Trinity Lutheran School In Waucousta Awarded $10,000

BY ANNE TRAUTNER

When students came to school at Trinity Lutheran School (Waucousta) on Tuesday, Oct. 12, there were large cardboard boxes sitting in the back of their classroom.

The students did not know what was in the boxes. Their teacher and school principal, David Wege, told them it was a secret.

But he said it with such enthusiasm that they knew it was something huge.

They couldn't wait to find out. Finally, at 12:45 p.m., all the students in grades one through eight gathered in Wege's classroom. They tuned in for a virtual meeting, with representatives joining them from across the country.

It was then that the students learned what the surprise was: Their school had won the winner of the fifth annual Cha-Ching Money Smart Kids Pledge Challenge.

That meant that the school was receiving a $10,000 grant from Jackson Charitable Foundation to spark financial literacy education at their school, along with $1,000 designated for a philanthropic donation of the school's choosing.

The students broke out in applause when they heard the news.

"As a small parochial school, we often miss out on grants and donations that are awarded based on student population. The Cha-Ching

Survey Addresses Future Of i4Learning Community School

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
EDITOR

Residents in the Kewaskum School District are going to be asked whether they support closing the i4Learning Community School (i4L), formerly called Wayne Elementary School.

The question appears in a survey that is scheduled to land in residents' mailboxes during the first week of November. Residents will be asked to respond by Nov. 23.

The survey, which the Kewaskum School Board approved on Oct. 14, also asks residents whether they would support raising taxes through an ongoing operational referendum instead of closing i4L.

The school is located at 5760 Mohawk Road on the district's west side in the Town of Wayne. According to the survey, i4L currently serves 97 students in grades one through five, down from an average of 117 students over the past three years. Prior to last year, the school included both 4K and 5K.

Wayne Elementary School was renamed i4Learning Community School in 2015 when it became a charter school with multi-age classrooms with project-based learning. The five-year charter contract between i4L and the Kewaskum School District ended in March 2020.

This past summer, the Kewaskum School Board created an ad hoc committee, made up of parents and staff, to explore consolidating our elementary schools to save money. The committee was led by school board members Stephanie Bird and Timothy Ramthun.

According to the survey, the ad hoc committee found:

- In the next 10 years, the i4L building will need an estimated $1.2 million to address maintenance needs (roofing, flooring, etc.). This is higher than the other two elementary schools on a per-student basis.
- If i4L were closed, the district would save approximately $325,000 annually in operating ex-

How Much Is Enough?

Dear Reader,

We always seem to be striving for more. In some ways, it's a good thing. The more we work, the more wealth we generate for ourselves and our families.

But is there such a thing as accumulating too much? Is there a point when we have more than we know what to do with or how to handle? How much land, money and power does one person have to have to live a happy life? Is there a law of diminishing returns?

Nowadays it seems that many people are caught up in the moment and avoid the thought of an inevitable death.

Many seem fixated on how much they can contribute to their 401k accounts for retirement. What about fixating on how much we can contribute to our 401k for the afterlife?

Rural Writes

Thinking about garbage. Leastwise, getting rid of it. Back in the day, grew up with regular trips to the Auburn town dump. Just a big crater in the ground horseshoed by a gravel drive; in through one gate, out the other.

When we moved to Eden, it was a different township but the same basic hole to pitch your unwanted items or just plain junk. This was before any of us got a clue about recycling.

Only thing I miss from those days is how the dump was one of those unexpected social gathering sites. Where you'd meet neighbors and jackjaw like you hadn't seen them in a month of Sundays.

Along came curbside trash pickup with a garbage company, their place of business less than half a dozen miles away. They weren't overly picky about how you put either the garbage or recyclables out.

Then for no discernible reason, the town board up and went with a different garbage company outta Mayville, some 25 miles down the road. They decided they didn't want to handle Styrofoam.

Got used to that minor change and putting the bins out on Thursday night for Friday morning pickup. Next thing, town board decided to choose a garbage company even farther away, in Oostburg.

Beats the bejeebers outta me what the reason was this time.

New service began earlier in October and these guys are even pickier about what goes in the recycling bin. Don't bag anything. And those plastic grocery store haulers. Don't want 'em. Take them back to the supermarket or Wal-Mart.

Problem with these firms not handling stuff is folks might just throw away or burn it. All the nasty chemicals. going into the air.

All of which makes me wonder what in sam hill is going on with our town board.

Give them a bit of rope and they may hang us all.

Washington County Hosts Roundtable Meeting

In an effort to reach out to Latinos and Hispanics during National Hispanic Heritage Month and understand the challenges facing this community, Washington County Executive Josh Schoemann arranged the first-ever roundtable with 11 area business owners at Casa Guadalupe on Tuesday, Oct. 12. According to the last Census, there are approximately 4,400 individuals in Washington County who identify as Hispanic or Latino.

"From listening to the business owners, I wasn't surprised to learn that the primary barrier to keeping their businesses profitable is employee shortages," Schoemann said. "The government and enhanced unemployment handouts aren't the answer. Now that the deadline to receive federal extended unemployment benefits ended Sept. 4, we need to work together and hit the problem straight on by creating incentives and opportunities to attract employees and keep them here."

In addition to the workforce issue, the group also discussed barriers to business ownership, including computer skills, sound business practices, as well as how the county can connect their needs to Washington County's opportunities.

Roundtable participants included Lily Alvarado, program manager for bilingual education programming and outreach at Wisconsin Women's Business Initiative Corporation (WWBIC) in Milwaukee, Peter Snyder, associ-

"Casa Guadalupe is so appreciative to County Executive Schoemann's office for reaching out and providing this opportunity to bring local Latino business owners to the table and listen to them share their successes, challenges, and dreams related to their businesses," said Noelle Braun, executive director at Casa Guadalupe. "We look forward to continuing collaboration with the county and WWBIC to offer further sustained conversations, support and resources for local Latino businesses, which add value and help strengthen our community."

Fatal Car Crash Leaves Two Children Motherless

BY ANNE TRAUTNER EDITOR

A 28-year-old West Bend woman died Saturday morning after the vehicle she was driving was struck by another vehicle at the intersection of Pleasant Valley Road at County Trunk Z in Washington County.

The family of the woman identified her as Anna Severance. Her two daughters, ages 7 and 4, who also were in the vehicle, were transported to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee, according to the family.

According to a Washington County Sheriff's Office press release, on Saturday, Oct. 16, at 10:27 a.m. the Washington County Dispatch Center received multiple 911 calls reporting a two-vehicle crash at the intersection of Pleasant Valley Road at County Trunk Z. The callers reported that several vehicle occupants had severe injuries, with children being in one of the vehicles.

Deputies from the Washington County Sheriff's Office, along with the Wisconsin State Patrol, Slinger Fire Department, Lifestar Rescue and Jackson Rescue, responded to the scene. Upon arrival of the first deputy, it was determined that both vehicles had extensive damage and the vehicle occupants would need to be extricated. Flight for Life also was requested to the scene for severe injuries.

An initial investigation showed that a westbound vehicle on Pleasant Valley Road failed to yield for the stop sign and struck the southbound vehicle at a high rate of speed. Severance, who was the driver of the southbound vehicle, was assessed by rescue workers at the scene, at which time she was confirmed deceased. The children in the southbound vehicle were taken to Children's Hospital for treatment of life-threatening injuries.

The crash remains under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Office. The intersection of Pleasant Valley Road at County Trunk Z was closed for approximately 4.5 hours to assist in the investigation.

This is the 10th fatal motor vehicle crash for Washington County in 2021.

Two gofundme pages have been started to help cover the cost of hospital bills and funeral expenses. In addition, Cousins Subs in West Bend will donate $1 per each ham or turkey sub sold on Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Fall Allergies are Here

Although we typically associate allergy season with the spring, for many allergy sufferers, the fall can be just as bad. Ragweed and mold are the biggest triggers of allergies this time of year.

Symptoms of fall allergies may include itchy nose, watery eyes, sneezing, runny nose, nasal congestion, headaches, ear itching or popping, and throat irritation. October is National Indoor Air Quality Awareness Month, which makes this the perfect time for local families to make sure their homes are properly protected from fall allergens.

According to the American Lung Association, people take an average of 21,600 breaths per day. With 80 percent of our time spent indoors, the quality of the air we breathe is very important. Children who have been forced to spend a lot of time indoors over the past year and a half may have stronger allergic reactions due to limited exposure to outdoor elements.

Fall Allergy Facts

Ragweed

Ragweed is the most common fall allergen. Its pollen is very small and highly concentrated. It begins to release in late August, peaks in September, and may last until the first freeze kills the plant.

Pollen counts are highest around the plants near dawn, but they can travel hundreds of miles and releases in most other areas between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

About 75 percent of people allergic to spring plants also have reactions to ragweed.

Outdoor Mold

Mold spore counts tend to rise dramatically in the autumn season with falling leaves and dying plants.

Mold thrives in moist conditions like piles of damp leaves. Counts often jump in early autumn as leaves fall from trees but before the drier humidity conditions of winter set in. Rainy autumn and winter seasons may lead to very high outdoor mold counts that can last several days after each rainfall.

Gardening in mulch or dirt, farming or hiking in the woods can also increase exposure to mold spores this time of year.

Top Five Tips to Keep Your Home Allergy-Free This Fall

The First Heat - Dust mites, mold and other allergens in a home's vents can be activated when people turn on the heat the first time in the fall. Before running the heat, get your air ducts cleaned and change the filter. The National Air Duct Cleaners Association (NADCA) suggests cleaning air ducts every three-five years. It is recommended to use filters with a MERV (Minimum Efficiency Reporting Value) rating between 8 and 10 and a thickness of one inch.

Keep the Outdoors Out - When coming inside, it is important to remove shoes and wipe down pets to avoid tracking in allergens. Wear a mask when raking leaves to avoid breathing mold spores and change clothes after doing yard work to prevent the spread of pollen around the house. Limit your pets' time outside and wipe them down to remove pollen when they come indoors.

Purify the Air - Most air purifiers have HEPA filters that remove up to 99 percent of airborne allergens, including pollen, dust and pet dander and mold spores. A mid-priced model can cost $50-125, for a room-sized system. Place it in your bedroom, penses and would sell the building. According to the district's bus company, if i4L closed, the maximum time students spend on a bus would not increase.

The survey states that a recent Kewaskum area population study predicts elementary student enrollment across the district will stay steady (between 822 and 849 students) over the next 10 years.

However, in a study presented to the Kewaskum School Board on Oct. 14, one projection from Community Planning & Consulting shows the population of elementary school students going up to 871 students in 2025.

According to the survey, Kewaskum Elementary School has a capacity of 725 students; Farmington Elementary School has a capacity of 375 students and i4L has a capacity of 175 students.

The survey also asks residents for feedback on their overall satisfaction with the Kewaskum School District, including the district's communication, student learning and finance.

The school district plans to use the survey to develop a plan to guide future decisions, according to Dr. Mark Bazata, district administrator. Feedback will help the district identify what is going well and find areas for improvement.

Money Smart Kids Contest money we received is a shot in the educational arm that will enable us to access virtual programming through a one-to-one computer initiative that was impossible up to this point. How awesome!" Wege said.

Trinity Lutheran School in Waucousta has 38 students in grades 4K through eight, with a total of three teachers.

The Cha-Ching Money Smart Kids Challenge presents K-6 schools in the United States the opportunity to receive a $10,000 grant from Jackson Charitable Foundation to spark financial literacy education at their school, along with $1,000 designated for a philanthropic donation of the school's choosing. Designed for elementary school educators, families, and community members to showcase their financial literacy commitments, the Challenge fosters virtual collaboration by enabling entrants to vote online daily to increase their school's chance of winning.

"I love to see communities rallying around financial literacy. With Cha-Ching, students discover the pathway to a bright financial future all through the power of digital content," said Danielle Robinson, executive director of Jackson Charitable Foundation. "Congratulations to the students at Trinity Lutheran as they learn to 'earn, save, spend and donate' as the winners of the 2021 Cha-Ching Money Smart Kids Challenge."

Trinity Lutheran School intends to use the $10,000 grant to introduce students to new platforms for financial literacy—including field trips, guest speakers and new computers to access online resources.

In addition, the students selected to donate $1,000 to USA Patriots, a non-profit that brings wounded veterans together through sports.

The Cha-Ching Money Smart Kids Challenge supplements an educational partnership with Discovery Education that provides no-cost digital resources.

"Cha-Ching Money Smart Kids empowers students with dynamic digital resources that help them think critically about earning, saving, spending, and donating money," said Lori McFarling, president of Social Impact at Discovery Education. "Alongside Jackson Charitable Foundation, we are proud to empower students, educators, and families across the United States to prepare the next generation with healthy financial habits."

Trinity Lutheran School (formerly Waucousta Lutheran Grade School) celebrated its 40th anniversary in the spring 2020. In those 40 years great changes have occurred, but one thing has remained constant. The school exists to equip believers for service in this world and for a life in eternity. In the last 15 years, this little country school has produced five valedictorians or salutatorians in area high schools, which the school credits to students motivated to serve their lord through Christ-centered education.

KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY5 Years Ago*Oct. 27, 2016

For the second time in over a century, a postcard made its way to the Kewaskum Post Office. When the postcard arrived last Monday, it was an unexpected surprise for Postmaster Hope Lewitzke. The card was originally addressed to Joe Voltz, and Lewitzke was able to track down the family. Deanna Volz of Campbellsport is the widow of a Joseph Volz; his father and grandfather were also named Joseph. The family back then used the German spelling. In 1908, the postage cost was one cent. Lowell Joerg of Stockton, CA, found the postcard in a California antique store and mailed it to the Kewaskum Post Office.

Craig and Amanda Watry have put out a few simple decorations for Halloween. Cornhusks flank their front porch. Orange zucchinis and yellow mums are situated on the front steps. And one large pumpkin sits in front of their Kewaskum home. It weighs 861 pounds. Craig did some research on the internet after producing a 160-pound pumpkin last year on his first try to grow giant pumpkins. He worked to improve his growing technique.

Final numbers are in from the state and the tax rate is now estimated to go up by 19 cents per $1,000 of assessed value if the Kewaskum School District referendum passes on November 8. That number was cut nearly in half of the district's previous estimate of 36 cents. For a property valued at $150,000, the increase will be $28.50 per year.

The Kewaskum Public Library, along with all the other libraries in the Mid-Wisconsin System, is merging with Eastern Shores Library System. The merger is set to be completed and the new system up and running on December 15.

Kewaskum School District Observes School Lunch Week

The Kewaskum School District is serving record numbers of student meals this school year.

Students and families around the district are saying yes to the federally funded program this year. During the month of September, 13,798 breakfasts and 25,923 lunches were served. This number represents 77 percent of the students in the district who are enjoying the lunch program.

Terri Miller, nutrition services director for the Kewaskum School District, and her staff of 16 employees are busy.

“We offer a variety of foods to meet the needs of all students. We prepare a lot of food for students. On average, students consume 50 pounds of romaine lettuce, 40 pounds of shredded lettuce, 150 pounds of fresh baby carrots, 20 pounds of cucumbers, 30 pounds of fresh broccoli, and 300 pounds of fresh apple slices per week,” stated Miller.

The staff enjoys knowing that they are meeting the physical needs of the students and ensuring that their stomachs are being fed to ensure their brains are ready for additional learning in the classroom, according to a press release from the school district.

October 11-15 is designated National School Lunch Week (NSLW). This year’s theme is WILD About School Lunch. President John F. Kennedy created NSLW in 1962 to promote the importance of a healthy school lunch in a child’s life and the impact it has inside and outside of the classroom. Recent research shows children are getting their healthiest meals at school.

“School lunches offer students proteins, whole grains, vegetables, fruits and milk, and meet federal nutrition standards limiting fat, calories and sodium,” said Miller. “Thanks to pandemic waivers, school meals are free for all students this school year, so it’s a great time to give school lunch a try. National School Lunch Week helps us educate parents and students about all the wonderful benefits of our lunch program.”

LORI KREIS
KEWASKUM LIBARIAN

Recently I wrote about library trends and how I planned to stay abreast of what is new in the library world by researching and learning about these. This month, I am looking at digital natives and digital immigrants and how to reach both populations in the library.

A digital native is a person that has been raised in the age of internet access. They rely heavily on mobile devices, social network substantially, are used to instant connection and can easily multitask between work and entertainment on all their devices. The internet is their major source of information. Digital immigrants have had to learn technology and some still rely on print for information over technology. I think of digital immigrants as people who use technology, but it is their “second language.”

These terms are not really new, they have been around at least 20 years, but I find it very relevant today, especially during a time when people were more likely to work and learn from home. The library is able to assist both these types of users. We provide high speed internet access that does not have a cap on how many devices can be connected to it. We provide wireless printing from your own devices which many patrons are expecting to be commonplace. Our staff is trained to aid with technology questions, some staff with more expertise than others, but I promise we will not let you leave without helping you to the best of our ability. Basically, we do a lot as a library, but we can always do more.

We do have limitations in budget and space regarding everything I would like to do, and I hope to see my ideas come to light when we have a new building. However, right now I need to focus on what I can do today. We have the Monarch digital app that has been updated this year and is easy to use. Just today, I checked out two patrons who are digital immigrants that provided their library card barcode on the app on their phone. You can also manage your account, place holds, pay your fines and some libraries (not us) offer the ability to check out using just the app.

I am working on building our social media presence using platforms that digital natives are using, which can change frequently. It helps to ask young adults what is trending on what social media platform and then get right on it.

For the population that may need more help in exploring technology, I have offered one on one training on device use, websites, and databases. I have continued that on an as needed basis. Give us a call, make an appointment and we will help you figure out what may be puzzling you.

One thing I want to focus on is bridging the generational gap and I have some ideas that will be forthcoming soon.

Activities At The Campbellsport Library

The Campbellsport Public Library, 220 N. Helena St. in Campbellsport, is offering the following programs. For more information, contact the library at director@campbellsportlibrary.org or 920-533-8534.

If you have driven past the library recently you may have seen our sign outside that says, "Books give us somewhere to go when we have to stay where we are." Right now is the perfect time to stop into the library and take the opportunity to check out a book or two. Come see what adventures await you! The library is open Mondays through Fridays, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.

You may remember that in the past we used to host Tinker Tuesdays. Well, mark your calendars because we are bringing it back! Starting on Tuesday, Nov. 2, we will be hosting Tinker Tuesdays at the Library from 3:45-5:30 p.m. Children and their families are invited to come tinker with Legos, Lincoln Logs, Brain Flakes, and Zoob and Straw Builders. This is a free drop-in program for school age children, or younger children who have a parent along to help them.

The Campbellsport Public Library would also like to invite you to bring preschool children ages 3 to 5 to the library every Wednesday from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. for story time with Mrs. Alison. Each week will feature several themed stories along with a craft and various other activities. Here's what's coming up for the next two weeks.

Oct. 20- When you think about fall, you always think of pumpkins, but what happens when you have too many pumpkins? Join Mrs. Alison as we read the story "Too Many Pumpkins," by Linda White. Included in the morning fun will be decorating our own pumpkins and going pumpkin bowling!

Oct. 27- The children are invited to wear their Halloween costumes to this fun and exciting Halloween story hour. We will be listening to a story about a Mummy who lost his mommy and enjoying several other fun Halloween themed activities.

Families are welcome to stay after the organized activities on Wednesday for open play in the big meeting room. This gives children a chance to interact with the other children, run off some energy, and as a bonus the adults get a chance to talk to other adults who are home raising small children.

Masking for story hour is optional; however, we do ask that you continue to use hand washing practices and your best judgment when joining in the fun. If you have a cough or cold-like symptoms, please stay at home until you feel better.

4,000 MPTC Scholarship Opportunity Announced For A 2022 KHS Graduate

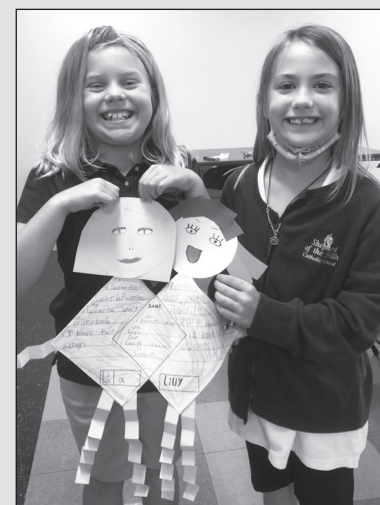

Applications are now available to Kewaskum High School seniors for a $4,000 scholarship toward a two-year degree from Moraine Park Technical College in West Bend. Application information for the third annual Don and Corrine Mlodzik Family Scholarship is available through the KHS guidance staff. Application deadline is January 31, 2022, for the 2022 fall semester.

"The likelihood of cumbersome student loan debt makes advanced education undesirable to many students facing the tough decisions that come with high school graduation" said Gary Mlodzik, son of Don and Corrine. "This scholarship would cover approximately 40 percent of the cost of most two-year MPTC programs, providing an affordable path to many careers."

The Don and Corrine Mlodzik Family Scholarship was created to help Kewaskum High School graduates interested in attending Moraine Park Technical College in West Bend. Don and Corrine always believed MPTC offered a great value in education while providing hands-on experience in many programs which lead directly to employment. The recipient of the scholarship is required to complete 40 hours of volunteer work within the Village of Kewaskum per award year. This aspect of the scholarship is designed to stress the importance of giving back to the community.

Ripon College

A grant from the Wisconsin Space Grant Consortium funded two student research projects at Ripon College during the 2020-21 academic year. The students included Brianna Bembenek, class of 2022, of Campbellsport. Christina Othon, associate professor of physics, applied for the grant aimed at contributing to NASA's research program "Examining Hydration Mechanisms of Osmolytes for Food Stabilization."

The $9,500 award funded projects by Brianna Bembenek, who worked on a protein simulation study to study molecular interactions; and Ian Murray who worked on an automation programming project.

Othon offered the project opportunity to physics and computer science students. The physics department's research program provides research experiences in diverse academic interests including students interested in physics, chemistry, material science, biomedical research and computational sciences.

SSM Health Reach Out & Read Earns Recognition

For the past six years, the SSM Health Greater Fond du Lac Region and Fond du Lac Regional Clinic physicians have partnered with the nationwide Reach Out & Read program.

As part of the program, Fond du Lac Regional Clinic physicians provide new books at each well-child exam for ages six months to five years to promote early childhood literacy in local communities.

The Reach Out & Read program recently congratulated SSM Health and the Fond du Lac Regional Clinic for achieving Purple status in the past fiscal year (July 1, 2020, to June 30, 2021) as a result of a recent site visit. This highest quality achievement is something that less than 25 percent of clinics achieve.

Reach Out & Read is a nonprofit organization that gives young children a foundation for success by incorporating books into pediatric care and encouraging families to read aloud together.

“The best opportunity to influence a child’s future is in the first five years, a critical window of rapid brain development that does not occur at any other time,” according to Brenda Grass, MD, Internal Medicine/Pediatrics. “Children who hear fewer words during early childhood start school developmentally behind their peers and may never catch up.”

When families read aloud to their young children, they can give them a better start to life. With unparalleled access to families with young children, Reach Out & Read medical providers give books to children at more than 10 well-child visits from infancy until they start school. More importantly, they encourage families to read aloud and engage with their infants, toddlers and preschoolers every day.

The effectiveness of the Reach Out & Read model is recognized by the American Academy of Pediatrics in a policy statement that recommends early literacy promotion as an essential component of pediatric care. The program is both cost-effective, and evidence-based: research shows that the Reach Out & Read program results in more frequent reading at home, accelerated vocabulary and critical brain stimulation.

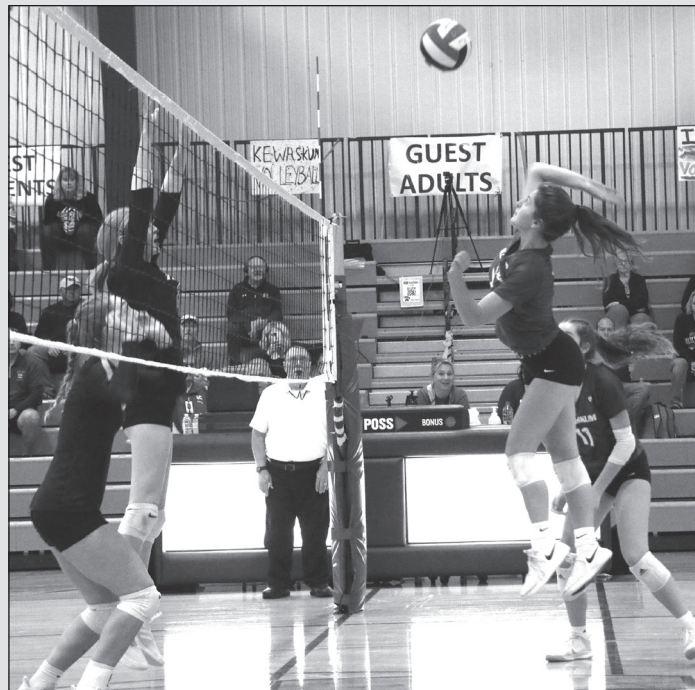

FIRE SAFETY

On Oct. 5, the Kewaskum Fire Department hosted a “Fire Safety” field trip for children of the Little Folks School House. The Bumblebees (3-year-olds) and Giraffes (4-year-olds) met firefighters Zak, Sheryl and Bob. They taught the children how to stop, drop and roll, talked about what to do if a fire alarm goes off and dressed up in their firefighter gear. One of the highlights was looking up close at fire trucks and learning about all the equipment they hold. PHOTOS SUBMITTED where you spend most of your time and can result in better sleep as well.

Close the windows – Although it may be tempting to open the window to let in some cool, “fresh” fall air, you are also inviting allergens into your home. Pollen counts are typically the highest in the mid-morning through late afternoon.

Halt the Humidity – Growth of mold indoors comes in damp areas such as basements and bathrooms. Use a dehumidifier in to keep these areas dry and the humidity levels between 30 and 50 percent. Mold grows best at humidity levels of 60 percent or higher.

FEATURE BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

K-B Lettering

Karen Breitzman is ready to meet all your lettering needs through her business K-B Lettering. Karen has been in business for more than 35 years now. She has an associate degree in commercial art from Milwaukee Area Technical College.

Karen does lettering, both hand-painted or computer generated vinyl lettering. The recent purchase of a 54" printer allows her to do digital printing also. If you want to personalize your vehicle, she can custom pinstripe it for you too.

The start of her business was after making a sign for her husband Bill to use at the high school where he taught. Another coach suggested Karen go into business for herself.

As word of mouth spread, the business picked up and became a full-time job. She worked out of a shop behind their home in Campbellsport until 1996. The Breitzmans then moved to St. Kilian where Karen was able to put up a bigger shop. This allows her to fit semis inside.

She specializes in vehicle lettering and graphics, pinstriping, signs, banners, decals and whatever else you may need lettered. In the past, Karen has painted race cars for Al Unser, Jr., Bobby Unser, Jr., and Alan Kulwicki.

"I was very fortunate to have my business by our home as the children (Becky and Rick) were growing up, Karen said. "It allowed me to be there for them. I've met many wonderful people and strive to give them a job they will be proud of. I thank God for the talent and abilities He has given me to be in this profession."

Campbellsport Wildcats Visit 9/11 Memorial

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
EDITOR

For the past three seasons, the American flag and the 9/11 flag of honor have been brought out before each seventh- and eighth-grade football game that the Campbellsport Jaycee Wildcat Football program hosted.

Each game starts with seventh- and eighth-grade students singing the national anthem. As the anthem is sung, Campbellsport players display the two flags. When the anthem is finished, the players put the flags in stands to display near the players' benches.

The American flag and the 9/11 honor flag are displayed before a Campbellsport Wildcats game.

On Oct. 13, members of the Campbellsport Jaycee Wildcat Football program visited the Wisconsin 9/11 Memorial in Kewaskum. Gordon Haberman, whose daughter Andrea was killed in the World Trade Center on Sept. 11, 2001, met the players at the memorial and gave a presentation about 9/11 and the memorial.

The players came away with a greater understanding about the events of 9/11.

Rick Heisler, head coach of the Wildcat program, expressed his appreciation to Haberman.

"I want to thank you for a patriotic time which was appreciated by all who attended. I am receiving compliments every day from people who attended and from those who have talked to those who were there and expressed their satisfaction. Some of the Wildcat players have already done school reports of their experience," Heisler said.

Heisler got to know Haberman after his daughter was killed in the 9/11 attack and arranged for the visit to the memorial.

"Players, along with parents and loved ones expressed their pleasure and excitement in Gordy's presentation to them. I am very proud of the

Throughout the second half, the Fire really worked hard to pass the ball up the field. Their teamwork and great communication paid off as Katelynn Reichert scored the first shot of the game. SF YMCA was up next, sneaking one in on the Fire, tying the score 1-1.

Dana Jacobson fired up and blasted in a goal putting Fire back in the lead. Dana Jacobson scored a second goal with a nice assist from Sydney Brandt. Sydney Brandt then took the ball up the field and snuck one in on the SF YMCA.

Amazing team effort from all the girls pushed the Fire in the lead with victory of 4-1.

As a make up game, the Comets played in Jackson on Tuesday night. They battled a strong Jackson team, and the impending darkness. While the Comets ultimately lost by a score of 4-1, a great effort was given.

Jax had the lone goal for the Comets, with Brady, Sophia, Jude and Declan denied on their shot opportunities by Jackson's keepers.

Evan and Camden were solid at keeper for the Comets, but the Jackson team put a few balls in the net, just past their reach.

Haberman was moved by the visit as well.

"It is a great display of patriotism," Haberman said.

Coach P's

Win Some, Lose Some

A winning streak in sports can create a lot of pressure from game to game. The tension builds each week as teams want to be the one to break your streak. The same can be said for losing streaks, the pressure of winning a game can seem overbearing and out of reach when your team hasn't tasted victory.

I for one can attest to the pressure that mounts when a winning streak is on the line every night. When I arrived at Campbellsport, the Cougar Wrestlers had an amazing conference winning streak that covered nearly two decades. Talk about pressure when I took over for Sarge. We were able to run that streak to 218 straight dual meet wins until 2001. The excitement from week to week and year to year was incredible.

In football, winning streaks can take years to add up because you only play nine to 14 games a season. Recently, Kimberly had a 70-game winning streak that was broke by Fond du Lac a couple years ago; at the time it was the longest winning streak in the nation for football.

The Muskego football team was starting to put together a run like Kimberly, but their 41-game winning streak was snapped a couple of weeks ago by Oconomowoc. The current longest streak in the state of Wisconsin is 17 straight wins by Cumberland. As far as conference winning streaks in Wisconsin, Regis is the leader with 29 straight wins. Bangor had the record until two weeks ago when Luther snapped their streak at 40. One of Campbellsport's old EWC foes, Plymouth, has won 20 straight conference games.

On the other side of the coin is the not-so-friendly losing streaks. Nobody wants to be a part of these unfavorable records. Unfortunately, some football teams in the state haven't walked off the field a winner in quite some time. Eau Claire North endured a lot of pain the last six seasons as they entered this season with a 49-game losing streak. The streak was finally broken at 51 games as they defeated La Crosse Logan 20-14 in week three. Eau Claire North is still the owner of the state's longest conference losing streak as they have dropped 44 straight games in the Big Rivers Conference.

The current longest losing streak in the state for football is held by Wayland Academy at 43 games. North Fond du Lac of the Flyway Conference is second on the list at 41 games. North Fondy has not won a conference football game since October 13 of 2013. Another local team, West Bend West, has gone dry in the win department; the Spartans have lost 35 straight games, including 30 in the conference.

Kewaskum Gridiron Results

The Kewaskum Gridiron youth football club was in action on Saturday, Oct. 16, with the eighth, seventh and sixth grades playing against West Bend West and the fifth grade playing Slinger Red.

The seventh-grade team opened the day with a tough loss to the West Bend West Spartans by a score of 39-0. The Spartans had everything working on offense with their running game and passing game, even in tough conditions with the wind. The Indians offense was able to move the ball on some possessions with the running of running backs Eli Ogi and Kingston Grisolono and had some success in the pass game with quarterback Kyle Haim able to find Grisolono as well as wide receiver Cole Loser. Unfortunately, they weren't able to punch one in the endzone. Defensively, the Indians were led in tackles by Grisolono. The seventh-grade team now has a 3-5 record on the season.

The sixth-grade team continued its very successful season with a total team effort resulting in a 30-6 victory over the West Bend West Spartans. Running back Jace Wichtoski got things started for the Indians offense, busting off a 62-yard touchdown run on the first play of the game. Many others got in on the action for the Indians offense as Michael Missall, Camden Peterman and Levi Whitfield all contributed offensive touchdowns for the Indians. The defense played a great game as well, with 14 different Indians recording tackles, AJ Droese getting an interception, and Henry Luedtke forcing a fumble, recovering it and taking it in for a touchdown. Easton Derge was the team leader in tackles and also recorded a quarterback sack. The sixth-grade team now has a record of 6-1 on the season.

The fifth-grade team is starting to get on a roll with its second consecutive victory with an 18-8 win over the Slinger Red Owls. On offense for the Indians, Henry Ogi was able to score two touchdowns on the day, and Cole Kertscher was able to add the other score for the Indians offense. On defense, Ryland Ciriacks led the way with several tackles for loss, Brody Groeschel was able to force a fumble and Kaiden Wagner came up with a great open field tackle to stop the Owls on a fourth-down play. The fifth-grade team now has a record of 2-5 on the season.

The eighth-grade team drew a re-match against the West Bend West Spartans in the quarterfinals of the AAYFL Division 2 Playoffs. Unfortunately, the Spartans were opportunistic with a couple of big offensive plays that ultimately made the difference in the 32-8 victory over the Indians. The Spartans got on the board first with a 25-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter and then were able to convert on a pass play as time expired in the first half to take a 16-0 lead into halftime. The Spartans received the ball to open the third quarter and again converted on a long pass, this one for 60 yards for another touchdown to expand the lead to 24-0. On the Indians next possession, they were able to get on the board when quarterback Chase Cook connected with wide receiver Johnny Hooker for a 52-yard touchdown pass. Liam Stoffel added the two-point conversion kick to make the score 24-8. On the Spartans' next possession, the offense was again able to break off a long touchdown run to finish off the scoring for the day and give the Spartans a 32-8 lead. The Indians offense was led by running back Ethan Immel, who had a nice day on the ground behind some great blocking from the offensive line consisting of Xane Kleinke, Rocky Rodriguez, Gabe Halopka, Warren Korth and Aydin Zimmer. Hooker also caught four passes from Cook, including the touchdown. On the defensive side of the ball, the Indians were led by Halopka and Rodriguez, who both played stellar games and were in on many tackles on the day. The eighth-grade team now has a 4-3 record on the season.

All the teams will be back in action for the final game of the season on Saturday, Oct. 23, but opponents and location aren't yet known at the time of this writing. Please check the Kewaskum Gridiron Facebook page for updated game information.

KHS Volleyball Is Second In Conference

The Kewaskum High School girls volleyball team (26-6, 8-2) placed second in the ECC Conference Tournament and finished second in the ECC Conference Standings.

"We had a tough schedule on Saturday, and we were not playing our best volleyball. In the morning we had to play the number six and the number four team to get into the Gold bracket and we were able to push through. Dogs and Steger had a great morning at the net both offensively and with strong blocking. Our defense came through in the morning to get us through," head coach Laine Leitzke said.

"In the afternoon we had a semi-final against number Winneconne. We came out to a strong lead in the first set, up by 10 at one point. But we lost our focus and ended up with multiple set points that we could not terminate, eventually falling 27-29. In the between set time, there was no worry being talked about, only about how changes needed to be made, and we took control of the match from that point on, finishing the match 25-19 and 15-12, earning us a championship matchup against number-one KML," Leitzke added. "The score does not reflect the match as well as it could. KML came in number one and a top-five team in D2 for a pretty good reason. They do not commit many mistakes. Stephanie runs a strong program, and when you play a team at that level, you cannot let up on a play at any time. That was the difference."

Kewaskum Volleyball Defeats Weyauwega-Fremont

volleyball team (23-5) defeated Weyauwega-Fremont on Oct. 14: 25-20, 25-13, 25-12.

"We had a slow first set and let the Warhawks pretty much control the beginning of the match, but late in the first we started to settle in and be a little more aware of the ball and the situations that we were being put in. By the second set and into the third set, Dogs and Butschlick were controlling the middle of the net and our pin hitters did a nice job of adjusting their attacks," KHS head coach Laine Leitzke said.

The KHS JV1 team won its final dual 3-0 and to finish their season 26-1.

The KHS JV2 team lost its final dual 1-2 and finished the season 14-9.

Campbellsport Cross Country Competes In Flyway Conference Meet

The Campbellsport High School cross country team competed in the Wisconsin Flyway Conference Meet last Thursday, Oct. 14, in Mayville at the golf course. A longtime member of the Flyway in the past, it felt like a homecoming for the Cougars, who for the past two decades competed in first the EWC and then ECC conferences.

In the varsity boys' race, the battle for first place came down to North Fond du Lac and Campbellsport. Both teams placed five runners in the top 20, but it was North Fond du Lac who was crowned Conference Champs with the low score of 41 points. Campbellsport came in second with a score of 52. St. Lawrence Seminary, with the help of individual conference champion, Joaquin Barajas-Orozco, took third place honors with 107 points. Winnebago Lutheran Academy was fourth with 130, Laconia fifth with 135, Omro sixth with 142, St. Mary's Springs seventh with 159, Lomira eighth with 174 and Mayville ninth with 219.

The Cougars had six runners receive conference awards. Skyler Fryman and Logan Nolan earned First Team "All-Conference" honors. Skyler took third place in a time of 17:57. It was the second year in a row that the senior earned the First Team award, last year being in the ECC. Logan, one of only four freshmen to earn a conference award, finished in sixth place with a time of 18:14. Freshman Brody Nolan and sophomore Aydan Meilahn took 12th and 13th place to earn Second Team "All-Conference" honors. Brody covered the 5,000-meter distance in 18:49. Aydan ran the distance in 18:57. Jerid Waddle and Sawyer Dirmeier received Honorable Mention for their efforts. Jerid, a senior, finished in 18th place with a time of 19:11. Sawyer, the third Cougar freshman to earn a conference award, was 23rd in 19:24.

The Cougar JV boys team continued its impressive season winning the Conference race with the low score of 21 points. North Fond du Lac was second with 48, Laconia third with 82 and Omro fourth with 83. The other schools did not have a complete team.

The Cougars captured the first three individual places. Max Engle won the race with a time of 20:14. Isaac Timm had a season best 20:19 to take the runner-up spot. Wyatt Blevins was third in 20:24. The Cougars had four more runners in the top 10. Jon Thelen (20:29), Nick Timm (20:31), Owen Blevins (20:37) and Jake Mader (20:39) finished seventh through 10th places. Davin Rentmeester, Trent Dieckman, Aydryan Meilahn, Brody Manix and Josh Dontchenko took 12th through 16th. Davin ran a time of 20:56. Trent, Aydryan and Brody had career best times of 20:58, 21:03 and 21:08. Josh finished in 21:20. In 20th place, Andrew Jenkins ran a 22:07. Aidan Polzin had a career best 26:03 and finished 35th.
