Beach Expanded At Leonard J. Yahr County Park

A ribbon-cutting ceremony was held on Friday, Aug. 20, for a newly expanded beach at Leonard J. Yahr County Park, which is located at 7999 Orchard Valley Road in the Town of Farmington.

The event was a celebration of the new beach that has been expanded from roughly 2,100 square feet to about 10,200 square feet. Attending the event were Washington County Executive Josh Schoemann, tree sponsors, Washington County Parks and Planning employees, representatives from area chambers of commerce and community members.

The beach expansion project stemmed from public demand increasing for local beach access. In April 2021, the Washington County Land Use and Planning Committee approved a conditional

Bradley Petersen Appointed To Kewaskum School Board

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

The Kewaskum School Board voted unanimously on Monday, Aug. 4, to appoint Bradley Petersen to the board.

Petersen fills a seat that was vacated on June 30 when Doug Gonring resigned from the board for personal reasons. Petersen, who has been serving on the district's policy committee, was selected from a field of 11 candidates who had applied for the position.

"To serve my community is truly an honor and a privilege," Petersen said Monday night after being appointed to the position. "I just really hope that by the grace of God I can serve this community well and work with my other board members and with administration to provide the best education possible at the lowest cost to the taxpayer."

Petersen, who said he has attended every school board meeting for the past seven years, is a familiar face to the other school board members. Petersen ran unsuccessfully for the Kewaskum School Board four times before being appointed to the board this week. The first time Petersen ran for the Kewaskum School Board was in 2015,

Kubbapalooza Coming This Weekend

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

You may have never heard of it, but a fun event is coming to the area this weekend — Kubbapalooza. It will pit teams against each other to see who is the best at the game Kubb.

This is a lawn game that is gaining popularity around the area and the midwest. Kubb (pronounced koob) is a lawn game where the objective is to knock over wooden blocks or kubbs by throwing wooden batons, known as kastpinnars, at them. It is thought of as a cross between horse-shoes and bowling with a bit of strategy.

"Kubb is considered one of the oldest games in the world," said Stephen McDiarmid, founder of Kettle Moraine Kubb. "It's huge in Europe but has never really made it to the US. The sport has really caught on recently."

Wisconsin is one of the states helping to bring it to popularity. In 2007, Eau Claire started hosting the US National Kubb Championships, which has been televised on ESPN. The city considers itself the "Kubb Capital of North America."

Boltonville Firecrackers August Meeting Minutes

BY EDISON JAYCOX, AGE 8 CLUB REPORTER

The roll call question was, "Are you excited for school to start?"

We all talked about how we did at the Washington County Fair. Our club had Cloverbud ribbons, a Grand Champion ribbon, 3 Merit awards, and lots of blue and red ribbons, too.

We had a fun nature hike on Sunday that included an outdoor scavenger hunt! It was at Lions Den in Grafton.

We are having our end of the year picnic in September. We turned in our record books so they can be judged. We nominated officers for the next 4-H year. Our club is talking about buying signs with our club name and logo on it. The last thing we did was vote on our charter smart goals.

PUBLISHER'S LETTER

Hurting and Healing

Dear Reader,

It seems like there are a lot of hurt people out there. We see it in the external symptoms – the road rage, an argument, a crying jag, a spending spree – and we can only speculate about what is underneath. A lost dream? A broken relationship? An estrangement from a loved one? Whatever it may be, the rule of thumb is that the symptoms you see externally are only a hint to what is going on deep inside.

So how do those that are hurting right now find healing? It starts with caring for our breath-ren and trying to understand what and where their situation is in this moment. Respecting those we meet who cross our path is another good beginning point. It's not easy to do, because often we are busy worrying about ourselves and our immediate family. But it has to start somewhere. Let it begin with us.

An Evening With The Summer Stars

The Friends of the Kettle Moraine's Saturday Summer Evening Events concludes with a night of fun with the stars at the Kettle Moraine State Forest – Northern Unit.

The evening will start with the program, Celestial Sights of the Summer Sky, at 7:30 p.m. and end with Summer Star Gazing running from 8:45 p.m. to 11 p.m. These programs will be held on Saturday, Sept. 4, at the Ice Age Visitor Center located at N2875 Highway 67, Campbellsport, which is a half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

At 7:30 p.m., join Jeff Setzer of the Northern Cross Science Foundation to discover how to find fantastic planets, amazing stellar nurseries and spectacular star clusters in the summer sky. Learn how to use a basic star chart (provided free at the event) and then put your new knowledge into action by looking through large telescopes at the Summer Star Gazing Drop-In.

The astronomers from the Northern Cross Science Foundation will be setting up their telescopes of all sizes from four-inch diameters to more than 12 inches and pointing them into the night sky. Between 8:45 p.m. and 11 p.m., drop in any time and stay as long as you like to peer through the scopes to bring into focus the wonders of the night sky.

With the help of these experienced sky observers, you will spy distant planets, marvel at far away galaxies, and be awed by the beauty of a dumb-bell nebula or globular cluster. The members of the Northern Cross Science Foundation truly enjoy sharing their hobby and helping people just getting started in astronomy. This part of the evening will be held only if the skies are clear.

For further information, contact staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. They may be reached at (920) 533-8322, Wednesday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mark your calendars to join us for an exciting night among the stars.

Kewaskum High School Graduation Set For Wednesday, June 1

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

An outdoor graduation ceremony is planned for the Kewaskum High School Class of 2022 on Wednesday, June 1, at 7 p.m.

The ceremony is slated to be held on the high school football field, a tradition that was started two years ago because of the covid pandemic. A rain date is scheduled for Sunday, June 5.

The Kewaskum School Board unanimously approved the new graduation dates at a regular board meeting on August 12. Board members Timothy Ramthun and Dennis Aupperle had excused absences from the meeting.

Feedback from families about holding an outdoor graduation ceremony has been overwhelmingly positive over the last couple of years, according to Kewaskum High School Principal Scott Stier.

Because the graduation ceremony is set for a Wednesday, schedules will be rearranged so that seniors will complete final exams prior to the ceremony, according to Dr. Mark Bazata, district administrator. Seniors will likely not be required to attend school on June 2 or 3, Bazata told the board at the August 12 meeting.

Although graduation was held on a Friday night for the past two years, administration did not recommend either a Friday night or a Saturday graduation this year to avoid interfering with the WIAA schedule.

Because temperatures can be at least 15 degrees warmer on the artificial turf, Stier recommended that the ceremony not be held before 7 p.m.

The board considered holding an indoor graduation in the air-conditioned high school gym on Sunday, June 5. Board Member Sue Miller voiced concern that a Wednesday evening may be difficult for parents because of their work schedules. But in the end, the board decided the best option was to plan an outdoor ceremony with a rain date.

"I love the idea of having it outside and having a backup day," Miller said.

Road construction continues in downtown Campbellsport. Sewer and water mains are being replaced along Fond du Lac Avenue and on Main Street from Fond du Lac Avenue to Elm Street. In the phase two section, from Barton Street to Fond du Lac Avenue, the roadway is being paved. The phase one area, Main Street from the bridge to Elm Street, is being graded and curb and gutter being installed. The paving of this portion should get underway soon. ## PETERSEN from page 1 when he was an 18-year-old senior at Kewaskum High School. He ran again for the position in 2016, 2017 and 2018.

"Mr. Petersen brings a youthful perspective to this board, which we've talked about how diverse we are in different areas of expertise and experience, age and gender, we've got a good mix. He brings a youthful element to the table," Board Member Timothy Ramthun said. "But the thing that really got me was I think he has better attendance coming to board meetings than some board members. He hasn't missed a board meeting in seven and a half years.... The gentleman ran for the position four times as well, so when you think of genuine desire and genuine intent, he was my number one for those reasons. He earned it."

To fill the vacancy, the board first requested letters of interest from community members. Then, the board interviewed candidates on August 4.

At Monday night's meeting, each school board member shared his or her top three choices in order verbally. Board Member Dennis Aupperle, who was unable to attend the meeting in person, participated in the meeting virtually.

For every first choice, a candidate received three points; every second choice earned two points; and every third choice was worth one point. Voting was based on the interviews and letters of interest that the 11 candidates wrote.

Petersen, who was on everyone's list of top three choices, placed first in the process with 14 points. He was followed by Nathan Weseman with six points; Randy Reysen and Rhett Engelking tied for third place with five points each.

In his interview, Petersen expressed his dedication to the Kewaskum School District.

"I was born and raised in this community; 24 years I have lived here. One day, I will be buried here, at the Town of Scott Church. For the last seven years, I have attended every single school board meeting," Petersen said during his interview. "I have so much pride in my school and in my community. I think if you cut me, not only would I bleed red, white and blue; I think you'd probably find some green in there too."

When asked about his vision for education and the Kewaskum community, Petersen replied that his vision was "building an inclusive learning environment that will ready kids for college and the workforce, or both. But I think an all-inclusive learning environment where all students feel safe to come to school every day and express themselves, whether I agree it or not, it doesn't matter, but as long as everybody is able to express themselves freely and engage in the classroom every single day, ask questions, I think that is very important."

He also told the board that he thinks being open, honest and transparent is key.

"What I don't envision for education in the community is critical race theory and the 1619 Project. As I talked to a lot of community members over the past couple weeks when I applied for this position, those are very hot button issues for community members," Petersen said during his interview.

According to his letter of interest, Petersen's to three priorities are: curriculum, student involvement in the community and fiscal responsibility.

At Monday's meeting, board members expressed their appreciation for all the candidates and acknowledged that it was a difficult decision.

"I appreciate the fact that we had 11 candidates, and I think they were all very strong. We are only going to be able to select one," said Board Member Ric Leitheiser, adding that he encourages all the candidates to run for the school board next spring. "I would like to see 11 people running for that position in the spring. I think that would be fantastic."

William F. Smith

William F. "Bill" Smith, 92, passed away on August 19, 2021.

He was born in Fond du Lac on February 7, 1929, to James and Marie (Cody) Smith. Bill spent his entire life on the land that he was raised on in Eden.

In 1943, as a young teen, he quit St. Mary Springs Academy and enlisted in the US Navy, serving in World War II. In February of 1945, Bill was sent to the South West Pacific theatre, serving until November of 1945.

After the war, he returned to his hometown of Eden. While a lifeguard at Lake DeNeveu, he met his wife to be Shirley Giebel. They were married on October 16, 1954. Shirley preceded him in death on October 19, 2008.

Together, Bill and Shirley started Smith Mink Ranch and Smith Gas Station. In 1987, they closed the mink ranch and continued to render cattle. Bill worked hard until he was 85 years old. He had an unbeatable work ethic.

Bill was a very good musician, playing in several entertainment bands over the years. He was an exceptional drummer and mastered the bass violin and taught himself how to play the trumpet. When Bill came home from the service, he learned how to fly airplanes, holding his commercial pilot certificate. He was a lifetime member of the EAA. Bill really enjoyed flying his Beechcraft Baron, which he often flew to the family cabin near Minocqua. He was a life member of Fond du Lac Elks Lodge #57. Bill enjoyed hunting and fishing. At the age of 67, he started downhill skiing again. It became his passion until the end of his life. Bill competed in NASTAR Alpine races all over the U.S. winning several medals in his age category. He was never the pretty skier, but he was the fastest. Bill's final ski run was made at 90 years old at Indianhead in Michigan, on a trip with many of his skiing friends from the Sly Fox and Galendesprung Ski Clubs; whom he had so many wonderful memories with, on the many ski trips around the world he took with them.

If there is one thing to be said from his life is this: Bill was born during the depression a poor farm kid, who willingly, as a child, went to serve his country in a foreign land for the country he loved and daily flew a flag until the day he died. He came back a poor kid with only a ninth grade education and worked hard for what he had and with little knowledge of business. No matter what happened in life, he never gave up. Bill never complained; not about money, pain, or being tired. He just kept going with an enthusiasm for life and living. At 87 years old Bill said, "I want to go back to work, I'm bored." There's a lot to be learned from that kind of perseverance and a love of life in good times and bad.

Survivors include his three children, Jo Ann Simons of Grafton, Wis., Bill Smith of Eden, and Nancy Smith of Fond du Lac; four grandchildren, Rhonda (Harold) Pleuss, Billy (Tracy) Smith, Marisa Smith (Joe Crofts), and Allison (Jimmy) Gleason; five great-grandchildren, Colin and Macenna Crofts, and Greta, Estella, and Sienna Pleuss; and a step-great-grandson, Forrest Ahner. He is further survived by his sister, Mary Ellen (Robert) Ash of Aptos, California.; and many nieces and nephews in California and Illinois.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife; a brother, Jim Smith; an infant brother; great-granddaughter, Hope Bauer; a son-in-law, Jim Simons; two sisters-in-law, Adele (Arthur) Rock and Evelyn (Henry) Stephany; a brother-in-law, Karl "Bud" (Mary) Giebel; and Shirley's parents, Karl, and Louise Giebel.

Highway H Bridge Reconstruction Bridge To Be Closed November Through May

Washington County will be replacing the County Highway H bridge over the Milwaukee River, approximately one mile east of U.S. Highway 45, beginning in early November 2021. The project is expected to be completed in May 2022. The prime contractor for the project will be Pheifer Brothers Construction Co.

The bridge will be closed to all traffic and pedestrians for the duration of the project. The project will involve replacing the narrow and deteriorating bridge structure built in 1950 with a safer and wider bridge. Another significant highlight of this project is the addition of a 12-foot-wide, multi-use path along the south side of the bridge. The bridge serves as an important connector for the Ice Age Trail. The path will provide a safe, barrier separated river crossing for hikers within the Kettle Moraine State Forest.

It will also provide an established crossing for snowmobile trail riders in the winter.

Motorists are asked to follow the posted detour route, which will utilize U.S. Highway 45, State Highway 28 and State Highway 144. A detour route will also be posted for Ice Age Trail users. The route will follow along State Highway 28 and the Eisenbahn State Trail. Information about the closure and detour will be posted at various locations along the trail in the area.

Heroes Of The Holyland | Biography of Gordon G. Immel

Gordon “Gordy” George Immel was born on March 12, 1939, to Walter and Dora (Becker) Immel. He had five brothers and three sisters and grew up on the family dairy farm in Dotyville. He attended St. Paul’s Lutheran School in Mt. Calvary.

His brothers Raymond “Bud” and Vernon were drafted into the Army, while Lyle and Harlan joined the Navy. In 1956, Gordon joined the Air Force at age 17.

After basic training in San Antonio, TX, Gordy completed his Air Police training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. After training, there was a 17-day furlough before reporting to New York and eventually Europe.

He was picked for duty with the 38th Air Police Squadron in France. After the long flight to Frankfurt Germany, he remembers being told not to drink too much of that good German beer. He doesn’t think anyone listened. The next day they took the long eight-hour train ride to Laon Air Base France.

The French base at Laon had been seized by the Germans in 1940 during the Battle of France and was used as a Luftwaffe military airfield during the occupation. During the Liberation of France, the base was seized by Allied ground forces and turned over to the United States Army Air Forces. The airfield at Laon became one of the busiest American bases on the continent during the remainder of WWII. When the war ended, the airfield was closed and turned over to the French Air Ministry.

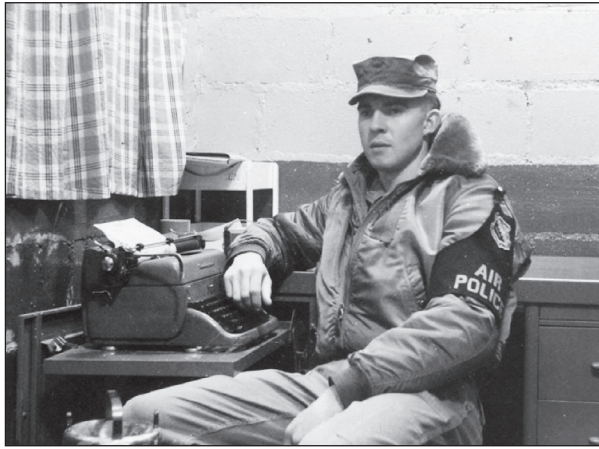

In 1950, the air base at Laon was offered to the United States Air Force by the French Air Ministry as part of their NATO commitment, a result of the Cold War threat of the Soviet Union. Laon was an emergency “backup” airfield, consisting of a runway with minimal facilities intended for use by NATO air forces to disperse their aircraft in case of war. It was peace time and the 38th Air Police Squadron provided security to the base. Gordy mainly worked the 3-11 shift and initially his time there was “kind of boring.” During this time, the USAF sent him to Wiesbaden Air Base, Germany to finish his high school education.

On May 1, 1957, the responsibility to train sentry dogs was taken over by the Air Force from the Army. In June, Gordy and 17 other airmen were picked to participate in the USAF Sentry Dog program. They were sent to Army Quartermaster School in Lengries, a small town in Bavaria, Germany. The Quartermaster Corps procured dogs for the Air Force as sentry dogs to relieve manpower shortages in guarding airfields, material, and equipment. Gordy remembers the flight because the pilot announced they were flying over “enemy territory” East Germany.

Training at the Army Quartermaster School was hard, with a lot of the training in the surrounding Bavarian mountains. The nights were much better, where they would frequent an EM (Enlisted Member) Club where you could get a burger for 20 cents and a beer for 10 cents. The Sentry Dog training took about two months. Gordy was matched up with his dog, a German Shepard named Arno-R-692. Sentry Dogs were worked on a short leash and were taught to give warning by growling or barking. The dogs accompanied the AP on patrol and gave him warning of the approach or presence of strangers within the area protected. They were especially valuable for working in the dark when attack from cover or the rear was most likely.

When Gordy’s unit returned to Laon with their dogs, his Sargent Rice appointed him Flight Leader, putting him in charge of 17 troops and dogs. He would remain at his post in Laon until his honorable discharge in 1960. The Air Force tried to convince Gordy to re-enlist and be an Air Police Instructor at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He would’ve re-enlisted had they stationed him at Chaumont Air Base in Illinois. He thought Texas was too hot compared to what he was accustomed to in Wisconsin.

It’s interesting to note that Lackland AFB is where the U.S. Armed Forces has been training its military working dog teams since 1958 and it remains to this day as the Department of Defense Military Working Dog School. The school is responsible for procuring all dogs for the DoD and training dogs and handlers for all branches of the military. It is the world’s largest training center for military dogs and handlers and is also home to the largest veterinary hospital for military working dogs.

Gordy received the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award and Good Conduct Medal. He never saw combat, with the Korean War ending in 1953 and the official US involvement in the Vietnam War wasn’t until 1965. But the Cold War and the tension between the United States and USSR was always in the minds of our military men at the time, especially those stationed overseas in Europe. Gordy remembers the military building the underground silos and shelters in case of a nuclear attack. He was thankful to return home to the family farm in Dotyville. All five brothers returned safely home from their respective service.

After his service, Gordy tried life away from the farm for a short time but eventually returned. He would purchase the farm from his father in 1967. He married Carolyn Engel, who grew up across the road from the Immel farm, on September 11, 1965. Together they had five children, Todd (Jill), Jackie (Joe) Welsh, Ted, Tim (Cindy), and Jodi (Scott) Kuhnke. There are seven grandchildren (one deceased), six great-grandchildren, three step grandchildren and five step great-grandchildren.

Dedicated to a life of farming, Gordy has never really taken much time away for hobbies. When he was younger, he enjoyed playing baseball, bowling, snowmobiling, and going to the local race-tracks in Plymouth and Slinger. He is still a huge NASCAR fan and also has Green Bay Packers season tickets, although he doesn’t go as often now as he used to. He still stays in touch with some of his 38th Air Police Squadron members and has attended several reunions, which they hold every two years.

In 1990, Gordy and Carolyn travelled to Europe for their wedding anniversary. They use permit application for the expansion of Leonard J. Yahr Beach. The project was proposed as part of the County Executive Josh Schoemann's 2021 recommended budget.

Expanding the beach involved removing trees and clearing brush along the shoreline. New trees are being planted in the park to mitigate impacts from the removal of trees.

Last week's celebration included the ribbon cutting and recognition of tree sponsors, followed by music provided by Clay Schaub. Food was available for sale by Lottza Mottza pizza, and the 1840 Traveling Beer Garden Show was at the park.

In addition, Paddlebreak Adventures was on site so that park visitors could rent out kayaks, canoes, and inflatable tubes and paddleboards.

Leonard J. Yahr Park County Park opened in 2007, the newest addition to the Washington County Parks System. The park encompasses 65 acres.

The land had previously been owned by the Carl Erler family since the late 1800s and was used as a sawmill, which was converted into a sulfur match factory in the late 1870s. In 1943, Leonard and Ruth Yahr retained ownership of the land and used it for a dairy farm and, later, an apple orchard. The property was then donated in 1999 by the Yahr family to Washington County to be used as a county park.

In addition to offering the expanded swimming beach (no lifeguard provided), Leonard J. Yahr Park features a fishing pier, lakefront picnic area, carry-in only boat launch (no fee required), playground equipment, heated flush restroom, hiking trail, reservable shelter and prairie area.

Washington County Sheriff's Office Reports

Garage Fire

On August 21 at 3:30 p.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office Communication Center took a 911 call of a reported garage fire on Kettle View Road in the Town of Kewaskum. Sheriff's deputies, along with personnel from the Kewaskum Fire Department and the Kewaskum Police Department were subsequently dispatched to the scene.

Upon arrival of the first deputy, a detached garage measuring approximately 20 feet by 80 feet was located with visible smoke and flames coming from the middle section. The homeowner was located and confirmed that no one was inside the garage. Kewaskum Fire arrived and was able to contain the spread of the fire further in the building.

The initial investigation reveals that the homeowner had recently finished cutting the grass and had put the mower in the garage before returning into the residence to clean up. A passerby Good Samaritan observed smoke beginning to come out of the garage and proceeded to stop and alert the homeowner, who then called 911. It is believed at this time that the fire originated from the lawn mower.

The building is believed to be a total loss, along with multiple vehicles and other contents from inside. Total property loss is estimated to be approximately $200,000.

The Kewaskum Fire Department was assisted by Boltonville Fire, Allenton Fire, Kohlsville Fire, West Bend Fire, Jackson Fire and Campbellsport Fire.

Motorcycle Crash With Injury

On August 21 at 5:51 p.m., the Washington County Sheriff's Office Communications Center took a 911 call of a motorcycle versus mailbox crash in the Oakwood Manor neighborhood of the Village of Richfield. Deputies and Richfield Fire personnel began responding to the location.

Upon the first responders' arrival, the motorcycle operator and sole occupant, a male in his late 20s from Richfield, was found to have severe lacerations to his legs and head but was conscious. Richfield Fire personnel subsequently requested Flight for Life to respond to the scene. The patient was conveyed by Flight for Life to Froedtert Wauwatosa and is considered in stable condition with non-life-threatening injuries.

The initial investigation reveals that the operator had been working on the motorcycle throughout the day and had been test driving it in the neighborhood. It is believed that mechanical failure may have been a contributing factor in this crash.

This is thanks to Eric Anderson. He and his wife lived in Sweden for a few years while he attended graduate school. Kubb is considered to be a nordic lawn game with Sweden and Norway as the hot spots.

When Anderson moved back to Eau Claire, he and his wife brought the game back with them and started teaching it to as many as they could. They started a club and the US tournament.

This is how Stephen and Chris McDiarmid became involved with the game. The couple owned a wine and cheese business near Coloma. They move a little over a year ago to the Kettle Moraine area.

“My wife and I started playing about seven years ago,” Stephen said. “One of our customers (Anderson) told us we had to learn this game. He showed us how to play one afternoon and we loved it. He spent a long time in Sweden and when he moved back to Eau Claire, he brought it with him.”

The McDiarmids are now hoping to introduce Kubb to everyone around the Kettle Moraine area.

Before moving here, the couple would vacation here all the time. They started a club called the Kettle Moraine Kubb, otherwise known as KMK, in 2012.

“We just enjoy playing it and want to introduce it to others,” Stephen said. “We’re currently playing on Wednesday nights at Jugs. It’s a great way for people to learn it.”

Jug’s Hitching Post Saloon & Grill in Kohlsville will be the home of the Kubb Grass Games this Saturday, Aug. 28. This is the first part of Kubbapalooza this weekend. Registration is at 8:30 a.m. with the first round of play at 9 a.m.

Then on Sunday, the fun continues in the sand. The Tiki Beach Resort on Kettle Moraine Lake, in between Dundee and Waucousta, is hosting the Kubb Sand Games on August 29th. Registration is at 9:30 a.m. with the first round starting at 10 a.m.

In the winter months, KMK hosts a tournament on the ice. Details for that event were not available yet, but if you watch KMK’s website at www.kettlemorainekubb.com or their Facebook page, you can find out more about the tournaments and the club.

What Is Kubb

As explained, it is a lawn game that is a combination of horseshoes and bowling, with a bit of strategy. But, Kubb can be more than that.

“It’s probably the simplest game I’ve ever played,” Stephen said. “It’s a fun game to play and a really social game. There is no defensive aspect to it.”

The playing field is called a pitch. The field size is five meters (16.404199 feet) by eight meters (26.246719 feet).

There are 10 kubbs which are rectangular wooden blocks, one larger wooden piece called a king, six batons and six field marking pins. The king is set up in the middle of the field with five kubbs set up in a row along the outside line of each side.

“The point of the game is to knock down the kubbs on the other side of the field and then the king,” Stephen said. “The game is never the same and that’s what I love about it. It’s a lot of fun.”

There can be anywhere from two to six players per team. The batons have to be thrown underhand. No one keeps score in this game. It ends when one team knocks over the king piece in the middle, which cannot be knocked down until all your team’s kubbs are down.

“I would say the average game is 20 to 25 minutes,” Stephen said. “Everybody and anybody can step in and play Kubb. The dynamic is so fun. It lends itself to a lot of enjoyment.”

If you want to start playing Kubb at home, you can find sets for sale on the internet. Stephen said that Menards had carried the sets at one point, probably since the company is based in Eau Claire.

If you can, take the time to check out this fun outdoor game and give it a try. Kubbapalooza this weekend will be a great way to see it in action and cheer on the teams competing.

Check It Out!

LORI KREIS
KEWASKUM LIBARIAN

My husband and I are at the tail end of another two-week camping jaunt at our favorite campground. What is different this time around is that we have spent every day this week at work during the day and then back to the campground at night. The commute is about 40 minutes longer than from home which is one of the challenges, especially when working late or attending a meeting. However, the campground has something our house does not. Three large inground pools and a hot tub. With the heat and dry weather we have had, we made it a priority to partake in some water activity as much as possible.

I do not enjoy swimming that much. There are several reasons why. The chlorine, wearing a swimsuit, being splashed, unknown things floating in the pool. I would much rather be on a boat, hiking or outside reading a book for a camping activity. But, when the dewpoint is oppressive, I could care less who sees me in my swimsuit. So, we made a point to go to the campground as soon as we could after work and cool off in one of the pools every day during the week.

An advantage to going during the week is that the pools are much less crowded. My husband and I were the only people in the pool a few times. I could swim my laps with no one in the way. Or just float on my back from one end to the other. I did that one night until I was blue and shivering. It was so refreshing after a day of hard work. That was in the large pool with the hot tub off to the side. I think we used the hot tub, one night; again alone. But it was too hot, imagine that.

Another pool is the activity pool. It always has balls floating in it, a net across one end and a couple of hoops at the other end. My husband likes to play horse or volleyball in it. I comply sometimes although I am not an athlete and would rather be floating in the large pool. I lucked out one day because he found a couple of kids to play ball with him, including his son. I guess that night I didn't need to trip over the fence on my way in and cut my ankle. I could not go in the pool and play ball. No open cuts allowed.

I am writing this on a Friday, knowing we have a few more weekends of pool weather. It is a hot one out there so I am sure my husband will want to go swimming. I bet everyone at the campground will have the same idea. Possibly even me. Enjoy the rest of the summer, it will be gone before you know it.

Hope to see you soon.

A group of concerned Eden community citizens have reached a verbal agreement with Arlene Bengel to purchase her Town of Eden farm property. The offer that had been made by the Town and Village of Eden Boards had been returned by the Bengel attorney for three reasons, price being one of them. The Eden group will offer the property back to the Village/Town for the originally appraised value of $150,000. The group admitted to paying more than that amount for the property, but is willing to absorb the difference to keep the property under local control.

The Village of Campbellsport will begin construction of a storm water management detention pond located north of Firemen's Park and south of State Highway 67.

Because the population count is of some importance due to it having a major influence on a number of state aid areas, the Village of Eden Board will appeal the state's population count for the village. The state has the population at 650, but the board's count is 875.

Governor Tommy Thompson has approved a $362,281 contract for asphalt resurfacing of 6.1 miles of US 45 between Fond du Lac County B and V in the Village and Town of Eden.

Village President Rick Heisler, on behalf of the Village of Campbellsport, presented Campbellsport High School Baseball Coach Jerry Raether with a proclamation honoring the team's success at the State Tournament. The team placed second and was co-winner of the Sportsmanship Award.

A son, Kyle Richard, was born August 3 to Bill and Michelle Jaeger of Campbellsport. A son, Clayton Lee, was born July 12 to Jon and Jill Zielieke of Campbellsport. A daughter, Hailey Laine, was born August 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Blair Hall of Campbellsport. A daughter, Jordan Elizabeth, was born August 9 to Tom and Patty Wettstein of Eden.

Amelia Reindl, 92, Kewaskum, passed away August 13. Patricia J. Wondra, 63, West Burlington, Iowa, passed away August 8. Clarence C. Marx, 91, formerly of Eden, passed away August 17.

Debbie Seen has gained the highest level of state dairy cattle showmanship by winning a blue ribbon and first in her class at the Wisconsin State Fair August 13 with a Holstein senior heifer calf.

Clarence Rathmann is about ready to throw in the sponge as a second arson-suspected fire at his property within a two-week span occurred. This time the house was destroyed. Twenty-six men and four pieces of equipment were at the scene for four-and-one-half hours. As with the first time, Rathmann was at work when each fire occurred. The investigation continues.

A flaming disaster was averted Tuesday morning when residents of the area and the fire department cooperated to do something when about 2,558 gallons of explosive gasoline flowed from the vent pipe of the Citgo storage tanks and flooded the Luedtke Mobile Home Park at West Main Street. A faulty valve had permitted the gasoline to flow from the above storage tank into an underground tank and then flow out the vent.

Firemen were called to the Peter Senn farm on Co. Trk. Y Friday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in one of his tractors and prevent the spread of fire in the straw field in which he was working. Damage to the tractor is repairable.

A daughter, Michelle Lynn, was born August 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Baumhardt of Eden. A son was born August 24 to Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Ray of Campbellsport.

Julie Lynn Ebert, 17, Kewaskum, passed away August 21. Sister M. Leonida Schommer, O.S.F., 89, Campbellsport, passed away August 17.

Out of the 900 day-old chick received from the State Game Farm at Poynette early this spring, 730 were released August 11 as eight-week-old pheasants by members of the Campbellsport Sportsmen Club. A good number of members were on hand to receive their allotment of birds, several more than the number who had helped get the pens and brooders in shape for the chicks. More cooperation will be needed in the future.

An organizational meeting for a Campbellsport Veterans of Foreign Wars Post is scheduled for August 30. Every soldier, sailor, or Marine who has served with Uncle Sam's Armed Forces beyond the continental limits of the U.S.A. in the war with the axis powers, or in any previous war or expedition recognized by a campaign medal, is eligible to join.

The good right arm of Harold Marx proved too much for the Belles in Sunday's game with Kewaskum, which won 3-1. The defeat dropped the locals into a tie with the victors for second place.

Campbellsport's Legion team was defeated by Eden 6-5.

Aloysius Flanagan, formerly of the Town of Eden, passed away August 18.

At an important meeting of the Wisconsin Highway Commission held recently, it was decided to give to the public a statement of the road-building situation which the commission now faces, owing to the failure of the Legislature to make appropriation. The article explained funding and how some experienced engineers will be dropped due to no provision for work after 1922.

The Waucousta baseball team lost its first full game of the season last Sunday, when the team went down to defeat before the Eden Stars, by a score of 14-7. Next Sunday, a return game will be played between these two teams on the Eden diamond.

The Ashford ball tossers and the Campbellsport Cubs engaged in a good game last Sunday, which was won by the Ashford boys 9-7.

The Bauer lunch rooms were opened Saturday evening and many were attracted to the neat and airy place, which has undergone a complete change under the painter's brush. Mrs. Bauer will make a speciality of serving chile every Saturday evening.

Former resident Chas. E. Broughton is now the editor of the Sheboygan Press. A severe wind storm blew over a portion of a new residence being erected by him. A chimney was blown down and crashed through the roof.

The Kewaskum School District plans to have the same tax levy for 2016-17 as it did during the 2015-16 school year. With 44 electors attending the school district's annual meeting and budget hearing on August 22, a tax levy of $11,122,982 was unanimously approved for the 2016-17 preliminary budget. The budget will not be finalized until October as that is when state information is available and the budget can reflect changes in enrollment.

Although many of the drivers were not old enough to have driver's licenses, some area youngsters learned what it was like to race around the track in front of the crowd at the Slinger Speedway on August 28. Driving the small vehicles taught the kids about the basic principles of racing. The event was made possible through Memorial Go-Kart, Inc. The event was the idea of Kathy Fies, who was told at the funeral of 13-year-old Parker Klumb that he had dreamed of building a go-kart and racing it with his friends. Parker lost his life while riding his bicycle with friends and getting hit from behind by a vehicle that left the scene. After the go-kart race, the "Balloons to Heaven" ceremony is held. This year, participants released some 300 balloons in memory of 47 children who have lost their lives.

There is a new lighted basketball court at Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum. New basketball hoops were installed on a tennis court August 26. Chad Cook, Russell Thull, William Thull, and Kory Dogs donated their time for the installation.

Kewaskum's Classic Car Show And Benefit is scheduled for September 18.

Amanda Krolski broke the 3-3 tie with Kiel on August 25 with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over her tennis opponent. This was Krolski's first varsity competition. She was the only singles player for Kewaskum to post a victory. All three of the Indians' doubles teams were victorious: Cassidy Lange/Hannah Preder, Brandi Geldnich/Ariahna Grossenbacher, and Kallie Hoefft/Marissa Zarda.

With a 21-14 victory over Port Washington, the Kewaskum football team has a 2-0 record.

At the Berlin Soccer Tournament, the Indians beat Random Lake 2-1 and Portage/Poynette 4-2, and lost 1-0 to Ripon.

Infant Baylor Christian Cain passed away August 26. Robert J. Weninger, 86, Brownsville, passed away.

Regal Ware has announced that it is in negotiations to sell the Kewaskum manufacturing facility. Regal Ware currently occupies a portion of the 580,000 square foot building for the cast aluminum cookware division and the outlet store. James Moran, Regal Ware's senior vice president of corporate administration, stated employees were made aware of the pending sale a number of weeks ago and that an offer to purchase the facility has been accepted. Moran went on to say that Regal Ware would lease a quarter of the building to continue the cast aluminum cookware division that employs 30-50 people. It is expected the closing will be mid-September of this year.

Three bids had been obtained to furnish and install main entry doors at the Kewaskum Middle School. The bidders included Laforce for $43,880, Rinderle Door Co. for $44,111, and Consolidated Doors Inc. for $55,907. The project was completed for $43,880.

The Washington County Health Department reports five dead crows found in West Bend (one), Germantown (two), the Town of Wayne (one), and the Town of Farmington (one) have tested positive for West Nile Virus. West Nile Virus is spread to humans through the bites of infected mosquitoes.

Mosquitoes get the virus by feeding on infected birds. This mosquito season, two humans have been identified with West Nile Virus in Wisconsin.

Construction has begun on 8.55 miles of State Highway 28. The project will include resurfacing the road and replacing guardrail at various locations along the roadway. Work will be done from US Highway 41 to US Highway 45. The project is expected to cost $2.02 million and 80 percent will be paid with federal funds, 20 percent with state funds.

Each year, the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club focuses on one special community improvement project. This year, it was a four-seat seesaw and a rock climbing outfit to be permanently installed inside the fenced area at Kiwanis Park. The Juniors contributed nearly $2,700 toward the two play items.

Work on County Road A in the Town of Farmington is going according to schedule.

New employees at the Kewaskum School District include: Michelle Eberle, Allison Lauber, Angela Oestreich, Renee Altendorf, Joel Dziedzic, Cathy Wilson, Colleen McKernan, Tiffany Strassberg, Jan Donahou, Joseph Moser, Carrie Berlin, Eric Joslin, Julie Fechter, Carla Schmitt, and Michael Snyder.

Kewaskum's soccer team won a 2-1 shootout over Living Word to notch its first win of the season. Overtime was not played in this game due to weather conditions and that the teams had played three hours of already. The Indians were good on four of five penalty kicks.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel and the Kewaskum Village Board members agreed at last Monday's meeting that a comparison study of a street with a similar situation would be the next step on making a decision whether or not to place a stop sign at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Lazy Lane. Residents have become aware and increasingly alarmed at the amount of traffic in the area since Timblin Drive opened up onto Memorial Drive. One resident stated there were up to 40 children living there, with 29 of those being under the age of 12.

New lights will shine over the Kewaskum High School football field, paid for by donations. A special pre-game lighting ceremony is planned for just prior to the Indian/Cougar football game, when the lights will be utilized for the first time.

Two events are scheduled for September 8: Early Farm Days and the Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum's Turkey Shoot.

A racing fan all of his life, Bill Lehmann III has spent the past year touring the country to promote the role Mercedes Benz plays as sponsors of IndyCar drivers. Raised in Kewaskum, Lehmann landed a job with Motorsports International, a division of the Penske Corp., while he was vacationing in Michigan with his wife, Nicole. Bill's role in the IndyCar races entails driving a Mercedes Benz custom-built silver Marathon coach to each race. As clients of Motorsports International, Mercedes Benz supplies engines for eight IndyCar drivers, like Al Unser, Emerson Fittipaldi and Bobby Rahal. The big silver coach acts as a traveling office for the race car drivers and company officials.

Merchandise valued at $4,000 was taken in a burglary at Burckhard's TV and Appliance Store in Kewaskum. It is believed the burglary occurred between 2 and 8 a.m. on Thursday. Stolen were a number of color television sets, both console and table models; a number of radios; tape recorders; one stereo and equipment; two toasters; shavers and records. No cash was taken.

When the Kewaskum Community High School opens on Monday, enrollment of 700 is expected. That is a new high. There were 658 students last year.

Enrollment at Holy Trinity School is estimated at 265. Classes begin Monday.

What could have been a major disaster in Campbellsport was prevented on Tuesday. A resident notified officials that there was a strong odor of gasoline. Upon investigation, it was discovered that gasoline was spilling from an underground vent pipe due to an open valve on a storage tank above the ground. Kewaskum firefighters were called to assist.

On Sunday, Kewaskum firemen extinguished a grass fire one mile north of the village. Eight men, who had been participating in the Allenton picnic parade, responded to the call.

rented a car in Brussels, Belgium, and drove to Holland, France, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and Germany. While in France, they visited Laon, where Gordy called home for a few years. He was surprised at how much things had not changed in the 30 years since he left. They also went to Oktoberfest and visited the Dachau Concentration camp and other World War II memorials and points of interest.

Last year Gordy and Carolyn celebrated their 55th Wedding Anniversary. They still live on the family farm. Although the cows were sold years ago, there's still plenty to do. Their daughter Jackie took over the day to day operations, raising beef cattle and cash cropping the land. Gordy still enjoys getting in a tractor and working the land or harvesting crops. At 82 years old, life is slower now than before. If you don't see him checking out the fields in his UTV, you might find him playing cards down the road at Red Cabin or just sitting on the patio at the family farm.

Coach P's

Ziegler Is The Ironman For Kewaskum A's

Eden native Jim Ziegler has hit the fountain of youth at the age of 38. Ziegler who turns 39 in September has been playing baseball for the Kewaskum A's for the past 20 years. The stand-out pitcher for Campbellsport High School and UW-Oshkosh still pitches for the A's and led them to a 53-21 record this season. The A's just lost last Sunday 6-5 to get into the Rock River League grand championship. Ziegler and the A's won Rock River titles in 2012 and last year in 2020.

Ziegler is not only a player for the A's but has helped coach the team for years and is now the commissioner of the Rock River League. Jimmy earned eight varsity letters in his high school career at Campbellsport. He was the offensive Player-of-the-Year in the EWC back in 2000, quarterbacking the CHS football team to the 2000 conference championship.

On the baseball field Ziegler was a three-time all-conference pitcher leading the Cougars to four conference championships during his career. In 2001, his senior year, Ziegler was first team all-district and first team all-state in baseball. Jim was inducted into the Campbellsport High School Athletic Hall-of-Fame in 2015.

At UW-Oshkosh, Ziegler played all four years for the Titans and lettered four times. He was a member of the 2003 UW-O team that took fifth place at the Division 3 College World Series. Jim graduated from Oshkosh in 2006 with a finance degree and worked at Marshall & Ilsley Corp. until 2011. In 2011 he started working for BMO Financial Group, he is now a retirement service provider for One America. "Ziggy" and his wife Melissa live in Menomonee Falls and have a seven-year old daughter named Hadley.

I asked Jimmy how he got his start in baseball. It all started in the Eden Junior Athletic Association when he played tee-ball. He loved going to watch his dad (Jim) play softball and was always throwing a ball up against the garage and hitting off homemade tees his dad made him. Living right across the street from Eden Elementary School, Jimmy would play games in the school field with his friends nearly every day in the summer.

The Ziegler's have been friends and neighbors of ours since we moved to the Village of Eden back in 1995. We used to love going down to the sewer plant baseball diamond and watching them play. The year they won the Little League championship, Jimmy's dad loaded up the team on a fire truck and drove around the village. I knew right then that we picked an awesome place to live and raise our kids.

Wisconsin To Offer Additional COVID-19 Vaccine Dose To People Who Are Immunocompromised

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) supports the recommendation that some immunocompromised people are recommended and eligible to get an additional dose of Pfizer (ages 12 and up) or Moderna (ages 18 and up) COVID-19 vaccine following a completed series.

“Our nation’s leading medical experts have reviewed the available data and made this recommendation to improve protection against COVID-19 for some of our most vulnerable populations,” said DHS secretary-designee Karen Timberlake. “Clinical experts reviewing data from the first months of administering COVID-19 vaccines have determined that certain medical conditions and treatments keep people from building the full immunity we would expect from the original two-dose mRNA vaccine series.”

After rigorous review of all available data, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) authorized the additional dose for certain immunocompromised people on Thursday. On Friday, August 13, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s (CDC) Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) voted unanimously to recommend an additional dose for individuals with specific medical conditions or who are receiving treatments that are associated with moderate to severe immune compromise.

This includes people who have:

- Been receiving active cancer treatment for tumors or cancers of the blood.
- Received an organ transplant and are taking medicine to suppress the immune system.
- Received a stem cell transplant within the last two years or are taking medicine to suppress the immune system.
- Moderate to severe primary immunodeficiency (such as DiGeorge syndrome, Wiskott-Aldrich syndrome).
- Advanced or untreated HIV infection.
- Active treatment with high-dose corticosteroids, alkylating agents, antimetabolites, transplant-related immunosuppressive drugs, cancer chemotherapeutic agents classified as severely immunosuppressive, tumor-necrosis (TNF) blockers, or other drugs that may suppress your immune response.

“The science has shown that those with weakened immune systems often do not develop the same level of immune response after their initial COVID-19 vaccine series as those with uncompromised immune systems,” said Dr. Ryan Westergaard, chief medical officer for the Bureau of Communicable Diseases. “Fortunately, studies show that a third dose can help bolster the immune response in these individuals to achieve the same strong protection from the virus that those who are not immunocompromised were able to develop with just the two-dose series. If you are not included in this new group of individuals recommended for an additional dose, you should be reassured that the data shows good protection with the one or two-dose COVID-19 vaccine series at this time.”

The additional dose of mRNA

COVID-19 vaccine should be administered at least 28 days after completing the primary COVID-19 vaccine series. ACIP recommends that patients should receive the same vaccine product as the first two doses. However, if that is not feasible, a dose of the other mRNA COVID-19 vaccine is permitted. If you think you may be eligible, or are interested in additional information about the recommendation for an additional dose of COVID-19 vaccine, visit the DHS COVID-19 Additional Dose webpage.

At this time, fully vaccinated people who are not moderately or severely immunocompromised do not need an additional COVID-19 vaccine dose. As more information on additional, or booster, doses for the general public becomes available, DHS will update the public. It is important that until further guidance is released, those who are especially vulnerable to COVID-19 infection have adequate opportunity to get access an additional dose.

To find a COVID-19 vaccine provider in your community, visit Vaccines.gov(link is external), or call 211 or 877-947-2211.

For up-to-date information about Wisconsin’s COVID-19 response, visit the DHS COVID-19 webpage. You can also follow @DHSWI on Facebook, Twitter, or dhs.wi on Instagram for more information on COVID-19.
