Thirteen years ago, authorities in Dodge County found a deceased baby near the Village of Theresa.

Until today [March, 18, 2022], the community has been left wondering if her family would ever be identified.

Today, we can provide closure: This case has been resolved.

On Wednesday, April 29, 2009, the Dodge County Sheriff's Office and the Dodge County Medical Examiner's Office responded to Lone Road in the Town of Theresa and confirmed the death of a newborn baby found abandoned in a garbage bag. The full-term, eight-pound baby girl, appeared healthy.

At that time, tests were conducted which were used to determine the cause of death for the baby.

Investigators named her "Baby Theresa" to provide her with an identity, naming her after the community closest to where she was found, the Village of Theresa.

Authorities worked tirelessly at the time

On the Price of Loyalty

Dear Reader,

I thank you for supporting the advertisers who buy display ads and run their inserts with us. Many big and small retailers have featured their wares within this publication, sometimes for decades. Local “mom and pop” establishments are the backbone of our community. Your support of them in turn supports us in our stewardship of hyper-local news and advertising for our community.

All advertisers should be recognized for their commitment to supporting original news reporting and advertising content in our cities, towns, and villages. There are too many to mention in this space, so I will single out just one long-standing customer, Menards. Their display ads and inserts have run in our publications for decades. They are family owned and based out of Wisconsin, which is tremendously important to our state's economy – the lion's share of the mon-

Meanwhile, some retailers are shifting their ad dollars to digital. That money is going out of state, since to our knowledge Google and Facebook, the two biggest providers of digital advertising, do not have significant physical business presence – and employees – in our state.

When you have a few moments, we hope you'll do some research on the places where you spend your hard earned dollars and buy Wisconsin and US-based products as much as you can. If one tag says “Made in China” and the other says “Made in the USA”, the choice is easy. Family ownership is another important consideration – owners who live here tend to reinvest in our shared neighborhood. In this way you can support those who support you and your family in our community.

Strobel Announces Write-in Candidacy for Kewaskum School Board

KAREN STROBEL
WRITE-IN CANDIDATE,
KEWASKUM SCHOOL BOARD

My name is Karen Strobel, and I'm running as a write-in for the Kewaskum school board election on April 5.

I've seen the uproar of parents, the anger and resentment, and I completely understand it all. I've been there, knee deep in the journey for over four years now.

I've worked with the board, presented lectures, educated, provided fact when previous administration gave false or misleading information, and I've watched as the decisions they've made have effected all of our children.

The time to take back the board is now.

My hope is that if you elect me, I'll inspire other parents, just like me, to start taking over seats and filling with people who care just as much as I do.

A little about me: I was raised in Wayne and went to Wayne Elementary School. I graduated from Kewaskum High School and went onto college at UW-Milwaukee. I got my undergraduate degree in social work, and then began working for the State of Wisconsin within the Department of Corrections.

I'm now in an administrative role, where I provide policy and programming oversight within the local, state and federal prisons. My professional role has provided me with a great basis that I then brought to i4L.

I got married and had two children, both who attended i4L Community School since 4K. I've been invested in their educations since they started attending school, and I have been president of the i4L PTO for three years.

In the last four years, I've worked with the board. I've sat in countless board meetings, worked on advisory committees for them, and had interactions with them all as well as administration. I've fought the best fight for our kids, but it seemed the dollar and personal agendas always outweighed what was best for our children.

My hope is that stops and we start taking back our schools.

So why me?

1) I have kids! And they attend school in the district. They're in first and second grade, and I'd give anything for them. They are my number one priority, and I will do anything and everything for them, to make their lives better. Voting for me means I'll invest as much into your kids as I do into my own.

Did you know only one of the seven board members even has a child attending KSD? And none have any elementary students, yet, they just made one of the largest decisions in the history of the district, and it effected none of them.

2) I have no political stake or investment. I'm not running to fulfill some resume builder. I have no hidden political agenda, and the only investment I have is our children.

3) My experience. I'm not a young kid with no experience or investment into the schools. I'm a mom who has been knee deep in this district for the last four years. I know the teachers, I know the staff, I know the kids, and I know the parents. I have hands on experience and have already been invested for years into our school district. I'm not some outsider looking in; I've been in for years already.

4) I'm invested everywhere. I'm a U7 soccer coach for KYSO. I'm a parent of a kid who's husband is on the KAA and runs the TRIBE baseball organization. I fundraise, I volunteer in the community, and I'm invested in so many other areas beyond just the school. I want to see the best of everything around me.

5) I'm honest, loyal, truthful and transparent. I know the issues the board has faced for years, because I've been there watching for years. The decisions they've made, the disfunction they've displayed, the bridges they've burned, I've seen it all. I want the change just like you do, and I want to help create it.

6) I'm real. I'm a mom, working full-time, trying to give my kids the best life that I can. I'm trying to raise productive kids who will flourish in society and become good humans. I'm fully invested in them, and am invested in your children too. The current board makes decisions that don't effect them in the least. They don't have kids effected in any way. Why are we letting people who have no knowledge of the reality our children are facing within the schools sit on our board, making these life altering decisions for our kids?! This is absurd to me.

I know this is short notice, and I'm asking people to write me in on the ballot.

I ran for Bradley Peterson's current position but was out of state when the interviews occurred, so I didn't get the chance to answer their questions in person.

Now is the time!

We need to start taking back our school and our children's educations.

Egle Announces Candidacy for 59th State Assembly Seat

VINNY EGLE
CANDIDATE, WIS. STATE
ASSEMBLY DISTRICT 59

My name is Vinny Egle, and I am running for the 59th District of State Assembly as a Constitutional Republican.

I was born and raised in Port Washington.

After finishing high school in 1996, I worked as a machinist/welder fabricator for 16 years.

I have been married to my wife Cassandra “KC” Egle for almost twenty years. KC and I have three children who participate in the school choice program and attend a public school. I am a proud small business owner in the Kewaskum area for nine-plus years.

I started a charitable event in 1997, and have since raised over $200,000 in the past 24 years for additional education for teachers to help reach students that are in the grey area, and continue to run it today with the help of others.

One of my greatest childhood memories was on July 27, 1987, at the age of nine, going to Lower Lake Park in Port Washington and seeing U.S. President Ronald Reagan and Wisconsin Governor Tommy Thompson.

Some topics I am passionate about: government overreach, unemployment fraud and eliminating (small business) personal property tax.

But, in the long run, I am just a normal guy excited to bring my small business experience to Madison.

Clubs and positions held:

- ABATE of Wisconsin – Lifetime member;
- West Bend/Barton Gun Club member and have been an avid trap shooter since I was 12;
- Tavern League of Wisconsin
  - State – District Director (2017-Current);
  - Washington County – County Director (2015-2021);
  - Fond du Lac County – President (2021-Current).

I would appreciate your support.

Reader Asks Voters to Consider Peterson and Ramthun for School Board

I am asking our local electorate to get out and vote on April 5 for Bradley Peterson and Timothy Ramthun for the Kewaskum school board.

We currently have an excellent school board, arguably the best it has been in many years. Let's keep the fine running machine running smoothly.

Bradley Peterson is a current board member doing an excellent job! Bradley has been at every school board meeting for the past seven years. He brings a fresh, youthful exuberance to the board and to our community, Keep up the good work, Bradley.

Timothy Ramthun has been a school board member for nine years. His leadership skills and his concern for our children and our community are second to none. Keep up the good work, Tim.

Being a school board member is not an easy job. There are many countless hours put in on committee meetings, board meetings and other meetings with administration and with others.

We are blessed beyond measure to have such a fine school system and a wonderfully working together school board with us today. Stay the course; it is a fine running machine.

Go Indians!
Mike Koepke

Reader Weighs in on School Elections

This spring, we have another school board election; And now, more than ever, it is so important to cast your vote. There are two candidates that have worked very hard for our community, Bradley Petersen and Tim Ramthun.

Both of these candidates are against Critical Race Theory, Project 1619 and gender ideology, while always having parents' rights in mind.

Both candidates have been active with the school board.

Bradley, was chair president of an ad hoc committee with another board member on something he is very passionate about: school curriculum. He worked with administration, teachers, and various community members to answer any questions about the curriculum of Kewaskum. His committee meetings were open to the public, transparent and an open form to discuss anything that was on anybody's mind.

What did all this hard work find?

At the School District of Kewaskum, the children are being taught no critical race theory or anything like it. Thanks to Bradley and his committee, he was able to put all the concerns of the public to rest.

Tim has been in the chair of the policy committee for a couple years now. His eye is always on keeping the district in line and legal at every turn. Making sure that any new policies that are introduced are for the benefit of the district and Kewaskum as a whole. Tim has always had the learning experience for the children at the forefront of his discussion with the cost to the taxpayers in his mind.

Both candidates have worked diligently with the board and administration to keep the property tax of the school district flat for three years running; and plan on doing the same in the future. I can honestly share with you that both candidates are pro freedom of speech and pro parent. If you ever came to a school board meeting, you can speak your mind and you will not be reported to the FBI as a terrorist.

Please mark your ballot for Bradley Petersen and Tim Ramthun!

Thank you!
God Bless.
Go Indians.

Reader for Engelking on School Board

Rhett Engelking was a senior captain of the Kewaskum High School soccer team when I was a freshman player on that team. He constantly demonstrated an example of leadership and respect for his teammates, even as some players did not possess his level of skill. He collaborated with the coach and players, working toward improving the development of everyone's skills, including his own advancement.

Rhett's traits have stayed with me throughout my college and career advancements.

Rhett would be an excellent choice for the Kewaskum school board. He sincerely cares about youth and working collaboratively with the stakeholders.

Everyone should realize that learning is lifelong.

Kewaskum Schools Board Member Encourages Engagement with Elections

Times have changed and school boards have been propelled into the media at a rate that has never been seen before.

The Kewaskum school board is not immune to that attention and has been under intense pressure for a few years now - thanks in part to the pandemic and declining enrollment.

With that being said, being a board member is not for the faint of heart. You need to be big picture focused while keeping the interest of all district students in mind.

Unfortunately, with that comes misinformation and rumors.

No matter how many times the misinformation and rumors are corrected, they continue to resurface allowing people to unjustly discredit board members.

The current Kewaskum School District Board of Education is made up of members that represent different demographic groups in our community - just as it should be.

Sometimes we're in full agreement on a topic and sometimes we're not.

Regardless, we always have respect for each other. All members are able to share their opinions in an open and honest manner.

Honestly, telling you who to vote for or who I'm going to vote for doesn't really matter. What does matter is that you've looked into all the candidates and understand their position and reasons for wanting to be on the board - including those simply using their name and/or the accomplishments of others to benefit themselves.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Bird
Kewaskum School District
Board of Education Clerk

Scheunemann Endorses Ramthun, Petersen for School Board

Voters of the Kewaskum School District must elect Tim Ramthun and Bradley Petersen to the Kewaskum school board this spring!

1.) We need school board members that will educate, not indoctrinate! I believe that Tim and Brad will make sure awful, disgusting, radical concepts such as Critical Race Theory, white privilege and radical gender theory never hit our classrooms, and hurt our kids.

2.) Kewaskum School District has some of the best test scores in the state, especially at the younger grade levels. Tim and Brad will continue to retain high quality teaching talent and high standards. I'm concerned that Tim and Brad's opponent will be more concerned with ideology than core curriculum results.

3.) Tim and Brad are proven on fiscal responsibility for the taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District.

Please join me in voting for Tim Ramthun and Bradley Petersen on April 5 for Kewaskum school board.

Keeping a conservative majority on the Kewaskum school board has never been more important.

Kevin Scheunemann
Retired Kewaskum Village President

Reader for Peterson and Ramthun on School Board

Dear readers,

Bradley Petersen and Timothy Ramthun firmly have my vote for school board this spring election.

I believe they both do what's best for our children and schools.

Their conservative views and strong Christian faith is what we need.

These last few weeks have been extremely difficult, and I do understand and have compassion for all opinions on the closing of I4L. But, we cannot make important decisions based on emotion.

Personally, I have approached administration at the school level before with issues and have spoken directly to many school board members about them. Bradley and Timothy have always answered my emails and calls promptly and in a professional manner. They were respectful with the policies in place and guided me through the issues I had. They both made me feel heard and appreciated for sharing my thoughts and concerns. They were encouraging and truly cared about helping me get a positive resolution.

Both Bradley and Timothy have always been transparent with what needs to be done and what is expected on all administration levels. I am very proud of the work they have done in the past and look forward to them making positive strides in the right direction for our schools and children.

God bless us and help guide us through these difficult times!

Kewaskum High School Alum (Class of 2000) and parent of two middle school students at Kewaskum Middle School,

G.A. SCHEINOHA
CONTRIBUTOR

Carl Sandburg wrote a poem about voices singing through wires but the line was cut a long time ago. Leastwise, if Alexander Graham Bell could see how his invention evolved into what it is today, he'd be dumbfounded.

That first telephone might seem like two tin cans and a string. Even during my own six plus decades, I've seen this means of shooting the bull make leaps. Enough to make some long for the days of the old dial model. Less bother all around since the device stayed home. Instead of carried into our cars where they pull away from what should be the only focus - driving. Not to mention building walls inside families. Each member so involved in surfing the Internet or social media, they've no time for anything or one else.

I write with the phone and a blank screen. But without a printer, I sometimes have to copy words out longhand before retyping them elsewhere. So I see the point of waxing nostalgic.

In that regard, I remember a time during childhood when my family had a rotary dial telephone on the kitchen countertop. My youngest sister Dawn played with it. I picked up the receiver to hear an operator ask "Will you accept the charges for a collect call to Hawaii?" After a quick no and an even quicker hangup, I let Mom and Dad know what she did. They bought a pair of toy telephones for her and our brother Terry. Problem solved.

If only the addictive nature of go anywhere (and I have seen them do that) cell phones were that easy to be shed of. For too many of us they are an evil necessity. Required to find a job. While diverting our attention once we're hired.

So who's the slave here? The tool that's 'spose to make life easier... or us, forever chained to it?

rest without family present on Monday, May 11, 2009, at the Lowell Cemetery in southwest Dodge County. While the family may not have been present, her community in Dodge County was there to pay their respects.

Dodge County Medical Examiner PJ Schoebel conducted his investigation of the incident and ordered an autopsy which was performed on April 30, 2009. The medical examination did not reveal evidence that supported the contention or charge that the child was murdered. The pathologist concluded that the incident was a "fetal demise" indicating that the child may have died prior to, or during birth.

For almost 13 years, the Dodge County Sheriff's Office and the Dodge County Medical Examiner's Office continued to investigate, and advances in forensic science allowed us to identify a suspect in this incident.

In 2014, the sheriff's office worked with the district attorney to file a charge against the then-unknown mother's DNA profile to prevent the six-year statute of limitations for the charges to run, thus allowing for any prosecution now, 13 years later.

In 2021, the mother was identified as Karin Luttinen from Milwaukee.

Our offices worked closely with the Dodge County District Attorney's Office to identify the correct charge in this incident.

After evaluating all the evidence, it was determined that the appropriate charge, in this case, is Concealing the Death of a Child under Wisconsin State Statute 948.23(1)(a) relating to the issue of a woman.

Concealing the Death of a Child relating to the issue of a woman is a Class I Felony punishable under statute by not more than $10,000, or imprisonment by no more than three years and six months or both.

[On March 18, Luttinen] made her initial appearance in the Dodge County Circuit Court, and we will now wait for the legal process to take its course. Today, we will not be able to release anything additional related to the investigation itself. For details, you may certainly request a copy of the criminal complaint from the courts as it is paramount that we maintain the integrity of this case throughout the criminal proceedings.

This incident shocked our Dodge County community when it occurred, but as shocking as it may be, the professionals of the Dodge County Sheriff's Office, the Dodge County District Attorney's Office and the Dodge County Medical Examiner's Office, along with our community, came together from the initial discovery of Baby Theresa's body until today.

I would like to thank all of those who worked diligently in this incident over the past 13 years. First, I would like to thank our primary investigators in this incident, Detective Vickie Brugger and Medical Examiner PJ Schoebel. They never gave up and pursued absolutely every lead imaginable since Baby Theresa was discovered in 2009. Detective Brugger was provided with every resource she needed to find closure in this case.

I would also like to thank the rest of the criminal investigative division of the sheriff's office for their support and assistance of Detective Brugger along the way. PJ Schoebel worked on this case in conjunction with Detective Brugger providing additional resources and perspectives. Both of these individuals went above and beyond to solve this case.

I would also like to thank several other individuals:

- Sheriff's Office Chaplain Timothy Bauer - conducted the funeral service;
- Todd Michael and the staff at Cornerstone Funeral Home - donation of services;
- Matt Lober - vocalist at the gravesite during the funeral;
- Retired Sheriff Todd Nehls - providing resources in the initial investigation;
- Retired Correctional Officer Hanna Mueller - conducted a forensic drawing of Baby Theresa;
- Dodge County District Attorney Kurt Klomberg - provided legal guidance and prosecution of this case.

The Dodge County Sheriff's Office and the Dodge County Medical Examiner still mourn the death of Baby Theresa, but we are thankful that resolution has taken place. While this certainly has been a shocking discovery for us all, especially to the family of Baby Theresa, closure can now begin for all those touched.

Questions may be directed to Sheriff Dale J. Schmidt or Medical Examiner PJ Schoebel.

New Report Finds Doctors and Public Facing Challenges in Distinguishing Early Alzheimer's Development from 'Normal Aging'

The Alzheimer's Association 2022 Alzheimer's Disease Facts and Figures report unearthed challenges both doctors and the American public face in understanding and diagnosing mild cognitive impairment (MCI), which is characterized by subtle changes in memory and thinking. It is estimated 10% to 15% of individuals with MCI go on to develop dementia each year. As the size of the U.S. population age 65 and older continues to grow (from 58 million in 2021 to 88 million by 2050), so too will the number and proportion of Americans with Alzheimer's or other dementias given increased risk of dementia with advancing age.

The special report, "More than Normal Aging: Understanding Mild Cognitive Impairment (MCI)," for the first time examined both public and primary care physicians' (PCP) understanding of real-world awareness, diagnosis and treatment of MCI and MCI due to Alzheimer's disease in the United States.

"The new Facts and Figures report shines a light on MCI, and is critical to creating awareness for strategies and resources for families on this journey," said Jennifer McAlister, program manager, Alzheimer's Association Wisconsin Chapter. "There are so many things individuals living with MCI can do to impact the progression of the disease. We want to empower people and give them confidence to seek out resources, and focus on lifestyle habits that can help them continue living their best life."

Special Report at a Glance

It is estimated 12% to 18% of people age 60 or older have MCI. While some individuals with MCI revert to normal cognition or remain stable, studies suggest 10% to 15% of individuals with MCI go on to develop dementia each year.

- About one-third of people with MCI due to Alzheimer's disease develop Alzheimer's dementia within five years.

- Despite the prevalence among aging Americans, the new report found more than four in five Americans (82%) know very little or are not familiar with MCI. When prompted with a description of MCI, more than half (55%) say MCI sounds like "normal aging."

- Seventy-five percent of PCPs say they are on the front lines of providing care for patients with MCI. However, just two-thirds feel comfortable answering patient questions related to MCI (65%) and/or discussing how MCI may be related to Alzheimer's disease (60%).

- PCPs are committed to learning more about MCI due to Alzheimer's disease and see clear benefits of making a specific diagnosis (90%). Yet, more than three-quarters of PCPs (77%) report MCI due to Alzheimer's being difficult to diagnose, and half (51%) do not usually feel comfortable diagnosing it.

- Awareness and understanding of MCI is low across all racial and ethnic groups surveyed: White Americans (18%), Asian Americans (18%), Native Americans (18%), Black Americans (18%) and Hispanic Americans (17%).

Workplace Shortages

This year's report also includes a new section on the dementia care workforce. According to the report, most states, including Wisconsin, will have to nearly triple the number of geriatricians who were practicing in 2021 to effectively care for approximately 10% of those 65 and older who are projected to have Alzheimer's dementia in 2050.

- In Wisconsin, there are approximately 83 geriatricians.

- By 2050, 273 geriatricians are needed to serve 10% of those 65 and older in Wisconsin.

- By 2050, 820 Geriatricians are needed to serve 30% of those 65 and older in Wisconsin.

In addition, the report looked at the number of direct care workers such as nurse aides and nursing assistants, home health aides and personal care aides needed between 2018 and 2028. To meet the demand, almost every state, including Wisconsin, needs to double the number of direct care workers.

- In 2018, there were approximately 71,820 home health and personal care aides in Wisconsin.

- By 2028, Wisconsin will need 86,440 home health and personal care aides, a 20.4% increase.

2022 Alzheimer's Disease Facts and Figures at a Glance

The 2022 Facts and Figures report also provides an in-depth look at the latest national statistics on Alzheimer's disease prevalence, incidence, mortality, costs of care and impact on caregivers.

National Prevalence, Incidence and Mortality

- An estimated 6.5 million Americans over age 65 are living with Alzheimer's dementia in 2022.

- Two-thirds of Americans over age 65 with Alzheimer's dementia (4 million) are women.

- One in three seniors die with Alzheimer's disease or another dementia.

Caregiving

- In 2021, more than 11 million caregivers of people with Alzheimer's disease or other dementias provided an estimated 16 billion hours of unpaid care, a contribution to the nation valued at more than $271 billion.

- Nearly half of all caregivers (48%) who provide help to older adults do so for someone with Alzheimer's or another dementia.

- Forty-one percent of caregivers have a household income of $50,000 or less.

Wisconsin Statistics

- Number of Wisconsin residents aged 65 and older living with Alzheimer's: 120,000

- Estimated number of Wisconsin residents living with Alzheimer's in 2025: 130,000

| ACTING EDITOR'S NOTE |

Join our Team and Serve your Community

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
ACTING EDITOR

For almost one full year, this newspaper publication has been without a dedicated full-time sales associate. This is a fact that I have repeated many times in previous months – when community members and readers have asked, "How are the papers doing?" – since our recent sea change in personnel (we lost three editors and nearly 70 percent of our overall staff to what the collective is calling "The Great Resignation").

I bring up our lack of a sales associate, because it remains the largest impediment to the paper's growth and long-term health. While we have a reliable group of weekly and consistent advertisers, sponsors and partners, the strength of having a dedicated sales associate was in the creative ideas we could build with business leaders, the new opportunities we helped curate with non-profits and in our unique, hyper-local coverage of sports, clubs and events.

It is worth reminding everyone: This is a privately owned, family-run business; we do not receive regular local, county or federal funding to operate. Our revenue is largely based on sales from advertising, sponsorships and partnerships and, as such, it is imperative we have a community-minded leader directing this department.

That, in a nutshell, is why I am writing about this opening; I get the sense there is a misconception as to what exactly the roles, duties and expectations are.

This is not just a "sales job," where the person in charge stares at a computer screen all day, makes phone calls and sends e-mails.

In fact, it is almost the opposite of that.

What this job can be for the right-minded individual is one of a community ambassador, a leader in helping join our commerce interests with those of the residents and, overall, a pioneer in storytelling presentation and cultivation.

The Sales and Marketing Representative would be the leader of his or her department, developing an outbound sales plan meant to inspire and engage both advertising businesses and the readers with which they aim to interact. The representative would work closely with this paper's editor to identify and develop novel and creative ways to use sponsorships to drive storytelling (and vice versa).

By and large, the sales representative will be out in the community, meeting with potential clients and working to foster relationships with trade and commerce leaders.

While our official listing for this position offers what qualities we are looking for, I can add that the ideal candidate should love the community he or she lives in, feel passionate about helping grow that community and be comfortable approaching people about new ideas to help promote their business.

We do better on the whole when we all work together to help the individual – that is, partly, one of the missions of this newspaper – and we hope that there's another like-minded person in our communities that will see this opportunity for

KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY*5 Years Ago
March 30, 2017

It looks like there will be more activities offered for all ages at the Kiwanis Park swim pond in Kewaskum this summer. Plans are in the works for the village to purchase a 10-foot tall water slide to be placed in the deep end of the swim pool. An obstacle course is planned at medium depth, and a floating raft for the shallow end.

Every day of the week, exercise enthusiasts can be found dancing their way into shape at the Jazzercise center located at Hon-E-Cor Country Club. A new opportunity is being offered. Dubbed GirlForce, the class for girls aged 16 to 21, aims to empower young women by giving them a place to get fit, learn healthy habits, and find a place they belong in their communities.

Just eight years ago, there was no heroin problem in Kewaskum. Since then, however, the drug has made its way into the area. Washington County Sheriff Dale Schmidt and Detective Mark Sette gave a presentation on drug abuse to members of the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club and American Legion Post 384 on March 27.

The Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce donated $540 to the Kewaskum Food Pantry. The money was raised at the Chamber's Christmas Cookie Hunt.

Mikayla Dogs and Derrek Brock are the Kiwanis March Students Of The Month.

The Kewaskum High School band department announced that two members have been selected to participate in the Wisconsin School Music Association High School all-state honors orchestra. Thomas Gill plays percussion and Lydia Stern plays horn. This is the second time Thomas has been selected. The two were selected after competing against the best high school musicians from around the state as their audition.

Lisa Bolek from Kewaskum Middle School received a state level ribbon for her written piece on childhood obesity at the Middle Level Forensics Association State Competition on March 25. The team participating in group acting received a perfect score in both rounds with their piece "Who's On First" by Abbott and Costello, winning second place overall. Another group acting team placed second overall with their piece "How to be popular in Ten Days."

Six Kewaskum Destination Imagination (DI) teams competed at the Regional Tournament March 25. The Kewaskum Middle School DI team took first place in the middle school level for Fine Arts Challenge. The team will compete at the State tournament April 8.

Kewaskum students did very well in chess. Andrew Ries and Bobby Villanueva are chess board champs. A 14-year-old female who attends Kewaskum High School has told police that she was sexually assaulted by another student on school property. The Kewaskum Police Department has referred a 15-year-old Kewaskum boy to juvenile court authorities with charges pending for second degree sexual assault. The victim told authorities she and the 15-year-old male went for a walk on March 12 and he told her he was ready to have sex. She reported that she said no many time but he persisted attempting to remove her clothing. When someone was seen approaching, each left in a different direction. The female did not report the alleged assault until March 16.

Only one item will be on the agenda for the special Kewaskum Board of Education meeting April 30. The item is discussion and consideration of salaries for members of the board. Electors will vote on the agenda item. Board members had their annual salaries taken away at the 2005 annual meeting after electors became angry at the buy-out of the former superintendent of schools. At the annual meeting held in July 2006, the electors voted against providing salaries for board members.

The last chapter has been closed on the story of one of Kewaskum's most horrific crime scenes. On March 27 a wrecking crew quickly razed the home that was involved in a murder-suicide, which ended in flames in June of 2006. William Koser had murdered his seven-year-old daughter then set fire to the home and killed himself.

Andy Pesch had filed papers declaring non-candidacy as a Village of Kewaskum trustee. With no one seeking the seat, village officials put out a plea for a write-in candidate and Brandon Belger filed a declaration of candidacy. This week, Pesch filed a declaration of candidacy. There are now four people vying for three seats.

Town of Wayne residents have the opportunity to make some changes in their government. Leander Herriges has been chairman for 10 years. Also running for the seat is Scott Weiss, a former town supervisor. Incumbent Christian Kuehn is facing Julie Kriewaldt for the clerk position.

Four individuals have been arrested in regards to the death of a 25-year-old Town of Ashford man. The four face charges of first degree reckless homicide and delivery of a schedule I or II narcotic. Richard Finch has announced his write-in candidacy for Town of Farmington supervisor.

To make a statement about drinking and driving without saying a word, some students at Kewaskum High School assumed the role of the dead to illustrate the gravity of the situation. These volunteers spent the entire day in silence and dress that symbolized death, even traveling through the halls bearing gravestones reiterating the tragic news that every half hour a person between the ages of 15 and 19 is killed due to drinking and driving.

CAMPBELLSPORT & KEWASKUM

‘Meet Me in St. Louis’ Production Set to Premier April 1

St. Matthew’s CYO, consisting of high schoolers from Campbellsport High School, will present the musical, “Meet Me in St. Louis” at CHS’s Lang Auditorium on April 1-2 at 7 p.m. and on April 3, at 2 p.m.

Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the door. Tickets are available at True Value Home and Hardware, Twohig Funeral Home and at the St. Matthew’s Parish Center in Campbellsport, as well as from cast members.

The musical is a popular movie of years past which was made into a musical for the stage. It is a story of a family in St. Louis just when the World’s Fair was coming to Saint Louis. It was a huge exhibition of all the newest innovations in 1904!

The family goes through some trials and tribulations, but always looks out for each other. The music is wonderful and memorable; “Meet Me in St. Louis,” “The Trolley Song,” “The Boy Next Door,” and “Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas,” to name a few.

It is great family entertainment – the producers urge the community to attend and support the youth of the district in this major endeavor.

During a recent scene rehearsal for the upcoming performance of “Meet Me in St. Louis,” Tootie (Elza Keceli), Esther (Samantha Zimdahl) and Agnes (Genna Grahl) entertain their guests. SUBMITTED

CES Library Has Chicks

REBECCA COLE
CES LIBRARIAN

In celebration of science, the Campbellsport Elementary School library has hatched chicks. I’m Rebecca Cole, the librarian at CES, and this last month has been really fun. I started out with 12 eggs and incubated them for three weeks.

Students came in every day to check on the eggs while we counted down their typical 21-day incubation time. There was a chart that showed the students how the chick was supposed to be developing and changing each day. During this time the students were encouraged to read books, write a brief summary, and then enter a contest to name a baby chick. We had 85 entries in our contest!

Only four chicks hatched. I chose four lucky students. These students were Della Carmel, Madie Moen, Charlie Averbeck and Taylor Etchart. They got to hold, name, and have their pictures taken with the baby chick they chose.

I underestimated the level of interest, excitement, and expanse of this project. Everyone had a lot of fun and learned some things too. They learned about how heat, humidity, and movement are important in the incubation process. Everyone got to witness the hatching process and that it takes more time and energy than they thought. Of course, not all the eggs hatched, so there were many conversations about nature and how it’s not always predictable.

They learned that chicks poop – a lot; they grow really fast, and can be noisy too. There were so many great conversations that were spurred by this project. The students are asking if we can do it again next year and this librarian will definitely be thinking of ways to continue to bring nature into the library.

Boltonville Firecrackers 4-H Club March Meeting Update

ELLIE STEINERT CLUB REPORTER

Hello again! This month we made paper wallets at our meeting. Club members can earn 4-H bucks throughout the year for participating in meetings and other events. We were wasting a lot of plastic bags to sort the money, so the officers met to make a plan to create paper wallets. Each member made their own wallet, and it will be used to sort paper money each month.

We also played a tell-a-story game where each member said four words to add on to a story. They were very funny!

Finally we talked about a club bake sale and aluminum can drive. The club's bake sale will be held on Saturday, May 7, at R-Store in Boltonville from 8:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

We had one demonstration this month. I talked about what I've learned in archery and explained the parts of my bow. We are looking forward to warmer weather and more fun next month. Talk to you soon!

LORI KREIS
DIRECTOR, KEWASKUM
PUBLIC LIBRARY

When I started as director of Kewaskum Public Library 3 ½ years ago (yes it has been that long), we had a small pool of volunteers to assist mainly with programs. Unfortunately for us, these volunteers have moved on in various ways. Here are some recent helpers that I would like to give accolades to.

I know a little about branding and the importance of a logo that reflects your institution's mission. I also know that my graphic design skills are limited. I spent a lot of time trying to create a new logo for the library. I had ideas but could not come up with anything that didn't look like a 3-year-old created it. One of the library board trustees suggested I contact someone she knew that did have a background in graphic arts. After several months of ideas and designs, a logo was created. Steve was the designer of the new library logo which showcases our mission of knowledge, information, ideas, and community and compliments our village's logo. Check out our awesome new logo on flyers, social media and more.

Recently, an integral part of the library team needed to take an extended leave of absence. That left us without someone to run the children's programming. A cornerstone of library services is programming and youth services is vital to that service. With about two-thirds of our events centered around children, I felt I should not cancel any of these children's programs and with help from staff and volunteers, most of them were still offered or if not, postponed with a new date scheduled. One of our most important programs for youth is pre-school story time, which is held weekly most of the year. Besides the early literacy benefits, story time is also a chance for parents to get together and foster a sense of community. Without a reader, I put out a call for help and we have had guest readers for story time, which has been very popular. Shout outs go to Anne, Adam, Connie, Teresa, and Laura for assisting with this essential service.

Volunteers who fundraise for the library are very important. Usually, this falls to the Friends group, a non-profit organization whose major purpose is to raise money for the library. This can be done in various ways such as book sales, membership drives and more. Kewaskum Public Library does not have a Friends group right now, although I really would like to get one together, especially with an upcoming capital project. The involvement can be as much as the volunteer wants to put into it. We could also take on volunteers to help at our brat fry in the summer and any of our summer programs.

Thank you for all that have helped us either financially or by putting volunteer time in with us. But we need more. Please contact me if you want to be an integral part of the library as a treasured volunteer.

Evers Visits Plymouth, Signs Bill to Bolster Dairy Exports

Gov. Tony Evers, on Tuesday, March 22, celebrated National Agriculture Day in his hometown of Plymouth — renowned for being the Cheese Capital of the World — by signing Senate Bill 827, now Wisconsin Act 207, to help bolster Wisconsin's dairy exports.

In December, Gov. Evers signed Assembly Bill 314, now 2021 Wisconsin Act 92, which required the Department of Agriculture, Trade, and Consumer Protection (DATCP) to work collaboratively with the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation to increase the value of Wisconsin's milk and dairy, meat, crop, and other product exports by 25 percent by June 30, 2026. The bill was modeled after legislation originally proposed by Gov. Evers during his 2020 State of the State address, during which the governor announced a package of legislation and a special session of the Legislature as part of a three-pronged plan to support and invest in Wisconsin's farmers and rural communities. Funds for the Wisconsin Initiative for Agricultural Exports were released by the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee last month.

Wisconsin Act 207, which the governor signed today, allows the DATCP to supplement these efforts by investing $883,160 from an existing, unused appropriation to be used for the newly created agricultural exports program for the purpose of promoting dairy exports.

"We're darn proud to be America's Dairyland, and I'm glad to be celebrating National Agriculture Day right here in Plymouth—the Cheese Capital of the World—to sign bipartisan legislation to help continue supporting Wisconsin dairy," said Gov. Evers. "Our dairy industry is not only core to our economy, but it's core to who we are as a state. This bipartisan legislation builds on our work to expand and increase our dairy exports so folks around the globe can experience the high-quality dairy products we know and love produced right here in Wisconsin."

Gov. Evers has long advocated for strategic investments in Wisconsin's agricultural exports, starting in his 2019-21 biennial budget when he proposed a $200,000 investment to develop the Wisconsin Initiative for Dairy Exports. Unfortunately, that provision was rejected by the Legislature during the budget process. Following this and following the governor's 2020 State of the State address and special session call, the Legislature failed to pass the governor's special session proposal. Gov. Evers again proposed investing in Wisconsin's agriculture exports in his 2021-23 biennial budget. Gov. Evers signed the 2021-23 budget last summer, marking the first time that state funding has been allocated to DATCP's International Agribusiness Center to help promote Wisconsin agriculture exports.

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

Chequamegon Bay/True Adventure

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

This week's column is about winter camping on the ice in what, at first, was brutal weather conditions on Chequamegon Bay, which is Lake Superior at Ashland and north. Along for this trip was Rick Miotke of Baraboo, Doug Cibulka of Portage, Jeff Moll of Niagara, and Greg Steinhauer of Waunakee. All of these guys are between 56 and 63 and are tough as nails.

FRIDAY, MARCH 11

HIGH: 14, LOW: 6 (WINDCHILL, -23)

Due to the fact that there is two feet of snow on top of the ice, driving a truck or an ATV on Chequamegon Bay is not advisable, as you break through the crust to your axles, hit a slush layer and are very stuck.

This meant that Jeff Moll's 1996 Artic Cat, "Bear Cat", and my Polaris "Classic" would be hauling man, gear and dog about two miles from shore out on the bay.

There was a sustained 23-mile-per-hour wind today that made everything from trips out on the ice, building camp and setting tip ups seem like you were in Siberia; any exposed skin was in trouble in the blink of an eye.

This would be my eighth and last winter camping trip of the season, and I was really excited as we would be targeting brown trout, splake, northern pike and perch with a hopeful bonus of walleye or coho.

Jeff, Doug and I did this trip last year and kicked butt on browns, splake and gators.

We built camp, had three hours of daylight left, fished hard and caught very little.

Chequamegon Bay is generally very reliable in mid-March but due to the fact that up to this trip no warm run off was coming into the bay, the hot bite was not happening.

SATURDAY, MARCH 12

HIGH: 19, LOW: -7

At first light this morning, the wind was horrible, the air temp was the same and my planned warm-weather ice-camping trip was not meant to be.

For the first time, my snow machine would not start, and I could not pull out the pull cord. Fishing was slow, but steady, on this trip,

Doug Cibulka would have the most luck/action using tip ups and live bait, and he caught our first brown trout, which made us all very happy. Doug also caught a 26-inch gator, not a big fish, but a start, and he was winning the five-dollar bet for both species.

Doug's gator was froze solid in literally seconds!

Jeff Moll caught a 17-inch splake, very good eating fish, and Rick Miotke iced a 10-inch perch.

There were some smaller gators caught, but that was our catch on a truly brutal day.

SATURDAY, MARCH 13

HIGH: 35, LOW: 14

Rick Miotke had lodging in Ashland and each morning would show up on Moll's Bear Cat and was a strictly business type of fishermen. All of his gear is well thought out, and the best, and Rick fishes hard.

On the other side of the coin, I served supper, shrimp hotdish, at 3:30 a.m. this morning, and my former Poynette High School buddies and I told story after story about our days when we were kids – all of us were friends and were wild and crazy!

The fishing got a bit better today with the warmer weather but was still slow.

Rick caught a brown and a 27.5-inch gator, which put him in the gator lead. Doug caught a 21.5-inch splake. A few small perch and several smelt were caught and, about an hour after dark, I had a light go on with one of my tip ups, and I caught a 23-inch walleye.

The walleye got us in a happy mood and, soon, the Sunday Night Festivities began and, low and behold, Greg served us lasagna just after 3 a.m.

MONDAY, MARCH 14

HIGH: 43, LOW: 29

Rick is the president of The Baraboo River Chapter of KAMO and had a meeting tonight, so we had to break camp and get him to shore on the first trip. Just before we said goodbye, Doug C. gets a flag, and we all watched him catch a 31.5-inch gator, which beat Ricks in the last second.

Greg was the last one on the ice, and he caught a 22-inch splake, which was our biggest, but the contest ended when we took Rick in, so Doug won the brown, splake and gator bets. Rick took the perch, and I was all smiles with the walleye.

Trips like this with five guys that are no longer kids are serious tests of the aging process and we did incredibly well with next to no sleep and in very adverse conditions the first two days.

I will miss the ice!

Stress and your Health

ROY SMALLEY
CONTRIBUTOR

You're stressed. No, seriously – you are.

But that's not necessarily a bad thing. Some stress is actually necessary to maintain your physical and mental health. Remember the movie The Matrix?

In one scene, Agent Smith tells Morpheus that the Matrix was originally designed to be a perfect world without suffering or pain, where everyone was happy.

"It was a disaster," he said. "No one would accept the program."

Your body and mind rely on occasional, moderate doses of stress to keep you alert and sharp, boost your immune system, strengthen your heart and help build to mental and emotional resilience to deal with more major life events.

Let's back up a moment and look at what "stress" is.

You probably already associate "stress" with the uneasiness, tension and anxiety you feel when something "bad" happens – like a flat tire, or an unexpected meeting with the boss. But stress is also caused by anything different, new or changed in your routine – like a vacation, or a job promotion with completely different responsibilities.

The word "stress" describes your body's response to these events: "stress hormones" including adrenaline and cortisol increase your heart rate, sharpen your senses, and stimulate a sudden burst of energy.

At moderate levels, this is a good thing.

It trains your body and mind to "adapt and overcome." But constant everyday stress – like being stuck in a job you hate or living through a global pandemic – can add up over time and have serious, negative health effects.

Studies suggest that 70% of doctor visits are directly related to stress.

Constant stress causes insomnia, inflammation, indigestion, and chronic headaches. It raises your risk of heart disease, cancer, and type 2 diabetes. It weakens your immune system, making you more likely to get sick, and is a direct cause of depression.

At this point, you're probably getting stressed just reading this! Well here's some good news: a huge study of over 200,000 people found that chronic stress could largely be offset by good nutrition and exercise.

NUTRITION

Stress creates greater nutritional demands on the body, so chronic stress can make even a slight nutritional deficiency much, much worse.

One strategy to overcome this is to avoid eating emotionally. I tend to be an emotional eater, so I, like many people, usually reach for cookies instead of carrots when I'm stressed out.

To beat that, I try to always be aware of my emotional triggers, and "take five" before giving in to an emotional craving. Instead of immediately reaching for that pack of Oreos, try squeezing a stress ball, going for a quick walk or drinking a big glass of water.

Most of your daily nutrition should be foods high in vitamins and fiber. Foods like whole grains, lean meats and fish, nuts, fruits and vegetables can bust the effects of stress and help reduce the inflammation that causes chronic pain and other health issues.

And caffeine? Moderate daily amounts (a couple regular-sized cups of coffee) can boost your mood, make you more alert and fight feelings of fatigue.

But caffeine actually stimulates those stress hormones we talked five of which have been with the local team.

Sison explained that there are a few different types of races that students can choose to participate in and focus on when competing. Although racers compete individually, the group places as a team.

“High school is the only program that holds a team atmosphere for skiing,” he said. “Once students realize that they can work as a team and do well, they really begin to see results.”

Sison also added that the team welcomes skiers of any level, and it is possible for a beginner to turn into a racer.

“My path to coaching success is being an instructor first and a coach second,” he explained.

The ski team accepts anyone who is interested in the sport, and they are always recruiting.

Coach Sison proudly expressed that the team did an amazing job this year as both the girls and boys team went to the state meet in La Crosse.

“Many people are not aware that the competition at Mount La Crosse is the largest [skiing] state competition in the country,” he said.

Alpine Ski Team

The team gathers together for a “serious shot” in their gear. The group includes members of Kewaskum and Campbellsport high schools (among others). Last season, the girls finished second place in the state with the boys taking 14th. SUBMITTED

At this intense competition, both the girls and boys took on 22 different teams.

The girls had great success and took second place overall.

The boys finished their competitive slate by placing 14th in the state.

Sison added that, following the state meet, three of the girls qualified for nationals.

The ski team recently held its annual banquet to end the season, and while length of such banquets is often a topic for discussion, Sison expressed that the lengthy night of celebrating was nothing but joy for the student/athletes and their supporters.

“The banquet was very long because of all the well-deserved awards that were given out,” he said.

Sison said he is looking forward to what the future holds for the Alpine Ski Team after such a successful season.

Congrats to all skiers on a great season!

about earlier, so too much can backfire and make you feel nervous, tense and jittery.

EXERCISE

Exercise isn’t rocket science, but it is chemistry! Physical exercise helps reduce the negative effects of stress by lowering your body’s stress hormone levels, while increasing production of endorphins – the natural mood-boosting chemicals your body makes that reduce pain and help you feel good.

Plus exercise gives you a healthy outlet for all that pent-up frustration, anger and anxiety that stress can trigger! Findings consistently show that one exercise session provides a calming effect that can last for several hours.

Any activity that gets your heart pumping harder, your lungs breathing deeper, and your skin sweating for 20 to 30 minutes will work!

Exercise can also power-up your mind by increasing certain brain proteins that enhance mental abilities, reduce anxiety and fight depression.

Stress is your body’s chemical response, but that chemical response is influenced by your mind and your mindset. Mindset is a third component that can help you overcome the effects of stress.

Unfortunately, I’m out of space for this week’s column. Don’t stress about it, though – we’ll talk more about it next week!

Until then, remember that we don’t decide our future: We decide our habits, and our habits determine our future.

Local United Way Offers Free Online Tax Filing Tool

More than 1.3 Million MyFreeTaxes® Filers Have Used MyFreeTaxes since 2009

Recently, United Way announced the launch of this tax season's MyFreeTaxes.com site. For the 12th year, United Way is providing online tax filing software, accessible through MyFreeTaxes.com, to help taxpayers easily and accurately file their taxes from their computer or smartphone.

MyFreeTaxes® is a free and easy way to file federal and state tax returns for free.

"Taxes can be a source of confusion and stress for Americans," said a press release from the non-profit organization. "Many of us are intimidated by the complexities of taxes and afraid to make a mistake that will cost money. With MyFreeTaxes, you can take advantage of all the tax credits and deductions you qualify for. That's especially important now, as so many are struggling in the wake of the pandemic."

Key features of the online tool include:

- Screens for credit and deduc-tion eligibility such as the Earned Income Tax Credit and the Child Tax Credit to ensure filers receive their maximum tax refund, and lets filers check for any missed stimulus payments;

- Shows filers how and why their refund amount is changing in real time;
- Allows individuals to use their mobile phone, tablet or computer to file taxes;
- Help from a real person trained by the IRS via the MyFreeTaxes' Helpline;
- Access to additional financial products and resources, including free access to a student debt management tool that will help employees easily lower payments or find loan forgiveness.

MyFreeTaxes is free for all returns and includes schedule C options. A list of the tax forms included in this free offering is available by visiting MyFreeTaxes.com. MyFreeTaxes users can also contact their local United Way for additional resources or to find ways to volunteer to support their community.
