However, I

I am hoping to attend St. Olaf College next year with a major in either psychology, sociology or environmental studies. I am looking forward to exploring my many interests and finding a passion to pursue in a career.

I am so appreciative of the support and encouragement this community has given me throughout my life. While I will miss the people here, I am excited to see what adventures college will bring!

Kewaskum School Board Supports Teacher

By Anne Trautner

Scott Rhoads, a math and science teacher at Kewaskum Middle School, says he was unfairly accused of calling his students racist and pushing a liberal agenda in his classroom.

"I have been recently accused of some unspeakable things. My name has been tarnished and passed around by members of the community," Rhoads said during the public comments portion of the regular Kewaskum School Board meeting on February 11. "All of these [accusations] have been formally investigated by the district and disproven."

"There isn't any board member that isn't behind you," Board President Jim Leister told Rhoads at the meeting. "Nobody threw you under the bus, nobody did anything behind to dirty your name as a board. I can tell you that honestly."

Leister said that when he heard about the accusations, the first thing he did was call District Administrator James Smasal.

"Jim [Smasal] said he had it handled, and I believed him. I had board members that called me, and what was my response? It was handled. It was all handled through Jim [Smasal]. He did it professionally," Leister said.

Leister said that he heard about the situation on a Wednesday and then it was broadcasted on a radio show the following day.

"We were on it right away. Whatever the issue was, our staff was on it. We didn't have enough time to react Thursday when it hit, because an investigation takes time. To be open and honest takes time. So don't ever think the school district didn't believe you. Don't think that the board wasn't behind you. We were," Leister said to Rhoads at the meeting.

Rhoads, who has been teaching at KMS for 10 years, grew up in Kewaskum and graduated from Kewaskum High School. He went to college in Madison and Oshkosh before returning to Kewaskum with a teaching degree.

"Unfortunately, prior to the story going public, I was never once contacted by any parent or any community member to discuss the concerns that existed with my classroom. I had to hear it from my building principal first. In fact, contrary to what's been posted on social media, I've never been contacted by anyone about this issue in my entire career. Without any questions asked of me, the story went public, and more and more false statements were made by people I have never met," Rhoads said.

"I have been accused of pushing my liberal agenda on my students. I have been accused of ordering my students not to listen to their conservative parents," Rhoads added. "Ironically I am actually a conservative voter."

Through parts of the middle school curriculum, teachers are provided with lessons and articles that provide a sense of diversity in the schools, according to Rhoads.

"I have discussed minorities and equality with hopes that all of our students are going to grow to be exceptional adults," Rhoads said.

The kindergarten class at Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum is Dressed for Excellence during Catholic Schools Week.

Kewaskum School Board Approves Building Projects

– KES And KHS Facilities To Be Improved

By Anne Trautner

The Kewaskum School District is set to have three building projects completed by the end of June: two at Kewaskum Elementary School and one at Kewaskum High School.

The Kewaskum School Board voted 6-1 to approve spending up to $150,000 out of the general fund on the three building projects. Board Member Timothy Ramthun was the lone dissenter.

The total cost of the projects is projected to be $232,500. To make up the difference, the remaining funds will come from donations or grants, District Administrator James Smasal told the school board at the regular board meeting held on Thursday, Feb. 11.

"I am committed to go out and fund raise or use other funds, whether it be grant funds or other allocations besides the general fund, to get this done," Smasal said at the meeting.

Board members had previously discussed the two proposed elementary school building projects at committee meetings over the past several months. However, the first time the high school project was introduced was at the finance committee meeting the previous night, on Wednesday, Feb. 10.

For that reason, Ramthun voted against approving the projects.

"I want to send the message to say we have to stop being cornered and rushed into something. These are big ticket items, and so I am going to vote no," Ramthun said.

"If you don't pass these tonight, then they won't be brought back in March. It will be too late," Smasal replied.

In order for the projects to be included in this budget cycle, they need to be completed by June 30.

The finance committee had recommended approval of all three projects.

"I am very supportive of us continuing to reinvest in the facilities, keep them current and obviously maintained. I think this is a smart move. It is multi-faceted, multi-use and makes a lot of sense," said School Board Member Ric Leitheiser, who serves on the finance committee.

Under the proposal that the board approved, C.D. Smith Construction will be hired to complete the work. The district did not seek any other bids.

"I'm wondering if we can draw a line in the sand somewhere and say listen, if you don't have three bids in the future, don't bring it to the board," Board Member Timothy Ramthun said.

"Board policy does have that little caveat in there that if you have a good vendor or if there is a compelling reason not to get three bids, then you certainly have the latitude to do that," Smasal said. "I don't think we could even get three bids on it if we wanted to. They are doing us a favor, and they are giving us a decent price. If you try to go to these other companies and ask them to come in to do $140,000 worth of project, it is going to be a lot higher and a lot of people aren't even going to bid on it.... If we thought we'd get a better price somewhere else, we'd go."

At the beginning of the school year, the district took money out of capital projects because of COVID-related expenses. Now that the district has been able to secure some grants and receive federal funding, the district feels comfortable that it can put money back into capital projects, according to Smasal.

Board President Jim Leister said that now is the time to move forward on the projects.

"How long have we been fighting to catch up to technology, to building? We are finally getting ahead of the curve. Now we've got to stay ahead of the curve. And it's always cheaper to stay ahead of the curve than it is to catch up from behind it," Leister said.

The three building projects that the board approved include:

1. Kewaskum Elementary School STEAM Lab (total cost $48,500)—

KES currently has a computer lab on the second floor, adjacent to the library.

The project would entail removing the steps in the computer lab, and installing new furniture and technology for the STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math) Lab.

The estimated costs include: CD Smith, $31,600; furniture, $9,400; technology, $4,500; and contingency, $3,000.

The Boys and Girls Club, which currently uses the space before and after school, has committed to pay $25,000 toward the project, according to Smasal.

2. Kewaskum Elementary School LGI (total cost $67,000)—

This project entails removing the steps in the LGI (Large Group Instruction) room to make it a multi-purpose room.

Currently, because of the pandemic, there are get the lunch tables set up in the gymnasium. The LGI remodel will provide more space for lunch tables so the full gym can be used next year if mitigation factors in place. It also will allow the LGI to be more usable for before- and after-school activities, according to Smasal.

The projected costs include: C.D. Smith, $50,000; furniture, $13,000; and contingency, $4,000.

3. Kewaskum High School Library (total cost $117,000)—

The high school project involves remodeling the high school library and creating a coffee-house-type atmosphere on the eastern side of the room.

"The need for library space has changed because of technology. It would be much more in line with the way kids learn nowadays, along with the curricular needs," Smasal said. "It will make it more of a 21st century learning space."

The renovation will provide additional seating for the cafeteria. In addition, the new space will allow for expansion in academic and career planning. The hope is to expand the food service area into the culinary arts and to allow business classes to have some sort of school store, according to Smasal.

To create a distinction between the renovated space and the rest of the library, the two areas will have different flooring, ceiling and lights. Booths and other furniture will be added to the renovated space. A counter would be added for a potential school store, and a freezer and warming cabinet would be installed so food and beverages could be sold before and after school.

"Maybe there could be poetry readings or chess club meetings held there. It will be a multi-faceted area," Smasal said.

Projected costs of the library project include: C.D. Smith, $53,000; Boelter, $40,000; furniture, $19,000; and contingency, $5,000.

Other District Purchases

In other action at the February 11 Kewaskum School Board meeting, the board approved the following purchases over $5,000:

- $40,985 for an Up-town Motors Wheelchair Accessible Van.
- $5,810.75 for a First Supply water heater for Kewaskum High School.
- $38,516.93 for a Boelter dishwasher for Kewaskum Elementary School.
- $12,198.48 for a Boelter convection oven for Kewaskum Elementary School.
- $6,716 for a Richey Athletics Elite-N high jump pit for Kewaskum High School.

Campbellsport FFA

Introducing The CHS FFA 2020-2021 Officer Team

Hailey Rohlfs

My name is Hailey Rohlfs and this is my second year serving as the Campbellsport FFA president. I have been around agriculture my entire life and it has become a more prominent aspect of my life as I have grown older.

My SAE includes raising Black Angus cattle with my dad and my uncle on our family farm, Rohlfs Century Acres.

I joined FFA originally because I thought it would be fun considering how much I loved agriculture. However, I would encourage people to join FFA because of the enormous amount of opportunities it offers to build character and develop leadership qualities.

My favorite experience from FFA has been showing people that there is more to the organization than just agriculture. For example, many of our new FFA members do not have an agricultural background and seeing their newfound interest and involvement in the FFA organization has really been rewarding.

Kylie Hermann

My name is Kylie Hermann, and this is my second year serving as the vice president for the Campbellsport FFA. I found out about the FFA my freshmen year while I was taking an agriculture class.

I joined the FFA because I realized that if I got involved I would be able to develop many life skills. These life skills could push me further ahead of others in the future and give me better opportunities.

My SAE is about the sheep I own. I show at the county fair and have learned from FFA, 4-H leaders, and my mom most of the information I need to be successful with my lambs at home and at the fair.

I think others should join FFA not only because of the skills it teaches, but also because of the experiences you get through it. My favorite experience through FFA is constantly interacting with other chapters within our state and the amount of people you meet and become friends with.

Morgan Cooper

My name is Morgan Cooper and this is my second year on the officer team. This year I am serving as the secretary.

I grew up on my parent's small dairy farm just outside of Mount Calvary. When I was 11, I was given my first dairy goat as a birthday gift. Since then I have grown my dairy goat herd and shown them all over the state and once at the national show.

I also show dairy cattle and meat goats at the Fond du Lac County Fair. New this past year I bought a few chickens and have been raising them for egg production.

I joined FFA when I moved to Campbellsport in seventh grade. I joined FFA because I was excited to participate in all the competitions and to meet people from other chapters.

Since I joined I've met many people and made a ton of new connections to help with my future. I would encourage everyone to join because they can easily define what they want to do in their future if they don't know yet. They should know that FFA is for more than just the farmers and their kids and that the available jobs within the industry are far and wide, not only working with animals.

Hunter Jordan

My name is Hunter Jordan and I am serving as the 2020-2021 Campbellsport FFA treasurer. I found out about the FFA through some friends who were involved in it. My SAE is about my pigs that I am showing at the county fair.

I joined the FFA because of all the opportunities it has offered to better serve my future and because of how much I loved agriculture. I would encourage others to join FFA because of the enormous amount of opportunities that it can offer such as leadership and job skills that will better serve your future after school.

My favorite experience of FFA has been the amount of new people that I have met and all of the opportunities I have had in the FFA.

PROUD TO SHOW OUR SUPPORT FOR THE CHS FFA

Campbellsport FFA

Introducing The CHS FFA 2020-2021 Officer Team

Claire Guell

My name is Claire Guell and I am serving as the 2020-2021 Campbellsport FFA reporter. This is my first year serving as an officer but I have been in the FFA since freshman year.

I have been around agriculture my whole life and I have been in FFA all four years of high school. It wasn't until my junior year that I started to become more involved in the organization. Ever since then it made me have a different outlook on agriculture.

My favorite memory has to be traveling down to the National FFA Convention in Indiana. Seeing the "sea of blue" for the first time was amazing! It was a great opportunity to learn so much more about agriculture and to meet so many great people.

FFA isn't just a club, it's a family and I am beyond thankful to have been able to be in such a great club. I highly recommend students join!

Keyanna Schultz

My name is Keyanna Schultz and I am serving as the 2020-2021 Campbellsport FFA sentinel. I joined FFA to further develop my leadership skills and give back to the community in many ways.

I chose to become a member to better myself as a person. FFA makes a huge difference in lives and provides a way to shape characteristic skills that will benefit you down the line.

My SAE is gardening during the summer time, mainly growing tomatoes and peas.

My favorite experience in the FFA is introducing younger children to agriculture. For example, when the FFA volunteered to take the elementary school fourth graders to the farm. The fourth graders were able to see all the cows and calves along with learning about how a farm works. Being able to educate and advocate for future members of the FFA has been my favorite part.

McKinley Krueger is pictured showing her steer at the Fond du Lac County Fair. She placed third in her beef class and was also the grand champion showman.

Sebastian Meyer

My name is Sebastian Meyer and I am currently serving as a junior advisor for the Campbellsport FFA. I am currently a junior at Campbellsport High School.

I have been a member of the FFA for six years. I joined FFA because FFA has a lot of new opportunities and also I wanted to give back to my community in so many new ways. FFA also allows you to go to new conventions throughout the year. When you go to these conventions, it allows you to meet new people and hear what they do in their chapter which could also help us be better at giving back to the community in new and different ways.

My SAE project is my show hogs. In this SAE, I will learn the preparation that goes into having multiple hogs at the Fond du Lac County Fair this year.

State Proficiency Award Winners

Last spring we had two individuals submit their SAE projects for proficiency awards. Members who apply for this award must fill out a 20-page application explaining their agriculture projects.

They are then submitted to the state to compete against FFA members across the state. Hailey Rohlf's was the sectional winner for Beef Production Placement.

Brooke Cooper submitted nine proficiency awards last spring. She placed third at state in Forage Production and fourth at state for both Goat Production and Diversified Crop. She received gold for Dairy Production Placement and silver for both Diversified Livestock Production and Diversified Agriculture.

Some of her other proficiencies include Grain Production, Veterinary Science, and Ag Education.

Online Plant Sale

The 2020 FFA plant sale looked a little different this year.

With COVID-19 shutting everything down in mid March, a couple of teachers took over managing the greenhouse. Various staff members helped transplant the small plants when they arrived in late March.

During the sale we took a different approach to selling the plants, we put an online order form out on our Facebook page and sold out in 48 hours. We were overjoyed to sell all of the plants in such a short time and look forward to another great sale this spring!

Leadership Development Events Competition

Before Covid-19 put a halt on our activities, we had 10 FFA members compete in LDE events.

We had two middle school Quizbowl teams participate, which consisted of Lexi Schultz, McKinley Kreuger, Jon Peterson, Emily Gatzke, Paige Schultz, and Ava Czerniak. The quiz bowl teams both advanced to sectionals placing first and second.

Caitlin Neitzel participated in Creed Speaking. Kyle Murphy participated in the Discussion Meet. Both Morgan Cooper and Sebastain Meyer participated in Extemporaneous Speaking.

Morgan moved onto Sectionals with her extemporaneous speech. However, she was unable to compete due to COVID-19.

It was a great year for the speaking contest!

Members of the Campbellsport FFA were able to compete in the Leadership Development events before things were canceled because of the Coronavirus pandemic. Those who did well at the competition were, from left, Paige Schultz, Emily Gatzke, Ava Czerniak, Sebastian Meyer, Caitlin Neitzel, Morgan Cooper, Kyle Murphy, Lexi Schultz, Jon Peterson and McKinley Kreuger.

Big Buck Contest

The Big Buck Contest is held during the gun deer season in November. The goal of the competition is to submit the biggest rack in order to win.

Students and staff are able to enter by submitting soda tabs that are later donated to the Ronald McDonald House.

This contest has three winners at the end of the season that each get their own prize. Some prizes included a deer stand or a trail camera.

The winners this year were Mr. Hamm, Caleb Cochran, Jacob Scannell, and Karsten Kreuger.

This year we also held a new contest called the Little Buck Contest for those who didn't get a giant buck. The winners this year were Kaden Peterson, Jada Marquardt, Taylor Muraski, and Colin Thimmig.

The annual FFA banquet had to be modified this past year. The group met outside to have one last send off with the seniors. Members who were present included, front from left, Sebastian Meyer; middle row, Ava Czerniak, Caitlin Neitzel, Dylan Bublitz; back row, Chris Meyer, Jacob Jordan, Austin Flasch, Ms Henke, Hadlee Rohlfs, Hailey Rohlfs, Jon Peterson, Kylie Hermann, McKinley Kreuger, Hunter Jordan, and Emily Gatzke.

A Twist on the Annual Banquet

Due to COVID-19, we had to postpone our annual banquet until we felt it was safe to hold it. The Forest Athletic Club graciously allowed us to use their facility so that we could hold it outside.

Even with the many changes we faced this year, we were able to award and recognize many of our members for the awesome achievements they had made in the past year.

We ended the day with a friendly game of kickball, high schoolers versus middle schoolers. It was great to get together for these achievements!

NATIONAL FFA WEEK

Campbellsport FFA

Annual Crop Show

The FFA annual Crop Show looked a little different this year.

In order to follow social distancing guidelines, we had our crops setup outside. We had to encourage participants to simply drop off their crops and wait until the following week to see if they had won. We also had to eliminate the baked goods section to avoid contamination.

Because of these circumstances, we did not have as many participants and entries as previous years, but still had a great contest. We were excited to have this time honored tradition event again this year!

Drive-Thru Pork Chop Dinner

This year, the Campbellsport FFA Alumni took over the Pork Chop Dinner.

In order to plan, we held a pre-order virtually through Google Forms on our Facebook pages. We had over 200 people order the delicious pork chop dinner.

It was a drive through style dinner with everything being prepackaged and to go. If you could not pre-order you could also drive through and get your dinner.

This year we had a 50/50 raffle in place of the tradition auction. With that raffle we were able to raise over $800 for the scholarship fund.

Even with these obstacles, the pork chop dinner was still a success and we thank everyone who participated!

CHS Annual Fruit Sale

The 2020 fruit sale was a huge success, despite the circumstances we have all been facing this year.

We encouraged our members to find new ways to sell their fruit so that we could all avoid face-to-face contact, whether that be through emailing, calling, or through social media. While we didn't know it at the time, this was a great experience for us to develop new marketing skills and communicate with new people.

Thank you to all those who participated in the fruit sale and bought from the FFA members!

Members of the Campbellsport High School FFA sort boxes of fruit for the annual fruit sale. The sale was a huge success even with COVID-19.

Classroom Update

By Shawna Henke
FFA Advisor

If you would have told me that in my first few years of teaching I would spend almost a whole year teaching from home... I would not have believed you! Yet here we are almost a year later working through the COVID pandemic.

This past year has been challenging but there has been a lot of growth that has come from those struggles. In the agriculture room we have not been able to do as many hands-on activities but we have learned how to use other platforms to learn. Students are learning through online labs and how to use other platforms to show their learning! We have done some hands-on learning like making butter or dog treats.

As a teacher I have learned how to make lessons more diverse so students anywhere can learn from it. It is no secret that this year has been difficult for everyone but I know that the agriculture department and FFA will grow from this experience and be better because of it!

We are looking forward to a more "normal" year to come.

Campbellsport FFA Alumni And Supporters Today

As with all volunteer groups, 2020 proved to be a unique and challenging year. However, we continued to provide support for the Agriculture Education program in our school district.

Working with the Empire Threshing Association, we hosted the food tent and refreshments during their annual Thresheree in August.

In September, we hosted our annual Tractor Pull, and in October we supported the FFA by hosting a drive through Pork Chop dinner that could not be held at school due to COVID-19.

At the recent annual meeting, elections were held for the 2021-2022 board. Serving the membership are: Ray Halbur, president; Alisa Birschbach, vice president, Ethan Quackenboss, secretary; Nick Schneider, treasurer; and members at large: Mike Wiess, Brock Neitzel, and Dave Thompson.

Christine Hinn and Scott Krueger, retiring board members, were introduced, and thanked for their years of service, dedication, and passion to the organization. Also recognized during the event were Joe and Vicki Tonn as Outstanding Members for their many years of support and dedication. The 2021 Friend of the Alumni Award was given to Mr. Tim Hjelle, owner of Fond du Lac Auto Machine and Parts, for his help overhauling our tractors used in our raffles.

A $1,000 scholarship was presented to Hailey Rohls to support her secondary education.

Soon we will make available our 2021 Tractor Raffle offering to win a Ford 3000 tractor or cash.

The mission of the Campbellsport FFA Alumni & Supporters, is to make a positive difference in the lives of our students by developing leadership skills, preparing for careers and building agricultural and environmental awareness.

If you would like to get involved contact the Agriculture department at the high school or one of the board members listed above. Everyone is welcomed. There is no cost involved to belong only the interest in providing agriculture education and FFA to the next generation.

Thank you for Supporting us!

Check It Out!

A Column By Kewaskum Librarian Lori Kreis

February is coming to a close which means March and spring are just around the corner. For me, a new month means new books for all.

Historical fiction is featured solidly in March. Martha Kelly's Sunflower Sisters is the story of a Union nurse during the Civil War and based on true events just like her other historical novels. Renowned author Lisa Scottoline returns with her historical fiction based on true events. Eternal takes place during the Second World War and follows three best friends who are as different as they are similar. World War I is featured in Lauren Willig's Band of Sisters. In this novel, a former scholarship student volunteers to join a group of graduates who travel to Europe to help World War I French civilians. After being delayed for months, The Bounty by Janet Evanovich will be out. It is the seventh in the Fox & O'Hare series. Named one of the most anticipated novels by many magazines, The Lost Apothecary is about unsolved murders after an apothecary tried to help women who were wronged by their men. Sarah Penner is the author. I look forward to reading A Raft of Stars. Written by Wisconsin native Andrew Graff, it is a novel of adventure following two boys who flee from what they think is a crime in the Northwoods of our state.

Parenting seems to be the theme of new adult non-fiction in March. To Raise a Boy by Emma Brown is a journalist's shocking expose into the challenges that occur in raising boys on today's world and how to address these. Sociologist Janice Johnson Dias urges parents to raise their daughters to be critical thinkers and joyful change agents in Parent Like It Matters: How to Raise Joyful, Change-Making Girls. Children Under Fire: An American Crisis by John Cox is an account of the devastating effects gun violence has on children in our country. The story of the stewardesses of Pan Am during the jet age is relayed in Come Fly the World. Julia Cooke brings us the stories of these remarkable women. Patric Richardson, aka the "Laundry Evangelist," reveals his revolutionary methods for cleaning clothes—and making laundry loads more fun in Laundry Love: Finding Joy in a Common Chore.

In the newest installment of the Wings of Fire series, Tui Sutherland offers The Dangerous Gift to young readers. Look for Dog Man 10 Mothering Heights by Dav Pilkey and Geronimo Stilton with The Last Resort Oasis. There will be new books about Peppa Pig, Llama Llama, Big Nate and many, many animals to delight your children. Teens can look forward to Chain of Iron, a Shadowhunters novel by Cassandra Clare and Holly Jackson's mystery installment Good Girl, Bad Blood.

That is just a short sampling of all the new items coming to you in March.

Hope to see you soon.

Johnson Appointed To AEM Ag Sector Board

Kondex Corporation President Keith Johnson, P.E. was recently elected to the Association of Equipment Manufacturers' (AEM) Ag Sector Board. Johnson is one of two newly appointed executives joining the 20-member group.

The Ag Sector Board provides the strategic and operational direction for the agricultural sector of AEM, and advocates on behalf of the association's agricultural members. Beyond this position, Johnson also serves on AEM's Components Member Group Executive Committee, Workforce Development Committee, and I Make America Committee.

In its public statement, AEM senior vice president of agriculture services and forestry Curt Blades commented on the appointments of Johnson and Dietz Lankhorst, president and CEO of Krone NA, Inc. "We welcome Dietz and Keith to our Ag Sector Board and thank them for their volunteer leadership as we work to support our industry and provide solutions to our members," Blades said. "Their expertise will be a tremendous asset to the board and provide greater value to our members."

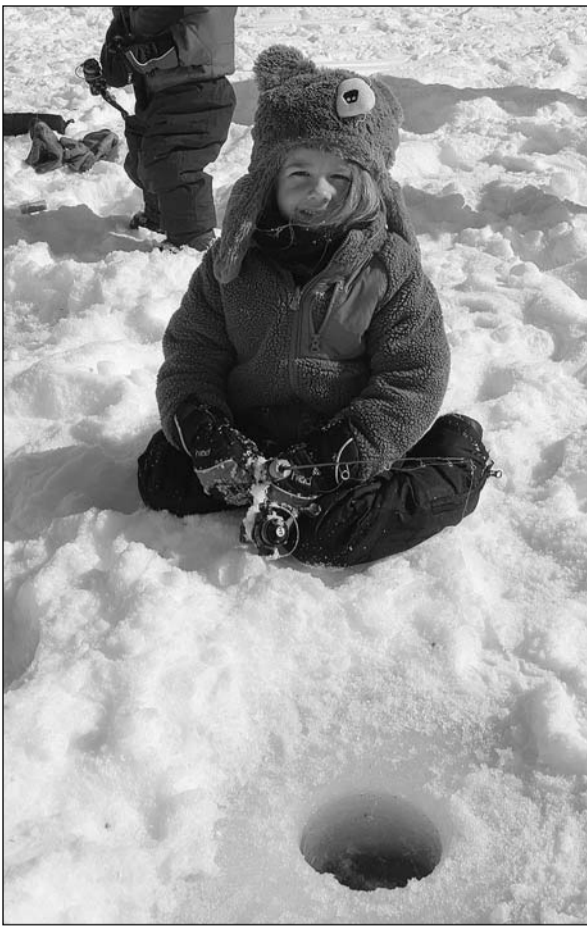

"I am honored to serve on AEM's Ag Sector

Board, and to help advocate positive change for the agricultural industry," commented Johnson. "Kondex has been a member of AEM since 1999. We've continued to offer our support and involvement over the last 22 years as a result of the actions they've taken to keep our industry strong. As an ally to the 2.8 million men and women represented in equipment manufacturing across the U.S., AEM's efforts offer a direct benefit to Kondex, our associates, and the customers and farmers using the products we manufacture each and every day."

AEM is the North

American-based international trade group representing off-road equipment manufacturers and suppliers, with more than 1,000 companies and over 200 product lines in the agriculture and construction-related industry sectors worldwide.

BBB Tips: 10 Tips To Stay Cyber Secure When Working Remotely

Several companies are still practicing safe work from home guidelines as a way to mitigate the spread of COVID-19 or have adapted their employee policies to continue this practice.

While health officials continue to advise the best way to stay safe, here are 10 best practices for staying cyber-secure while working remotely:

1. Remember to save your work and lock your computer when stepping away from your desk. This applies to personal and corporate PCs alike.
2. Log off. When you are finished for the day, log off your remote PC. Don't just lock it or disconnect from it without logging off.

3. Password protect your office cell phone.
4. Don't click. Watch for any coronavirus (or other) communication asking you to click a link, login or supply a password. These messages should be viewed with extreme skepticism. Read more on phishing scams.
5. Never open an attachment, click on links, or reply to messages unless you are 100 percent certain that the source is legitimate and that the communication was expected.
6. Call to verify. If you get an e-mail requesting you to do a favor for your manager (like purchasing Target gift cards or wire transferring money), always call the person to verify before acting. Many of these requests are bogus; see BBB's study on Business Email Compromise (BEC) scams.

7. Don't allow remote IT support without verifying the source. Your IT department will communicate with you first before connecting to your computer. If anyone you don't recognize calls you and claims to be with your IT department and asks you for your password, Connectwise, Automate, Machine, or TeamViewer ID or other sensitive information, hang up and call your IT department to see if the request was legitimate. Read more on tech support scams.
8. Do not accept unsolicited support calls claiming to be from Microsoft, Apple, or other vendors.
9. Avoid pop-up numbers. If a message box pops up with a phone number in it, do not call the number.
10. Always run anti-virus/anti-malware software on your computers, particularly home PCs. Ensure that your subscription and antivirus definitions are kept up-to-date. Also ensure that Windows PCs are rebooted regularly and that Windows Updates are routinely installed on home systems.

National School Counseling Week was Feb. 1-5, 2021. The week, presented by the American School Counselor Association (ASCA), highlighted the unique contribution of school counselors within U.S. school systems and the tremendous impact they have in helping students achieve school success and plan for a career. The students at Campbellsport Elementary School thanked our amazing School Counselor, Kristie Kaiser with a card signed by all the students and some flowers, to show our appreciation for everything she does for the staff and students at Campbellsport Elementary School. The CES Student Council presented Mrs. Kaiser with the flowers.

Red Cross Calls For Healthy Blood Donors Following Severe Weather

Record-breaking cold and winter storms across much of the U.S. has forced the cancellation of hundreds of American Red Cross blood drives in about 30 states and caused more than 15,000 blood and platelet donations to go uncollected. The Red Cross is urging healthy individuals, especially those with type O blood, to give now to ensure blood products are available for patient emergencies when help can't wait.

Every day thousands of patients rely on lifesaving blood donations. The need for blood is constant, even during snowstorms and the COVID-19 pandemic. To help ensure lifesaving patient care isn't impacted, individuals in areas unaffected by severe weather are urged to make appointments to donate by downloading the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

Important COVID-19 Information For Donors

The Red Cross is testing blood, platelet and plasma donations for COVID-19 antibodies. The test may indicate if the donor's immune system has produced antibodies to this coronavirus, regardless of whether an individual developed COVID-19 symptoms. Red Cross antibody tests will be helpful to identify individuals who have COVID-19 antibodies and may now help current coronavirus patients in need of convalescent plasma transfusions.

Convalescent plasma is a type of blood donation collected from COVID-19 survivors that have antibodies that may help patients who are actively fighting the virus. Plasma from whole blood donations that test positive for high levels of COVID-19 antibodies may be used to help COVID-19 patients.

COVID-19 antibody test results will be available within one to two weeks in the Red Cross Blood Donor App or donor portal at RedCrossBlood.org. A positive antibody test result does not confirm infection or immunity. The Red Cross is not testing donors to diagnose illness, referred to as a diagnostic test. To protect the health and safety of Red Cross staff and donors, it is important that individuals who do not feel well or believe they may be ill with COVID-19 postpone donation.

Each Red Cross blood drive and donation center follows the highest standards of safety and infection control, and additional precautions — including temperature checks, social distancing and face coverings for donors and staff — have been implemented to help protect the health of all those in attendance. Donors are asked to schedule an appointment prior to arriving at the drive and are required to wear a face covering or mask while at the drive, in alignment with Centers for Disease Control and Prevention public guidance.

Upcoming area blood donation opportunities include:

Wednesday, March 3 — Peace United Church of Christ, 343 1st St., Kewaskum, from 12:30 p.m.-6 p.m.

Thursday, March 4 — Knights of Columbus Hall, 795 Fond du Lac Ave., Fond du Lac, from 12 p.m.-5 p.m.

Tuesday, March 9 — Campbellsport Public Library, 220 N Helena St., from 12:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m.

Tuesday, March 16 — Maximillians, 155 Fond du Lac Street, Mt. Calvary, from 11:45 a.m.-6 p.m.

Thursday, March 18 — Church of Peace, 158 S Military Rd., Fond du Lac, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

About Blood Donation

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enable the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients.

A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states (16 with parental consent where allowed by state law), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Campbellsport Community Theater To Perform James & The Giant Peach

Campbellsport Community Theater is presenting "James & The Giant Peach," being performed by Campbellsport High School students.

The musical is an adaptation of the Roald Dahl story of the same name. It was made into an animated movie and then made its way to Broadway.

It tells the story of James, who is left orphaned and then turned over to his two aunts. They prove to be mean and dishonest. Through the help of Lada Lord and some magic, the peach becomes enormous and the insects become life sized and so begins an adventure across the ocean. Come and watch the magic happen.

The musical is being presented Friday, April 16, and Saturday, April 17, at 7 p.m. and a matinee on Sunday, April 18, at 1 p.m. Masks will be required and social distancing will be observed so seating will be limited. Mark your calendar now for April 16th, 17th and 18th for this charming show. It is a show for all ages.

It will be performed in the Lang Auditorium in Campbellsport High School.

Tickets for this show will be available at True Value, Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport or from any cast member, or by calling 920-948-3770. Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the door.

This is usually a musical presented by St. Matthew's CYO but because of restrictions on parishes at this time, Campbellsport Community Theater asked if they could present the show so that students would have the opportunity to perform a musical this year.

Long Lake Fishing Club's Fisheree

With winter well upon us, the Long Lake Fishing Club is gearing up for their annual Fisheree on Long Lake. This event is always a great time to see who are the truly skilled or who are the sometimes lucky fishermen. It is not often that some of these anglers will willingly show you their catch. Don't miss your chance!

Club members will be out on the ice early Saturday morning, Feb. 27, selling food, warm and cold beverages and the winter raffle tickets that will allow you to register your catch for the fishing prizes and many other great prizes. Some of them will also find time to be fishing!

Fish registration will start at 8 a.m. and run until 4 p.m. This is a great attraction. They are hoping to have some big fish to view in our live tank (for the special catch and release drawing), as well as other trophy fish hanging from the board. Shortly after 4 p.m. the fish prizes will be awarded.

The raffle drawing will be held on May 8th at the Dundee Sportsmen's Club with a free fish fry at 2 p.m. and the raffle drawing at 5 p.m.. The grand prize will be a Polaris Sportsman 450 ATV or $4,500 in cold, hard CASH.

The Long Lake Fishing Club, Inc. was created to protect, maintain, and improve all the environments necessary to insure, for present and future generations, the enjoyment of successful fishing on Long Lake, a multi-use lake in the Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest, Fond du Lac County. They hope to see you out on the ice. TIP-UP!!

Rosies Restaurant And Bar Debuts In Lomira

Rosie's Restaurant and Bar opened on Feb. 3, at the northwest corner of Hwys 41 and 67. Previously Bublitz's Family Restaurant and a well-known stop for many, Rosie's will give a hometown feel that Lomira area residents have become accustomed to.

Rosie's is a family-owned business and a new adventure for the three sibling owners. Understanding the need for another dining spot in the area, and a place for friends to gather, there is a lot of excitement around the opportunities this will bring to Lomira.

It was only fitting that a family name be chosen for this special spot, and who better than Grandma Rosie! Rosie Fell and her husband Sy ran taverns and restaurants in the Lomira area for many years. She is the grandmother of the three business owners, which is where the "Three Rings Around the Rosie" comes from on the business logo. Rosie was known for her great food, her stories and her quick wit.

Rosie's embraces quality casual dining with an Italian twist. The restaurant will feature a full menu with a special focus on homemade pizza and delectable pasta dishes. Dinner options also include certified Angus beef steak, seafood, sandwiches, wraps, salads, and a fish fry customers can enjoy any night of the week. People can look forward to Rosie's daily food and drink specials.

The new business will be a great asset to the Lomira and surrounding communities, bringing approximately 35 new jobs. Its location is ideal for business meetings, large gatherings, and a banquet room is available for special occasions. The restaurant has been updated with modern features for a fresh new feel. The bar area has several large TVs so fans don't miss a sporting event – even live feeds high school sporting events. Rosie's will have a warm and welcoming atmosphere that every customer will enjoy.

Rosie's is closed Tuesdays. Wednesday through Monday, the bar opens at 3 p.m. and food is served from 4:30-10 p.m. Carryout and curbside pickup is available by calling 920-269-8000.

Safety comes first at Rosie's, with staff having taken every precaution to practice safe service and social distancing for customers and employees during COVID-19.

"Rosie's entire staff is very excited to serve the Lomira and surrounding communities, as well as people traveling through the area! We look forward to serving you!" per a recent press release.

Additional information is available at rosies-lomira.com and on Facebook at Rosie's Restaurant & Bar.

The new Rosie's Restaurant and Bar is located at 580 East Ave. near the corner of Highways 41 and 67. It opened recently.

Heroes Of The Holyland

—Aloysius Joseph Freund Sergeant First Class, US Army

Unit: Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 19th Infantry Regiment, 24th Infantry Division

Born: Feb 15, 1930, St. Peter, Fond du Lac County, Wisconsin

Died: January 5, 1951, North Korea

Buried: North Korea
Listed on the Korean War Memorial in Dayton, Ohio, Cenotaph > Wisconsin Panel 2

Awards:

•Prisoner of War Medal, Combat Infantryman Badge,

•Korean Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal,

•National Defense Service Medal, Republic of Korea

•Presidential Unit Citation, Republic of Korea War

•Service Medal

Aloysius Joseph Freund was born in St. Peter on February 15, 1930. He attended parochial school at St. Peter. The family moved to Fond du Lac sometime after he graduated from eighth grade in 1944. He attended Fond du Lac High School and enlisted in the US Army in 1947 at the age of 17. He received his high school diploma while in the Army. He spent 18 months in training in the U.S. and was then sent to Japan in 1948. When war broke out in Korea in June of 1950 Aloysius was sent to the front.

The following is from: Department of the Army Loss Incident Report

General military situation and circumstances of loss: The 19th Infantry Regiment was the last from the 24th Infantry Division to land in Korea. By the evening of July 12, 1950, the 19th Infantry was in position to relieve the 21st Infantry on the south bank of the Kum River.

The area of operation was extremely large. It extended from a railroad bridge crossing the Kum River eight miles north Taejon, and followed the river west, until it was three miles from Konju, a distance of almost 30 miles, making it necessary to leave large gaps between units. In 1st Battalion, A Company of the 19th Infantry was operating on the right flank of the regiment, positioned between B Company and C Company. Ominously, an unavoidable gap of 1,000 meters existed between A Company and C Company.

On the morning of July 15, the 34th Infantry Regiment was pushed back at Konju. This made the 19th Infantry vulnerable to attack by the North Korean army's elite 3rd Division, which did not hesitate to exploit the developing military situation by sending probing attacks across the Kum River.

In the early morning hours of July 16, the enemy launched their coordinated attack across the Kum. The 19th Infantry fought valiantly, but the enemy was able to exploit the gaps in the regiment's defenses. By 0800, the enemy had overrun several forward positions.

By mid-afternoon, the North Koreans were operating in the rear of the 19th Infantry, blocking the road south to Taejon. This was the only route out of the main battle area — many men including SFC Freund — were captured as they attempted a fighting withdrawal around and through enemy lines.

As a POW, SFC Freund made his way north by stages to Seoul and Pyongyang, and was then taken by train to Manpo on the south bank of the Yalu River in a group of 750 POWs and civilian internees. By now, many members of this group were beginning to succumb to the effects of prior wounds, dysentery, and pneumonia.

The POWs were marched to villages near Kosan, then back to Manpo, in preparation for a much longer trek to the "Apex" camps further up the south of the Yalu River. SFC Freund began this prolonged march on October 31, arriving at Chunggang-jin, the first village in the "Apex" cluster about ten days later. The group rested briefly, then pressed on to Hanjang-ni, where they wintered over.

SFC Freund died of exhaustion (and probably pneumonia) during the winter of 1950-1951. One companion (Army SGT Wayne A. "Johnnie" Johnson) reported January 5, 1951, and we believe this to be reliable. Another man who actually saw him die, reported October 1950 but he also mentioned the location of the winter camp. We believe the cited month, October, is a garble for December, which would agree with the location. The Army, taking the October report at face value, set (his death as) October 31, 1950, for record purposes.

This report then goes on at length about the difficulties encountered trying to recover the remains of U.S. missing men in North Korea.

The above mentions SGT Wayne A. "Johnny" Johnson. He was a POW with SFC Freund. Johnson listed each man that died secretly on bits of cigarette packages and a strip of wallpaper. In August of 1953, the 262 survivors of the "Tiger" death march (named after "The Tiger" a brutal North Korean army major) were ordered for repatriation.

Johnnie dug up his hidden list and sealed it in a toothpaste tube he received from the Red Cross. Not until he was safely on a troopship home did he bring it out.

"What have you got there?" an officer asked. "It's my list, sir," Johnny explained.

The officer held up thin sheets crammed with tight columns.

There were 496 names. A lieutenant made a note of it in Johnny's debriefing report. The record slipped into bureaucratic oblivion for 40 years until it was published in Reader's Digest Magazine by Malcolm McConnell in January 1997. Johnson was eventually awarded the Silver Star in August 1996 for keeping the secret list.

Aloysius' mother received a letter on February 8, 1954, from James R. Hunt from Russell, Pennsylvania. Hunt described meeting Aloysius in Beppu, Japan. Hunt was also captured by the North Koreans. He told Aloysius' mother that Aloysius died quietly and bravely. He stated her son was buried quietly in a grave in North Korea by American soldiers he served with.

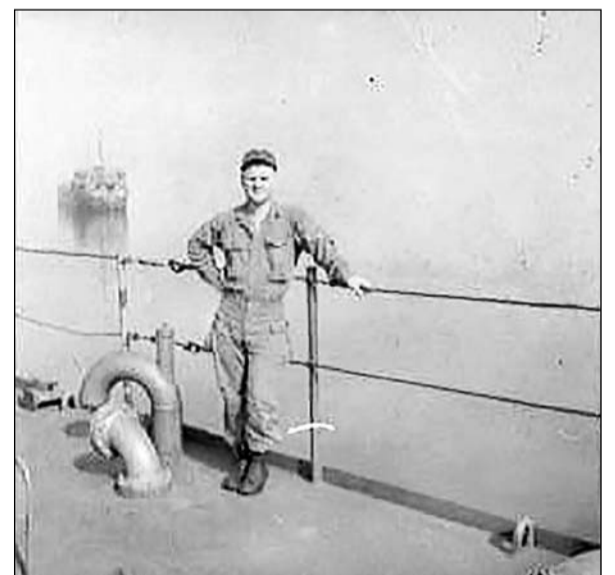

Aloysius was the son of Louis J. Freund and Alma Katherine Steffen. He had 10 brothers and sisters; Marcella Woeiful, Marie Liebe, Ervin Freund, Irene Schlefke, Francis Freund, Harold Freund, Norman Freund, Edna Amrhein, Stella Beaudreau, and Bernadette Gruenke.

Copies of Johnson's list, the James R. Hunt letter, Department of the Army Loss Incident Report, and a map of North Korea showing battle location and POW camp location, and a newspaper article announcing death, are available to view at the Malone Area Heritage

Lady Indians' Run Ends In New Berlin

Coach Russell Thull and the Kewaskum High School girls basketball team knew they were up against a strong opponent in the sectional semi finals. New Berlin Eisenhower won the regular season Woodland West conference, arguably one of the strongest conferences in the state. Their regional had multiple teams that had enough talent to make a deep postseason run, and Eisenhower came out on top and earned the number one seed for the sectional. Despite the strength of their opponent, the Indians felt confident that if they started well, knocked down some shots, and defended like they did against KML, they would have a chance at a major upset.

The Indians did indeed get off to a solid start. The Indians were able to force some turnovers and hold Eisenhower to miss contested perimeter shots throughout the first 12 minutes of the game. The teams were neck and neck during that time span, and Kewaskum even held a two-point lead deep into the first half. Eisenhower eventually was able to get some easy baskets and went on a run at the end of the half, while Kewaskum struggled to make shots. The Indians faced a 23-12 halftime deficit.

Coach Thull knew the first few minutes were going to dictate the approach for the rest of the game. Kewaskum continued its inability to score from the field, and the Lions continued to extend their advantage. The Indians needed to increase their pressure to full court to try to increase possessions and perhaps get some easy baskets in transition to get back in the game. The effort was outstanding, but Eisenhower was able to secure the ball, become more efficient on offense and continue to smother on the defensive end.

The Indians could only muster eight second-half points, six of those from the free-throw line. Senior Nicole Butz led the scoring with six points as the Indians fell to Eisenhower 48-20. The program also will lose First Team All Conference guard Kennedy Adams and Olivia Adoronato to graduation. New Berlin Eisenhower went on to defeat Pius to advance to the state tournament.

The Indians finished the season at 15-6, finished second in conference and earned back-to-back regional championships. Not bad for a season that was in doubt at the start of the school year. The Kewaskum girls basketball program would like to thank the parents, students and community members for their support this season.

Kyle Hoeft catches some air as he brings the ball to the basket for Kewaskum High School in a regional quarterfinal against Port Washington on Tuesday, Feb. 16. The Indians won the game, 47-37.

The Piitt Stop

By Jason Piittmann, KHS Athletic Director

The Piitt Stop — Lights, Camera, Action! More Movies

After writing about my favorite sports movies, I thought I would compile a list of my favorite movies, in general — NOT including those in the sports genre. In no particular order, here it goes...

Airplane! — Leslie Nielsen became well known for his humorous acting in this 1980 spoof of the "Airport" series of movies from the 1970s.

Die Hard — The movie that draws debate every winter over whether or not it qualifies as a Christmas movie. I say it does and Bruce Willis was unforgettable in this one.

The Bridge on the River Kwai — Based on a French novel, this is one of my favorite war pictures. Sir Alec Guinness and William Holden come to mind when I think of this movie.

Blazing Saddles — A Mel Brooks classic! This movie cracks me up from start to finish.

Young Frankenstein — Another Mel Brooks comedy. Gene Wilder, Peter Boyle, Marty

Feldman and Madeline Kahn have me laughing non-stop in this show.

Vertigo — There is nothing like some great suspense from the master, Alfred Hitchcock! There is something about his movies that keep your attention. He was truly a master.

Rear Window — Another Hitchcock Classic! James Stewart and Kim Novak keep you glued to your seat as you watch how this movie unfolds.

Silence of the Lambs — I remember how this movie freaked me out the first time I saw it. Now it is one of those movies that I have to watch if I see it on television.

The Hunt for Red October — This is another must watch for me. I guess the intrigue is part of growing up with the Cold War and being in college when the Soviet Union fell.

Shawshank Redemption — Tim Robbins and Morgan Freeman are so good in this movie. It is one you will find on television quite often, so I am sure many of you have seen it.

The Blues Brothers — I love blues music and this movie involves comedy with the SNL/Second City pairing of Belushi and Aykroyd, plus cameos from many musical legends, like John Lee Hooker, Ray Charles, and Aretha Franklin.

12 Angry Men — This has to be my absolute favorite. Henry Fonda and a cast of many future stars in the jury room debating the facts of a murder case. Part of the reason I love it so much is its simplicity. Nearly the whole movie is set in the jury room and you have those jurors, those 12 angry men, deliberating the case.

I honestly do not go to many movies in the theater. If I go, it is usually because it is something my kids want to see. Therefore, you can see my slant toward the older movies. Hopefully, this will make some of you want to watch some of these or your favorites.

News From The DNR

Join The Virtual Birkie

The DNR is excited to partner with the American Birkebeiner for the 2021 Birkebeiner (Birkie) Ski Race, which is being held virtually through February 28.

You can join the fun by completing the race anywhere. Not sure where to go the distance? The Wisconsin State Park System offers 11 sites across the state with groomed trails where skiers can choose different routes to complete one of the standard Birkie races:

- American Birkebeiner — 43 km (26.7 mi)
- Kortelopet — 26 km (16.2 mi)
- Prince Haakon — 14 km (8.7 mi)

Please note that most of these state park properties require a vehicle admission sticker and/or state trail pass.

Consider visiting during the week to avoid any potential capacity closures that may occur during virtual Birkie weekends.

Don't forget to show how you did by tagging your race photos with #Out-WiGo on social media.

Ice Shanty Removal Dates Approaching

Permanent ice shanties, or those not removed daily, must be removed from all state waters by March 15.

Anglers can continue to use portable ice shanties after these dates, so long as they are removed from the ice when they are not actively in use and at the end of each day.

Early deadlines, such as those for inland and boundary waters, are:

- Wisconsin-Minnesota boundary waters by March 1
- Inland waters south of Highway 64 by the first Sunday following March 1
- Lake Michigan, Green Bay, Lake Superior and inland waters north of Highway 64 by the first Sunday following March 12
- Wisconsin-Michigan boundary waters by March 15

As these deadlines approach, it's important to remember that no ice is ever 100 percent safe. The DNR does not monitor ice conditions, so anglers should check with local fishing clubs and bait shops for current ice conditions.

Owners having difficulties removing their shanty should seek help from their local fishing club, vendors and other anglers.

The public should report any shanty owners not taking responsibility for removing their shanty to the DNR Violation Hotline by calling or texting 1-800-TIP-WNDR or 1-800-847-9367.

Youth Artists Encouraged To Enter 2022 Park Sticker Design Contest

Did you know that Wisconsin state park and forest vehicle admission stickers are designed by talented high school students each year?

The DNR's design contest is open to all high school age students attending public, private or parochial schools in Wisconsin.

The design must be the artist's original creation and shall not be copied or duplicated from previously published art, including photographs, clip art or electronic graphic images. Photographs or photo manipulations will not be accepted.

The deadline to enter the 2022 sticker design contest is Friday, April 30.

Landowners: Enroll In DMAP By March 1

Landowners who enroll in the Deer Management Assistance Program (DMAP) receive a wealth of resources to improve habitat for deer and other wildlife on their properties.

Since 2014, DMAP has helped Wisconsin landowners manage habitat for deer and other wildlife. If you enroll 160 acres or more in DMAP by March 1, you will be eligible for a site visit by a wildlife biologist and forester as well as a customized management plan tailored to your property goals.

Whether you enroll a few acres or a few hundred, DMAP provides lots of benefits beyond the custom management plan. As a DMAP cooperator you will:

- Access assistance to improve habitat for Wisconsin's wildlife that we all enjoy.
- Receive the latest information and updates on habitat and deer management techniques and research.
- Network with and learn from other conservation-minded people like you.
- Participate in hands-on workshops and citizen science opportunities that focus on habitat and deer management topics.
- Get to know your local natural resource professionals.

Landowners of properties of any size may enroll in DMAP at any time, but landowners with 160 acres or more are eligible to receive a site visit with a wildlife biologist and forester along with a tailored habitat management plan if they enroll before March 1. Landowners with less than 160 acres may combine acreage with neighboring landowners to reach the 160-acre requirement and enroll as a DMAP cooperative.

Not a landowner? Ask the owner of the property you hunt to enroll in DMAP and identify you as their authorized representative.

Coach P's Corner

Fishing In The Dark

Back on September 27, 2012, I wrote a column called "Bucket List." I listed about a dozen things I'd like to do in my lifetime. Four of those things on my list have been checked off. I never rode a snowmobile but thanks to Dean and Shelly Gassner, that one is off the list — still can't believe they let me go by myself.

I never went deer hunting (heck, I never shot a gun). That one got checked off a few years ago when a couple of my wrestlers, Jake Johnson and Alex Costello, took me out — and I shot a deer!

Another Bucket Lister was attending the Hodag Country Music Festival in Rhinelander. I not only checked that off, I've gone four times now.

The fourth wish from my Bucket List happened last Sunday when I stepped on the ice for the first time to go Sturgeon spearing. I actually didn't fish but

I went along for the ride to see what this great fishing spectacle is all about.

Good friend Jay "Freddie" Baumhardt took me out to his shanty on Lake Winnebago early Sunday morning. We entered the lake in Pipe by Jim & Linda's Supper Club. All I could see was a city of fishing shanties scattered around Winnebago.

We drove about a mile off the shore to Jay's shanty, my heart was pumping as we crossed a bridge where a crack formed. When I stepped foot into his shanty it was pitch black, when the light went on — there was the big cut out hole.

Freddie started to get everything ready as I just soaked up the whole atmosphere. The shanty was toasty warm and beautifully decorated with nice seating and a stereo. The spear was set (and a Bowe Built one of course), the camera and decoy were dropped and it was Showtime.

As we monitored the camera and the hole, Freddie gave me quite the Sturgeon spearing lesson. When you're in a dark shanty with a hole in the ice it's quite the setting as the clear water gives you a glow of light.

For hours Freddie told me old Sturgeon spearing stories dating back to his father Joe Baumhardt.

We chomped on some beef sticks and cheese curds and had a blast laughing about old stories, but always looking at the camera and hole just in case one of the prehistoric fish was swimming around the decoy.

At one o'clock, the Sturgeon spearing time was up and it was time to pack up. We didn't see any of the legendary fish but for me to witness the whole experience is something I will never forget.

Campbellsport Elementary

Campbellsport Elementary Students of the Month were announced.

Each month the CES teachers choose students who has shown great Cougar Pride and done a fantastic job throughout the month focusing on our Character Trait for that month.

A huge thank you to the CES teachers for all their hard work during virtual weeks. When you walked through the halls of CES during those weeks you couldn't tell we didn't have students as the halls were filled with teacher's voices instructing their classes online throughout the day. We definitely have a very dedicated group of teachers here at CES and appreciate all they do!

Character Trait of the Month

For the month of January, we focused on Perseverance at CES. We talked about how we need to work hard even when things are challenging. We will finish the month with our monthly assembly on January 29th where the students and teachers will write personal statements to post on their desk to keep them positive when they have times that are difficult or challenging. For the month of February, we will be focusing on Kindness. As part of our month, the CES Student Council will lead activities for the month including: a coin war to show kindness, Random Acts of Kindness Activities and Kindness referrals.

January 18th In-service

During our in-service, Kathy Schmitt, from CESA 6, worked with the teachers to build their understanding of doing Interactive Read Alouds in their classrooms to strengthen our literacy programs and began the process of how writing needs to connect to our reading instruction. We had a great day learning and building our skills. She will be back at CES in March so that we can continue this important work.

Eden Elementary A big welcome to our new PE teacher, Mr. Danny Seitz. He is already building strong relationships with students as they are excited to have a young male for a teacher.

Thank you to the following teachers who have presented at our "Dare to Share" sessions after school to share some of their professional knowledge:

Amy Kumrow - Kami Chrome Extension- how to make pdf's editable

Sara DeGroff - Bitmoji Classrooms and new ideas from SLATE conference

Jane Hutchinson - Website Resourcing

Our school theme for February is Kindness and Empathy. Some activities we will be doing at Eden are door decorating around the theme, building kindness chains, and written notes or crafts of kindness for nursing home residents.

In partnership with the Campbellsport Public Library, we would like to thank them for putting together an outside story walk at EES in which families have the opportunity to read together outside. The first story is The Blizzard by John Rocco.

High School

9th and 10th graders participated in "Aspire Interim" testing to monitor progress this week. The week before, results from the fall testing were shared individually with students, along with a brief explanation of how to view and use the results. A parent sent the following email:

Hello Mr. O'Connor, I know that you probably have not heard many compliments lately so I thought this was worthy to share. (My Daughter) (a sophomore) and I were reviewing her Fall results earlier this week. She made the comment that during her interpretation time this was the first time she felt there was a purpose to taking the ACT Aspire. Previously her perception was that we continue to do this because our ACT scores are bad. She appreciates the data lens that you bring to the district. I was impressed that she was mature enough to recognize this feel within the building. She is impressed with the encouragement the students received.

I felt it was important to share... What you do matters and is noticed by the students already. Have a great week (Name)

9. Motion by Deb Senn, seconded by Mandi Rahmer to approve the January 18, 2021 meeting minutes. Motion carried 7-0.

10. Motion by Mike Weiss, seconded by Dani Neitzel to approve the January 25, 2021 Special Meeting Minutes. Motion carried 7-0.

Cold Stress: Why You Need To Recognize It

—Excessive Loss Of Body Heat Can Lead To Serious Illness, Injury, Even Death

What is cold stress and why should you be aware of its symptoms?

Cold stress occurs when skin temperature, and eventually internal body temperature, decreases during exposure to cold temperatures. Near freezing temperatures, especially when combined with increased wind speed, cause heat to leave the body. Wetness, dampness — even from body sweat — also expedites loss of body heat. When the body is unable to warm itself, serious cold-related illnesses and injuries may occur.

Anyone working outside in cold and windy conditions is at risk for cold stress. When working outside, it's important to be aware of air temperature and wind chill factors to gauge the level of cold stress risk.

Factors that increase the risk of cold stress include:

clude:

- Wetness/dampness
- Improper dress
- Exhaustion
- Predisposing health conditions such as hypertension, hypothyroidism, and diabetes
- Poor physical conditioning

The risks of cold stress include permanent tissue damage and death. Types of cold stress include trench foot, frostbite and hypothermia.

Trench foot is a non-freezing injury of the feet caused by prolonged exposure to wet and cold conditions. This injury may occur in temperatures as high as 60 degrees (Fahrenheit) if feet are constantly wet since wet feet lose heat 25 times faster than dry feet.

Trench foot symptoms include reddening skin, tingling, pain, swelling, leg cramps, numbness, and blisters.

If trench foot injury is suspected, call 911 or seek medical assistance as soon as possible. Remove wet shoes/boots and socks. Dry the feet and avoid standing or walking. Keep affected feet elevated until medical help is available.

Normal body temperature is 98.6 degrees (Fahrenheit). Prolonged exposure eventually uses up the body's stored energy and the body may begin losing heat faster than it can warm itself. When body temperature drops to less than 95 degrees (Fahrenheit), hypothermia occurs. This condition is most likely to occur at very cold temperatures, but it may happen even at temperatures above 40 degrees (Fahrenheit) if a person becomes chilled from rain, sweat, or immersion in cold water.

Symptoms of hypothermia include:

- Uncontrolled shivering

ing

- Loss of physical coordination
- Confusion
- Slurred speech
- Slowing of heart rate/breathing
- Unconsciousness
- Death

Shivering indicates that the body is losing heat. While it helps the body rewarm itself, uncontrolled shivering should not be ignored. The affected person may not realize what's happening to them since low body temperature adversely affects the brain, causing a victim to lose the ability to think clearly or move well, making hypothermia a particularly dangerous result of cold stress.

If hypothermia is suspected, follow these first aid guidelines:

- Call 911 immediately in an emergency.
- Move the affected person to a warm, dry area.

•Remove any wet clothing and replace it with dry clothing.

•Wrap the entire body (including head and neck) in layers of blankets and with a vapor barrier (i.e. tarp, garbage bag). Do not cover the victim's face.

To help prevent cold stress, recognize the weather and environmental conditions that may lead to cold stress. Learn about and know how to recognize symptoms of cold stress and the appropriate first aid responses.

Additional cold stress prevention steps:

- Know how to select proper clothing for cold, wet, and windy conditions.
- Regularly monitor your and/or coworker's physical conditions.
- Schedule frequent short breaks in warm, dry areas to allow the body to warm up.
- As much as possible,

schedule work activities during the warmest part of the day.

•Use the buddy system and work in pairs.

•Provide warm, sweet beverages to assist the body in generating heat. Avoid alcoholic beverages, which expedite loss of body heat.

•When appropriate, use radiant heaters in the work area.

Anytime you work outside, stay aware of temperature changes and wind chill advisories and warnings. Always monitor your physical condition while working in a cold environment and dress appropriately. Stay dry in cold conditions because moisture or dampness causes increased loss of body heat. Keep extra clothing handy in case of the need to shed wet clothes. Learn as much as you can about the best safety practices and implement them.

To continue to connect with families during the COVID-19 pandemic, Kim Kluge, youth services librarian for the Kewaskum Public Library, has been holding a Virtual Story Time every Wednesday morning through Facebook.

But many things remain the same about Story Time. Miss Kim still reads three books to the children. She still sings a song with the children and does a flannel board activity. And she presents a special craft project for them to do.

Children used to work on the craft while at Story Time in the library. Now they are able to pick up a kit at the library and complete the project at home.

The kits have been so popular that the library will likely continue providing kits even after in-person Story Time sessions are once again allowed.

Families have been appreciative of the extra efforts that have been made to continue providing Story Time during the pandemic. Miss Kim has received lots of positive feedback from families and has even received several thank you notes from families.

With people now receiving the vaccine, Miss Kim is hopeful things will begin opening up. If all goes well, the library plans to allow one family to attend the Story Time in person while Miss Kim reads books on Facebook, beginning in April.

"That is going to fun, and it is going to be nice to be able to have somebody at the Story Time," Miss Kim said.

This summer, the hope is that Story Time will be able to be held outdoors so more people can safely attend in person.

"We might not do the flannel board because the kids are used to being able to come up and put the stuff on it, but we might do some movement and songs and things like that," Miss Kim said.

In the meantime, Facebook Live will continue to be a valuable tool for Story Time. Miss Kim feels that is beneficial for families.

"I'm sure that everyone's parents do a great job, but I think maybe this exposes them to some of the books that they don't have at home, so they get different stories than the ones they are used to, and maybe they will find some new stories that they really like. We also do the song and the flannel board, and that is something a little different, and that is something maybe the parents can take away and do more singing at home," Miss Kim said.

"I know parents don't have time to plan activities for every day, so doing the craft with us is maybe just a little something to give a little break," she added.

In addition, offering Story Time on Facebook has helped reach people who have moved to the area or who had not visited the library, according to Miss Kim.

"It still is difficult to reach some people who may not have Facebook or who might not have internet, or a good internet connection on a consistent basis, so that's why we really enjoy the in-person Story Time," she said.

Plus, Miss Kim admits that she misses her favorite thing about Story Time: seeing the children.

"I always wonder how the children would respond or react to something during Story Time. Sometimes they have the funniest reactions or say the funniest things," Miss Kim said. "It is a lot of fun, for sure."

Boltonville Firecrackers February Club Meeting

By Edison Jaycox, age 8
 Club Reporter

At our virtual February meeting we had Amy Magan-Fischer join us. She is the County 4-H educator. Amy gave a report on creating better bylaws for 4-H Clubs. 4-H members created Valentines for the residents of Kettle Moraine Gardens Assisted Living in Kewaskum. Each valentine had a special handmade note.

Our club is selling birdseed now through March 10. If you are interested in buying any, please email boltonvillefirecrackers4h@gmail.com for an order form and information. All birdseed is locally sourced from Tom's Old Country Mill in Boltonville. We thank you in advance for supporting our youth organization!

We did breakout rooms for the first time! We decided to do a tree farm tour, a nature hike and other COVID-19 friendly activities this year. We also are going to do another aluminum can drive in April for fundraising. We ended our meeting with a fun game of Kahoot. Our next meeting will be done virtually as well.
