Electorate Approves Campbellsport School District Tax Levy

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

During the Campbellsport School District's annual meeting on Monday, Sept. 20, area residents approved the proposed tax levy.

The electorate unanimously approved the proposed tax levy for the 2021-2022 of $9,369,190. This gives the district a mill rate of $8.91 per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

"We're proposing a tax levy for 2021-2022 of $9,369,190, which is a decrease of 4.97 percent," said Michelle Eilbes, director of business services for the district.

The state does not release the amount of state aid for school districts until after October 1st.

Because of this, the numbers that the district uses to figure out the budget and the tax levy are always preliminary until this aid number is given out.

The school board moved its second meeting of October to the fourth Monday of the month to give them time to get those final numbers and make any necessary changes to the tax levy. The final levy and mill rate will be approved at that meeting.

A question was asked about a reduction for the second year in a row in an area of revenue for this school year. Eilbes explained that revenue is

Kewaskum Village Board Listens To Presentation On Removing Dam

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

Cheryl Nenn, a representative from the Milwaukee Riverkeeper organization, gave a presentation to the Kewaskum Village Board on Monday, Sept. 20, about removing the Kewaskum dam from the Milwaukee River.

"I'm here to talk about what you are thinking about the dam and the future of it," Nenn told the board. "I wanted to talk about the options.... I think we have incredible funding right now for dam removal."

The Milwaukee Riverkeeper program, which has been working closely with Kewaskum's Mighty River Project, has been involved with about 11 different dam removals in the basin over the last 25 years or so. Removing the dam in Kewaskum would help fish and water quality, ac-ording to Nenn.

The Kewaskum dam was built in 1935 as part of a Works Progress Administration project. Since then, it has been dredged at least once in the 1960s to remove debris.

"If you look at old village pictures, they opened the dam many years ago to clean it out, it was nothing but a stream down the middle," Village Trustee Dick Knoebel said. "And the big thing is that empondment is such a big part of our River Hill Park. We hold our fireworks celebration there ever year. I think removing the dam would just ruin the aesthetics of that park."

The Milwaukee Riverkeeper was involved with removing the Campbellsport dam in 2011 for about $680,000, through funds from the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative (GLRI) and the Wisconsin DNR. For the past 10 years, the GLRI has provided $350 million to $ 375 million a year in funding for this type of project, according to Nenn. She said that new bills are being passed federally to add another billion dollars to that fund.

"So, there's going to be an incredible amount of money out there for projects that improve the Great Lakes," Nenn said. "Campbellsport did get funding, and that dam was further upstream than here, so I think there is a good opportunity [for Kewaskum] to get funding."

Nenn offered various solutions for creating a better habitat for fish and improved water quality, such as removing the dam, retaining bridge pilings for a pedestrian bridge, burying the weir with rocks to create a rock ramp, creating a fish passage on the side of the dam and restoring riv-

Why Amazon Is Just As Bad As Facebook

Dear Reader,

Recently I wrote about a certain god-like dictator who has risen to prominence: Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg. You would be forgiven if you thought I was talking about Amazon's Jeff Bezos, for he is just as powerful, another god unto himself.

Amazon is a parasite that is sucking the vitality out of our local communities. Let's look at the facts:

Amazon was founded in 1995. Initially it collected and paid sales tax in only five states, even though 45 states have state-wide sales tax laws. This gave it an unfair advantage over brick-and-mortar stores operating in those states – it could price its products lower because it was not paying the tax. This ended only in 2016, after a Supreme Court ruling told Amazon to stop doing this.

Amazon attacked booksellers, excluding them from its platform if they did not give in to its pricing demands.

Like Facebook and Google, Amazon tracks consumers on the web and uses algorithms to stoke their purchasing behavior, to its advantage.

Amazon has launched its own private labels selling popular products that it also carries. In effect, Amazon used its distribution channel to study its competitors, then copied them and offered identical or similar products.

And now, Amazon is leveraging its online power to open physical stores that will spell the death knell of many retailers that already have seen their sales erode because of Amazon.

How does this affect you? Well, have you noticed how Amazon sponsors your kid's soccer league, or supports the local Salvation Army, United Way, and other charitable organizations that are trying to solve problems in our community? Yeah, neither have I. Support for local improvements comes from local business. When we stop supporting them and send our dollars to Amazon, we are depriving our own community of the glue that holds it together.

What about AmazonSmile, the behemoth's supposedly generous gifts to charities? Let's do the math:

- Since 2013, when Amazon began the program, it has donated $215 million to charity. Those are Amazon's own numbers (you can see them here: <https://www.aboutamazon.com/news/community/215-million-donated-to-charities-through-amazon-smile>).

- During that same time period, Amazon sold $1.483 trillion.

- $215 million is 0.015% – fifteen one-thousandths of one percent of Amazon's sales during that time.

How generous is that? Hmm, maybe not so much.

Amazon needs to be reined in, for the good of us all. Call or email Congress one more time as together we fight the forces from the dark side.

Rural Writes

BY G.A. SCHEINOH
CONTRIBUTOR

Autumn is officially here... or will be by the time you read this. The dog days of summer barked out with a hot day (upper 80s) on Sunday, 80° on Monday and the last day of the waning season coming in at 71°.

Leastwise that's what the National Weather Service is calling for. They haven't passed yet.

But signs abound we're already into fall. Not unnoticed is the great rush to get crops off the field. Two big farming operations, one southeast of here on UU, the other northeast on K have cargo trucks running almost 24/7, flying through with dust and corn stalk stubble in their wake. A trail across both highway and yards.

Which brings to mind a visit to The Little Farmer years ago, when folks were carrying arms full of the rusty stuff, pretty near the entire plant, minus the cobs. Figured they must be city dwellers. Who else would hug the stuff to themselves as if it was pure gold? Or pay for what us country people take for granted; what's always readily available.

Decorating their homes to get an autumny feel. Much as the IHOP in Fond du Lac once did. Though it made for a mess to sweep/mop around.

What gets my goat is rushing into these cycles ahead of their normal onslaught. A visit to Kmart in Wausau back in the day found the store crew already setting up Halloween displays in late July. The big box outlets still push holidays and seasons well ahead of the actual dates.

What's the hurry? For them, profit. What about the rest of us? We own the past but the future doesn't belong to anyone except God. It'd truly be a shame to waste a precious gift by looking too far ahead. Time will pass in its own fashion. Let's just enjoy here and now.

what the district collects in school fees.

"It's about $20,000 (amount of reduction)," Eilbes said. "The board decided with those school fees, we would wave that for one more year."

Eilbes also explained the amount of ESSER funding the district is receiving and where it is being spent. The ESSER funding is the stimulus money the federal government has authorized for school districts to help deal with the Coronavirus pandemic.

In the first phase, the district received $105,940.01. This money can be spent between March 13, 2020 and September 30, 2022.

The district used most of this money on technology needs for virtual learning. A total of $76,223.75 of this money went toward the purchase of chromebooks, laptops and hotspots. A total of $5,271.40 was used for instructional software for virtual learning. A total of $24,425,000 was used for preparedness and response, which included extra cleaning and sanitizing.

In the second phase, the district is estimating it will be receiving $386,843. This money can be spent between March 13, 2020 and September 30, 2023.

erfront areas with native plants.

Knoebel said that he is not opposed to putting in a spawning stream alongside the dam.

"I just wanted to get you guys thinking about it and see what you think the future would be. I think the river is a huge asset already to the village, and could be a bigger asset to the village," Nenn said. "And I think the important thing to ponder as well is the truckloads of federal money that I think we potentially could get."

Nenn said that she was willing to help get funding to get a conceptual study done on removing

Some of this money is being spent to pay the salary of an elementary school math coach and a literary coach. These positions will support teachers and help with curriculum. A portion is being spent on i-ready assessment software for learning loss. More chromebooks for the middle and high school are being purchased so the district will have one-to-one computing for these students. The money will also be used for continued preparedness and response to the ongoing COVID pandemic.

In the third phase, the district is estimating it will be receiving $868,795. This money can be spent between March 13, 2020 and September 30, 2024.

The district is planning to use this money for the continuation of the elementary coaches and technology updates. Mental health services and supports will also be looked with this money. The district is planning to hold some stakeholder meetings to help decide on any other needs that could be met with this funding.

District residents will be kept informed on this money and the stakeholder meetings in the future. A link on the district website is being set up as a way for everyone to see this information and when the stakeholders meetings will be held.

"This is more about us having some advance discussion before all of a sudden we have to fix the dam and we have to come up with money to do it," said Village Trustee Dave Spenner, who acted as chairperson for the meeting in the absence of Village President Kevin Scheunemann.

The issue of removing the dam was handed over to the village's Parks and Recreation Committee, which is chaired by Village Trustee Jim Wright, to investigate further.

"In my opinion, the park would be ruined," Knoebel said. "That's one of the jewels of the Village of Kewaskum."

Guy Richard Engelhardt

Guy Richard Engelhardt, 69, died unexpectedly—yet peacefully—Friday, September 10, 2021, at his home in West Bend, Wisconsin.

Guy was born on December 28, 1951, in Milwaukee to John and Marjorie (Johnson) Engelhardt. His family moved to West Bend when Guy was a young child. He has been a lifelong member of the community ever since.

From the age of five, Guy was devoted to the family dairy distribution business, Engelhardt Dairy of WI. He dedicated his life to growing the company from a small door to door milk delivery operation, to a thriving distribution business—a legacy that made him unbelievably proud. He received a lot of support in growing the company over the past 50 years and he truly appreciated everyone for the part they played in that journey. If you worked at Engelhardt, Guy considered you family.

When not at work, he could be found dreaming and planning the next trip with his family or singing along to Jimmy Buffet and classic rock. Guy had a true gift for bringing happiness to all that spent time with him. He loved being surrounded by friends and family, sharing a good meal and a glass of wine. Guy always had a smile on his face, a tap in his toes, and a song in his heart.

Most of all, Guy was deeply committed to his wife and family. The accomplishment he relished most was providing them with the foundation and support to fully appreciate and experience life and travel. Guy was married for 49 years to his high school sweetheart, Sandra (Matenaer) Engelhardt. She was his absolute favorite person in the world. They shared a love of travel and had dreams of retiring in Marco Island, FL. Together they had two children: Matthew (Jessica) Engelhardt and Brooke (Justin) Happel; and four grandchildren: Miller Guy Happel, Alice Marjorie Happel, Kellan Thomas Engelhardt, and Celia Belle Engelhardt that were the pride of his life.

He is missed by many friends, both personal and professional, who he loved like family. In addition to his immediate family, he is survived by his favorite sister, Susie (Alex) Kiss; his mother-in-law, Janice (Koth) Matenaer; and his sisters and brothers-in-laws that he loved as though they were his own siblings; beloved nieces, nephews, and other relatives and friends.

Guy was preceded in death by his brother, Greg Engelhardt; his parents, John and Marjorie Engelhardt; and his father-in-law, Paul Matenaer.

A celebration of Guy's life—to raise a glass and share a memory or a song in his honor—will be held from 3–6 p.m. on Thursday, November 4, 2021, at Hon-E-Kor Golf Course in Kewaskum.

In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to The American Heart Association in Guy's honor at http://www2.heart.org/goto/Guy\_Engelhardt.

As Guy would say, "Never hurry; never worry." Sing that song; share that drink; enjoy today.

He is further survived by nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents, Charlie was preceded in death by four brothers, Claude (Ethel) Straub, Father Carrol Straub, Neal (Lyra) Straub, and Hugo Straub, Jr.; niece, Elaine Straub-Premo; and brother-in-law, Richard Schmitt.

Morgan Matthew Theisen

Morgan Matthew Theisen, born June 26, 2021, peacefully passed away in his parents' arms on September 15, 2021. After bravely battling several complex medical challenges, he joined the angels, including his sweet cousin Wrenleigh, in heaven.

Morgan is the son of Matthew and Melissa Theisen of Slinger, Wisconsin. In anticipation of Morgan's arrival, they knew they would cherish him more than they could ever imagine, but their love for him was beyond anything they could have prepared for. He was an unexpected blessing – the best blessing – and during his brief 82 days here on Earth, he touched the lives of many. He had beautiful, blonde hair that his family and friends cooed over, and big, curious eyes that loved taking in the world around him. A few of his favorite things included story time and cuddling with his mom and dad, watching the NBA playoffs (!), his homemade mobile, being tightly swaddled – stubbornly sticking out one foot every now and again to remind everyone how cute his toes were – and he absolutely loved his nurses and all those that took such wonderful care of him.

Morgan is survived by his parents, Matthew and Melissa, and grandparents Timothy (Kim) Theisen, Jennifer Theisen (Thomas Moen), Douglas (Laura) Prunty, and Kristine Prunty (Tracy Brady). He is also loved by his great-grandparents and his many aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

Matthew and Melissa would like to sincerely thank their friends, families, and colleagues, and the doctors, nurses, and staff of Children's Wisconsin, for the incredible amount of compassion, care, and support they have shown for their sweet son. Even during some of the hardest days, they brought smiles and hope.

A Celebration of Life will be held at Northbrook Church in Richfield, Wisconsin on Tuesday, September 28 – visitation from 4-6 p.m. with service to follow.

In lieu of flowers, the Theisen family wishes for memorial contributions to be made to the Herma Heart Institute or NICU of Children's Wisconsin.

Gerald Struck

Gerald "Jerry" Struck, 48 of Campbellsport found peace on Thursday, September 16, 2021.

He was born on December 6, 1972, to Glenn and Mary "Betty" (nee Kopanski) Struck in Phelps, WI. Jerry grew up in Conover, WI, and graduated from Northland Pines High School. On May 20, 2006, he was united in marriage to Bobbie Serba in Allenton, WI.

He enjoyed fixing things and teaching others what he knew. Jerry loved the outdoors, fishing, sport clay shooting, and going 4-wheeling with the family. He especially enjoyed spending time with his family and two boys and will be dearly missed by all who knew him.

Those Jerry leaves behind to cherish his memory include his loving wife, Bobbie Struck; his two boys, Spencer and Hudson Struck; his parents, Glenn and Betty Struck; a sister, Cindy (Karl) Olson; sister-in-law, Jodie (Kevin) Bushey; brother-in-law, Josh (Sarah) Serba; his father and mother-in-law, Tom (Jackie) Serba; many nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends.

A private family service will be held. Memorials in Jerry's name to Donate Life are appreciated by the family.

The family would like to thank the nurses and staff at Froedtert Hospital for all their help and care.

Please consider signing our online guest book (www.myrhum-patten.com) to share your condolences with the family. Cards addressed to the family may be sent in the care of Myrhum-Patten Funeral and Cremation Service, 1315 W. Washington Street, West Bend, WI 53095.

Farm Safety

Confined Space Entry If You're Going In, Observe All The Safety Principles

Whenever a feedyard worker enters an enclosed space to perform work, they are exposed to inherent risks for injury or death.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) defines a confined space as any area that is not necessarily designed for people but is large enough for a person to enter. Confined spaces found in a feedyard include grain bins, tanks, silos, storage bins, feed mixer wagons and tanks, hoppers, pits, water storage tanks, equipment housings, etc.

To prevent injury or death in these situations, workers must be trained to recognize hazards and know how to safely accomplish a task in a confined space.

The first step to prevention is to recognize what constitutes a confined space. Employers should evaluate all confined spaces in the workplace and determine what actual or potential hazards exist in that space.

Evaluation of a confined space must consider all physical and other hazards. Before and during entry, test and monitor for oxygen content, flammability, toxicity, and explosion hazards. Ensure that the confined space is properly ventilated. Workers entering confined spaces must maintain contact at all times with a trained attendant either visually, by phone or by two-way radio. Appropriate equipment for the space — fall protection, rescue, air-monitoring, lighting and communication — should always be used.

Personal Protective Equipment commonly used in confined space entry includes a hard hat, eye protection with side shields, gloves (heavy-duty work gloves for handling debris and/or chemical protective gloves appropriate for potential contact with chemicals), ANSI-approved protective footwear and respiratory protection as necessary.

Train workers to never enter a confined space before the hazards and steps to address the hazards have been outlined. Train workers how to enter, how to exit and how to respond to an emergency if it does occur in the confined space where they are working.

Common hazards related to working in a confined space include:

Confined spaces can be very hazardous on a farm. CAN STOCK PHOTO / HENADZI

- lack of or excess oxygen
- gases, fumes or vapors
- flooding
- dust
- fire or explosion
- temperature
- access restrictions

Oxygen can be depleted in a confined space through naturally occurring reactions. Any reaction that produces carbon dioxide — such as breathing — will displace oxygen. Excess oxygen is also hazardous because it can result in an explosion.

Poisonous gases and fumes can build up in confined spaces, especially where there is a lack of ventilation. Poisonous fumes may also leak into a confined space or be generated within the space through welding, painting, etc.

To avoid being overcome by poisonous fumes, etc., always conduct air sampling prior to entering a confined space. Make sure the sampling equipment has the capability for measuring potential byproducts.

Be aware of flooding hazards as confined spaces can fill with floodwater in seconds, trapping the worker. Naturally occurring dust or dust generated by drilling or grinding can quickly build up in a confined space and cause respiratory hazards. Dust also poses a risk for fire and/or explosion, especially in an area with a lack of ventilation.

Flammable vapors, liquids, gases, or dust within a confined space greatly increase the risk of fire or explosion in that space. That is especially true if tools which can generate a spark are used within the space.

Strenuous work in high heat can lead to a dangerous increase in body temperature, especially in a confined area where ventilation hinders cooling of the space and the person working there. Risks of working in these conditions include heat stroke, exhaustion, and collapse.

If a confined space is difficult to access, the risk of not being able to reach a worker in distress is greatly increased. Anyone working in such conditions should be fully aware of how to exit the space or how they might be carried out of the space if necessary.

Among the means of controlling confined space hazards are:

- Developing a written safety procedure prior to entry and implementing it with every entry.
- Including an effective communication process within the safety procedure.
- Cleaning and ventilating the space prior to entry.
- Providing additional lighting within the space as appropriate.
- Use of non-sparking tools inside the space.
- Use of breathing equipment as appropriate.
- Having someone outside the confined space monitor the worker whenever they enter the space.
- Use lifelines as appropriate.
- Train with and rehearse emergency rescue procedures on a routine basis.
- If equipment such as a generator or other noisy device is used, set it up as far as possible away from the worker to avoid noise-induced-hearing-loss. Determine whether or not hearing protection is appropriate for the worker.
- Anytime unknown chemicals are discovered in the confined space, follow OSHA's guidelines for PPE and procedures for safely resolving the presence of the substance.
- Planning a safe entry and training all employees to implement it will make confined space entry safer, easier and more effective.

Stay On Your Feet The Three Point Rule makes all the difference

The Three Point Rule, which applies to climbing a ladder, exiting and mounting or dismounting equipment, or in any situation with potential for slipping and/or falling, helps maintain stability and balance and greatly reduces the risk of injury for those engaged in these activities.

The points of contact can be two hands and one foot or two feet and one hand, but at least those points of contact are needed to reduce the likelihood of slipping or falling when climbing or exiting large equipment.

Becoming adept at any skill requires practice, and that's true of learning the Three Point Rule. Learning to use the Rule and recognize situations where it's critical to working safely requires focus and concentration. Practice using the Three Point Rule until it becomes a habit.

In a Three Point Rule case study a worker needed to get to the top of a grain bin. As he climbed the ladder, his hand slipped, and he fell about 10 feet to the ground below. The fall resulted in a twisted ankle, bruised leg and spinal fracture. When the incident was investigated, the worker admitted he was carrying a two-way radio in one hand and not using the Three Point Rule. It was clear that this person didn't have sufficient contact with the ladder rungs to keep from falling.

To properly implement the Three Point Rule and maintain balance and stability, keep at least three points of contact. That may include both hands and one foot, one hand and both feet or both hands and both feet.

In addition to the risk ladders pose, operating a front-end loader or other large pieces of equipment puts workers at risk for a fall when getting into or exiting the equipment. The vibration from the machine and sitting for long periods of time can also add to physical limitations. When exiting large equipment, it's natural to face the way you are going. This means your back is toward the equipment. It's extremely difficult, if not impossible, to implement the Three Point Rule when facing away from equipment in this manner.

In the past, you may have omitted use of the Three Point Rule while climbing ladders and equipment. However, one additional risk factor — such as the ringing of a cell phone — could be the distraction that causes you to lose balance or stability and experience a fall. If omission of the Three Point Rule has become habitual, it will take time and concentration to reverse that unsafe behavior.

Other unsafe behaviors related to climbing and exiting equipment include rushing through the task and/or omitting the use of established safety procedures. In some instances, a worker may believe it's easier or faster to bypass safety procedures. If this unsafe behavior becomes a habit, it generally leads to negative outcomes.

Equipment upgrades will help reduce the likelihood of slips and falls. Slip-resistant ladder rungs, expanded metal steps on equipment and slip-resistant soles on footwear all help improve safety in the workplace.

Fall prevention equipment, such as harnesses and restraint devices, also decrease potential for slipping and falling. Combined with safe behaviors, these upgrades can help avoid injuries from slips and falls.

Anytime you see a co-worker engaging in unsafe behavior, it's important to bring it to their attention. If you are the one who's distracted, be appreciative of their concern for your safety and take time to determine what needs to happen to resolve the distraction. If your situation seems unmanageable, seek help.

Use the three-point system to prevent slips and falls from ladders. MASTER1305

Wisconsin Farm Bureau Reminds Motorists To Be Safe On Rural Roads This Fall

Fall harvest time can be one of the busiest and most dangerous seasons of the year for those involved in agriculture. For this reason, the third week of September is recognized as National Farm Safety and Health Week (NFSHW). The 2021 theme of NFSHW is 'Farm Safety Yields Real Results' and takes place September 19-25.

Throughout the state, harvest is underway and farmers are back to the fields. Tractors and other implements of husbandry (IOH) are allowed to operate on Wisconsin roadways but are often large and slow-moving which can cause confusion for drivers sharing the roads.

"At the end of the day, farmers and motorists alike want to return home to their families," said Wisconsin Farm Bureau president Kevin Krentz. "Safety has to be a top priority for everyone sharing the road."

Since 2009, the Wisconsin Department of Transportation has recorded more than 2,100 crashes involving agricultural equipment that resulted in 1,043 injuries and 43 deaths.

Three scenarios drivers and farmers should know how to handle are passing farm equipment, left-hand turns and braking distance needed at controlled intersections.

•Passing: In 2014, it became illegal to pass an IOH which include farm tractors and farm machinery, or an Ag-Commercial Motor Vehicle, trucks that are specially designed for agricultural work, in a no-passing zone. Motorists should wait until they enter a passing zone when considering going around a slow-moving vehicle.

Farmers should not pull over in a no-passing zone to let vehicles pass unless the road shoulder condition and width can allow for the farm machinery to completely move onto the shoulder. Farmers should also not wave a driver forward to pass them.

Although these actions may seem courteous, they send mixed signals and are not encouraged. In a passing zone, or if shoulder width permits, farmers are obligated to yield the roadway to the overtaking vehicle so they do not impede the normal movement of traffic.

•Left-hand turn: It can turn into a dangerous situation when a farmer is attempting to make a left-hand turn. Farm equipment, especially tractors, will likely have two flashing amber or yellow lights on the cab or tire fenders of the tractor when in operation on the roadway.

When a farmer signals to turn, the light will continue to flash in the direction the farmer is turning. The other light will go solid. For motorists, this is an important distinction to recognize.

For farm tractors or farm machinery without turn signals, hand signals should be used to indicate the operator's intention to turn.

•A controlled intersection: When a motorist legally passes large farm equipment within a very short distance of a controlled intersection (stop sign or stop lights), this action can dramatically impact the reaction time and braking distance for the farm equipment operator. Farm equipment is much heavier than a normal passenger vehicle which requires a larger braking distance than the average vehicle. Having adequate braking distance critical for the farm equipment operator.

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation recommends drivers slow down immediately when they see a slow-moving vehicle emblem (orange and red triangle) on the rear of a tractor or other piece of equipment. This emblem indicates that the farm machine usually travels slower than 25 mph. Stay alert, focused and patient when passing a slow-moving agricultural vehicle in an area where passing is legal.

Farmers are asked to comply with the proper lighting and marking requirements to draw attention to the size, shape and speed of agricultural vehicles and to alert drivers that caution is required. There are specific requirements for different types of equipment. This information can be found here.

Farmers should also know their local weight restrictions. Generally, agricultural weight limits are 23,000 pounds per axle or 92,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, dependent on number of axles and axle spacing, and subject to seasonal or special postings. Farmers can find more information about weight limits from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection and Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

"Sharing the road and respecting all who use it will help ensure every Wisconsin motorist has a safe experience on rural roads this harvest season," Krentz added.

Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation is the state's largest general farm organization. Made up of 61 county Farm Bureaus, it represents agriculturists and farms of every size, commodity and management style. Learn more at wfbf.com.

National Farm Safety and Health Week is led by the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety (NECAS), the agricultural partner of the National Safety Council. This annual promotion initiated by the National Safety Council has been proclaimed as such by each sitting U.S. President since Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944. Each day during National Farm Safety & Health Week a different topic will be addressed.

Kewaskum Volleyball Keeps Winning Record

September 18- Kewaskum At Pulaski Invite

The Kewaskum High School varsity volleyball team, now 12-5, took third at the Pulaski Invite with a 3-2 score on September 18.

“It was an exhausting day for the girls. Five matches straight, with the smallest break of all the Gold bracket teams, as we were the last pool play match going. We gave away the early Pool Play match to West De Pere, which ended up sending us against Pulaski (other pools number-one seed) in the first round. We played them well, but just erred too many times in the third set to take the win. In the third-place match, we set up against West De Pere and outplayed them the entire match. To play five hours of constant volleyball with only two third-set losses and a third-place finish, it was a good showing for us and we learned a lot about what we need to continue to do to be successful,” KHS head coach Laine Leitzke said.

Pool Play

25-19, 25-17, 25-20
Kewaskum JV1 wins 3-0.
Kewaskum JV2 wins 3-0

“A program sweep is a nice thing to have on the road in conference. Waupun had a very strong serve and we had trouble stopping Flegner on the outside. When we did good things, we earned some very nice points. We played some ugly ball, but fought through it and came away with the conference win,” Leitzke said.

Kewaskum JV1 wins 3-0.
Kewaskum JV2 wins 2-1

“Mayville is a pretty good Highway 28 rivalry. We got a slow start in the first set, but about halfway through, we started to catch a groove. Our serving put Mayville on their heels for a lot of the match and gave us a lot of opportunities on offense. We had some trouble with their block, but fought throughout the match and came away with the sweep,” Leitzke said.

Indians Bounce Back, Shut Out Falcons 42-0

Friday’s East Central Conference game between Kewaskum and Sheboygan Falls was highlighted by a 32-point first quarter and a stellar defensive performance throughout.

Inspired by a young fan’s request for doughnuts, the Indians offense, defense and special teams each took turns to light up the scoreboard in a furious minute of game action that would end in the first shutout of the year.

Senior quarterback Matt Buechel started the scoring streak by sneaking behind senior center Matt Blank and junior right guard Cale Fedorski for a one-yard touchdown. A failed two-point con-

Benjamin Butler hauls the ball into the endzone for an Indians touchdown as he catches a 23-yard pass from Matthew Buechel in a home game against Sheboygan Falls on September 17. Kewaskum won the game, 42-0.

Thirty seconds later, Blank dropped into his zone in the middle of the field and found himself with an interception, which he returned for a touchdown. Another failed two-point try left the hosts with a 12-0 lead.

Not to be outdone, the Indians’ special teams tallied the next score on the ensuing kickoff, as senior cover man Miles Suprenant ripped the ball from the Falcons’ returner and returned it for another Indians touchdown! Senior kicker Andrew Bolek added the extra point, and the home team was up 19 - 0 with 7:53 remaining in the first quarter.

Meanwhile, the Kewaskum defense continued its strong performance, recording three sacks and four interceptions. Senior Kyle Reichert recorded 1.5 of those sacks, while junior Hunter Loser (one sack) and sophomore Bailey Ralph (0.5 sack) also got to the Falcons’ quarterback. Besides Blank’s interception, Buechel and sophomore Oliver Voight added one apiece, but the highlight of the night came from senior Max Melzer as he raced the length of the field with what would have been another Indians’ pick six, though it was called back due to an inadvertent whistle.

The Indians got on the board four more times. Senior fullback Reegan Marx scored on the ground from eight yards out. Buechel scored on an 11-yard rush; he also added a beautiful strike to senior wide receiver Ben Butler in the corner of the endzone from 23 yards out. The final score happened when Bolek ended the first half with a 29-yard field goal as time expired.

The home team ended up with 330 total yards on offense while causing seven total Falcons turnovers. Kewaskum continues ECC play this week with a 7 p.m. game at Berlin (4-1).

Cotton Street Boys

I lost my dad last November the day after Thanksgiving. It was such a blow to the gut that I sometimes wake up yet in the morning and can't believe it happened. It's the call everyone dreads, the hospital calling and telling you your dad has had a heart attack and you better get here quick. By the time I got to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac, it was too late, he was gone.

No goodbyes, no hugs, no "I love you's," just that lonely feeling that you will never see his face or hear his voice again. Even worse was that we couldn't have a normal funeral because COVID-19 was so bad during that stretch they recommended just family. This Saturday, Sept. 25th, we will have a Celebration of Life for my father. We chose this day because it would've been his 80th birthday.

The celebration will take place at Lakeside Park in Fond du lac on Oven Island from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. This is open to anyone who would like to come and pay their respects to one of the finest men to ever walk the planet. We are also celebrating the life of my dad's brother Bill Peterson who passed away a week before my dad.

The Peterson boys grew up on Cotton Street in Fond du Lac with their brother Ray and sister Dolly. The kids all attended St. Pat's school, the boys all graduated from Fond du Lac High School and Dolly from St. Mary Springs.

My dad was a good athlete participating in basketball and baseball. He was a guard on the St. Pat's CYO basketball teams and was MVP his senior year. He was also on the state championship legion baseball team that featured many superstars like Hub King, John Gores and Dick Bestor.

After high school, my dad enrolled in the United States Army and served during the Cuban missile crisis. Little did I know until just a few years ago, he was stationed out in Fort Lewis with Campbellsport native Dan Rohlinger.

After the service, D.P. worked at Giddings & Lewis for 43 years and raised four children. He played softball for G & L for many years and they were state Industrial Champions in 1969. He played in several over 30 leagues with Parkside Tavern and the OK Bar out in Calumetville. During the late 1980s, I got a chance to play softball with my dad for the Leasa Electric teams. It was a family affair on Friday nights for the Petersons, myself, my dad, my brother Brian and my uncle Ray all played together on the Leasa team.

After retiring from G & L, my dad was an avid biker, putting on over 500 miles every summer. He worked out at the YMCA every day and ate at the senior center with his brother Bill nearly every day. He loved to go dancing when there was live music and he was always whistling a song. My dad loved following Campbellsport wrestling when I took over for Sarge. He also loved going to his grandkids sporting events. One of the highlights of my life was when I won the conference wrestling championship my senior year, he ran down to the mat and picked me up and gave me the biggest hug.

Cougar Runners Compete In Tough Crusader Challenge

The Campbellsport High School cross country team competed in the Sheboygan Lutheran Crusader Challenge on Thursday, Sept. 16, after a year away due to the pandemic. Twenty-three schools competed in one of the largest meets in the area. The Sheboygan Lutheran 5,000 meter home course provided runners with a variety of hills, woods, and long flat start and finish areas.

The Cougar boys' varsity (122 points) finished in fourth place behind winner Kohler (75), runner-up Sheboygan Lutheran (86), and third place Ozaukee (92). All three are ranked in the top 15 Division 3 schools in the State. Manitowoc Lutheran (155) was fifth, followed by Oostburg (181), and Kettle Moraine Lutheran (190) to round out the top seven teams.

Campbellsport's Skyler Fryman had a goal to finish in the top 10, and he reached his goal by finishing 10th. A conservative start and a consistent pace kept Skyler in the top 10 throughout the race.

Logan and Brody Nolan finished in the top 30. Logan earned a medal in 24th, and Brody just missed a medal in 27th. Aydan Meilahn had a career best time. The sophomore broke 20 minutes for the first time ever, finishing 31st in 19:46. Garrett Roehl was the fifth Cougar to cross the finish line, taking home 39th place. Jerid Waddle and Sawyer Dirmeier completed the race a step apart in Campbellsport senior Skyler Fryman took 10th place in the varsity race at the Sheboygan Lutheran Crusader Challenge on Thursday, Sept. 16. The boys team finished fourth at the invite, behind three teams ranked in the top 15 in the state.

Campbellsport placed seven runners in the top 15 to win the boys' JV race with a score of 23 points. Sheboygan Lutheran took second with 47, KML third with 94, St. Lawrence fourth with 105, and Washington County Home School Athletics fifth with 109.

The Cougar's Jake Mader was the individual winner. The senior runner led for nearly half the race before slipping back to fourth. A final push in the last 800 meters helped Mader regain the lead at the finish line, beating second place runner Josh Wilkens from St. John's by only two seconds. Jon Thelen was only five seconds behind his teammate, finishing in fourth place.

Wyatt and Owen Blevins cracked the top 10 finishing sixth and seventh. Davin Rentmeester, Andrew Jenkins, and Nick Timm finished seconds apart in 10th, 11th, and 12th. Kilian Poquette had his best race of the year, taking 14th place. Brody Manix broke into the top 20 finishing 18th. Josh Dontchenko was 25th, and Trent Dieckman finished 26th with his best time of the season. Aidan Polzin placed 53rd, Kyle Sanders took 63rd with his best time of the season, and Sam Ellenbecker was 69th.

The Campbellsport girls' varsity finished in 15th out of 22 schools with 351 points. Oostburg won the race with 56 points, Ozaukee was second with 83, and Manitowoc Lutheran third with 146.

Sienna Hewitt had the best race for the Cougars, beating more than 70 runners to finish 34th. Morgan Yahr took 71st place, and Megan Dickman placed 78th. Lydia Toshner and Elli Scannell were two places apart in 93rd and 95th. Macy Pawlowski was 98th and Alayna Meilahn finished 101st.

The Cougar JV girls took fifth out of the six complete teams. WLA won with 27. Oostburg was second with 45, Green Bay New Lutheran third with 83, Random Lake fourth with 97, CHS fifth with 123, and Salam sixth with 148.

Hannah Thelen was the top Cougar JV in 25th place. Emily Reigle and Katrina Ohme were 30th and 33rd. Ashley Sanders finished 40th, Harper Poquette 50th, Makayla Stommel 54th, and Hala King 60th.

Kewaskum Gridiron Football Results

The Kewaskum Gridiron Club hit the road again on Saturday, Sept. 11, with the eighth, sixth and fifth grade teams heading to Arrowhead High School to face the Lake Country Chiefs, and the seventh grade went to Muskego to face the Warriors.

The eighth-grade team opened the action for the day with another hard-fought defensive battle that they came out on top in with a 6-0 victory over Lake Country White. Both teams had promising opening drives, but the Indians turned the ball over on downs deep in Chiefs' territory and then the Chiefs fumbled deep in Kewaskum territory that was recovered by linebacker Warren Korth. The defenses held strong for the remainder of the half, and it was 0-0 at halftime. The Indians offense was finally able to break through in the third quarter with a couple of nice jet sweep runs by wide receiver Johnny Hooker, which set up a five-yard touchdown run by running back Ethan Immel. The two-point kick hit the crossbar and was no good, leaving the score at 6-0. Late in the fourth quarter the Chiefs put together a nice drive that got them down to the Indians' 10-yard line, but the Indians defense held strong using a quarterback sack by Hooker to help preserve the victory. Other highlights of the game included a forced fumble by linebacker Gabe Halopka that was recovered by defensive lineman Alex Bayer. The eighth-grade team now has a 2-1 record on the season.

The seventh-grade team played a hard-fought game but ended up falling short with a final score of 20-6 to Muskego Black. The Indians were able to move the ball well down the field throughout the game, but unfortunately weren't able to finish things off when they got inside the red zone. The touchdown that they were able to convert on was by running back Kingston Grisolono. Grisolono, Eli Ogi and Kage Weseman were all solid in the run game with good blocking from the offensive line. Wide receivers Cole Loser and William Koch each had some nice catches as well. The defense played pretty well but allowed a couple of big outside runs. Brendan Safford and Grisolono were named as the defensive standouts for the team. The seventh-grade team now has a 1-2 record on the season.

The sixth-grade team fought hard and was in the game until about halfway through the fourth quarter when Lake Country White added two touchdowns to secure a 33-12 victory. The Indians offense was again paced by running back Jace Wichtoski, who scored both of the Indians touchdowns on the day. Defensively, the team tackling leaders included Wichtoski, Logan Vandlen and Quin Dornacker, and Dornacker added a fumble recovery for the team. The sixth-grade team now has a record of 2-1 on the season.

The fifth-grade team continued to show improvement but came up short against Lake Country Red with a 22-6 defeat. The Indians were able to tie the score at 6-6 when Henry Ogi took a kickoff return all the way for a touchdown. Ogi and Porter Reis were the offensive standouts for the Indians with several nice runs. Defensively, Lucas Zeeb, Kamden Derge, Ryland Ciriacks and Brodee Groeschel were lauded for their play. The fifth-grade team now has a record of 0-3 on the season.

The eighth, sixth and fifth grade teams will be playing at home this Saturday, Sept. 25, with the eighth grade getting things kicked off at 9 a.m. Come on out and cheer on the Kewaskum Gridiron Indians.

BY JASON PIITTMANN | KHS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Back In the Saddle, Again

I'm baaaaack! I know some of you have been anxious to wonder when I would be returning to the newspaper with my column. Others probably never noticed I was gone. I will simply state that I am not nearly as good at this as is my counterpart, Mark Peterson. I took a hiatus from writing during the summer and am now just feeling like my feet are under me enough, with the new school year, to start up some columns.

This is year number 23 for me in the Kewaskum School District and year number 21 as the high school athletic director. In my head, I still see some of these now 30- to 40-year-olds as the teens they once were.

As is often the case, the focus of this column will be athletics and activities. I cannot stress enough how beneficial these programs are and can be for students. Not only do the kids learn life lessons from their coaches and advisors, they get to use or practice some of the ideas and concepts taught at home and in the classroom, as they take part in these programs. It has been well documented that involved kids perform better in school. They learn to budget their time. They have academic standards for eligibility. They tend to enjoy school more, which opens them up to new ideas and opportunities to think about their futures.

On the other side of the athletics and activities are the adults necessary to make the programs and competitions happen. Schools are always looking for qualified individuals to help coach or advise programs. They are also often in need of help when they host events. Check out your schools and see if there is an opportunity for you to contribute to what the school is offering.

There are two other areas, which have become in dire need of new people — one is school bus drivers and the other is sports officials. Bus companies all across the area are struggling to find drivers. It is not uncommon for schools to have to adjust their team departure times earlier so the buses can take them to their destination, return back to run their regular school route, and then go back to pick up the team. I strongly suggest you contact your local bus company if this at all interests you. Many are offering bonuses for new hires.

Sports officiating is another area that has a great need for people to step up. Not only are a number of officials getting older and retiring, but we also lost a number who stepped away due to COVID. We hope many of those will return, but at this time, we are in a real bind when it comes to finding officials.

The Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association and the National Association of Sports Officials have released data that says that we are down over 34 percent in official numbers over the past two years. It is also reported that 75 percent of officials quit because of adult behaviors. Becoming licensed to officiate is not complicated. Your friendly, local athletic director can help you with that process.

If nothing else, think about the ramifications of behaviors if you are a spectator at events. If things keep going the way they are, sports like football may not be just a "Friday Night Lights" event. Games could possibly be scheduled for a Thursday, Friday, or Saturday — and possibly changing with each week. Other sports will end up playing any night there are officials available, even if that means back-to-back nights.

I have officiated and recently returned to it. It is a great way to stay involved in the sports you enjoy and it also gives you a little extra money. Give these possibilities some thought.

Trails Sharks Begin Racing Season

The Washington County Trail Sharks Mountain Bike Team is finally racing again after a year of no racing. The team started its racing season this past weekend at Minooka Park in Waukesha. The weather was good and the rain held off.

The team came home with two medals: Anja Lanser (first) in her three-lap race and Kendra Schmitt (second) in her three-lap varsity race.

There were also many other outstanding races, with three more athletes getting top 10 in their races: Quentin Willmas (sixth) in his three-lap race, Mason Pokorny (ninth) one lap and Lexi Schubert (10th) two laps.

“Besides those places, the other athletes joined a huge field of 956 racers. The team itself has been growing and all the athletes have been working hard. The team went to the race with 30 racers. It is so great seeing how much they are pushing each other and working hard for their personal goals. The course was very dry, fast and rocky,” said Julie Willmas, Washington County Trail Sharks team director.

The team’s next race is in two weeks in Eau Claire at Lowes Creek County Park.
