The new chapel at Camp Vista near Dundee is almost finished. The hope is to have it completed for Easter services next month. A fire in October 2018 destroyed the original chapel and construction on this new chapel started last year.

St. Pat's Celebration Coming Back To Dundee

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

A St. Patrick's Day tradition is coming back to Dundee, but in a different way.

For years, people have been traveling to Dundee to celebrate the fun of the St. Patrick's Day holiday. It had always consisted of a parade through the town and then specials at the local establishments after the "Shortest Parade in Fond du Lac County."

But, two years ago in 2019, the parade was not held for the first time in 28 years. Concerns about stopping traffic on Highway 67 for the parade was the main reason for not holding the parade.

Jim Peterson, former owner of Camp Dundee, decided he wanted to do something to try to bring some type of celebration back to Dundee. Instead of holding a parade, he is spearheading a celebration at Dundee Sportsmen's Park.

"Two years ago, the sheriff's department and the county frowned on it (parade)," Peterson said. "As a resident, I thought it was a loss to our community. So what I decided to do was transfer it to the Dundee Sportsmen's Club. It's a win-win for the community to move it down there."

The St. Patrick's Day Celebration is being held this Sunday, March 14, from 11 a.m.-7 p.m. at the Dundee Sportsmen's Park. It will be a day of fun and entertainment.

Two popular bands will be performing throughout the day along with an appearance by Green Elvis. The Liam Ford Band will kick off the musical entertainment at noon. Then, The Sociables will take the stage at 3 p.m.

"This is really great entertainment," Peterson said. "They've both opened for main acts at Summerfest."

Admission is free for the day. All festivities will be held in the shelter so you will have fun no matter the weather — rain or shine.

Spring Election Information In This Week

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

The spring election is coming up in less than a month. It will be held on Tuesday, April 6.

In the past, we at the Campbellsport News/Kewaskum Statesman have run profiles on all the candidates on the ballot for the elections. With the merging of the two newspapers this past September, we have decided to do things a little different moving forward.

Moving forward, we will run profiles on the candidates who have contested races in our areas. These will be the same as we have run in the past giving each candidate the same questions and the same opportunity to respond.

We will then include articles about the uncontested races in the area. We will list all the other township, village, school board and county races that are on the ballot and the candidates running for those uncontested positions.

With the Coronavirus Pandemic still a factor, we have decided to run this information in this week's newspaper. We hope this allows time for anyone who would like information in time to cast their absentee ballot before the spring election.

You can find this information on pages 8-10

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing in support of Lori B. Sommer for the school board in the Kewaskum School District. I have worked closely with Lori for the last four years.

We met at Farmington Elementary School when we both volunteered to start a Girl Scout Troop for our daughters and their peers to have an opportunity to participate. We have learned so much from each other and the girls in our troop during this time.

Lori is a true team player and demonstrates integrity. She listens carefully and is open to ideas and considers the opinions of everyone involved in a decision. Lori is an effective communicator and is great at presenting ideas clearly to the girls and their parents. She is respectful to adults and children, alike.

I appreciate that Lori is quick about taking teaching opportunities for the girls and helping our community. She enjoys teaching the girls values, social skills, money skills, science, history, recycling, and anything the girls want to learn more about! Lori demonstrates strong interpersonal skills and a real dedication to the girls in our troop and the students in our community.

The Kewaskum School District would be lucky to have Lori serve on the board.

Sincerely,
Hope Reith

Fire Destroys Shed At Guelig Waste Removal In Eden

A fire on the night of Thursday, March 4, destroyed a shed at Guelig Waste Removal and Demolition, LLC, in Eden.

Multiple calls were received at 9:08 p.m. by the Fond du Lac County Communications Center for the structure fire at 318 Fond du Lac Ave. The Eden Fire Department and First Responders along with deputies from the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office responded to the call. Upon arrival, the structure was fully engulfed.

The structure was a large pole shed which housed wood chippings and miscellaneous machinery. It is considered a complete loss.

According to the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office, no one was injured during the fire and the fire is not considered suspicious. The fire remains under investigation and the cause is unknown.

Fire departments who assisted at the scene were the City of Fond du Lac, Town of Fond du Lac, Campbellsport, Mt. Calvary, Town of Calumet, Lamartine, Waupun, Oakfield, St. Cloud, Eldorado, Van Dyne, Kewaskum, Lomira, Greenbush, Theresa, Kohlsville, and Brownsville. The Fond du Lac County Highway Department also as ing the event.

In addition to this huge celebration, Petersen reminds people that the other businesses in town are having great St. Patrick's Day activities too. "I highly encourage everyone to support the local businesses," he said.

Petersen is very excited to be helping to bring this big event to Dundee. He is hoping it will be a hit and spur some more entertainment opportunities at the Sportsmen's Park.

"We're getting great response," he said. "If it's successful, we plan to do more of it this summer."

Petersen is hoping to grow this event into a series of summer celebrations at the park. Each would have live entertainment and would be held at the Sportsmen's Park.

His other goal for this particular celebration is to keep the St. Pat's tradition going in Dundee and support all local businesses.

"What we're really trying to do is keep that St. Pat's tradition alive and well in Dundee," he said. "I think it has all the ingredients for success. It is definitely a community event and a county event."

Though they don't have the "Shortest Parade in Fond du Lac County" anymore, they are hoping to change it to "Fond du Lac County's Largest St. Patrick's Day Celebration."

REMEMBER!
Daylight saving time 2021 begins at 2 a.m. local time on Sunday, March 14, meaning you'll set your clock to 3 a.m. at that point.

LORI KREIS
 KEWASKUM LIBRARIAN

I did something that felt historic last week. Something I thought I would not get to experience until the end of summer at the earliest. My mother, sister, son and niece encountered this last month due to either their age or field of employment. Last week, I rolled up my sleeve and received my first COVID-19 immunization.

Several weeks ago, I gathered information from our county's health department that I passed on to library staff who were not yet eligible that gave us an opportunity to sign up for the vaccine. An email conversation between the system directors ensued after we received notice that public librarians were not eligible as educators, only school librarians.

I know that there are still libraries in this state that are closed for regular public access. Most of those in the Monarch Library System, including all five in Washington County, have been open for some time. I know we are not essential front-line workers like the many heroes in healthcare, but we are providing essential services to the community, and only by keeping staff healthy can we continue to stay open.

Other directors agreed with that premise enough that emails affirming our situations were sent to the four county health departments. Within a few hours, we were all contacted to make appointments for the following day.

It was a significant event, setting a place in history for me. I received an immunization card which I don't recall ever getting before. It seemed so old-school, this card I was told to hold onto and bring back with me for my second dose. No app, no email, just a printed card.

That encouraged me to do some research about immunization records, and what I discovered was intriguing. I found smallpox cards from centuries ago detailing how the vaccines were made. I read about how Dr. Salk used his family as test subjects for the polio vaccine.

I learned about a major quarantine in Boston 400 years ago because of yellow fever. I viewed amazing photos of people standing in line to receive their vaccines from different years. One website I looked through was <https://www.historyofvaccines.org/>. I encourage you to check it out if you are interested.

At the immunization center, the staff was pleasant, helpful and upbeat. The entire process from start to finish was quick and efficient. I did have some side effects that lingered a couple of days, but considered that minor inconvenience worth it and am proud to have taken part in a bit of history that will bring us closer to widespread health. Then we can have in-person programs with no limits and be able to spend time freely with loved ones and no restrictions.

Hope to see you soon.

Campbellsport Public Library Activities

The Campbellsport Public Library invites people of all ages to stop by pick up a take-and-make activity.

The youngest crafters should pick-up their craft kits anytime starting Monday morning. They can find Miss Becca's story hour and craft time project every Wednesday on Facebook. This fun preschooler program can be watched when it is convenient for your family. This is an ongoing weekly program.

During the month of March, elementary age kids should stop by to pick up the worm-themed craft projects to go along with Campbellsport Elementary School's reading of How to Eat Fried Worms. If your child would like to learn more about worms, the library has a display table full of worm-themed books that you can take home.

Older people should stop by for a Jar of Joy. These cute little jars contain markers and pretty slips of paper that encourage you to record some positive thoughts. There are also some other trinkets in the jars to make people smile.

Or grab a bag of tags that you can use to record any sentiment that enriches your soul. Then hang the tags on a house plant or the refrigerator door so you can read them when you need a break from everyday life. These take-and-makes are being handed out first-come, first-serve.

The take-and-make bench in the entrance of the lobby is usually filled with interesting projects. Inside the library, the Boredom Buster Table is filled with jigsaw puzzles, word searches, crossword puzzles, sudoku challenges, and coloring sheets. These activities are all free and new puzzles are put out frequently.

Go to www.campbellsportlibrary.org for more information about the library and to access the online card catalog and digital book and magazine collection.

If you have any questions about any library service, please call (920) 533-8534 or email director@campbellsportlibrary.org. The Campbellsport Public Library is located at 220 North Helena Street, Campbellsport.

The library is open Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Users can come in the building to browse. The library does ask that while you are in the building, wear your mask properly and use hand sanitizer before you browse.

Please call ahead of time to use the computers. The copy/fax machine is available for patron use. If you are uncomfortable coming in the building, please contact the library and workers will provide curbside service. The library is closed on the weekends.

James And The Giant Peach

The story of "James and the Giant Peach" was written by Roald Dahl. Campbellsport Community Theater is presenting the play with it being performed by Campbellsport High School students.

Lahdalord, played by Linnea Teske, is the teller of the story, leading us through the twists and turns and ups and downs of this tale. It is the story of a young orphan, played by Samantha Zimdahl, who is turned over to his two aunts, played by Kayla Bertram and Rebecca Volz.

They make James's life rather miserable and so Lahdalord gives him a magic spell to help him. However the magic goes awry and causes five bugs to become human sized. The bugs are played by Simon Strupp, Adam Cissa, Taylor Ours, Isabelle Sabish and Jon Thelen.

The five of them and James begin an adventure in a giant peach and form a rather odd family. The rest of the cast, Mercedes Herrmann, Josh Bath, Hannah Thelen, Cheyenne Tipton and Mollie Gilles, play multiple parts in the show. It is a crazy and fun show with different styles of songs throughout, lovely ballads, calypso, and jazz.

Tickets are available. Please buy your tickets for the night you plan to attend. They will be flexible but there will be limited seating due to social distancing, and it would help gauge the seating. Masks are also required to attend.

Tickets for this show are available at True Value, and Twohig Funeral Home in Campbellsport or from any cast member, or by calling 920-533-4375. Again, the show is Friday, April 16, and Saturday, April 17, at 7 p.m., and Sunday, April 18, at 1 p.m. at the Lang Auditorium in Campbellsport High School. Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the door.

Come and enjoy a wonderful show.

Gerald J. "Jerry" Gosa Jr.

Gerald J. "Jerry" Gosa Jr., 68, of Kewaskum, formerly of Waukesha, passed away on March 5, 2021, after battling Covid-19 related pneumonia for 49 days.

Jerry grew up in Waukesha and went to Waukesha South High School, where he met the love of his life Mary, whom he would later wed.

He was an Eagle Scout and varsity letter winner in three sports including: football, basketball, and track and field.

He attended the University of Wisconsin on a full athletic scholarship where he played football for the Badgers. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in Education, later earning a master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction from UW-Oshkosh.

Jerry taught chemistry at Kewaskum High School for 38 years, his entire teaching career, and served as head coach of the boys and girls varsity track and field team for 25 years. One of his proudest achievements was building his home in Kewaskum with the help of family and friends.

Furthermore, he worked tirelessly as president of Kewaskum Youth Scholarships (KEYS) which has awarded over $2 million in scholarships to Kewaskum's High School graduates since co-founding the organization in 1986. He was also a member of the Board of Directors for the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial Committee and volunteered with United Way. For these efforts in the community, he received a Home-town Hero Award at the State Capitol in Madison in 2020.

In his free time and later in retirement, he enjoyed staying physically active, particularly through cycling and cross-country skiing. He was very proud of summiting Alpe d'Huez in France on his bicycle and completing 20 Birkebeiner cross country races over his lifetime. He also loved traveling with his best friend and wife, Mary, and together they visited many locales in the United States, Egypt, and Europe, including many trips to his favorite destination - Italy.

He was an avid sports fan and loved supporting the Badgers, Packers, and Brewers. However, nothing made him happier than spending time with his children and grandchildren who were his pride and joy. Jerry was immensely proud of his children and grandchildren. He enjoyed attending and watching all of their events in person and then virtually, cheering each child or grandchild on in his own special way.

Jerry is survived by his wife Mary (Brant); daughter, Rachel (Jim) Lustig; son, David (Keri) Gosa; daughter, Katharine (Matt) Gundrum; daughter, Colleen (Dan) Nalepinski; and his eleven grandchildren, Leah, Tyler, Lily, and Jack Lustig, Reagan and Ellie Gosa, Lucas and Neva Gundrum and Viola, Cecilia and Rosalind Nalepinski. He was preceded by his parents, Gerald Sr. and Elizabeth Gosa; and parents-in-law, Murray and Mary Brant.

Jerry was a devout and lifelong Catholic. His dying wish was to share the following, coined by Professor Laurie Zoloth, "The Golden Rule, in the case of COVID-19...I get vaccinated - or wear a mask - to protect you, and you do so to protect me."

In lieu of flowers, please get vaccinated and wear a mask to protect others. You may send memorial donations to Kewaskum Youth Scholarships (KEYS) or the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial.

A private Mass with family will be held for Jerry. A memorial service will follow at a later date.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral Home has been entrusted with Jerry's arrangements. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

The Little Things

Dear Reader,

Over the past year we have witnessed many natural disasters occurring in different parts of the country. An out of control wildfire, surging flood, or freak polar vortex and blizzard can have a cascading effect, causing huge damage, dislocation, and even loss of life.

The recent events in Texas give an illustration. The power grid went down, leaving over 2.7 million people without electricity and resulting in over 70 deaths. Many Texas residents also had no gas and water. Just think about going without electricity and water for even just one day. These people were unable to cook, clean or bathe.

There are many little things that we take for granted as we move through life. They are hardly noticeable when we have them and extremely noticeable when we don't. Perhaps we should set aside a day of appreciation for all of these little things – a day where we can feel grateful for the blessings we enjoy in this part of the world.

Moraine Park Culinary Program Finding Solutions For Students

Moraine Park Technical College (MPTC) Culinary instructors and students had to think outside of the box to fill the curriculum for the student-run restaurant, Park Terrace. Due to COVID-19 restrictions, typical food operations had to be altered.

“During a normal year, we open the restaurant from early October through the end of the fall semester,” James Simmers, Moraine Park instructor, said. “With our campuses closed to the public, we knew that a typical operation wouldn’t be a possibility.”

The MPTC Culinary instructors presented the second-year students with an idea of running a ghost kitchen for staff on the Fond du Lac Campus.

“A ghost kitchen is typically a temporary secret-location operation, set up for meal-delivery only,” Simmers said. “It offers the opportunity for very limited contact — if any at all — which was a perfect alternative for our heightened safety needs.”

With unanimous approval, they developed Casper’s, the Moraine Park Ghost Kitchen. Casper’s accepted pre-orders for delivery at lunchtime on Thursdays during the fall 2020 semester. Simmers worked with his students to design the menu and like the Park Terrace restaurant, it was managed and ran completely by the students.

“They had to think outside of the box in many ways,” Simmers said. “On top of the normal restaurant duties, they had to implement an online ordering and payment system, scheduled deliveries, and think of logistics to maintain food quality during delivery.”

To date, Casper’s is the most successful student food operation, serving over 300 meals. Participating students were Hannah Chipman of LaValle, Dawn

Haakenstad of Oshkosh, Cortland Henning of Fond du Lac, Tammy Peak of Campbellsport, Carmen Roeming of Oshkosh, and Akiyoshi Yukioka of Fond du Lac.

“These students found great success with this solution and learned some valuable skills,” Simmers said. “This class has six students who ran the entire operation. They should be very proud of themselves.”

Simmers is hoping to have the opportunity to reopen Park Terrace to the public next fall.

“We are eager to welcome the public back to Park Terrace,” he said. “Until then, we hope you frequent your local restaurants- as many of them are either owned by or employ our MPTC culinary alumni.”

SOTH Bunny Brunch Modified This Year

Shepherd of the Hills Catholic Parish will not be holding its annual Bunny Brunch this year, but will be keeping up with the giving tradition.

Instead of hosting an in-person event, the parish will just be raising money to help two parish families who could use some help. The recipients of this year’s proceeds will be Geoff King and Dylan Wiedmeyer.

In 2016, Geoff became sick with bacterial meningitis. He contracted this because of a weakened immune system from chronic lymphocytic leukemia — which he had not idea he had!

While recovering in the hospital, his brain swelled from the meningitis which caused a stroke. He is at home but needs help with all personal cares.

He has limited motion on his right side, is deaf but can read and has gotten better at lip reading. His family — wife Tandra and children Melinda, 8 and Elliot, 5 — communicate with writing and a few words in sign language. He can speak clearly so others can understand him.

His leukemia is now in remission.

Dylan Wiedmeyer is 19 years old. He is the son of Tom and Jamie and has two brothers — Brandon and Austin. In October of 2018 he was in an automobile accident.

He was hospitalized until October 2020 when he was finally able to come home. With the help of his family, Lakeland Care and Froedtert for therapy along with many other needs, Dylan is making progress.

Right now he is working on re-learning how to talk, walk, regain his muscle strength and balance. He has therapy for all of these things.

He just received a platform walker and is starting to regain his balance. Needless to say, he has a long way to go!

The parish will have some raffle baskets as part of this event. They are set up at church and winners will be drawn after 10:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday, March 21.

Stuffed bunnies were always a popular part of the Bunny Brunch for the youngsters. You will still be able to get a bunny for your youngster, ages 0-9. Anyone who wants one can get a ticket with their donation of $10 or more to receive a bunny.

If you wish to donate to this fundraiser, send contributions to Shepherd of the Hills Parish clearly marked BUNNY BRUNCH. You can also call the parish office at 920-477-3201 or Mary Bowe 920-923-3081 for more information on how to help.

Hayat Pharmacy Administering COVID Vaccines

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

Hayat Pharmacy of Campbellsport is administering COVID vaccines. They started a couple weeks ago and have been compiling a list of those would like one.

“People can call here and put their name on a list,” said pharmacist John Bosnjak.

As they receive their vials of the vaccine, the pharmacy will go down their list and call to schedule appointments for the shots.

Bosnjak stated that they are limited, like most, on the number of vaccines that they receive. Each vial contains enough for 10 shots.

Originally, they received three vials of the vaccine and were able to give 30 people shots. Hayat is receiving the Moderna vaccine so those 30 people will be coming in again soon to receive their second dose.

Bosnjak admitted that it was a little chaotic when the first group of 30 came in for their shots. He did not set up separate appointments. He just told people to come in any time between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

According to Bosnjak, almost everyone arrived around 2 p.m. or before. In addition, the pharmacist from a Milwaukee location bringing the vaccine and helping Bosnjak was about 15 minutes late. So it was a bit crazy for the first round of shots. Since then, they learned and started scheduling appointments.

The pharmacy has received other vials since then and hope to receive more soon. This is why they are keeping a list of customers who would like a shot. As they receive the vaccine, they call those on the list to schedule an appointment to come in for the shot.

“Right now we have quite a few people on that list,” Bosnjak said. “So we go down that list and call people. We have received two shipments so far, so we do what we can.”

One thing Bosnjak does caution is that if you’ve already had your first shot somewhere else, you cannot sign up to get your second one at Hayat. They are only able to give the second shot to those who did receive their first shot in Campbellsport. There is a four week waiting period to get your second shot.

Anyone 18 and older can receive a vaccine. Bosnjak cautions that you might have a slightly sore arm after receiving the vaccine. He also has seen a few people feel a little sick for a couple days after the shot, but nothing serious and some have had no side affects. Of course, everyone is different and will react differently to the shot but Bosnjak feels a minor discomfort is better than going through COVID-19.

Bosnjak is hoping that more vaccine will be available soon for those who would like a shot. No matter what, he is going to what he can to help Campbellsport area residents.

“We’ll do as many as we can,” he said. “Hopefully we can do this everyday.”

Almost 100 residents and three Washington County Sheriff's deputies packed the Wayne Elementary School gymnasium for the Town of Wayne's Plan Commission meeting on March 14 to express their thoughts about the lot subdivision proposed for the township. Recently, numerous town residents have been angered at what they say is a disregard of the Land Use Plan that was adopted in 1998. After over an hour of discussion, Don Thoma of Accurate Surveying, who represented Kearns at the most recent meeting, presented the plan commission with three concept plans to review.

Re-inspection fees are going from $25 to $30, the same for zoning permits.

Certification in National Incident Management
System-FEMA 100,200,700 & 800

State Certified Firefighter I, II Hazmat Certification,
Rapid Intervention, EMS

Family Information:
My wife Dawn and I have been married for 21 years and raised our two children, Brittany (20) and Matthew (17) in the Town of Farmington.

Community Involvement (clubs, church, etc.):
Member of the Boltonville Sportsman club, New Fane Sportsman's Club, Beechwood Sportsman Club, Tombstone/Pickerel Snowmobile Club, etc. Elected as Town of Farmington-Town Board Supervisor in 2019. Elected as District 11 Washington County Board Supervisor in 2020. Member of the American Public Works Association. Serving on Public Works Committee, Recycling Committee, County Board Restructure Committee, Safety Committees, etc.

What skills and experiences do you bring to the position?
My current position as a Director of Public Works for the City of West Bend and also serving as a Town of Farmington Supervisor and County Board Supervisor has helped me balance the understanding of government operations, resident demands, and the necessity for community relations. Having the responsibility of an annual operational budget and overseeing the operations of a local municipal public works department is experience that would be beneficial for the Town of Farmington residents.

What inspired you to run for office?
Growing up on a small family dairy farm in the Town of Farmington and continuing to reside in the town for over 42 years has given me an understanding of the residents' concerns, expectations and needs.
Serving as a town board supervisor for the past two years has been an eye-opening experience. The overwhelming community support to make a change to our town leadership has been the driving factor in my decision to announce my candidacy for the Town Chairman role. The opportunity to be part of my community's improvement process and allowing me to bring another perspective to the Town of Farmington decision making process was my inspiration for taking on this leadership role. "Time for Change" is the message of my campaign. Unfortunately, leadership hasn't changed in our town for many years due to the lack of contested seats. Our town residents are ready for change. It's time to listen to our taxpayers, work together as a town board and maintain transparency with our town business. Our community needs a leader who will listen, respect and work for our taxpayers. If elected, I pledge to be that leader!

- What are your top three priorities?
- 1. Long Term Planning
Utilize our Washington County resources, by working collaboratively with the county to create an inventory and current condition of our town roads system, along with maintenance needs and long-term sustainability plan for replacements. The main objective is to improve road maintenance- long term planning, funding and maintaining the town roads in good condition.
 - 2. Government Transparency
Taxpayers respect a governing body that keeps them informed. The more transparency we have, the more community support and involvement we will receive.
 - 3. Listen and Respect our resident's concerns.
From my experience, there are always tough decisions you have to make as a governing body that not everyone may agree with. However, treating our residents, neighbors and taxpayers with respect should always be the #1 priority. Keeping personal agendas aside, listening to our taxpayers and providing them answers is something they deserve.

Campbellsport And Eden Area Spring Election Information

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

The spring election is coming up in less than a month — Tuesday, April 6. Area municipalities will have many of their positions on the ballot.

Below is a list of those uncontested races in the Campbellsport and Eden area municipalities and all races for Fond du Lac County positions.

Village of Campbellsport

In the Village of Campbellsport, three trustee positions and the village president will be on the ballot. Incumbants Janet Hafemann and Randy Zielieke are up for reelection as trustees and David Krebs as village president.

One seat does not have a name on the ballot. This is the seat that Brandon Serwe gave up when he moved out of the village in October.

Dan Boldt has registered as an official write-in candidate for that position. He was approved by the board in January to fill the seat until the April election, when he will need to be elected through the write-in spot on the ballot.

Village of Eden

The Village of Eden also has three trustee and the village president positions on the ballot in April.

During the caucus held in January, Cory St. Mary was nominated for the village president position again. Current trustees Jay Baumhardt, Kevin Goebel and Shea Stahl were also nominated for the three trustee positions.

Campbellsport School Board

Three positions on the Campbellsport School Board are on the ballot. All three incumbants are the only candidates running for these positions.

Maureen Koch was approved this past fall to fill the position on the board left vacant by Chad Warnecke's resignation late last summer. She is running for that spot that represents the Town of Osceola, south of County Road F, and the Town of Auburn.

Keith Peters is running for the position representing the Town of Eden, south of County Road B, and the Town of Byron.

Danielle Nietzel is running for the position representing the Town of Osceola, north of County Road F, and the Town of Mitchell.

There was talk at a January meeting of adding write-in candidates to the school board election this year. No one filed as an official write-in candidate for any of the positions.

Town of Ashford

The Town of Ashford will have a new board chairperson after many decades of Joe Koch's leadership. He will not be running for the position again so Laura Parr and Mark Mueller are both vying for that position.

The supervisor positions are not opposed. Current supervisors Bob Burg and James Wiesner are running unopposed for those positions. Doreen Ruplinger is also unopposed for the position of town treasurer.

The town clerk position is no longer an elected position. In a referendum vote, the township approved having the position of clerk be an appointed position.

Town of Auburn

The Town of Auburn will see no changes to its board. Incumbants Joseph Woodworth and John Janz are running for the two supervisor positions and Ken Depperman is on the ballot for the chairperson position.

The clerk and treasurer positions are not on the ballot. Those were also approved on a referendum to be appointed positions.

Town of Eden

The Town of Eden will see no changes to its board. Incumbants Paul Tibbetts and Lee Fowler are running for the two supervisor positions and Dick Guell is on the ballot for the chairperson position.

Brenda Gosein is the only one on the ballot for the clerk position and Carol Murphy is the sole treasurer candidate.

Town of Forest

The Town of Forest has Ken

Blatz running for supervisor 1 and Thomas Loehr for supervisor 2. Peter Halbur is on the ballot for the chairperson position.

Susan Loehr is running for the clerk position. Lori Kraus is the sole town treasurer candidate and Ann Kiehnau is running for town constable.

Town of Osceola

The Town of Osceola will see a new face on the board with the decision by long-time supervisor Jim Walter not to run for reelection. Dean Kranig is running for that supervisor position and Terry Leininger is on the ballot again for supervisor 1. Tommy Thompson is running for chairperson.

Kay Wege is the candidate for town clerk and Cheryl Kutz is vying for treasurer.

Fond du Lac County

There are two races for Fond du Lac County. County Executive Allen Buechel is running for reelection. He is being contested by Rick Gedemer.

Two people are vying for the judge position open in branch 3. Andrew Christenson and Laura Lavey are competing for that position.

State Races

The Court of Appeals Judge for District 2, which covers Fond du Lac County, is on this ballot. Jeffrey Davis and Shelley Grogan are going up against each other in this race.

Current State Superintendent of Public Instruction Carolyn Stanford Taylor decided not to run for election to this position. She was appointed in 2019 to fill the spot after Tony Evers was elected Governor.

After a large primary election, Jill Underly and Deborah Kerr are the two candidates left vying to be the head of Wisconsin schools.

Make sure you get out on Tuesday, April 6, to vote in the spring election. If you choose to vote absentee, check with your local municipality or county clerk's office on the correct procedure and deadlines.

Wisconsin DMV Extends License Renewal For Drivers Age 60 And Over

The deadline to renew expired licenses for drivers age 60 and over has been extended to May 21, 2021. The extension is due to the continued health risks from COVID-19. The Wisconsin Department of Transportation's Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) estimates this extension impacts 62,000 Wisconsin drivers.

Drivers who need to visit a DMV, such as those age 65 and over who cannot use the new online driver license renewal (wisconsindmv.gov/renewDL) or those needing a REAL ID, can reduce their time in the service center by beginning the process online:

- Use the Driver License Guide to fill in the form and submit it electronically
- Make an appointment through the Driver License Guide

Drivers who no longer want to use their driving privilege but want identification can easily exchange their license for an ID online. A new ID card will be mailed to them. Details and other resources for aging drivers are available at wisconsindmv.gov/olderdrivers.

Most people do not need to visit a DMV. All vehicle-related services are online (e.g. renew registration, get title and plates). DMV's online services at wisconsindmv.gov have been greatly expanded to support Wisconsin residents during the health emergency.

A Lighthearted Protest

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

Jill Zuraw works in the administration department of an accounting firm, and it's tax season.

That leaves little time for her to spend with her granddaughters right now.

Zuraw's two granddaughters, 4-year-old Patricia Waters and 5-year-old Amy-Gail Waters are not happy about that.

So, the girls decided to protest.

The two sisters created signs that read "End Taxes - Free Nana" and "Nana Time Matters! - #NTM"

Then they picketed in front of their house in Random Lake. They held up their signs and marched in a circle, chanting, "What do we want? Nana!"

Next, they brought their protest to Zuraw's home in Silver Creek and protested. She was surprised to see the picket line in front of her house.

"It was totally unexpected, but I loved it!" Zuraw said.

Hopefully tax season ends soon, and the two girls will get to spend more time with their nana!

"He lived his entire life to serve other people," his daughter Rachel Lustig said.

That is what his students – and his own four children – witnessed. Through watching what Gosa did, they learned how they should live their own lives.

"He showed us that you live to make other people's lives better and happier. You help people because that's what you do. It was a wonderful lesson," Lustig said.

It was Gosa's faith that led him to serve others.

"He had to live that faith. It wasn't something that he could just keep inside. He had to live it. What a great model, example for everybody," Lustig commented.

Jennifer Gerhartz remembers the positive impact Gosa had on her as a chemistry teacher.

"I was lucky enough to be Jerry Gosa's student for two years and was grateful to have this same experience still available for my oldest children a generation later. He prepared me and my fellow KHS students for success in chemistry at the university level, and I am thankful that he stayed here continuing to share his knowledge in this community," Gerhartz said.

She later served with Gosa as a member of KEYS, which started with awarding one $500 scholarship to a student from the KHS Class of 1986. Gosa was instrumental in helping the program grow, and this year KEYS is set to award $204,700 to the KHS Class of 2021. This will make a total of 824 scholarships worth over $2.5 million awarded to KHS seniors since the organization's inception.

Jerry Gosa is pictured here at a ceremony in Kewaskum with his wife, Mary, on September 11, 2020. Gosa's dying wish was to share the following, coined by Professor Laurie Zoloth, "The Golden Rule, in the case of COVID-19...I get vaccinated - or wear a mask - to protect you, and you do so to protect me." PHOTO BY ANNE TRAUTNER

"Jerry possessed a unique ability to share his passion for a cause. In the case of KEYS, it was his value on education and his desire to provide opportunities for the youth in his community. He was very gifted at igniting interest and support from others as he rallied the community to join in this work," Gerhartz said.

Gosa, who was diagnosed with lymphoma over five years ago, continued to work for KEYS through all of his medical challenges.

"As so many have already said, losing Jerry is a tremendous loss for our community. He was so motivated to raise money for our Kewaskum student scholarships and spent countless hours to make our KEYS Run/Walk a success each year. I am happy to have been able to work with him and am beyond sad that he could not win this last battle. We will carry on with KEYS to honor him," said Connie Zemlicka, who worked beside Gosa for years.

Another cause close to Gosa's heart was building the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial. He helped bring the steel beam that was recovered from Ground Zero in New York to Kewaskum and helped raise money to make the memorial a reality.

"I will deeply miss my dear friend Jerry," said Gordon Haberman, who worked with Gosa to build the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial. "It has been said that the measure of person's life is not the distance they traveled but the heights they have reached. Jerry soared. His legacies are numerous. Whether it is in the thousands he taught, coached, mentored and continued to be involved with as president of the KEYS Scholarship organization, or to his passionate belief in the need for and relevancy of the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial, the impact he has made in the community of Kewaskum will continue to be felt for generations to come. No greater measure of a man can be stated."

State Rep. Timothy Ramthun, who nominated Gosa for the Hometown Hero Award, echoed those sentiments.

"Jerry Gosa was a true and genuine force for good within the Kewaskum community. His immense selflessness was rare, his passion to help others was truly immeasurable. Jerry gave back to the community like no other, always striving to make a difference. He will be sorely missed," Ramthun said.

Through it all, the things that Gosa held most dear were his wife, Mary, their family and his faith.

"In our final conversations, while he seemed to want to keep his fingers on the pulse of what was happening with Kewaskum Youth Scholarships, what he really spent time sharing with me was his love for his wife, Mary, and his gratitude for her and his thankfulness for her devotion and care. He spoke of this along with his love for his children, the delight he had in his grandchildren and the gratitude that he felt toward his Heavenly Father," Gerhartz said.

"His love of his wife, Mary, and of his children, grandchildren, brothers and sisters was without limit. He took pride in all of their accomplishments and was thankful for all of them every day. His deep faith carried him through both sunny and dark days. He was always grateful for God's blessings," Haberman added.

Pauly Celebrates 40th Anniversary With Kondex

Kondex Technical Services Team Leader Jesse Pauly recently celebrated 40 years of service with the company.

In this time, he's held several positions. Pauly began his career as a machine operator, where he used a pedestal wire wheel buffer to remove debris from sickle sections following the grinding operation. He later held roles in maintenance and as an interim team leader for knife head manufacturing. Today, he leads the Technical Services Department, which is responsible for keeping the facility and its equipment fully operational.

"Though Jesse can fix virtually anything — from a gear box to a robot and everything in between — his lasting contribution will be to the Kondex culture," said Brian Bloczynski, Kondex VP of manufacturing. "As a long-serving team leader, Jesse has been a mentor and example to hundreds of associates with his can-do attitude, work ethic, and abilities, earning him the respect of the entire Kondex Team. Congratulations on 40 years of service, Jesse!"

Kondex has changed significantly in Pauly's tenure. It grew from 21 plant associates in 1981 to approximately 250 total employees today. A new, modern facility was constructed in 2007 and expanded in 2012, and many manual processes of the past have been streamlined or completely automated.

"I worked second shift my first four years with Kondex, and it was a much different world than today," commented Pauly. "We had mice, rats, and woodchucks in the building or on the premises; we had to wear raincoats to prevent oil from saturating our clothes in certain production areas; and we didn't have computers, so all drawings were hand-drafted prints."

While there are stark differences between its early days and today, Pauly also pointed out how Kondex values have remained true to its early days. "I was given the opportunity to become an apprentice for an industrial electrician journeyman," he said. "Continued education and individual career advancement are still encouraged today."

Kondex also continues to celebrate its successes. "The kickoff parties in our early days, as well as anniversary events at EAA and Lambeau Field are some of my most memorable experiences at Kondex," Pauly noted. "Moving all the equipment from the old building to our current facility was also a significant milestone in my career."

When asked what he enjoys most about working at Kondex, Pauly spoke to its values. "The cultures that have formed and built this company are truly incredible, as is the freedom to work with and teach people about the company and its equipment," he said. "There are many mentors who have taught me a lot over the years, which is something I enjoy paying forward."

"Jesse is undoubtedly a critical member of the Kondex Team — both from the standpoint of his 40 years of experience, but more importantly his unwavering dedication to Kondex," commented Kondex Manager of Manufacturing Engineering Jim Bernhardt. "I, along with many other people at Kondex, depend on Jesse's experience to ensure all the production equipment and building systems are maintained appropriately to ensure customer satisfaction. Jesse always keeps a calm approach to dealing with arguably a very challenging role. Thank you very much Jesse for your never-ending dedication to Kondex!"

Kondex, a manufacturer of cutting and wear-resistant components, uses advanced manufacturing technologies and design innovations to significantly improve product life and strengthen functionality. For our OEM customers, this elevates market share; for end users, it extends the life of their machinery. With the majority of our products agriculturally based, these efforts support our mission of helping to feed and fuel the world.

FDL County Youth Selected To Represent Wisconsin

Jaye Zingsheim from Fond du Lac County was chosen to represent Wisconsin at the second Citizenship Washington Focus Presidential Inauguration in Washington D.C. Jaye was one of 40 high school youth selected last fall to represent the University of Wisconsin-Madison Extension-4-H Youth Development.

All youth selected went through an intensive application process, including elements that helped build their career development competences. Wisconsin 4-H celebrates the incredible work these youth applicants put into preparing for this experience, despite it being canceled due to COVID.

Approximately 450 members of 4-H Youth Development Programs from around the country typically gather at this event to develop new skills in leadership, community service and multi-cultural integration. In addition to attending assemblies and workshops, they would have participated in discussion groups on issues facing our country today. They would have also attended the Presidential Inauguration of the new president on January 20th and participate in their own mock campaigns and elections.

Also, delegates would have participated in hands-on service projects during a day of community service as they developed work skills while helping individuals and organizations in a community improve themselves. The networking skills that youth gain during the event would have helped them in their after-conference work in addressing youth needs in their community and state through reporting back and coordination of educational and service programs.

Although this program was cancelled due to COVID-19, we wanted to recognize the outstanding youth who applied and were accepted to this program. For 2021, interested delegates were given the opportunity to participate in National Council and USDA NIFA's National 4-H Conference Virtual Experience April 10-14, with many of the same focuses and opportunities as CWF PI.

To learn more about 4-H Youth Development programs in Fond du Lac County, please contact the Fond du Lac county Extension office by calling (920)929-3170.

Questions To Ask Before Booking A Photographer

Various components combine to make weddings beautiful and memorable. Couples rely on photographers to capture the smiles and moments that helped make their events unique and to ensure the big day is remembered for years to come. The trusted wedding resource The Knot notes that an internal study found that, among 27,000 couples who got married in 2019, an average of $2,400 was spent on a wedding photographer to document their big day.

Couples who want to find the best photographer for their wedding day can ask several questions before making their final decision.

What Style Do You Specialize In?

Photographers may be able to shoot various styles of photos, but may specialize in a specific type. For example, some photographers specialize in photojournalism, while others may excel at portraiture. Going with a photographer who has the most expertise shooting the style you prefer will help produce the desired results.

Who Will Be Shooting My Wedding?

Certain photography studios have several photographers working under one roof. Just because you meet with one does not necessarily mean that photographer will be on site, unless it is specified in the contract.

Have You Ever Worked At My Venue Before?

Photographers may be familiar with several local wedding venues and houses of worship. A photographer who has experience working in the locations where couples will tie the knot and subsequently celebrate might produce the best results, but lack of experience with particular venues need not exclude other professionals.

Can We See A Full Gallery Of A Recent Wedding?

According to Brides magazine, unlike an album or a highlight gallery, a full gallery provides a better sense of a photographer's style and attention to detail.

Will Photos Be Color Balanced And Retouched?

Skilled photographers are capable of capturing winning photos. But photos can be enhanced further in the studio with retouching software to bring out specific effects. Some photographers will polish all proofs, while others only will work on the images ultimately ordered. Confirm retouching details before signing the contract.

What's Included In The Photo Packages?

A detailed price list helps you compare one photographer to another and decide which elements are covered. Additional prints, having a photographer's assistant, ordering albums for the parents, or ordering a large framed print can alter costs significantly. Explore all prices to ensure you're getting the best value. In addition, consider how many hours of event coverage are included in the price.

What Is The Payment Timeline?

Photographers may accept deposits for their services but expect a different timeline of payment. Some may require payment in full before the wedding, while others may offer a payment plan that includes a final payment when picking up proofs or albums.

Wedding photography is one of the essential elements of a wedding and helps tell the story of couples' special day. Asking key questions can help couples find a photographer who will produce the desired results.

A breathtaking landscape for your event.

Dos And Don'ts Of Caring For Wedding And Engagement Rings

Jewelry is a key component of weddings. The financial resource CreditDonkey notes that, in the United States, the average amount spent on an engagement ring is $5,500, while Canadians spend an average of $3,500.

Jewelry costs can add up, especially when adding in the cost of wedding bands, which can cost as much as $1,000. The cost of jewelry only underscores the importance of learning how to care for it and preserve its value.

The best way to maintain jewelry depends on the makeup of the rings. The online jewelry guide Jewelry Notes says gold rings without gemstones can be cleaned effectively with only soap and water. Simply prepare a solution of lukewarm water and mild dish soap in a small bowl. Soak the rings for 20 to 30 minutes. Use a soft brush or cloth to clean the jewelry of dirt. Rinse the residue under clean water.

Rings with diamonds can be treated similarly with a mild soap-and-water solution. The Diamond Information Center also says to soak the diamond ring in equal parts cold water and ammonia for half an hour and let it air dry. Brand name jewelry cleaner also is another good option. This method only should be used with diamonds; ammonia can't be used with other gemstones.

Maintaining jewelry also should include twice yearly visits to a jeweler who can check the prongs and make sure the setting is not loose; otherwise, the diamond can become dislodged, according to Martha Stewart Weddings.

Avoid touching diamonds and other gemstones as much as possible when putting rings on and taking them off. Precious stones often are magnets for dust, dirt and body oil, according to Taylor Lanore, diamond consultant and engagement ring designer for Lauren B. Fine Jewelry and Diamonds. Grab the ring by the band.

Use discretion when wearing rings while engaging in hands-on activities. Activities like cleaning dishes, moving furniture, gardening, or diving through waves at the beach warrant caution; otherwise, you risk damaging or making jewelry unnecessarily dirty. Store the ring in a safe location until you can safely wear it again.

One of the most important steps to safeguard wedding and engagement rings is to insure the jewelry. The description of the ring, its cut, carat weight, metal, and other information offered through a certified independent jewelry appraisal will be needed to insure the ring. Take a close-up photo of the jewelry as well. Other items like laser inscription or a home security system can qualify jewelry owners for discounts on insurance. Consumers also can add a jewelry rider to a homeowner's or renter's insurance policy.

These are some ways to care for wedding jewelry. Always consult with a jeweler before attempting to clean items made of various materials.

Three Tools For Keeping Wedding Guests Informed

Weddings give couples an opportunity to share the joy of joining their lives together with a host of friends and family members. Guests live up the party and help make the celebration that much more memorable.

According to The Knot 2019 Real Weddings Study, the average wedding in the United States hosts 131 people. Data indicates this number has been slowly decreasing over the years, after the average wedding size reached an all-time high of 153 in 2007. No matter how big or how small the guest list, keeping guests informed of what's happening regarding the upcoming nuptials is a courtesy couples can provide. Couples can explore various avenues for keeping guests informed and ensuring they'll be able to take part in the festivities.

Save-The-Date Announcements

Save-the-date announcements have become an increasingly popular component of wedding planning. Instead of waiting on the wedding invitation, which traditionally arrives one or two months prior to the wedding itself, save-the-date cards provide guests with an advanced advertisement of the celebration to come.

According to the photo and invitation specialists at Shutterfly, it's customary to send save-the-date notes around six months before the wedding. For a destination wedding, which will require extra travel plans, an eight- to 12-month advance can be helpful.

Save-the-date cards generally have basic information, including the wedding date and the venue. Many will feature a photo of the couple as well. If you're planning on sending save-the-date announcements, coordinate with your photographer to have a photo taken exclusively for these cards.

Wedding Website

Couples are increasingly embracing technology as they plan their weddings. Brides magazine states that, during the typical 15-month engagement period, 48 percent of couples will launch a wedding website.

A wedding website is a versatile tool that can help answer questions that guests may have. The website can spell out specifics, including dress code, whether children are invited, the names of wedding party participants, overnight accommodations, transportation providers, and even restaurants near the hotel for a quick bite between ceremony and reception.

Wedding websites also can be used as fun ways to keep guests engaged. "Throwback Thursday" photos or funny memories and anecdotes can be included.

Video Conferencing Apps

As the world continues to adapt in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, video conferencing applications like Facetime, Zoom and Microsoft Teams enable people involved in the planning process to routinely "gather" and go over details about the wedding, helping to limit in-person meetings as much as possible. These apps also can prove invaluable when conferring with wedding vendors, such as florists or musicians.

You also can schedule smaller meetings with specific guests who may be playing key roles in the wedding, such as those giving speeches, doing readings, escorting guests, or serving in other capacities.

Certain resources can help couples keep guests informed about what's to come in regard to their weddings.

Negotiating Prices With Wedding Vendors

A couple's wedding day is likely to be the most expensive party they ever host. The average cost of a wedding is $33,931, according to The Knot's 2019 Real Wedding Study. However that final cost can vary widely depending on where the wedding is held.

In fact, in 2019, New Jersey was the most expensive state for getting hitched, at an average cost of $53,400, followed closely by Rhode Island at $49,800. The average cost of a Canadian wedding, according to the lifestyle resource Slice, is around $31,000.

Engaging in a dialogue with prospective vendors can help couples curtail the cost of their weddings. That's especially so during the pandemic, as so many businesses have faced financial uncertainty due to the global pandemic.

Vendors who already have been operating under less-than-ideal circumstances may be more flexible with their pricing schedules. Then again, struggling business may have to increase prices to cover losses. Negotiation may be necessary as couples look to get married without breaking the bank.

Be Open And Honest

Negotiating with vendors should not be mistaken for aggressive haggling as one might do at a garage sale or auction. Rather, it's more about having a discussion about what can be modified to work with the budget.

A vendor may not be able to dramatically drop his price, but may be accommodating in another respect. For example, florists may be able to throw in an extra floral arrangement or a DJ may agree to stick around for an extra hour at no additional cost.

Be Gracious

Letting a vendor know you're a fan of their work or have received glowing recommendations from past customers may make them more inclined to work with you if the budget doesn't quite align with the pricing.

Find Work-Arounds

Even if the price seems out of reach, there are ways to negotiate with vendors to get things close and where all parties are in agreement. For example, a florist may be able to make suggestions on another type of bloom that looks similar to the desired flower but at a fraction of the cost.

Vendors may be willing to discount some costs if the couple handles some of the work themselves, such as picking up and delivering materials to the reception or ceremony sites or handling alterations.

Couples should speak freely with wedding vendors and discuss what they can spend after some careful research in regard to what standard services and products cost.

How To Avoid Wedding Reception Seating Mistakes

Weddings are great opportunities for people to gather and celebrate the melding of two families into one. Weddings are a melting pot, and while the ultimate goal is for all guests invited to mingle and have a good time, preexisting relationships may cause some wedding-day interactions to be strained. However, with careful planning and some best behavior on the parts of all involved, getting hitched can go off without a hitch.

It's possible for guests who may have tumultuous pasts to keep the peace, but this also can be ensured through careful seating arrangements. This is just one factor couples need to consider when deciding where guests will sit and dine at receptions. It's important to avoid some common mistakes.

Mistake #1: Not having a seating plan. Let guests sit where they want and chaos may ensue. People may think they're entitled to certain seats, may hop into seats vacated by someone getting up to use the restroom or any number of other scenarios. Seating arrangements also ensure everyone is accounted for across the room.

Mistake #2: Seating families separately. Unless there are rifts between certain family members, it's best to seat parents and children at the same tables.

Mistake #3: Trying to force new friendships. Avoid trying to figure out who will get along by creating a potpourri table. A cousin in a band will not necessarily want to sit next to your coworker who plays guitar simply because they have a shared love of music. A wedding is not the time to try to create new friendships. If it's meant to be, they'll connect in a more organic way.

Mistake #4: The dreaded kids' table. Young children can probably get away with sitting at a dedicated kids' table, although it may mean their parents have to interrupt their experiences by checking on their kids throughout the night. A bigger faux pas is to sit teenagers or twentysomethings at the kids table even if they seem like youngsters to you. Set a strict cut-off age for a children's table.

Mistake #5: Being too strict in seating. It's one thing to direct couples or singletons to specific tables, quite another to assign specific seats. Do not dictate exactly where at the table a guest should sit. Some people arrive early, others late, and it is up to them to work out how to arrange themselves at the table.

Mistake #6: Failing to get family feedback. Always check with your parents and future in-laws as resources about how to seat certain guests. They'll likely know who will make the best table-mates, especially if couples are not familiar with everyone on the guest list.

Mistake #7: Not being aware of disabilities or needs. Be conscious of guests' needs. An elderly relative may not be comfortable in front of the DJ table. A person in a wheelchair may need easy access to and from the reception room. It's important to be mindful of these special needs.

A seating plan for wedding receptions is an important consideration so that every guest can feel comfortable.

Savings Strategies For Weddings

The question was popped; the engagement ring presented. What's the next step on the road to the wedding? Saving should definitely be on couples' minds.

A wedding is likely the most costly party couples will ever throw. According to The Knot's 2019 Real Weddings Study, the average cost of a wedding in 2019 was $33,900.

Investopedia says the vast majority of couples budget too little for their weddings and also end up spending more than they had planned. Various strategies can make it easier to save for a wedding and avoid a post-wedding financial hangover.

Get Informed

It's impossible to budget for a wedding and ultimately save without knowledge of what services and items cost in the region where you live. A wedding in New York City will be expensive, while a wedding in Mississippi will cost a lot less, indicates SuperMoney's guide to wedding costs.

Conduct some research and find out what photographers, florists, transportation providers, reception halls, and wedding wardrobe vendors charge for common services.

Flesh Out The Budget

Once you have gathered estimates, you can then figure out a financial goal. This also is when you can determine where to rein in spending and where you might want to splurge.

Set Up A Dedicated Savings Account

One of the easiest ways to save for big-ticket items like a wedding, home purchase or other financial goals is to use an automatic savings account that may be available through your bank or employer. An automatic savings plan will pull a set amount from a personal checking account into a savings account through auto-draft.

Avoid Overspending

An analysis of your spending habits will likely reveal areas where you can scale back so you can devote more funds to wedding savings. Small cost savings can quickly add up.

Saving for a wedding can be challenging. But various strategies can help couples plan their dream weddings without breaking the bank.

How To Find Your Wedding Florist

Weddings join the lives of two loving individuals so they can share their future with one another. Various elements help make weddings both momentous and magical.

Some weddings adhere to themes that are designed to make an impression and showcase couples' personalities. Floral arrangements are key components of wedding themes, as they help to establish ambiance at both the ceremony and reception.

Flowers can easily help couples achieve a desired vibe, whether that's rustic, romantic, modern, or even whimsical. Skilled florists may use a variety of flowers and foliage, as well as dramatic displays to help create the couple's wedding day vision.

According to an internal study from the wedding advice and planning resource The Knot, which surveyed more than 27,000 couples who got married in 2019, the average cost of wedding flowers was $2,000 in 2019. However, the cost of floral arrangements can vary depending on the scope of the arrangements and choice of flowers, including whether they're in season or not.

It is essential for couples to spend time vetting potential florists to find one who will produce their desired vision at a price that fits their budget. These guidelines can make the process go more smoothly.

•Establish your theme early on. Floral arrangements will complement and enhance other elements of the wedding, including color scheme and the wedding theme. If your wedding theme ties into a specific season, you will work with the florist to find blooms and other pieces that coordinate. For example, winter weddings with white, ice blue and silver color schemes may coordinate with white ranunculus flowers, dahlias, dusty miller foliage, and viburnum berries.

•Bring swatches and photographs to consultations. It is easier to explain color palettes to a florist with examples in hand. Show the florist the types of arrangements you prefer and have actual fabric swatches from bridesmaid gowns or groomsmen vests so that colors can be complemented.

•Create a list of desired items. Florists may sell items a la carte or have packages of common floral pieces for wedding celebrations. Types of floral arrangements include bridal bouquet, bridesmaids' bouquets, maid of honor bouquet, corsages for mothers/grandmothers, boutonnieres for groomsmen and fathers/grandfathers, flower girl headpiece, petals to sprinkle, table centerpieces, altar arrangements, pew or chair decorations, and cake decorations.

•Go easy on aroma. Tread lightly when selecting blooms that have strong aromas. They may be beautiful, but many people are sensitive to smells. Allergies also may be exacerbated by flowers with strong aromas. Discuss options with the florist before proceeding.

•Explain your budget. Research the average cost of floral arrangements and let the florist know what you can afford. This can help the florist narrow down options or make substitutions that fit your theme and your budget.

Couples can take certain steps as they choose floral arrangements for their weddings. Cost should not be the only factor in the decision, even though it is an important one.

What Was Lost (12): Another Bear Story

BY KARL MCCARTY
CONTRIBUTOR

This series researches the changes of the local landscape and its people up to and before Wisconsin statehood. Part 10 looked at bears and wolves that used to be in the area.

Since the publication, I have stumbled upon one more story of bears from Ashford and Eden. Published in 1868, the Fond du Lac County Gazetteer contained directories of Fond du Lac, Ripon and Waupun. It also had “historical and descriptive sketches of the several townships of the county.” It cost three dollars in those years just after the Civil War.

While covering the township of Ashford and its history, the Gazetteer recorded an intriguing story on a bear attack, quoted here without alterations: “Among the annoyances with which the early settlers of this town had to contend, was the ferocity of bears; these were so numerous that they became very bold, and somewhat dangerous. On one occasion Mr. Alex St. Mary, while looking after his oxen, was set upon by a bear which had a cub near by. He sought refuge by climbing a tree; but she was not to be foiled of her prey without further effort, and attempted to climb after him, when his dog seized the bear by the thighs and pulled her back; the dog then retreated and the bear after him a short distance, and then returned to the tree, and as soon as she attempted to climb, the dog would again pull her down. St. Mary in the tree all the time calling for help; this was continued until several men, hearing the cry for help, arrived with guns, and Bruin made her escape; though with the loss of her cub.”

There are many questions to this story. Did the dog get a treat that night? Seems to be an impressive feat to have saved his master from a bear. One would hope he got a steak to eat. We are also left to question what breed of dog would have the gall to attack a momma bear from the tree. And given that this is the early pioneer days, where did the dog come from? Indeed, how did a settler at statehood (1848) acquire a dog in this area?

In addition, we can only wonder what they did with the cub that died, and whether that was eaten. The source also suggests the number of bears was “numerous.” How common were they around Ashford, and what was the best way locals alleviated the perceived problem?

Other questions are just as hard to get an exact answer. When did this occur? Though not specifically dated, it appears this story is sometime between 1844 (when some of the first Ashford stories are documented in the source) and the then-present 1868. It’s plausible the bear at St. Mary’s is from the 1850s, but the exact date is a guess.

So did this happen in Ashford? Probably not. There are some qualifications to this story. The 1862 and 1874 Ashford township maps were checked for this story. There is no apparent farmer or landowner with St. Mary as the last name in Ashford Township that could be found at time of publication. There are abbreviations for some farmers on those plats, but the last name of St. Mary’s is shorter and seldom would need abbreviation.

However, the 1862 plat map for Eden Township shows 80 acres, divided by two 40 acre parcels that locate the likely story. One parcel is for “A. St. Marie” in Section 33 of Eden Township, and the other adjacent 40 is for “Mrs. St. Marie” in Section 34 of Eden Township. These parcels are just north of the Town of Eden/Town of Ashford line.

These match the Alex St. Mary in the Gazetteer story, and later plat maps of Eden continually show a St. Mary owning those parcels of land. After the 1862 Eden map, St. Mary is spelled like the one included in this sentence. Today, the parcels are in the St. Mary name. However, in the 1874 Fond du Lac County Atlas, the farthest 20 acres east of the original 80 acres is not owned by a St. Mary. This apparently went back to a St. Mary, as 1950 plats show a Floyd St. Mary owning 40 acres in each of the sections (33 & 34) again.

In regard to the bear story location, it is possible it is from Ashford if St. Mary was on the neighbor’s property in Ashford township, or Ashford neighbors helped him, thereby entering Ashford lore. However, it seems more likely that Eden Township deserves the honors.

Where did this mother bear live? This is the question that keeps churning in my mind. The 1874 map of Eden suggests the tamarack swamps north and west of St. Mary’s farm fades near his property lines. One possible place for momma bear to hide was those thick tamaracks and wooded areas.

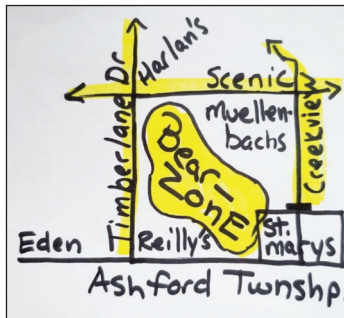

Sizable forested and natural landscapes still exist in those portions of Eden Township which are close to St. Mary’s, they of course were even more wooded back in the 1850s. For map placement, this is south of Skunk Hollow and Scenic Drive in the town of Eden, but north of Campbell Drive northwest of Campbellsport. It was east of Timberlane Drive in the Town of Eden, and likely west of the dead end at Creekview Road.

However, maybe the St. Mary’s oxen escaped on a neighbor’s property. Perhaps St. Mary’s neighbors to his south in Ashford Township were the ones to come along with guns-a-blazing, and lived to share it with the writer for the Gazetteer.

The land has many stories, and so too with it many questions to ask. Perhaps there is someone in the community who was told the story in their family. If not, at least we have a paragraph from the Gazetteer on a bruin, a cub, a dog and a farmer treed. The rest is left to our imaginations.

THIS POSTCARD from the 1950s was mailed to Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. Although an image from Canada, this bear (apparently on an aspen tree) was a common view around Eden and Ashford in 1840.

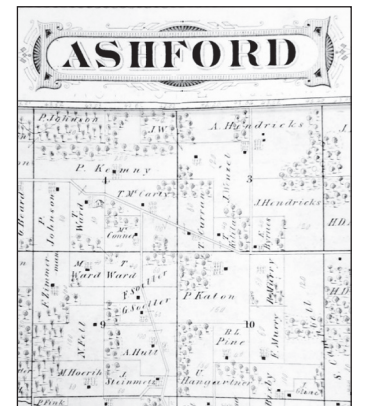

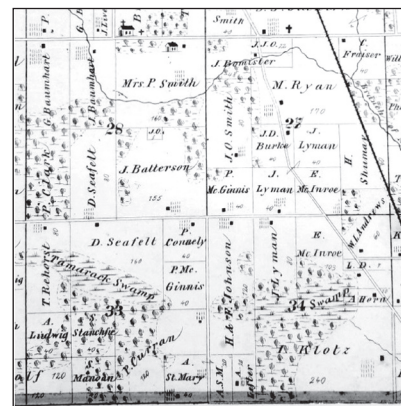

THIS MAP was created using last names of farms that were familiar in the area around 1950, hoping that those older in the community might backtrack for stories in their own memory. The bottom line is not a road, but rather the difference of Eden and Ashford townships. The names used were those families who were multi-generational on the properties labeled. The large square produced is all of Section 33 of Eden Township, as well as an eastern sliver of Section 32. The four locations mentioned are to form a plausible zone where the bear was residing from the 1868 Gazetteer story.

Starting in the southwest corner is the Reilly Farm, which was on either side of today’s Timberlane Drive. Today a significant portion of the west side of that farm would be in South Eden Preserve. Following Timberlane Drive north to the intersection of Scenic Drive, we are near the old Harlan Farm. Once turned on Scenic Drive, going eastbound one runs into the road that is Creekview to the south end, and Skunk Hollow to the north. South and west of there is the Mullenbach property. Should one choose to go down Creekview, you would hit the St. Mary location of the farm where the bear was recorded by the Gazetteer in 1868. If the bear wasn’t hanging out in the labeled “bear zone” above, it would surprise few today if it had been meandering through Skunk Hollow (north off the map) before it harassed Alex St. Mary. Then again, perhaps it was in the northern wooded areas of Ashford Township, such as the land generationally owned by Johnson’s.

APPARENTLY NO ONE TOOK THE TIME to picture Alex St. Mary treed near the Ashford/Eden town line 150 years ago. So here is a century’s old postcard of a black bear in a tree, courtesy of Matteson Post Cards out of St. Paul, Minnesota.

THE IMAGES USED ABOVE come from the “Illustrated Historical Atlas of Fond du Lac County, Wisconsin. 1874.” The top is the lower portion of the Town of Eden, including Sections 28 and 27 on top of Sections 33 and 34, the latter two which include Alex St. Mary’s property that allegedly had a bear attack over 150 years ago. The bottom map is the same publication’s portion of Ashford Township, which is south of St. Mary’s property. This was included for possible suggestions on which neighbors of Ashford helped St. Mary as he yelled for help. According to the 1868 Fond du Lac Gazetteer story, St. Mary apparently succeeded. The story did not name neighbors who came to his aid.

THIS IS A VIEW on Timberlane Drive looking to the east and south taken in February 2021. The shot was taken from the next hilltop south of the Scenic Drive intersection. This roughly covers land on the “Bear Zone” for the sketch that accompanies this article. One of the neat things about Eden Township is how it holds remnants of the past. Accordingly, the photo was also chosen because there are elements of old Quaking Aspen groves (in the nearest valley of this picture) whose root system are centuries, if not millennia, older than the bear story mentioned in this piece.

Village Of Kewaskum Works To Create New District

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

The Village of Kewaskum is one step closer to having a third Tax Incremental District (TID).

On Tuesday, March 2, the Kewaskum Plan Commission unanimously approved three resolutions which in essence carve out a part of the village's TID 2 to create TID 3.

"The reason we are doing that is because we need to rezone certain pieces of TID 2 to encourage development to help heal and make it right for the taxpayers," Village President Kevin Scheunemann said.

Zoning changes are not allowed within an existing TID. In order to make rezone within a TID, land must be taken out of a TID and placed into a new TID with new zoning.

Since the new TID will contribute to an old district, together, the two districts will essentially act as one TID, according to Scheunemann.

The Joint Review Board met on March 2 prior to the plan commission meeting and had a favorable reaction to the proposed changes, Scheunemann told the Kewaskum Plan Commission.

TID 2 is a 68.34-acre mixed use district that was created on the southern end of Kewaskum in February 2005 to promote industrial, commercial and residential development in the village.

The Kewaskum Plan Commission last week approved an amendment that subtracts 21 parcels, totaling 36.83 acres from the district. Three of the parcels, totaling 19.54 acres, are zoned industrial, and the remaining 18 parcels, totaling 17.29 acres, are zoned residential. The land being subtracted will be incorporated into a new TID 3 being created simultaneously.

The remaining TID 2 will have 31.06 acres (50.1 percent) for industrial development, 7.91 acres (12.7 percent) for commercial development and 23.08 acres (37.2 percent) for residential development. The effective date of the subtraction for valuation purposes will be January 1, 2021, first impacting the 2022 levy for the 2023 budget year.

The plans for creating TID 3 are expected to go before the Kewaskum Village Board on Tuesday, March 16.

The Kewaskum Plan Commission is expected to review the zoning components on March 23.

Down Goes Frazier! Down Goes Frazier! Down Goes Frazier!

BY MARK PETERSON
CONTRIBUTOR

Growing up in the 1960s, our house could become a free-for-all on any given night. If dad didn't have us wrestling around in the living room, jumping off furniture, then he had the boxing gloves on teaching us how to box. Dad would obviously go easy on us kids but once in a while he'd give us a little jolt alongside the head just to make sure we had our guard up. Those little lessons came in handy on a few occasions defending ourselves from the neighborhood bullies.

During the 1970s, professional boxing was perhaps at an all-time peak with three of the greatest fighters ever battling throughout the decade. Muhammad Ali, Joe Frazier, and George Foreman had some of the greatest boxing matches during the '70s. It was an absolute treat watching these fights on ABC Wide World of Sports with Howard Cosell behind the mic.

The first Frazier-Ali fight was billed "The Fight of the Century" on March 8, 1971. It was the champion "Smokin'" Joe Frazier winning a unanimous decision in the 15-round battle that gave the legendary Ali his first professional boxing defeat. This was also the debut of the "Ali Rope-a-dope" strategy that won him many fights but not this one.

In 1973, George Foreman entered the picture and quickly made some noise in the ring. On January 22 in Kingston, Jamaica, Foreman shocked the boxing world when he beat current champion Joe Frazier in a second round TKO. The fight was called by famous boxing announcer Howard Cosell, when Foreman knocked Frazier to the canvas, Cosell could only shockingly say one thing, "Down goes Frazier."

With Foreman holding the belt, it was up to Frazier and Ali to see who would take on the new champion. The second Ali-Frazier fight was fought in Madison Square Garden on January 28, 1974. Ali won the 12 round non-title fight with a unanimous decision and earned a shot at Foreman.

The October 30, 1974, championship fight between champion George Foreman and challenger Muhammad Ali was called the "Rumble in the Jungle." The fight was held in Kinshasa, Zaire, and the crowd was all behind Ali. Ali was floatin' like a butterfly and stinging like a bee as he knocked Foreman out in the eighth round to regain the heavy-weight championship and hand Foreman his first professional loss.

Ali defended his title one year later (October 1, 1975) against his arch-rival Joe Frazier. The third meeting between these two was billed the "Thriller in Manila." The fight is considered one of the best of all times as both fighters were brutally beaten. It was Ali scoring a TKO in the 14th round as Frazier could not answer the bell.

The final battle between these three legendary boxers took place on June 15, 1976, at the Nassau Coliseum in New York. George Foreman pounded Joe Frazier with a steady diet of blows and won by TKO in the fifth round.

The three aging boxers were starting to lose some of their stuff towards the end of the 1970s. Leon Spinks beat Ali in 1978 as the "Greatest of all time" was fading and suffering brain damage from years of blows to the body. Foreman made a comeback but was well out of shape and overweight and clearly out of his prime.

In their careers, the three legends compiled some incredible records. Ali was 56-5 with 37 knockouts, Frazier was 32-4 with 27 KO's, and Foreman was 76-5 with 68 KO's.

The Piitt Stop

One-Year Anniversary

BY JASON PIITTMANN
CONTRIBUTOR

I hope you enjoy reading my column in The Statesman. I try to come up with topics that are not always around sports, although much of my career is based in that area. I have tried to avoid having my political views creep into my commentary.

The subject, as I write this week, is one that can be a political football, but I am not going to let it be one in this article. I am going to keep things factual and yes, you may see some of my biases or opinions sprinkled in. I am writing about the one-year anniversary of the craziness we have all known as COVID-19.

It was March 13, 2020, when most schools had their last days with students in person for the 2019-2020 school year. Everything was suddenly thrown into a virtual/online setting. Businesses were forced to close and modifications were made to others. Youth, high school, college, and professional sports halted. I remember telling some girls basketball players that the State Tournament was cancelled. We were in uncharted waters.

Throughout the course of the summer, things felt a little more normal. Youth sports added some normalcy to life. Businesses adapted to their situations. Unfortunately, some did not make it through the transition or had to modify such that people lost jobs.

Schools worked on plans for safely re-opening in the fall. Athletics went through a number of modifications.

Here we are, ending the sixth month of the 2020-2021 school year, and I am very proud of the efforts that my employer — the Kewaskum School District — has made this year. It has truly been a team effort to be able to offer in-person, every day classes for the great majority of our students — and then to have teachers pull double-duty with having synchronous teaching happening with the virtual students online and the students in the classroom.

The WIAA adjusted the athletic seasons and modified regulations for the safety and well-being of participants and spectators. We, as schools and athletic/activity programs, worked together to find common ground and to try to offer the best experiences we could to our students.

In the past couple of weeks, we concluded the high school wrestling season with modifications to the individual and team state wrestling tournaments. The girls state basketball tournament two weeks ago, followed by the boys' tournament this past week were also modified. While things are still modified, I feel as though we accomplished quite a bit, in offering the seasons and being able to have them conclude with some sort of state tournament.

As you look back on the past 12 months, I hope people realize what an extraordinary time we have been living through. I wish everyone good health and wellness as we continue to determine the best courses of action for all aspects of our lives.

SSM Health Wisconsin Delivers 100,000th Dose Of COVID-19 Vaccine

SSM Health Wisconsin, which includes Agnesian HealthCare, has reached a milestone by administering its 100,000th dose of COVID-19 vaccine.

Since January 25, Agnesian HealthCare has given nearly 11,000 first doses of COVID-19 vaccine and nearly 3,000 second doses to its patients 65 years and above at three different locations in Fond du Lac, Ripon and Waupun.

Richard Lemanski, of Fond du Lac, received his second dose of Moderna vaccine on March 4 helping to celebrate this milestone among all SSM Health Wisconsin ministries. "It was important to me to get my vaccine so I don't get COVID, plus it's my birthday today so it's like a birthday present I guess."

Since December 2020, when SSM Health received its first shipments of the Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine, the organization has steadily increased its capacity to vaccinate eligible people across the communities it serves, adding vaccination sites as soon as the Wisconsin Department of Health Services approved them. In addition, our medical clinicians are proactively calling patients who are eligible for vaccination but have not arranged for an appointment to understand if they are hesitant about the vaccine or have other barriers to making an appointment.

"At the start of the pandemic, SSM Health mobilized our workforce, developing a pool of more than 570 vaccinators and a team of more than 200, including pharmacists, cleaners, frontline schedulers and support personnel, many of whom willingly work above and beyond normal hours to ensure that we can provide vaccinations across our region," says Mohammed (Mo) Kharbat, vice president - pharmacy services & health research for SSM Health Wisconsin region.

With 18 clinics located across the area in the communities of: Baraboo, Fond du Lac, Janesville, Madison, Monroe, Ripon, Sun Prairie and Waupun, SSM Health has administered an average of 9,000 doses per week. As vaccine supplies become more readily available, SSM Health expects to be able to offer at least 20,000 vaccinations each week.

"We have the operational capacity to ramp up to get more shots in the arms of eager people as supplies and new vaccines become available," Kharbat says. "We are driven by our mission to provide exceptional healthcare and we take our public health responsibilities seriously. We have an excellent team that has worked very hard to develop vaccination plans that can flex as supplies and eligible populations increase."

That flexibility includes SSM Health's participation in innovative mass vaccination efforts, such as one-day Saturday clinics to vaccinate more than 1,000 people each time in the Agnesian HealthCare area, as well partnerships with area school districts to hold one-day, on-site school clinics for eligible educational personnel.

"This has been such an incredible experience for everyone in-involved in bringing vaccine to our patients 65 years and above," according to Kathy Luedtke, director of Clinic Services with Agnesian HealthCare. "Our teams have stepped up to support many new and innovative ways to deliver this vaccine to our patients, and we have been rewarded in return with incredible sharing of gratitude and inspirational stories. We will continue our efforts to ensure that our patients wishing to receive the vaccine will be able to do so in accordance with direction from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services."

Agnesian HealthCare is working collaboratively with county public health agencies and other health care partners on initiatives to help expedite vaccine distribution where possible. In addition, SSM Health is partnering with various community organizations to increase vaccinations among and provide information and other resources to more vulnerable populations.

COVID-19 Vaccine Assistance Hotline Now Available

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) announced that in addition to the numerous resources available on the DHS COVID-19 vaccine page, Wisconsinites can now call 844-684-1064 (toll-free) for personal assistance with their vaccine-related questions.

“Learning about the vaccine, trying to find a location, and registering for a COVID-19 vaccine appointment can be stressful,” said Governor Tony Evers. “Being able to talk directly to someone who can answer your questions regarding the COVID-19 vaccine will go a long way to easing these concerns.”

The new call center is equipped to help people find vaccine locations, answer medical questions related to the COVID-19 vaccine, and assist with registration, including but not limited to providers using the Wisconsin COVID-19 vaccine registry. DHS community-based vaccination clinics and a few counties are in the early stages of rolling out the vaccine registry. Priority groups, including people currently on wait lists from previously eligible groups within these counties, will be the first notified of the opportunity to schedule an appointment.

tunity to schedule an appointment.

“Access to the internet should not be a barrier to getting the vaccine,” said DHS interim secretary Karen Timberlake. “Those who are eligible and want the vaccine will be able to as supply allows, and we’re excited that this call center can help them do it.”

Since Wisconsin began vaccinating frontline health care personnel and long-term care residents in mid-December, over 1.5 million doses of COVID-19 vaccine have been administered in the state. Well over half of the population age 65 and older have received at least one dose since eligibility expanded to include them in late January. Wisconsin continues to rank among the top in the nation in terms of vaccines administered per 100,000 people.

As vaccinations in the state continue to ramp up, supply of COVID-19 vaccine to Wisconsin is still not enough to meet demand. It will take months to vaccinate all Wisconsinites. In the meantime, it remains critical to practice good public health practices like wearing a mask, staying home, and getting tested if you feel sick.

For up-to-date information about Wisconsin’s COVID-19 response, visit the DHS COVID-19 webpage. You can also follow @DHSWI on Facebook, Twitter, or dhs.wi on Instagram for more information on COVID-19.
