Updates from the Kewaskum School Board Meeting

BREANNA RICE
JOURNALIST

The Kewaskum school board members met on Thursday, May 12, with the assemblage holding its yearly reorganizational meeting before the regular school board meeting.

The reorganizational meeting began with two members, Bradley Petersen and Tim Ramthun, being sworn in and reciting an oath of office.

Next, Petersen voted to appoint Jim Leister as board president and Tim Ramthun as vice president. There were no objections from the board. Petersen then voted to appoint Stephanie Bird as board clerk and Dennis Aupperle as Board Treasurer. Again, there were no objections from the board, and all nominated board members were approved to their respective roles.

The regular board meeting began directly after the reorganizational meeting. Board members discussed upcoming events and it was stated that the high school graduation will take place on Wednesday, June 1, at 7 p.m. The last day of school, for those who are not graduating, will be Friday, June 3.

District Administrator Dr. Mark Bazata presented a recap PowerPoint on the elementary transition. The transition is referring to the closure of the the i4Learning (formerly Wayne Elementary) building.

Bazata stated that the process will affect students and staff from all three of the elementary schools, and they are doing their best to make everything go as smoothly as possible.

Moving Toward Closure

Dear Reader,

Partings are difficult in the best of circumstances, and sometimes the pain continues after the funeral or memorial service. Going through the left-behind belongings of a loved one gives a glimpse into that person's treasures, and by implication their values and beliefs. Sometimes the true picture is hidden under a layer of irrelevancies, but somewhere within the mess is a reflection of who that person was and how they lived their life.

There are so many reminders in a departed person's possessions, making it a challenging task to sort through and settle their affairs. Yet even through the pain, there is progress that leads to closure, as we define through memory what they meant to us.

Hogendyk Announces Candidacy for Washington County Clerk of Circuit Court

My name is Connie Hogendyk and I am seeking election to be the next Clerk of Circuit Court in Washington County.

I started with the judiciary system in 2008. For 10 years, I have worked hand-in-hand with the District Attorney's Office in Victim Witness Services acting as a liaison between the courts and the victims of our community who suffered through the struggles and challenges of crimes.

In 2018, I took the position of Chief Deputy Clerk for the Walworth County Clerks of Courts Office. This position allowed me to learn the court system from the bottom up. This position makes me privy and uniquely qualified to know the importance of a qualified and effective leader, the management behind it, and the significant responsibility the Clerk of Courts has to the residents of our county. Because of this, I am also the only candidate with in-depth knowledge of the daily operation and complexities of the circuit court system as a whole.

Connie

Currently, in this position, I am extremely proud to manage more than 40 employees who work and serve Walworth County. Our office services the coordination of court operations for four judges and two full-time court commissioners.

As your next elected Clerk, I pledge my commitment to the court system and our community to provide and maintain the highest level of professionalism, moral principles, and ethical values. I ask for your vote as the next Elected Clerk of Court for Washington County.

Evers' Record Vetoes Block Common Sense Reforms

SEN. DUEY STROEBEL
20TH SENATE DISTRICT

Wisconsinites rightfully demand their elected officials work toward the common good. The fact that the legislature was able to accomplish some things with the governor's signature can leave the impression that Governor Evers is some reasonable, moderate politician. I think that impression does not stand up to scrutiny when one considers his record-smashing veto total. Governor Evers vetoed 126 bills this session. The previous record was 90, and it had stood for almost a century. Wisconsinites need to be aware what reforms Governor Evers was vetoing as he made history.

The Legislature passed a package of bills in early 2021 to curb the excesses of executive action after the initial COVID spike had receded and vaccines were being distributed to those who wanted them. SB 38 requested a plan for when state employees would return to taxpayer funded office buildings. ABs 23 & 24 would have stopped state and county bureaucrats from unilaterally ordering a vaccine mandate or shuttering houses of worship. All of these bills were vetoed.

The Legislature passed a series of bills dealing with education, particularly on how to accommodate challenges brought to the forefront during COVID. AB 963 codified a parental bill of rights as to the parent's role in their child's public school education. SB 463 required the posting of school district curriculum materials online so local debates over curriculum could be reasoned and informed. AB 970 removed the caps on the

"Duey"
Stroebel Jr.

Wisconsin Parental Choice Program so families could pick the best school for their children, a position supported in the latest Marquette Law School Poll by a margin of 58% to 33%. All of these bills were vetoed.

The Legislature passed bills to deal with rising crime. SB 119 stopped cities from receiving their full state aid, a portion intended for law enforcement, if they defunded their own local police. SB 296 provided a punishment for rioting, like what occurred during the tragic mayhem in Kenosha. AB 827 increased penalties for coordinated mob theft rings that are becoming more common. All of these bills were vetoed.

The Legislature passed SB 16 to guarantee that a child who is born alive after a failed abortion attempt must not be left to die. The Legislature also passed AB 518 to accept a visitor's concealed carry permit from another state as valid in Wisconsin. The Legislature passed AB 173 to prohibit third party special interests from funding election administration in politically targeted communities. The Legislature passed AB 993 to prevent individuals who don't search for work, skip scheduled job interviews and refuse reasonable job offers from continuing to collect unemployment benefits. The Legislature even passed a bipartisan bill to ensure more frequent reading assessments in school to identify children who are falling behind to give them extra help. You guessed it, all of these bills were vetoed.

These bills are a small percentage of his handiwork. Governor Evers' record-breaking veto explosion means dozens of great policies and reforms are not the law today. Wisconsinites should remember what wasn't accomplished this session and why.

'Every Second Matters' Driving Distractions on the Rise

WISCONSIN STATE PATROL
APRIL LAW OF THE MONTH

Distracted driving is a growing problem on Wisconsin roads. More than 10,000 crashes involved distracted driving last year, up more than 13% from 2020.

Cell phone use is one of the most common forms of distracted driving, but any interruption that takes your eyes and mind off the road can be a distraction. That includes use of a navigation system or other device, eating, personal care, and even passengers or pets.

Texting while driving is dangerous and illegal in Wisconsin. No text, email, or social media post is worth a crash, injury, or death.

"It takes just a moment for traffic conditions to change. That means every second matters on the roads," Wisconsin State Patrol Superintendent Anthony Burrell said. "Taking your eyes off the road can change a life in an instant."

Distracted driving can have deadly consequences. Fatalities connected with distracted driving have been rising in recent years. 26 people were killed in 2019, 31 in 2020 and preliminary numbers show 40 people died in distracted driving crashes in 2021.

Wisconsin statutes (346.89) that address distracted driving include:

- Inattentive driving is prohibited; any activity that interferes with the ability to drive safely.

Lester Schaub

Lester Schaub, 92, of New Fane passed away Friday May 13, 2022, at Froedtert West Bend Hospital with his family at his side.

Lester was born on December 24, 1929, in the Town of Wayne, son of the late Melvin and Elsie (Dobke) Schaub. Lester graduated from Kewaskum High School. After high school, he served in the United States Army for two years. On May 1, 1954, he was united in marriage to LaVerne Gatzke at St John Lutheran Church in New Fane and remained married for 59 years.

Lester was a member of Shepherd of the Hills in West Bend. He was second shift Plant Superintendent at Regal Ware. He was an avid trap-shooter. His hobby was sharpening chains for chain saws, which turned into his side business. He thought of all his customers as friends, loved the many conversations and especially LOVED the baked goods at Christmas.

Those Lester leaves behind to await the reunion in heaven include four children, Karyn DeRosso, Connie (Aga Gonzalez) Corrao, Mark (Kathy Klupper) Schaub and Laurie (Al) Paul; five grandchildren, Angie Butzke, Chad (Tricia) Butzke, Carrie (Morgan Dixon) Schaub, Kimberly (Michael) Janosz and Kayla (Crystal Johnson) Paul; and four great-grandchildren, Jordan Walker, Izabela Butzke, Jax Butzke and Theron Janosz; a brother-in-law, Delmar (Anita) Gatzke, other friends and relatives.

In addition to his parents, Lester was preceded in death by his wife, LaVerne Schaub; and brother, Lee (Darlene) Schaub.

Visitation for Lester will be held on Saturday, May 21, 2022, at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church (6869 Wildwood Rd. – West Bend, WI 53090) from 1:30 p.m. until time of service. Funeral service will be at 3 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorials in Lester's name can be directed to Shepherd of the Hills in West Bend.

We would like to thank the caregivers at Ivy Manor II for such great care.

His cremains will be laid to rest at a later date where they will await the resurrection on the last day. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord"

Myrhum-Patten Funeral & Cremation Service has been entrusted with Lester's arrangements. Please consider signing our online guest book (www.myrhum-patten.com) to share your condolences with the family.

will be relocated to Farmington Elementary in order to make room for those who are coming to Kewaskum from i4Learning. The students who were chosen to move from Kewaskum to Farmington were picked based on geography and the enrollment numbers of the grade they are entering into. It was noted that siblings will not be split up. Families who are being asked to switch schools have been notified.

The board discussed the i4Learning building sale process. It was stated that the district chose to use the bidding process for this sale rather than listing it on the market. There will be open bidding for the property and the school board has the ability to accept or decline any amount that is offered.

There was also a PowerPoint presentation regarding budget revisions, and it was announced that the school district will be saving roughly $325,624 per year by closing the i4Learning building.

The board went into closed session to discuss personnel before reconvening into open session to adjourn the meeting.

The presentation will be the final event of the Kewaskum Historical Society's Founder's Day Celebration, which is being held June 10-12 to commemorate the Village of Kewaskum's 125th anniversary.

About Chief Kewaskum

In 2020, I co-wrote the book "Kewaskum, Wisconsin: The Making of a Village" with Aaron Laatsch, another volunteer for the Kewaskum Historical Society. We wanted to document the early history of the village.

The first chapter of our book is about Chief Kewaskum and Native Americans. We did a lot of research for that chapter, but there had already been a start on finding Chief Kewaskum's family. A picture of man identified as Chief Kewaskum appeared in area newspapers in 1905 along with an article stating that the chief had died. Since then, the man in the photo has been identified as Chief Peter Kewaskum, a Menominee chief who worked as a riverboat pilot in the mid-1800s.

We know who Chief Peter Kewaskum's family is. I have talked with Sean Taeschner, the great-great-grandson of Chief Peter Kewaskum, and he has a fascinating story of Chief Peter Kewaskum's accomplishments.

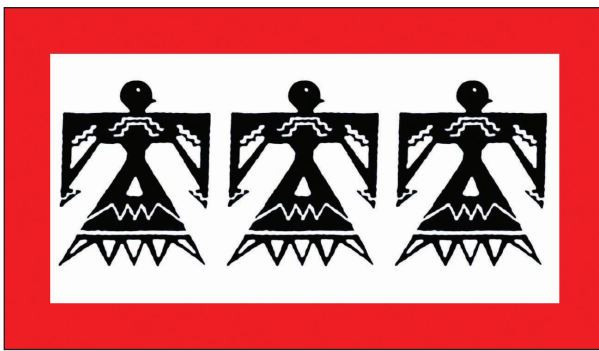

However, ever since the article first appeared in the Kewaskum Statesman in 1905, people have had doubts that Chief Peter Kewaskum is the same Chief Kewaskum after whom the village and town were named. One objection is that there are numerous claims that Chief Kewaskum had died decades earlier. Another quandary is: How could Chief Peter Kewaskum be the same Chief Kewaskum since he was a Menominee chief, not a Potawatomi chief?

Was there another Chief Kewaskum after whom the village and town had been named?

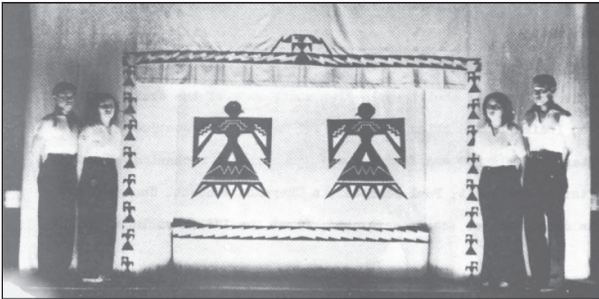

Finding the Kewaskum Family

To try to answer that question, in writing our book, we turned to the book "Kewaskum Then And Now," written in 1976 by Mark Smucker. We were unable to speak with Smucker, who died in 1979, but we were able to look through all of Smucker's folders filled with handwritten notes and research about the history of Kewaskum.

As part of his research, Smucker wrote a letter to the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs, inquiring whether there were any people in the United States with the name Kewaskum. In response, he received a letter in May 1975 stating that Maggie Kewaskum had been enrolled at Haskell Indian Junior College in Kansas from Sept. 2, 1928, to May 28, 1936. She received a high school diploma from Haskell on June 4, 1934, and a diploma in Arts and Crafts on May 26, 1936. Maggie Kewaskum had two children, Barbara Jean and Delbert Gene. That is where the trail ended in Smucker's search for the Kewaskum family.

So, as we worked on our new book about Kewaskum, we picked up the trail. It made sense that members of Chief Kewaskum's family would have been relocated to Kansas when the Potawatomi people were forced off their land in Wisconsin in the 1800s.

Although Native American records are scarce, I was able to trace Maggie Kewaskum's roots back two more generations through the magic of the Internet, some wonderful genealogy sites and numerous old newspapers. Next, I wanted to find any living relatives. With a few clicks on my computer, I tracked down where Maggie and her children had lived. I read that Maggie had died on Feb. 2, 1992, but I found the names of her grandchildren.

We wanted to get in contact with them, so we made phone calls and sent letters. We tried Facebook Messenger. No response.

So I did some more research. I found that one of Maggie Kewaskum's granddaughters, Joie, works at Blue Cross Blue Shield in Massachusetts. Even though I figured it would be nearly impossible to track down a single employee of a huge insurance company, I decided to give it a try. I dialed the 1-800 number.

I talked with the operator, and within a minute, I was transferred to Joie's personal line. She answered the phone.

I couldn't believe it! I introduced myself and told her about our book project.

Joie had never been to Wisconsin. And she had never heard of the Village of Kewaskum. But she was extremely helpful in filling in blanks for our research.

Since the book came out two years ago, I have stayed in contact with Joie and her sister, Val. They are both well-educated, easy to talk to and kind. Val is now 60 years old and lives in Oklahoma, where she works as an Information Technology supervisor in the Defense Information Systems Agency of the U.S. Department of Defense. Joie, who is 57, works as an executive assistant for Blue Cross Blue Shield.

Joie and Val have an amazing story to tell. They have both graciously agreed to travel to Kewaskum for the celebration and give a presentation about their family and the Potawatomi culture.

"I am looking forward to being in Wisconsin; I have never been there before. I am looking forward to the trip to where our ancestors traveled through and seeing Kewaskum," Val said.

"I am really excited to be there and to share our family with everyone," Joie added.

As for this reporter, I am excited to meet Joie and Val in person. I hope that many people from Kewaskum are able to attend their presentation.

- A ban on cell phone use by probationary license holders.
- A hand-held ban for all drivers in work zones, emergency, and roadside response areas.
- A texting ban for all drivers.
- Using devices for visual entertainment is prohibited for drivers.

All drivers are at risk of distracted driving crashes. In 2019, 72% of Wisconsin drivers involved in distracted driving crashes were older than 25.

Texting is one of the most dangerous distractions. Sending or reading a text takes your eyes off the road for five seconds. At 55-miles-per-hour, that's like driving the length of an entire football field with your eyes closed.

Drivers are urged to put their phones away when behind the wheel. If you need to text, pull over and stop the vehicle.

"Make a commitment to stop distracted driving. Always buckle up and put the phone down while driving. Every trip. Every time," Superintendent Burrell said.

Everyone can demonstrate their commitment to safe driving by taking the Buckle Up Phone Down pledge today on the WisDOT website.

New Boy & Girls Club Director Excited for First Summer

STEFANIE ULMA
BOYS & GIRLS CLUB
KEWASKUM UNIT DIRECTOR

Kewaskum Boys & Girls Club has so much to offer our young members.

During the school year, we have programs that are both educational and creatively fun. Right now, we are offering programs on agriculture, theater, running and on inspiring Women from the past.

In Kewaskum, we focus on giving our members choices to do the activities they enjoy and encourage them to try something new. Our hope is to give our members opportunities that they may not have at home or in school. The staff in Kewaskum is energetic and enthusiastic about the time they spend with our members.

I am new to the Kewaskum Boys & Girls Club, however, working with children of all ages is something I have been doing for 30 years. I love to inspire our members to find what they are passionate about and watch them grow and in turn inspire others on their journey.

This summer, the Boys & Girls Club will be offering programs during the month

What Was Lost: Some Math to Consider

KARL MCCARTY
CONTRIBUTOR

Recently, many people have been coming forward with their own questionable trees. Where they bent by Native Americans? Is this even plausible? The answer could be yes, and their documentation and stories around them are appreciated.

Previous articles explained how the trees could have been bent, and possible examples. The following is some math to consider in regard to what might be left, as it is important for logic to enter the equation of these storied trees.

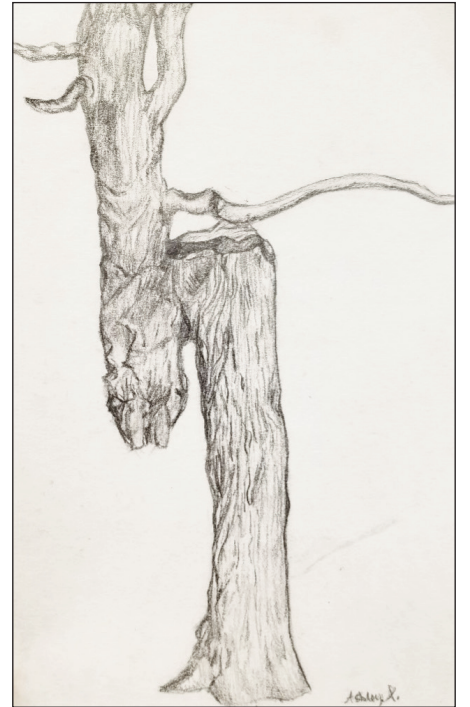

Two-hundred Feet to a Trail Tree

In a 1941 publication of The Scientific Monthly, Dr. Raymond E. Janssen noted a trail marker tree bent by natives could be as close to every few hundred feet (p.25). However, Janssen was already concerned that we had lost so many trail trees by 1940.

His comments pertained to trails of the Great Lakes area closer to Chicago. He documented his conclusions on the Highland Park area. Around 1910, there were 11 in that chain of trail trees, but by 1940 there were only seven survivors. Janssen concluded: "Undoubtedly, they were originally spaced at relatively close intervals." But by World War II "buildings and civic development" took their toll (p.27). However, he reaffirmed the distance of the closest trail trees in the chain were less than two hundred feet apart, the most distant consecutive trail trees were spaced more than half a mile.

Quickert's 1923 Description

The next question would be how close were the trail trees in the Fond du Lac County, Washington County and Dodge County vicinity. Dodge County could be tricky to estimate trail trees, as one came close to Horicon Marsh there was less forested lands. But there is a significant publication by Carl Quickert (1869-1951) that gives great pause as one contemplates trail tree span in what was around Washington County.

In The Story of Washington County, published in 1923, he writes: "The ground was covered with forest of maple, oak, beech, elm, basswood, cedar, birch, hickory, butternut, and other trees; they were so dense that one could not see for more than a few rods in any direction," (p. 23).

This requires the definition of a "rod." There are different lengths used as synonyms, but a rod appears to be about 16 and a half feet. Other sources may have claimed less or more, but certainly a rod is less than 30 feet. I am using rod as defined by U.S. survey methods as 16.5 feet. Given a rod is certainly less than 30 feet, and a Washington County settler couldn't see more than (Quickert's) "a few rods in any direction," it seems very likely one could not see in some forest parts more than 200 feet ahead. This would suggest that a trail tree would be required within 200 feet, especially when pushing into the Kettle Moraine and its hills of Washington County and lower Fond du Lac County.

Furthermore, Quickert's analysis suggests that even the lowlands were packed: "Between the trunks the wild vine hung its festoons. The many streamlets, creeks and rivers, fed by thousands of bubbling springs, were lined with willow, alder, and lilac. The lowlands had been picked out by tamarack and juniper," (p.23).

A few area groups have come together to honor some of the area World War II veterans who are still with us today. What started out as an idea has turned into the WWII Veterans Commemorative Event, Memories & Memorabilia of the Greatest Generation. The ceremony is a great way to honor these veterans and get their stories before it is too late. The event will be held May 20 at the Malone Area Historic Museum. Members of the Marytown Veterans Club, the St. Cloud Harvey Blonigen Legion Post 478, the Mt. Calvary Abler/Engel Post 454, and the Malone Area Heritage Museum have been working for a few months to put this event together. Eleven Holyland-area World War II veterans were personally invited and are planning to attend.

She looked at a few colleges that were interested in recruiting her for their volleyball teams but she like the feel of Judson and the strength of its architectural program. The school is located in Elgin, IL.

A documentary is being filmed in the Campbellsport and Eden area. The name of the film will be Only 26: Tragedy Of 2 Billy's. Eden native Steve Rose and his wife, Charlene, are producing the documentary. The film will look at the tragic losses of Billy Strassburg of Campbellsport and Billy Farr of Montello. Each was killed in a car accident in the mid-1970s. Rose wants to address the alcohol issues associated with the two accidents.

The South Eden Robotics Teams - 4410A Technocracy and 4410B Mechanical Mayhem - competed at the U.S. Open National Robotics Tournament in Council Bluffs, IA. KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY

5 Years Ago
May 25, 2017

This week's issue included a tribute to those from our area who served our nation and passed on; listing Memorial Day services and ceremonies as well as the names of those who are no longer with us, where they are buried and the war in which they served.

For years, Norbert Dettmann planted flowers every May on different family lots in the Boltonville Union Cemetery. Now 93, Dettmann donated money to the cemetery board so that flowers would be planted around the gravestones of 28 veterans and their wives. The money also covered the maintenance of the cemetery. The Boltonville Union Cemetery dates back to Boltonville's earliest settlers. Plot owners have cared for the cemetery since 1869.

About 200 people crossed the finish line and were covered in colored powder as they participated in the Taco Trot for Trapp Color Run on May 19. The event raised funds for the Trapp family, whose house was lost in a fire on February 28.

The tent is up in Boltonville and the carnival has pulled into town. Rain Days is ready to begin. The annual fundraiser for the Boltonville Volunteer Fire Department will be held May 26-28. This year's event will be extra special as it is the 100th anniversary of the fire department. Attendees will enjoy food, music, water barrel fights, parade and more.

Mikaela Leitheiser and Breana Trepes are the Kiwanis May Students of the Month.

As a team, Kewaskum's boys track placed second at Regionals with 120 points. Those who are advancing to Sectionals include Riley Donovan and Cade Peterson in discus; Tony Leister in pole vault; Derrek Brock in high hurdles; Kevin Pamperin, Cameron Dodge, and Tyler Heus in the 100 dash; the 4x100 relay team of Tony Steger, Brady Hanson, Kyle Pamperin, and Cameron Dodge; Brock in the 300 hurdles; Peterson in the 200 dash; the 4x400 relay team of Brock, Jakob Hrica, Hanson, and Peterson; Hanson in the high jump; and Jon Leister in the shot put. The girls team tied for sixth. Waupun, which received the number two seed, has a 16-5 record and split the two games with Kewaskum this year. The Lady Indians were scheduled to host Sheboygan Falls/Kohler on May 24. The winner will play May 26.

Despite injuries, inexperience, and weather postponements, the Kewaskum soccer team has battled all season. The most recent game was a 2-1 victory over Berlin. The team didn't have any home games in April because of weather. The team had three home games this week.

In the EC Golf Tournament, Kewaskum took third with a score of 337. Jacob Schlosser of Kewaskum is a member of the First Team All-ECC.

Members of the police and fire commission met May 21 to learn the procedures that are to be followed for the village's first police officer disciplinary hearing after Chief of Police Richard Knoebel filed charges against police officer Troy Ellis earlier this month. That hearing will be held May 29 in open session. Commission members are allowed to convene into closed session at any time to deliberate or ask questions. They would then announce a decision in open session. The hearing could also take longer than one evening, depending upon the number of witnesses called by either side. Even though the hearing will be in open session, comments will not be allowed from those in the audience unless they are called as witnesses.

Kewaskum's public works committee is meeting May 24 to review and discuss design proposals for the improvements to the wastewater treatment facility. The village was told by the DNR last summer to make corrections or the village would lose its permit with the state. The DNR had reviewed the plant because sewage was released into the Milwaukee River during a heavy rainfall in 2004. Instead of a new $13 million facility, the village decided on a $3.4 million bandaid by going with improvements instead of new build.

Organizers of a fundraiser for the new Kewaskum Theater were pleased with the turnout at the dinner theater and auction recently. So far, the committee has raised $68,759 in pledges and cash for the theater. The new theater will occupy the former Rose Hall at Kewaskum High school. The library on the rear side of the theater is nearly complete.

Work on Highway A in Farmington has been completed on schedule.

Camp Mantawa, located between Campbellsport and Kewaskum in the Kettle Moraine State Forest, serves retreat groups year-round and offers six weeks of resident summer camps to children. The appointment of the newest camp professional has been made. Wendy Mieske has been appointed program director.

Kewaskum resident John Kenworth and his son, Dylan, helped organize the fundraiser Brick for Brick for Tanzania. Almost $10,000 was raised at a concert. The money will be used to build a preschool in Tanzania.

Teammates Ben Boettcher, Tyler Swanson, and Logan Staeger finished first through third in the discus at the conference track and field event. At the same meet, the girls had two first place finishes. Alyssa Clapper won the pole vault event and the 4x100 relay team of Jessi Forbes, Jess Liniewski, Nichole Kison, and Kelly Uelmen won that event.

Although the high school golf team finished third in the EWC Tournament on May 19, the Indians still had enough of a lead from the mini-tour meets to finish second overall.

Farmington Township is celebrating its sesquicentennial throughout 1997. A special event is planned for Memorial Day. The newly designed Farmington Flag will be presented to the current town chairperson. After the program, everyone is invited to a once-in-a-generation re-enactment of the Historic Decoration Day Walking Parade, with students from Farmington Elementary School leading everyone to the Fillmore Union Cemetery.

On May 26, the Robert G. Romaine Post No. 384 of the American Legion will hold its annual Memorial Day Parade and ceremony. Kewaskum's high school band will perform the Star Spangled Banner. Others on the program include Commander Mike Paul, Rev. Joseph Brath, Village President Robert Wagner, Amanda Schulist, Jamie Gaffke, Jay Krolnik, and Staff Sgt. David J. Irwin.

After extensive remodeling of one of Kewaskum's most treasured landmarks, the Gateway Supper Club and Lounge opened its doors for business last Wednesday. The former Glacier Inn is once again a key player in the community, promising great fun, excellent food, and an atmosphere that rivals the best restaurants in Washington County.

Girl Scouts from Troop 625 earned their Gold Award. Requirements for the award demand efficient organizational, time management, and leadership skills. Those who earned the award include Brenda Yogerst, Kimberly West, Lynelle West, Nicole Enright, Melissa Theusch, and Katie Meloy.

Misty Luedtke and Katie Yogerst are the Kiwanis Students of the Month for May.

Kewaskum's third graders scored 97.1 percent in the WSAS reading test, well above the statewide performance standard of 87.1 percent. No student in Kewaskum achieved below the standard.

During the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championships on May 15, Brian Liegl broke the school record with his last throw, which was 150'3". The previous record was 147'9" held by Jeff Taylor and set in 1989.

Elmer G. Zuehlke, 90, Kewaskum, passed away May 14. Lester W. Ebnert, 81, New Fane, passed away May 14. Vernon A. Rheingans, 55, Random Lake, passed away May 18. Gary G. Hansen, 40, formerly of West Bend, passed away May 17.

Searchers for the missing plane piloted by Harold Carlson, formerly of Kewaskum, widened their efforts during the week. They are trying to locate any possible sign of the 1943 Stearman bi-plane lost on what appeared to be a routine flight from the Oshkosh area winter storage quarters of the plane to the West Bend airport. Carlson resides in West Bend. It is feared Carlson depleted his supply of gasoline while looking for an opening in the overcast and fog that covered the area. He possibly crashed due to other trouble.

An announcement of the new North Point Shopping Center for the West Bend and Kewaskum areas was recently made public by officials of the project. Foundation construction of the first of several buildings will start on June 1 and is expected to be completed by September 1. This will house the following: Dave's Music Center, a liquor and beverage outlet, a health food store, a cheese and sausage shop, an antique and gift shop, and a fruit market.

John Dobke, 68, Kewaskum, passed away May 15.

Twenty-one seniors will receive their high school diplomas on May 29. This is an exceptionally small class for Kewaskum High School. A small class of five eighth grade graduates of Kewaskum Public School will also receive their diplomas.

Kewaskum Post No. 384 American Legion will again sponsor an excellent parade and program for Memorial Day. The parade will get underway at 8:45 a.m. and the program at approximately 9:15 a.m.

Kewaskum's Christmas seal sale total was $209.80. This was the largest amount ever received for such a sale in the village. A report was just received from the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association showing Kewaskum ranks 11th among 39 villages in the state with populations ranging from 700-900 with a per capital seal sales contribution of 23.3 cents.

A son was born May 20 to Mr. and Mrs. Roman Miller of Kewaskum. A son was born May 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Campbell of Kewaskum.

KEWASKUM LIBARIAN

Here at the library, we are thankful that Washington County is supportive of our mission to provide programs and services that bring people together, foster creativity, and encourage lifelong learning through access to information, knowledge and ideas. One of the ways it supports us is to provide funding to pay for databases we offer to our card holders. One of these databases is Ancestry Library Edition and the other is AtoZdatabases. I would like to highlight the latter as a valuable resource for our community.

AtoZdatabases is a reference and marketing database that includes more than 30 million businesses and 240 million residents. It can be used for sales leads, mailing lists, marketing research, employment opportunities and finding long lost friends and relatives.

Here are some specific tasks that you can do once you log into AtoZdatabases with your valid Kewaskum Public Library Card. Download email addresses from a search into an excel spreadsheet. Find a list of local tree cutting businesses. Get addresses for a mailing list to grow your home businesses using a map-based search.

Garrett Roehl

Garrett Roehl, son of Tom and Beth Roehl, has also been announced as CHS's co-valedictorian for the class of 2022. Garrett began his education at Eden Elementary, and then attended Campbellsport for middle and high school.

Statehood Dates

Another mathematical concern is the Old Northwest, the territory created in the 1780s that was divided into five states: Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. A sliver of Minnesota was also part of the Northwest Territory north/north east of the Mississippi River's origins and west of the St. Croix River.

Please keep in mind that there is a significant difference in the timing of available trail marker trees surviving. Ohio became a state in 1803, and was an industrial powerhouse by the late 1800s, giving us many U.S. presidents like Rutherford B. Hayes (1877-1881), James Garfield (1881) and Benjamin Harrison (1889-1893). The point being, Ohio was heavily developed by the time Wisconsin was only 20 years old. Given 45 years separated the first (Ohio-1803) and last full state (Wisconsin-1848) coming out of the Northwest Territory, it's important to recognize the difference in time allowed for trail trees to survive and still be shaped. Even the source mentioned above (Janssen) — largely on Illinois trees, probably should adjust 30-40 years when ap-

The Northwest Territory is a reminder of the lands north and west of the Ohio River which used to be inhabited by Native Americans. However, the removal and extermination of them was not uniform, given the separate statehoods given over various decades. This uneven distribution might explain why spots in Wisconsin could still have more trail marker trees surviving than previously thought. SKETCH BY KARL MCCARTY

plied to some Wisconsin trees which were allowed to live, grow and be reshaped by Natives around the 1830s, and maybe later when considering

This tree in Sheboygan County is very interesting. It has a strange bend that correlates with using rawhide to form a sharp 90 degree bend that points to Dundee Mountain. It was brought to my attention by a hiker of the forest. The widest bend of the trunk holds a girth of more than six feet. SUBMITTED squatters hung around Washington County after statehood.

In short, the timing of urbanization of Chicagoland applied to trail trees is very different when applied to rural townships around Highway 28 running through Washington and Dodge counties in Wisconsin.

A Local Equation

It is very hard to prove that a trail tree was bent by Natives. I understand that very well. But over the course of articles, I have tried to lay some arguments on trees that likely are trail trees or Native-bent trees. Rest assured there are many questionable trees excluded from the pile for publication.

So take a conservative estimate. Assuming Janssen was correct, a trail tree bent by natives could be every 200 feet. To be cautious let us triple the equation of trail tree distance. For the math, let us say in the woodlands of lower Fond du Lac County and Quickert's old Washington County, a trail tree had to be every 200 yards (600 feet).

In a typical township, the distance was six miles by six miles, dividing into often tidy 36 square sections. Using intervals that are wider than what Janssen documented, it is very easy to conclude at least 50 trail trees could have been in what became the length of a township in the areas of Washington and Fond du Lac Counties. This is because a mile (5,280 feet) should be multiplied by

Polk/Burnett Counties Trout Fishing Trip

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

This week's column is about a very cool experience where I went with a friends advice but lost my information and completely winged-it as to where to fish, camp and enjoy life.

FRIDAY, MAY 6
HIGH: 53, LOW: 36

Quite often, much of my life experiences take place real close to a "day late and a dollar short."

Today, as I filled my gas tank in Cumberland, I realized that my gasoline budget has now hit a minimum of $200 per week and, in reality, it is more than that.

As I drove toward Clam Falls in northeast Polk County, which is an area that I have never seen before, I realized that I had lost my info on creeks to fish, but the one name that stuck out was Clam Falls.

It was 5:30 in the afternoon, and I did not know where I was going to camp today or fish the following morning, which was Wisconsin's state fishing opener.

I worked my way north on County O and saw a woman harvesting firewood with her children. I asked her about fishing streams and camping ideas. She told me that she was a vegetarian and did not know. Good luck came my way when I saw a man rigging up his bass boat, and I stopped and talked to him. At first, he did not know what to tell me and than he had a brainstorm and mentioned a neighbor that has land on the Clam River that, in this section, would be in the Mckenzie Creek State Wildlife Area.

I drove over to the neighbor's house, was given permission, did an exploratory hike and — oh my God — did I like what I saw in the form of both a beautiful body of water for trout fishing and a remote setting.

Its now 6:30 p.m., and I have to figure out the camping thing.

I headed over to Clam Falls, which is a super beautiful setting and found Moodys Wildwoods Campground. I met the owners, Jackie and Rod Moodys, who did not have a spot for me to camp but let me stay in the yard where they have their camper and, by God, I opened up a PBR and built my camp.

SATURDAY, MAY 7

HIGH: 62, LOW: 37

Yesterday, I found the hole I would fish and it is about a 500-yard walk through a heck-of-a-pretty forest. I did this with my headlamp lit as if I am going to go trout fishing; I honestly believe you should be on the water at first light.

My plan would be the usual: number 10 hook, split shot, six-pound test line and a night crawler.

I was literally amazed when after two hours all I had caught was two suckers.

I kept seeing fish surfacing down stream, but there were some deadfalls, so I waited.

When I made my move, it was well worth the effort, as I worked a long, fast moving hole that, within seconds, yielded me a 12-inch brown trout.

I am not fibbing when I say the next two hours were a non-stop brook-trout-catching-experience. I landed and released at least 30, and decided to head back to camp, cook a few of them over the campfire and life was incredible considering how this trip fell into place.

Later in the day, my buddy Paul Bucher, who runs The Cumberland Advocate stopped by for some quality campfire time.

The following day, I was exploring before daylight on a different section of the Clam River in both Polk and Burnett Counties, and I witnessed quite the sight as the suckers were spawning, and it was a non-stop show that, in many cases, the fish were dropping spawn within inches of my feet if I stood real quietly in the river.

I found some stretches of river in southeast Burnett County that, I honestly believe — had it been earlier in the morning — would have yielded me a world record brown trout, maybe even two.

What I like about my style of trout fishing is that once I am fishing, I have nothing but time; "kind of like bowhunting". I make a point of blending with my environment and watch the world around me.

This trip had me doing a lot of hiking in chest waders, and my health seemed excellent.

Finally, I want to give a tip of my hat to the folks that have done some incredible work on stream/trout habitat reclamation, most likely fisheries people in the Department of Natural Resources and possibly with help from Trout Unlimited.

Sometimes it's good to live on the edge!

You can access AtoZdatabases at home or in the library. If you have questions and you are in the library, ask a staff member. I spent one Saturday helping a patron create mailing lists from a map search. I will tell you; I was not an expert on what they needed, but we were able to go through the help sections and they came away with a very workable list. If you have questions using the database from home, there are many help features included. It's called AtoZUniversity and they state that "at AtoZU, our mission is to provide quality education that will strengthen the knowledge of both patrons and librarians."

They offer online classes Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

There is a course about basic searching on AtoZdatabases. This covers the three quick search options, goes through key features of each database, and shows how to generate lists including printing, downloading, and emailing options. Another course is, "How to Find a Job, Résumé Writing & Ace an Interview." In that class they generate lists of job opportunities, go over job tips, and look at various résumé templates and tips. If you have a business, the class "How to Find New Customers & Grow Your Business" may be for you. This class shows how using AtoZdatabases strengthens client lists and can increase the foot traffic within your business. It also covers topics such as generating lists, emailing data, creating matrices, and figuring out who your competition is.

Besides the classes, there is a comprehensive help section that includes articles, how-to videos and live chat. When I was assisting the patron with mailing lists, we used the live chat and it was valuable.

I hope you take advantage of AtoZdatabases and then come on in and tell me about it.

the length of miles in most townships (six) divided by the space (600 feet) separating one average trail marker tree to the next. This math suggests over 50 trees could have been bent in a chain in what became one individual township. Mind you, this equation only concludes one trail running through what became a township — not places where paths crossed. And clearly given the significance of sites in the area, there are some townships which could have had intersecting trails.

As a reminder, the above estimate is conservative. Some trail trees were likely less than 200 feet away from each other — not 600 feet. It is possible some townships had more than 100 trail trees existing 300 years ago.

Time Minus Trail Trees = Possibilities

Recognize the above equation might run differently as you cross the marshlands of Horicon or Theresa Marsh, as there were less trees and more open spaces. However, it is surprising what has survived.

Nearly 170 years have passed since statehood. In some areas, the demise of trail trees because of the loss of forested lands easily tops 90 percent of the original landscapes. The trees are gone, dead, or removed in what are now open farm fields or villages. Even if 10 percent would still be alive, many are gone because of the intentional altering of our landscape in the past 200 years.

It is in that context that the surviving trail trees (probably less than five percent of a township's original trail trees) would be three to five trees. I am confident in time some townships in the vicinity will bare proof of more than three surviving trail trees. When that time comes, maybe we will have a clearer vision of what has been lost.

For good measure, may you be left with this: in lower Fond du Lac County, two trail marker trees are just over a mile apart. In between them, on a direct line remains open farm fields and a few fence lines. There are no remaining woods in between which date back to statehood. It seems a safe assumption there were other trail trees in between when the two nearest remaining remnants of the old forested lands of 1850 are batting a thousand.

So how many trail marker trees are out there? Most of those answers are buried in the soil. But some stand resolute as a testament to people as great as the distance their moccasins traversed. Your pictures, interest, and questionable trees are all worth bringing forward as we try to salvage some pieces the trail puzzle.

It was a pitching duel by both teams as Madi Boelte took the mound for the Indians. Boelte went eight innings (0 ER 3K 0BB) and only gave up three hits.

Julia Prochnow scored in the first inning for the Indians on a walk, stolen base, passed ball and a throwing error by the Wolves.

Winneconne would tie the game in the fifth on a throwing error.

The game remained scoreless until the bottom of the eighth when Mikaela Marquardt singled to right field. Grace Leitheiser, with two outs, stepped up to the plate and hit a walk-off double to win the game 2-1 in eight innings.

The Lady Indians managed only four hits on the day including a single by Sadie Clausing and a double by Lauren Rettler.

the support of her family and Coach Pat Janesch.

She said she was nervous, but determined, as she was the only girl from Kewaskum to qualify and had to compete against 191 of the best middle school bowlers from around the state.

In her division, Zeman again went above and beyond bowling her first game of 178 with two opens. Not to be outdone, she went into the second game bowling no opens for a 214. Due to fatigue, she struggled a little to finish with five opens at a 131 (total series 523).

She finished just shy of taking first by a total of two pins.

With such joy and excitement, Sarah gladly accepted her award and scholarship.

Zeman knows she has a lot to improve on and is ready to get back out there to better herself and the sport.

New season and a new challenge.

Warriors 5-0 on Tuesday, May 10.

The Indians' pitcher surrendered zero runs on three hits over seven innings, striking out nine and walking one. Brzozowski was extremely efficient, only having two innings of facing four batters as he faced the minimum of three batters in the other five innings.

In the first inning, Kewaskum got their offense started when Alec Cappozzo drove in one with a double.

The Indians scored another run in the second inning on a Donny Zillmer fielder's choice after a perfect sacrifice bunt to put runners in scoring position by Lucas Block.

The Indians put the Warriors away for good, scoring three runs in the sixth inning. Austin Loehr, Donny Zillmer, and Hunter Loser all contributed in the big inning with RBIs.

Evan Sauer took the loss for Waupun. Sauer went five and a third innings, allowing five runs on ten hits and striking out nine.

Kewaskum totaled 11 hits on the day. Buechel, Loser, and Zillmer each racked up multiple hits for the Indians.

The Indians were sure-handed in the field and didn't commit a single error.

Kewaskum, 7 vs Waupun, 4

The Kewaskum Indians (15-5) defeated the hosting Waupun Warriors 7-4 on Thursday, May 12, after taking the lead late in the game.

The game went back and forth throughout. The Warriors took the lead 1-0 in the third inning and the game stayed that way until the fifth inning.

After Matt Buechel reached on an error, Derek May sent a fastball over the left field fence for a home run and a 2-1 lead.

The Indians tacked on a pair of insurance runs scoring one in the sixth and seventh that proved to be crucial.

With two on and two out in the bottom of the seventh inning, Waupun's Evan Sauer hit a three run, homerun to tie it.

The Indians did not get defeated and scored three more runs in the top of the eighth to seal the deal. Jacob Brzozowski singled one in on a bunt and a few Warrior miscues helped the Indians and allowed Derek May and Donny Zillmer to score.

May started the game for Kewaskum. The righty lasted two and a third innings, allowing one hit and one run while striking out three. Zillmer was the winning pitcher for Kewaskum. The pitcher surrendered three runs on five hits over five and two-thirds innings, striking out six.

Brzozowski went 2-for-5 at the plate to lead Kewaskum in hits.

Kewaskum, 10 vs Lomira, 0

Jacob Brzozowski didn't allow a single run against Lomira, throwing a complete game shut-out with 55 pitches to lead the Kewaskum Indians (16-5) to a 10-0 non-conference victory in six innings on Saturday, May 14.

The right-hander went six innings, allowing zero runs on four hits, striking out one and walking one.

Kewaskum scored right away in the first inning on a Dylan Soyk grounded out.

ROUNDUP: Cougars Softball Wins Flyway Title

The Campbellsport Cougars softball team won the Flyway Conference after a win against Lomira and a W.L.A. loss last week

DAN HEISDORF
CAMPBELLSPORT
HIGH SCHOOL, VARSITY
SOFTBALL COACH

Campbellsport, 2 vs Winnebago Lutheran Academy, 1

In a battle of first place for conference, W.L.A. (9-2) visited Campbellsport (9-2) last Tuesday, May 10, on senior night, and the Cougars won 2-1 in thrilling fashion in a game that went nine innings.

In the top of the first, W.L.A. would score a run on a RBI double off of starter Kylie Zehren. In the bottom half of the inning, Zehren would help her own cause by blasting her first ever high school homerun to tie the score at 1-1.

From the second inning on it was a pitcher's duel, backed by some nice defensive plays by both teams. It was Zehren, however, who buckled down and only allowed one hit the next eight innings.

The Cougars had a chance in the seventh to win it, as they had runners at second and third with one out, but couldn't score.

In the eighth, Kylie Krueger got a hustling double, but, again, was stranded.

In the ninth, the Cougars finally broke through with a winning rally. Maia Morgan got on when the W.L.A. left-fielder dropped a fly ball. Brianna Thompson would then follow with a single. Speedy pinch runner Lilli Twohig was then put in for Morgan. With one out, Morgan Yahr would then come up and line a single to right center and Twohig would just beat the throw home to put the Cougars in sole possession of first place.

Thompson and Yahr would each finish with two hits. Zehren would finish with 13 strikeouts, allowing only two hits.

Campbellsport, 4 at Lomira, 2

On Thursday, May 12, the Cougars traveled to Lomira with a chance to clinch, at least, a share of the Flyway Championship with a win.

With two outs in the first, Campbellsport would get a rally going. Kylie Zehren would double and Kaitlyn Goebel and Kinsley Homuth would walk to load the bases. Zehren would score on a passed ball, then

Flyway Champs

The 12-2 Campbellsport Cougars softball team poses for a picture after winning the 2022 Flyway Conference regular season championship. SUBMITTED

Maia Morgan would walk to load the bases, again, however, the Cougars would only get the one run across.

Lomira would tie the score in the second inning, but the Cougars would come right back in the top of the third. Goebel would again walk, followed by a Homuth single. Brianna Thompson and Brooke Flitter would hit back-to-back RBI singles to give the Cougars a 3-1 lead. In the fifth, Thompson would blast her first varsity homerun over the centerfield fence to give the Cougars a 4-1 lead.

Lomira would add a run in the seventh to make the final 4-2.

Flitter would get the complete game win, allowing five hits and striking out six. Thompson and Flitter would finish with two hits each.

The win clinched a share of the Flyway Championship, however, later that night, the Cougars got some help as Mayville nipped W.L.A. 3-2.

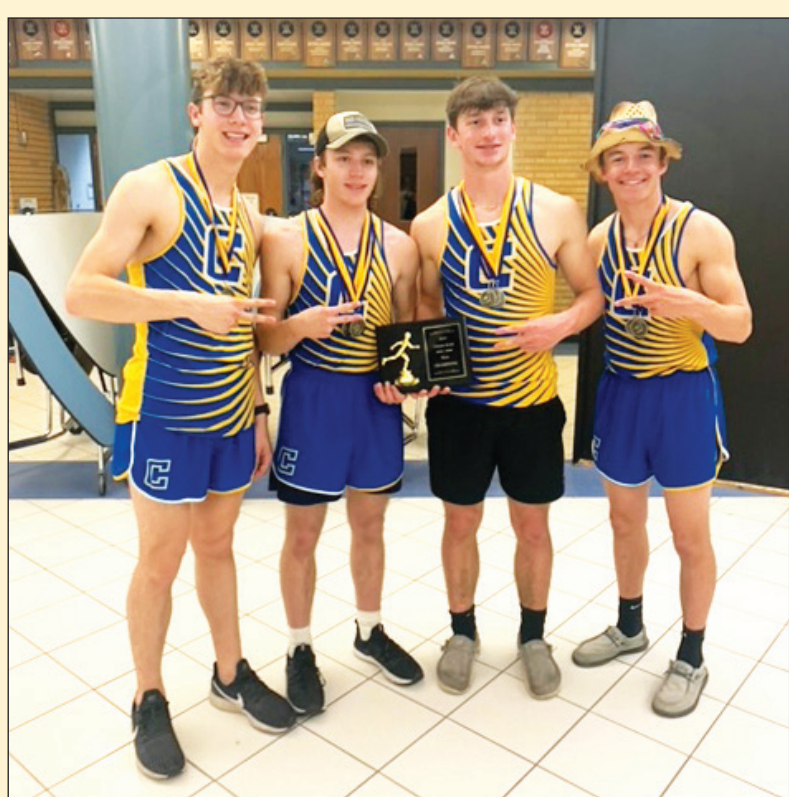

With the W.L.A. loss, the Campbellsport Cougars won the Flyway Championship outright.

Campbellsport, 0 at Random Lake, 5

A day after winning the Flyway, the Cougars traveled to Random Lake on Friday, May 13, to take on the seventh ranked Rams and came away with a 5-0 defeat.

The bats went cold as they could only muster five hits – Morgan Yahr, Kylie Zehren, Maia Morgan, Ava Sippel, and Brooke Flitter (double).

Flitter and Zehren would each pitch three innings allowing eight hits and striking out 11. The Cougars record is now 13-5 overall.

Record Breakers

The Campbellsport Track & Field 4x200-meter relay team of Josh Bath, Joseph Gardner, Mason Willacker and Jerod Weddle gather following their record-breaking run at the Cougars own invite held on Tuesday, May 10. The quartet took first place in the meet and etched their names in the Campbellsport High School history books with a 1:35.26 time. SUBMITTED

Eye black, yes or no?: Yes.

Talk about a time you hit one over the fence:

I was in Rhinelander playing in a tournament and I was down in the count 0-2, bases loaded and the game was tied. The pitch came in and I hit it over the fence for a grand slam and put our team in the lead by four.

Talk about a challenge you have had to overcome:

I had to overcome the fact of whether I wanted to continue pitching or not. Being a pitcher involves a lot of work, three extra practices a week. As a pitcher, you are either all in or all out. As I was starting high school, I had to ask myself the question of whether or not I wanted to continue pitching, but I am so glad I made the right decision to continue on and pitch. I worked hard and got myself a scholarship to play at the collegiate level, and I couldn't be more happy with my decision.

Best high school memory:

My favorite high school memory was when we won the conference championship versus Waupan. This was the first time we ever beat Waupan, and it felt amazing as it was our last game in the East Central Conference.

What has been your best game/performance of your high school career?

I would have to say the game against Waupun, again. Everyone was in that game; everyone wanted it more than anything, including myself. I played my best game then when I knew what was all on the line.

What is one thing most people do not know about you?

Most people don't know that I use the same ball to warm up every single game. It is an old dirty ball with hardly any seams. It seems dumb, but the ball has never failed me, yet.

What are your college aspirations?

I want to play collegiate softball and study accounting/finance.

What your dream job?

CFO of a company.

Cake or pie?

Pie.

Who is one of your role models?

My dad is by biggest role model because he has been given some pretty hard tasks to overcome, but he has always come out stronger in the end.

What is one of your dreams?

I play collegiate softball.

Campbellsport, 6 vs Winnebago Lutheran Academy, 1

The Cougars hosted W.L.A. on Tuesday, May 10.

W.L.A. homered in the first, but Campbellsport answered when Joey Nerat walked and stole second, and then scored on a Jalen Gellings single.

The Cougars scored again in the third when Nerat singled and Gellings homered, giving the Cougars a 3-1 lead.

Campbellsport added in the fifth when Alec Harrison and Noah Fleischman reached, Garrett Roehl drove in Harrison with a ground out, and then Fleischman scored on a wild pitch.

The Cougars added an insurance run in the sixth for their final tally.

Mitch McCarty sparkled the mound, throwing a complete game allowing only one run and four hits.

The Cougars were sharp in the field, playing errorless ball and spinning two double plays.

The win pushed Campbellsport's record to 10-0 in conference and 12-2 overall.

Campbellsport, 1 at Lomira, 3

Campbellsport suffered their first conference loss of the season on Thursday, May 12 at Lomira

Campbellsport went scoreless in the first, and Lomira took a lead in their half of the first on a leadoff double and an RBI single.

Campbellsport answered in the second when Mitch McCarty reached, Cole Kaehne bunted him over, and Alec Harrison knocked him in by reaching on an error. Unfortunately, that would be the only run the Cougars would score in the game.

Lomira had four singles in the fourth to score two runs, but the damage was limited by Noah Fleischman when he threw a runner out at home from left field.

Campbellsport threatened in the sixth, but were unable to drive any runs home and lost by a score of 3-1.

As a result, both Campbellsport and Lomira have one loss in conference play.

Levi came to play on Saturday, also making one score and another great attempt.

Emery also scored for Team Galaxy, bringing the final score to 2-1.

KMS Bowler, Zeman, Takes Second at State Bowling Competition

The seventh grader rolled against 191 of her peers on May 7

SUBMITTED

Sarah Zeman, a seventh grader at Kewaskum Middle School (KMS), is not your typical girl just starting bowling.

She has been around the alleys from a very young age and, as time progressed, she continued to improve her game. Part of her growth in the game hit a huge milestone earlier this month, as Zeman took second place at the state middle school bowling competition out of 191 in competition.

This past winter's weekly recreation league, Zeman's average finished at 127, and with coaching from her parents and brother, Zeman was determined to do well and prove she can be better.

Practice for the middle school league, which is different than any other league, bowls in a "baker" format. This consists of five bowlers each bowling a total of two frames in succession. That means your first bowler bowls the first and sixth frame, while the next bowls the second and seventh, etc.

For most of the season, Zeman was the fifth bowler and was called upon to finish the games; a big task for any bowler.

Zeman finished the middle school bowling season with 53.52% fill percentage (11 strikes, 27 spares, 33 opens). With two weeks to go until the end of the season, Zeman needed to pull her bowling game together and raise her fill percentage at least 2%. This would give her a chance to qualify for the fourth spot from the division.

Zeman was on a "roll" after being told she could make it and, at her final meet of the season, the Kewaskum bowler finished the match with two strikes, seven spares and two opens.

Leaping over her competition, Zeman clinched the spot by 1.85%.

Going into her final practice before the state competition, Zeman continued to show how practice pays off. She bowled a set of three games and had a series of 518 (145, 182, 191) with eight open frames.

The state competition was held on May 7 at Super Bowl Fun Center in Appleton.

Going into state, Sarah had
