Michels Wins G.O.P. Nomination

Tim Michels speaks at a rally, held earlier this summer, outside Midwestern Shooters Supply in Lomira. Michels won the Republican primary for governor after last week's election, and he will face off against incumbent Anthony Evers in the November General Election. Michels is co-owner of Michels Corp. (Brownsville), and is a 1980 Lomira High School grad. BREANNA RICE PHOTO

Mission Accomplished: Photo Found for every Vietnam Veteran on Memorial

After more than two decades of effort, at least one photo has been found for each of the 58,281 service members whose names are inscribed on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, according to a press release from the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund (VVMF).

The effort was made possible by hundreds of volunteers, family members and the support of local news organizations.

For newspaper publisher Andrew Johnson — a driving force behind the Wall of Faces campaign — the search was personal. His son, David, was killed in January 2012 while on duty in Afghanistan.

Johnson, who served as publisher of the Dodge County Pionier, the Campbellsport News and Kewaskum Statesman until 2020, heard about the VVMF's effort in 2014 and mobilized newspapers across the state. A year later, the last missing photo of a Wisconsin veteran was found.

He has been working with newspapers ever since to make sure there's a face for every name on The Wall.

In 2016, his newspaper published a special section displaying all the Wisconsin Wall of Faces photos — the first publication of its kind — and brought awareness to other states where photos were still needed. He also enlisted newspaper associations across the country during his term as president of the National Newspaper Association in 2018-19.

"It was an honor to serve our great republic by honoring our Vietnam era heroes by finding their photos," Johnson said in the release. "As I worked on the project, many Vietnam veterans embraced me and let me know how much they loved my son and would never forget him as they were often forgotten. In turn, I would always tell them: 'Welcome home, you and your fallen military buddies will never be forgotten.'"

The event will begin at 6:30 p.m. at River Hill Park in Kewaskum.

All community members are welcome to stop by and show off their talents! Performers are encouraged to sign up before the event but are welcome to take the stage the night of the show, regardless.

Names will be drawn to determine the order of the night and there will be a two-song limit per performance.

Karaoke music will be available as well.

If singing isn't for you, consider jumping on stage for standup comedy, poetry, magic or whatever you wish to perform for entertainment.

Whatever your talent, we want to see it! Come share your skills with your community or just come along for the support.

For more information on Open Mic Night, contact Terry Christie at chrstieeric35@gmail.com.

Primary in Kewaskum

The polls were busy at the Kewaskum Municipal Building on Tuesday, Aug. 9, as residents took the opportunity to vote in the partisan primary. Tim Michels of Lomira won the Republican seat for the governor's race, defeating former Lt. Gov. Rebecca Kleefisch and Wis. State Assembly Rep. Timothy Ramthun of Campbellsport/Kewaskum.

Once a Squire...

Dear Reader,

Every year the first weekend in August, Abbot Pennings High School, which was merged into Notre Dame de la baie Academy, holds a golf reunion for all classes who attended/graduated from that school. Pete Kirschling has led the charge over the years for our class and initiated an annual informal gathering at Nicky's Lionhead Restaurant in De Pere the day before teeing off. Traditions like this, built around an institution that developed a mammoth school spirit rivaling any other school in the state, die hard – if they ever die at all.

Last Friday at Nicky's a group of Squires gathered and caught up with the present while reliving a number of cherished memories from the past. Having a camaraderie like this that transcends decades and death is a gift. Back in the day we always said to each other "Once a Squire, always a Squire!" Last Friday night's convergence once again proved this to be true.

Recently, a murder happened in Campbellsport. Actually, two. And they were both witnessed by a small group of on-lookers. But don't worry. The killer was captured. Besides, it's all in fun. Leastwise for those who attended a performance of the Campbellsport Community Theater's production of "Murder On the Rerun."

The mystery comedy boasted a fine ensemble of players – Nicholas Timm, Hannah Thelen, Isabelle Sabish, Mercedes Hermann, Brady Bania, Emily Reigle and Samantha Zimdahl. Rose Brandl skillfully directed the stalwart cast through the intricacies of a story set in a ski lodge owned by a Hollywood producer.

As the curtain rose we heard a tumble down a staircase. At the bottom lay the actress Jane Ackerly. But the question remained: did she fall accidentally or was she pushed?

"I've been murdered," Jane declares.

"They can't see or hear you," she is informed by Kitty, a celestial being who promptly pulls out a rule book and refers to it constantly as events unfold. Meanwhile indulging her munchies.

The plot thickens. Kitty calls out each of the suspects; from a brash movie director who is "a household name" to an up and coming actress who will "do anything or one to get ahead," for direct interrogation.

Before the first act ends, a gun shot dispatches Jane's husband. The second act descends into campy convolutions; the husband and wife's spirits bickering as in life while Kitty stops the action, freezing all the suspects in motion. Throughout the entire play the fourth wall is removed, the actors talking directly to the audience.

Despite these quirky points and the contrived, almost cliché climax; the killer returning to the scene of the crime, only to be outed by Kitty and the two ghosts, a solid turn by every member of the cast still held us spellbound. And made this overall, a memorable experience.

Reader Offers Support

I was touched by Mr. [G.A.] Scheinoha's story in "Rural Writes" a few months ago. It takes great strength to admit to depression, and I am so happy that his is resolved. As to Parkinson's disease: Readers should know there is help available! From a friend who has been adjusting to this disease for years, here are some places to look:

- 1-800-4PD-INFO (helpline)
- parkinson.org/understanding-parkinsons
- apdaparkinson.org

Also they recommend finding a physician who specializes in movement disorders. FMLA should be available for work-related problems. Heaven knows, we have all paid enough into this fund over our work lives.

But, when it comes to kidney stones, I say: "Ouch!"

Again, best wishes for an easy adjustment.

Harvest, Store and Preserve Herbs from the Garden

MELINDA MYERS
CONTRIBUTOR

Keep enjoying your home-grown herbs all year round. Harvest throughout the growing season and include them in garden-fresh meals. Then preserve a few for the winter ahead.

Snip a few leaves or leaf-covered stems as needed. For the same intensity of flavor, you generally need two to three times more fresh herbs than dried except for Rosemary which has an equally strong flavor fresh or dried. So, if the recipe calls for one teaspoon of dried parsley use one Tablespoon (3 teaspoons) of fresh parsley leaves.

Continue harvesting herbs as needed throughout the growing season. And don't worry about harming the plant because regular harvesting encourages new growth which means more for you to harvest. Just be sure to leave enough of the leaves intact to maintain plant growth.

You can remove as much as 50 percent of the leaves from established annual herb plants. This is about when the plants near their final height. You can remove up to one-third from established perennial plants that have been in the garden for several months or more. Harvest when the plant has formed buds, but before they open into flowers for the greatest concentration of flavor. This is the perfect time to harvest herbs you plan to preserve.

Use a pair of garden scissors or bypass pruners for faster and easier harvesting. Make your cuts above a set of healthy leaves to keep the plants looking good. Then, preserve the flavor and zest of herbs with proper storage and preservation.

Store thin leafy herbs like parsley and cilantro for up to a week in the refrigerator. Place the stems in a jar of water, like a flower arrangement, and loosely cover with a plastic bag. Keep basil out of the fridge to avoid discoloration and others on the counter for quick and frequent use.

Wrap dry thicker-leaved herbs like sage and thyme in a paper towel, set inside a plastic bag and place in a warmer section of the refrigerator.

Freeze sprigs, whole leaves or chopped clean herbs on a cookie sheet. Or pack clean diced herbs in ice cube trays and fill the empty spaces with water. These are great for use in soups and stews. Store the frozen herbs and ice cubes in an airtight container or baggie in the freezer.

Or bundle several stems together, secure with a rubber band and use a spring type clothespin to hang them in a warm, dry place to dry out. Make your own drying rack from an old embroidery hoop, string, and S hooks.

Get creative and use some of your herbs to make a fragrant edible wreath. Use fresh herbs that are flexible and easier to shape into a wreath. They will dry in place and can be harvested as needed.

Speed up the drying process in the microwave. Place herbs on a paper towel-covered paper plate. Start with one to two minutes on high. Repeat for 30 seconds as needed until the herbs are brittle.

Store dried herbs in an airtight plastic or glass jar.

Keep enjoying these fresh-from-the-garden flavors throughout the remainder of the season. And consider preserving a few for you, your family, and friends to enjoy throughout the winter.

This article is about a mass produced postcard, a well-staged photo and a significantly blotched postmark. More than a decade ago, somewhere in a pile of postcards at a Fox Valley antique mall was a farm field photo-op which left the readers smiling and questioning. On the flipside was a four lettered town in the 1914 postmark and a mailing to Calvary with a route "41." There are still holes in the backstory, but hopefully enough to start to patch in the holes.

The real photo postcard is probably from the town of Eden or Forest. The image includes a woman (probably "Alma") who is apparently force feeding a bottle of beer to a man kneeling in a cornfield. Meanwhile, another man (labeled but unintelli-

This photocard was postmarked out of Eden's post office in January of 1914 but was mailed to the Town of Forest's Joseph Krug Jr. (1889-1966). According to his obituary, he resided all his 77 years in that township. Although the farm image leaves many questions, its lighthearted scene signifies the humor from a century ago from Eden to Dotyville and beyond.

The Dutch Girl Comparison

Eden has many great qualities to its past, but its early 1914 postmark is not one of them. It took years to say with some reasonable certainty that the farm field photo card was from the Eden vicinity. This happened once a mass produced card with a Dutch girl was located. The Dutch card has a pennant for the home town on the front which could be interchangeable with a different city or town to sell a bunch of cheap postcards. There was no message on this used Eden card mailed to Deerbrook, Wis. (north of Antigo). Although cards were meant to display personal messages, sometimes one was sent just to acknowledge to the receiver of the sender's arrival to a new town.

Another reason we know the Dutch card was mass produced is Eden's low Dutch population. Significant Hollander settlement in Wisconsin occurred in the likes of Oostburg in Sheboygan County, Randolph in Columbia County, and Waupun and Alto in Fond du Lac County. In fact, Wisconsin's Past and Present - A Historical Atlas (1998) suggests that if anything, Eden had a high population of Irish-born children compared to neighboring localities (p.17). This list of Irish-Eden folks included the last names of Flood, Ryan, Reilly, and Murphy among many other families - many of whom worshiped at St. James Church, whose cemetery remains on Highway F.

German and Germanic speakers were potent too, especially in Ashford to the south with substantial Southwest German influence. In time, Eden's Germanic influence increased when the Irish married them. Present day Eden locals also point out a substantial Italian population associated with quarries in Marblehead. Thus, it seems Eden's rank of ethnicity would be Irish first, German second, and Italian third. That ranking is unofficial, but gible) is in the background slamming down another bottle, while a child holds a corn cob. An older woman in the left background appears to be smiling as well. Across the image on the bottom: "Try and come to Eden. I took this this fall." Given the postmark from 1914, we can assume the image captures the fall fields of 1913.

This postcard from Eden is an example of a mass produced card that could easily stamp a different hometown depending on the order. However, its sloppy postmark from Eden proves that the early 1914 postmarks from the Eden post office are hard to decipher.

Local-specific postcards were made in the early 1900s, and they are very special works of art and history. Evidence suggests this is a family-decision to mail out a funny picture. For example, there is no business on the front or back of the postcard to indicate it was taken to market a specific town. In addition, there is no "made in U.S.A." stamp, or Germany (many cards were printed overseas), nor is there a number indicating a more mass-produced image. Some locally produced images include postcards for weddings, bands, and family farms. This one is right on farmland, probably located in eastern Fond du Lac County.

Bernice Ellen Scannell

Bernice “Bunny” Ellen (Bunkelman) Scannell, age 93, of Kewaskum, went to her heavenly home, with loving family by her side, on Friday, August 12, 2022, at Froedtert West Bend Hospital due to pneumonia (unrelated to Covid).

Bernice was born on July 19, 1929, in Kewaskum to Louis and Lorinda (Meinecke) Bunkelman. She attended Kewaskum High School, where she was prom queen and had the honor of being salutatorian of her 1947 graduating class. While in high school, she worked at Regal Ware, where she was given the nickname of “Bunny” because she worked as quick as a bunny. That nickname stayed with her all of her life. Bunny aspired to go to college and become an English teacher, but her dad was against the idea. She then started working at the JC Penney Offices in West Bend.

Shortly after high school, she met the “Love of her Life,” Bob Scannell. They met at a dance at Round Lake. According to Bunny, Bob spied her from across the dance hall and approached her. It was love at first sight for both of them. They were together from that day on. Bob and Bunny married on June 11, 1949, and had a beautiful 70-year marriage.

Together they raised a loving family of six children: Sue (Don) McCullough of West Bend, June (Chuck) Kocken of Oshkosh, Pam (Jerry) Lahmann of Wauwatosa, Jean (Mark) Homan of Waupun, Kelly (and fiancée, Jeannie) Scannell of Jackson, and Jeff Scannell of West Bend.

Bunny was a “stay-at-home Mom” while her children were young. She instilled the love of reading in her children, and taught them the value of a dollar, responsibility, good work ethics, and love for family. To others, she taught what true kindness looks and feels like. She saw the good in everyone and everything. Bunny was a 4-H leader, a girl scout leader, and involved in every aspect of her children’s lives, whether it was sports, band concerts or theater. Once her children got older, she worked at the Kewaskum Movie Theater, then returned to JC Penney, where she worked until her retirement.

Bunny’s membership at Peace United Church of Christ meant the world to her. She was quite active in her church activities: Women’s Guild, Bible Study, and Sunday School Teacher. Her biggest thrill was chairing the “Granny’s Attic” at their fall bazaar. She considered all the people at her church family.

Bunny loved her flower garden and enjoyed sharing her “Garden of Eden” to anyone who would stop by. Bunny also loved decorating her house for every season and holiday. She loved dancing (big band music), going to movies and plays, using acrylic paints to decorate, took many classes from cake decorating to sewing, playing cards, playing Chinese Checkers, shopping, and being a loving mom and wife. She was a collector of angels and, of course, bunnies. Her famous German Potato Salad was a favorite at our family reunions.

Bunny is survived by her six children; 10 grandchildren, Pat, Heidi, Mitchell, Jenna, Keith, Krystal, Neda, Ian, Hunter and Lily; and four great-grandchildren, Charlie, Alice, Liam and Ellen. She is also survived by one sister-in-law, Betty Scannell; and many wonderful nieces and nephews, who were dear to her heart...especially her nephew, Bob (Elaine) Guell.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Robert Scannell; parents, Louis and Lorinda Bunkelman; in-laws, George and Viola Scannell; infant son, Robert Louis “Bobby” Scannell; brother, Edward (Marion) Bunkelman; and brothers-in-law and sisters-in-laws; Florence (John) Twohig, Leo (Elaine) Scannell, Mary (Jim) Twohig, Margaret (Allen) Guell, Tom (Sis) Scannell, Jim (Pat) Scannell, and June Twohig.

We would like to thank the congregation at Peace United Church of Christ who continuously sent cards to Bunny, letting her know their thoughts were with her. A special thank you to Reverend Eric Kirkegaard, who was there for mom and helped us through this very difficult journey. We will be forever grateful.

We would also like to thank the staff, especially the nurses, at Froedtert West Bend Hospital where Bunny was a patient for over two weeks. They were so caring, compassionate and respectful towards our sweet mother and our family.

A visitation for Bunny will be held on Saturday, August 20, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at Peace United Church of Christ (343 First St – Kewaskum, WI 53040).

Service of Christian Burial will be held at 11 a.m. Reverend Eric Kirkegaard will officiate the service. Live streaming of Bunny’s service can be found on the Peace UCC Youtube page. A private family burial service will be held at the Peace Cemetery in Kewaskum after the service. Memorials can be given to Peace United Church of Christ in Bunny’s honor.

Bunny was a lovely person with a smile that would light up a room. She never raised her voice or said an unkind word to anyone. She brought happiness and warmth to everyone around her. She dedicated her life to making a happy home for her family. She was an amazing wife, mother, grandma, great-grandmother “Nana,” sister, aunt and friend. Her hugs were gentle squeezes that lasted long after she let go. Her kisses were so genuine and sweet. She was the heartbeat of our home, filling it with warmth and love. She truly was the heart of our family. Bunny was an angel on earth. She believed in guardian angels and is now one of them.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral and Cremation Service is serving the family with online condolences and guestbook at www.myrhum-patten.com.

The Empire Threshing Association is hosting its annual threshere on August 26. Many different activities will be held throughout the day - old-time steam threshing, cutting, plowing, baling, chopping, and silo filling.

It was a beautiful summer night and the Golf Club at Camelot was packed for the annual Cougar Booster Club Golf Outing and Hall of Fame Banquet on August 11. This was the fifth year for the Hall of Fame, which had four inducted. Glenn Stommel earned eight varsity letters, four in cross country and four in track. Along with his numerous individual accomplishments, which included setting school records in both cross country and track, Stommel's cross country team won the state title in 1972, and was three-time regional and sectional champs in 1970, 1971, and 1972. Rick Huspen earned six varsity letters - four in wrestling, one in football, and one in baseball. He won a state wrestling championship in 1989. His high school wrestling record was 129-9. Huspen was awarded a wrestling scholarship to UW-Madison, earning a degree in microbiology in 1995. He passed away in April of cancer. Carissa (Serwe) Donath earned eight varsity letters, three in softball, three in bowling, and two in volleyball. She pitched four no-hitters and five one-hitters in softball. In bowling, she was state runner-up in team and singles in 2001-2002. In addition to her individual accomplishments, the teams she was on also had success. Both of her grandfathers are also CHS Hall of Fame members - Mathias Serwe in 2013 and Richy Steinacker in 2014. Rick Gruber earned 11 varsity letters, four in wrestling, four in cross country, and three in track. He was a three-time state wrestling qualifier, runner-up in 1978-1979 and 1979-1980. The wrestling team was state champion in 1979-1980 and runner-up in 1978-1979. His career wrestling record was 114-10. Gruber went on to wrestle at UW-Oshkosh; while there, Gruber's record was 131-13.

Pictures from the Campbellsport Main Street Mania event showed how much fun people had - there was food, events, demonstrations, games, vendors, and more.

Many of the programs and the items on the shelves at the Campbellsport Public Library are paid for through donated and raised funds. An article listed the items from the past few months.

On August 1, the Campbellsport 1 Majors team wrapped up its season at Columbus Parc with a 13-5 win over Lomira. The win earned the girls a third place finish in the league. Team members included Mckenzie Oelke, Lily McClanathan, Keyanna Schultz, Carissa Heisdorf, Alexis Feucht, Lauren Heisdorf, Emmie Pierret, Kylie Hermann, Rebecca Volz, Amber Thompson, Cheyenne Sachen, Kaylee Petersen, Brooke Flitter, and Kiteara Malueg.

A long line could be found throughout the day as attendees waited their turn for a cob of corn during the annual Dundee Corn Roast on August 12. The event was hosted by the Northern Kettle Moraine Crooked Trails Snowmobile Club.

The Eden Park Commission held a meeting on August 16 to discuss the nature area part of the Eden Community Park. When the park was originally designed, a nature trail and area was planned for the portion that is on the opposite side of the railroad tracks, behind the former Shepherd of the Hills Church. Dennis Immel said something needs to be done with the area as the commission hasn't done anything with it for five or six years. With Mark Birschbach voting against it, a motion was approved to get started on the project. A pond will be the first part of the project, which was the reason for the nay vote. Birschbach said it's a safety issue. A motion was also approved for a preliminary gazebo plan to be developed.

Members of the Eden Village Board discussed solutions to a drainage problems in the village during the August 16 meeting. The problem is around Parkview Drive. This water is coming from Highway V and coming down the area behind the homes. The swail that was originally designed in that area is not catching enough of the water. Three options were discussed. It will take a while to work out the best solution for the problem.

The Campbellsport Board of Education met August 20 and approved the tax levy amount that will be brought before the electorate at the annual meeting. Using the most current figures, the levy is predicted at $6,948,000. This would give the district a balanced budget.

Liz Becker, a member of the Campbellsport 4-H, won Best In Show, Best of Breed, Best Opposite Sex, and Breeder Class Champion with her Rex Rabbits at the Fond du Lac County Fair this year.

August 25 is the date for the Empire Threshing Association's Threshere. Antique tractors and machines will be showcased. There will be demonstrations showing the way threshing, cutting, plowing and silo filling was done many years ago. A new attraction will be a steam engine owned by Matt Harvey of Campbellsport. It will be displayed and demonstrated.

Even though a car was locked, it was broken into due to a slightly rolled down window. A purse, which was covered, was stolen. Police Chief Randy Karoses told people to lock belongings or valuables in the trunk of the vehicle.

On August 14, Molly Gehrt, an EMT with the Campbellsport Volunteer Fire Department, received a commendation by Flight For Life for exemplary care and assistance rendered while the Flight For Life team rendezvoused with the department on a recent call.

Members of the Welcome 4-H Club, along with three of their friends, collected garbage as part of the Adopt-A-Highway program. The group consisted of Ally Williams, Ana Hardenburger, Madelyn Wendt, Cassandra Theisen, Elicia Engel, Mayu Shibata, Masha Hardenburger, Brittany Wendt, Dominic Theisen, and Viktor Hardenburger.

The 2007 Kettle Moraine Pony League All-Star Game was played recently. The West team defeated the East 18-2. The West team consisted of players from Kewaskum, Farmington, Eden and Long Lake. Area members of the 2007 Kettle Moraine Pony League West All-Star team included Tyler Zangl, Brandon Jacobs and Josiah Hess from Eden; and Shane Jacklin, Ron Braun, and Kevin Gonring from Long Lake.

Robert C. Huck, 83, Fond du Lac, passed away August 14. Daniel A. Rathmann, 58, Campbellsport, passed away August 17. Robert Raether, 57, West Bend, passed away August 17. Karen J. Schinske, 50, Fond du Lac, passed away August 15. Lolita Meisinger, 88, Fond du Lac, passed away August 19. Ralph Alvin Lumby, 91, formerly of Fond du Lac, passed away August 18.

In what's been called a "historic" initiative, three state agencies and the Wis. Small Business Administration have teamed up to help family farms in Wisconsin. Lt. Gov. Scott McCallum said this is the first time such an alliance has been created, aimed at farms in the state. The focus of the program will be those farmers who are "getting by."

Although interrupted by brief showers, it was another successful corn roast at Dundee this past Saturday. The event is sponsored by the Crooked Trails Snowmobile Club.

Experience farming the way it used to be when you attend the Empire Threshing Association's annual Threshere on August 16.

Major David W. Elwing, USMC, has begun a nine-month course of instruction at the highly prestigious Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island. He is a 1976 graduate of Campbellsport High School.

Idlewile Inn in St. Cloud was unanimously chosen to receive the coveted and prestigious International Award of Excellence for 1996-97 by International Restaurant and Hospitality Rating Bureau. Idlewile Inn scored exceptionally high point totals on every evaluation report received. The charming restaurant offers an outstanding selection of delicious international entrees. Hosts Dave and Brenda Panko always make sure their guests are attended to by a friendly and efficient waitstaff and served entrees made from the finest and freshest ingredients available.

A Tale Of Two Trishes will be presented by Dundee Mill Park Days. The Friday night camp-out will explore roles played by women during the Civil War - a northern wife and a southern wife. Included in the information will be how each differed in lodging, duties, and dress.

A son, Nikolas, was born August 6 to Mickey and Shelley Frank of Campbellsport.

| KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY |5 Years Ago
August 24, 2017

Kewaskum, Gateway to the Kettle Moraine, was highlighted on WTMJ Radio 620 last Friday. John Mercure and his crew broadcasted from the Great Outdoors Supper Club on Friday afternoon. The radio personalities had discovered the venue when they stopped in one evening last winter. It made an impression. During last week's broadcast, the Kewaskum Community Pantry was presented a check for $1,000 from Terri Lodwick of All American Window & Door. Also during the broadcast, Mercure asked Joel Lawien, co-owner of Great Outdoors Supper Club, what makes Kewaskum special. Lawien answered that it's Kewaskum's small-town feel even though it's bigger than a small town, the friendliness of the people, mom and pop shops, and that the four families that founded Kewaskum are still in the community in some facet.

When Dave Gerhartz saw the fossil, he knew right away it was something of interest. Preliminary research shows that the fossilized gastropod that Gerhartz recently pulled out of the Milwaukee River near Dundee could be 488 million years old. He found the fossil lying on the bottom of the river as he and his family participated in the Kettle Moraine State Forest's Mighty Mussels nature program. The Beechwood resident teaches science at Fond du Lac High School.

After a four-year vacancy, the assistant forest superintendent position at Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit team has been filled. Joe Giesfeldt accepted the position and joined the team on August 7.

The Kewaskum Village Board will hold a town hall/listening session to hear input from village residents and businesses about a proposal for a new park - 31 acres of wooded land off of Edgewood Road to be donated by the James D. Reigle family.

Holy Trinity School has a new awards display case, thanks to an Eagle Scout project that Will Walters just completed. The project took a total of 200 man hours, which was spent drafting, sawing, installing and staining the cabinet. The 17-year-old began working on the project in January. He had to first get approval from the church, the building committee, the Boy Scout Troop and the Boy Scout Council. Now a senior at Kewaskum High School, Will attended Holy Trinity School from 4K through eighth grade.

Six different seniors scored as the Indians beat Milwaukee Lutheran 44-28 in a non-conference football game. Those who scored included Tony Steger, Gabe Christenson, Patrick Krier, Danny Kreis, Cole Surprenant, and Cade Peterson.

The Kewaskum A's moved one game closer to the Rock River Grand Championship Series (best of three) with two dramatic wins last weekend. On August 19, facing elimination, the A's rallied to score nine runs in the bottom of the ninth to walk-off with a 12-11 win over Hartford. The next day, the A's were down 3-0 after five innings and finished regulation tied 3-3. The A's took the lead in the 10th and Hustisford was unable to score, giving the A's a 4-3 victory.

John R. Tessar, 86, Kewaskum, passed away August 16. Cyrilla A. Thull, 91, Kewaskum, passed away August 15. Edgar A. Roehrborn, 75, passed away June 2.

During the open house to show off the Village of Kewaskum's new lift station, Jim Noren explained the monitoring station's operation to the attendees. Noren is the village's water pollution control lead operator. The new lift station is located behind the fire department. Village Administrator Jay Shambeau stated he was pleased with the turn-out of 35 residents at the question-answer session.

After filming a scene at Zahn's Trading Post in New Prospect, an independent movie producer is excited to announce the premiere of the film. The Times Cinema will be the first theater showing The Legend Trip. The movie features Mark Metcalf from Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Animal House. It is directed by Jason Satterfield. The Legend Trip is based on a true ghost story set in Wisconsin. The movie was filmed in several locations.

On August 11, Sister Katy LaFond publicly proclaimed her first profession of vows of poverty, chastity and obedience as a School Sister of St. Francis. Sister Katy is the new principal of Holy Trinity Catholic Grade School in Kewaskum.

A correction stated that information regarding the fund balance for the Kewaskum School District published last week was incorrect. That article said the district may have a surplus of $1,799,193. It should have said there will be a deficit of $479,800.

A second man has now been charged in connection with a murder on a Town of Kewaskum dairy farm. A 35-year-old Village of Kewaskum man is currently serving a life sentence for the incident. Oscar Ruiz, 33, of Kewaskum, was charged August 13 in connection with the 2005 murder of Roman Sanchez. He is facing two counts of conspiracy to commit first-degree intentional homicide and one charge of being party to a homicide. The criminal complaint reveals Ruiz threatened Anselmo Gonzalez-Castillo to get him to kill Sanchez, his brother, Rosendo, and his sister, Gabriela Solis. In December 2006, Gonzalez-Castillo was sentenced to life in prison for the murder of Roman Sanchez.

The quick response from the Kohlsville Fire Department resulted in a family sustaining smoke damage instead of the loss of their home. The fire department, along with the Washington County Sheriff's Department, responded to a report of a car on fire inside an attached garage. The vehicle was a total loss, and there was water and smoke damage to the garage drywall.

The first performance at the new Kewaskum Theater will come from Haiti and feature the Resurrection Dance Troup of Haiti.

Kewaskum students will be heading back to school with a new schedule and a new way to learn. Principal Christine Horbas and new Associate Principal Anne Ignatowski say the largest change for returning students will be the implementation of the four-block schedule.

A daughter, Victoria Ann, was born August 16 to Jade Zadrazil and Nathan Kenworthy of Kewaskum. A daughter, Grace Olivia, was born to Mike and Sara Lehner of Kewaskum.

About half a dozen parents with children who attend private schools outside the Kewaskum district voiced objections to proposed bussing plans for this school year. The students would ride a regular bus with students in the district and then be transferred to a shuttle bus that would take them to their private schools. The shuttle bus will cost $10 per day compared to the $29 per day for a separate run on a regular route. This is the first year Johnson Bus was awarded the bussing contract. Supt. Floyd Brenholt will meet with Johnson Bus officials and report back to the school board.

The newly-created position of junior high counselor in the Kewaskum School District has been filled by Katherin Kongevick. She is a graduate of UW-Superior.

Greetings from the Campbellsport Library!

Summer at the Campbellsport library “swam” right past! We had so much fun hosting events on Wednesdays for our Oceans of Possibilities summer theme and seeing so many smiling faces visit us each week to check out books and hand in bookmarks. This year we really wanted to visualize all the hard work that children put into their continual reading efforts throughout the summer. Each week children ages 2-12 picked up a bookmark to log their reading hours. The next week they brought them back to us at the library, and we turned them into the legs of our lovely summer mascot, Othello the Octopus. The totals are in, and we collected more than 600 bookmarks to create Othello’s legs this summer! That’s a total of 48,000 minutes read, or 800 hours! Congratulations to everyone who participated this summer, you should be proud of your hard work and dedication to continual reading and growth. The library is proud to support young readers and encourage the strengthening of their skills and enjoyment each summer and beyond.

On Wednesday, Aug. 10, children and families who visited us at the library also enjoyed doing a craft with the Campbellsport 4-H members. A very special thanks and a shout out goes to the Ohme family who put together two fish crafts for children to do. We are so thankful for your help. If you or anyone you know is looking to join 4-H or would like to learn more about it, you can join them at their next meeting on September 14, at 7 p.m., at Campbellsport Elementary School. More information is available by emailing csport4hleaders@gmail.com.

The Holy Land

The public is invited to come listen to a talk entitled “The Holy Land,” with Pastor Steve on Wednesday, Aug. 24, from 6-7:30 p.m. Pastor Steve DeLano of the Campbellsport First United Methodist Church toured the Holy Land in June. He will share pictures and insights from his spiritual journey in Israel. Contact Pastor Steve if you have any questions at 920-917-3600. Light refreshments will be provided.

Monday Movie

It’s almost time for our next Monday Movie. On August 29, at 1 p.m., we will be showing “Belfast” – a 2021 British coming-of-age drama film written and directed by Kenneth Branagh. The film stars Caitríona Balfe, Judi Dench, Jamie Dornan, Ciarán Hinds, Colin Morgan, and newcomer Jude Hill. The film follows a young boy’s childhood in Belfast, Northern Ireland, at the beginning of The Troubles in 1969. The film received seven nominations at the 94th Academy Awards, including Best Picture, winning for Best Original Screenplay. It was named one of the best films of 2021 by the National Board of Review, and tied with “The Power of the Dog” for a leading seven nominations at the 79th Golden Globe Awards. Popcorn will be provided.

On August 10, children and families visit the Campbellsport Public Library and participate in making a craft with Campbellsport 4-H members.

KEWASKUM LIBARIAN

With a happy sigh of relief, the library has completed a successful summer learning program. We had record numbers in participants and minutes read, all prizes have been drawn with winners notified and good memories were made with performers, participants and volunteers.

Two hundred forty-seven people registered for the program either through the Beanstack app or in the library. Better yet, 175 of those were active participants with 76 completing the program and earned 2,854 badges for reading and completing learning activities. The best accomplishment is in the hours read. A total of 3,800 hours of reading took place during the eight weeks of the summer learning program! That is an average of 21 hours per active participant. Not bad at all. Of course, many readers surpassed the goal of 15 hours read for the duration of the program. It is interesting to note that adults were in the majority of the most hours read with teens coming in for a close second. What I find fascinating in viewing the statistical reports is seeing names of regular patrons from the little ones to the adults.

Regarding programs, we had 37 programs with 937 people participating. A colleague mentioned that we had as many programs as much larger libraries, with at least four each week or more. That was a lot of work for our staff so we are pleased with the results. We were able to hold storytimes outside most Wednesdays with the good weather. We started with the 125th Kewaskum celebration and ended out the program with a luau picnic at Kiwanis Park. Some notable programs included the record turnout for Miss Kim’s Amazing Animals, the popular escape rooms, and visits from the Wisconsin Maritime Museum, Community Rivers Program and Milwaukee Public Museum. Adults enjoyed the beautiful photos with the engaging narrative about Wisconsin lighthouses with Ken and Barb Wardius.

I graciously thank our donors and volunteers for the success of the Summer Learning Program. Cousins Subs, Culvers, Kwik Trip, Milwaukee Art Museum, Milwaukee Public Museum, Orenda Kayak Rentals, Schlitz Audubon Nature Center, Texas Roadhouse and Wisconsin State Fair donated the coupons included in book bags provided to registrants. Coffee Corner Bistro, The Gift Nooke and Hon-E-Kor Golf Course made generous contributions to our prize baskets. Kewaskum’s Dairy Queen and Piggly Wiggly discounted goods for our yummy picnic luau lunch. Kewaskum Women’s Club bestowed upon us a monetary gift that allowed us to go above and beyond in programs and final book prizes. Being the fuel it forward recipient from Kohn’s Filling Station in June provided a beneficial start to the program. Finally, I want to thank volunteers Cheryl, Debbie and Kim for their time, Kewaskum Public Library staff to giving their all and all Summer Learning Program participants for this summer success. Let’s start planning for next year!

Two Holes-in-One at Camelot's Annual Stars and Stripes Scramble

The ninth annual Stars and Stripes Scramble took place at Camelot Golf Club just outside of Lomira on Tuesday, Aug. 2, and in addition to the fundraising event gathering more than $135,000 in donations for local veterans and Salute the Troop Fond du Lac, the unimaginable happened during play as two golfers each scored a hole-in-one on hole 13 by the tourney's completion.

Ian Stawicky of Muskego used a seven-iron from 176-yards and found the bottom of the cup.

Sami Williams of Milwaukee used a nine-iron from the 114-yard tee for her hole-in-one.

For Williams, it was her first shot of the entire day.

it is fair to say the Dutch were not even in the top three in Eden Township, and the postcard was a cheap, funny or suggestive card to mail the year World War I started.

Despite the generic quality of the Dutch girl postcard, it was valuable because it's postmark was a sloppy stamp that could not be certain to be Eden until compared with another messy postmark of a potential Eden card at the same time.

Who is Mr. Krug?

Now back to the farm field postcard. The most significant link to the farm postcard is who it is mailed to Mr. Joseph Krug Jr. of Calvary Wisconsin, "R.F.W. No. 41."

The text is a lengthy paragraph, albeit hard to decipher the faded pencil a century later. Please remember the use of [brackets] in my writing is used to show alteration or commentary in the present – not original text of the past.

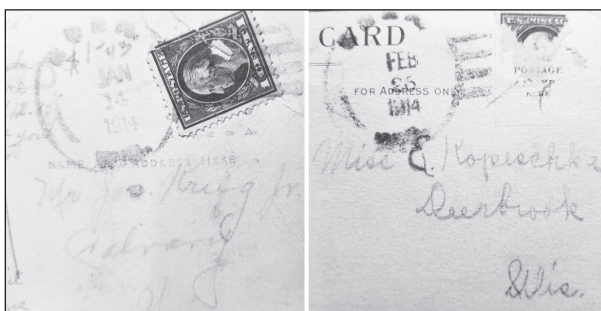

The 1914 Eden postmarked field picture says the following: "Hello Joseph – How do you feel? Chewing again I suppose ha[.] Told Alma what you wrote [-] she laughed about it. They were there until 1.30 you left at 12.15. You must of went some [where?] are you coming to the card party Thursday night or were you at Calvary? Didn't find my ring must of got lost out doors or else in your pocket yet, but don't worry your head about it[.] [I] am home alone. Tony's [Name in question] gone down home. wish you were here. Is your answer Friday [?] From me."

In regard to Joseph Krug Jr, the recipient of the postcard, Find a Grave has three men by the name of Joseph Krug listed as buried in Wisconsin on its website. Two of the three were father and son. Therefore it can be said with certainty that this card was mailed to Joseph J. Krug (1889-1966) the "Jr.", who would have been about twenty five when he was mailed this card in the Town of Forest. He is the son of Joseph J. Krug (1850-1922), who is buried in Rienzi Cemetery in Fond du Lac. The junior of this post card is buried in Forest Cemetery.

Tangible Evidence

As we try to figure out any more on this image, and the accurate details surrounding it, here is what we do know. First, the significance of an Alma. Somebody named Alma living between Eden to Dotyville area is likely the person pictured beer bottle feeding a man on the front. Those who had a relative with the first name of Alma, likely born around the 1880s, could be the actor in the farm picture. "Alma" is also referenced in the back. It is still unclear who is "Alma," but Joseph Jr. had a sister "Ida A. Krug" who married a Wagner. At the time of publication I could not verify if the "A" was for Alma and Ida preferred to be called it.

Second, the Eden post office had a bad stamp in early 1914. The Dutch postcard – however generic – is helpful in answering questions about the Eden postmark. This Dutch image had a similarly sloppy postmark on February 26, 1914, suggesting the Eden post office may have had an issue with the stamping or the ink pad in early 1914. This date separates the photo farm field postcard and the Dutch card only by six weeks within the Eden post office. This is important for those collecting Eden history, and not to throw away cards with a sloppy postmark that appear to be of the local Wisconsin town of four letters in the ink.

Two postmarks of Eden from the postcards of this story. When taken together, it's clear that those who have early Eden postcards may not be sure they are from Eden given the poor quality of the stamping, particularly in early 1914. This is important because individuals with local postcards from the 1910s should be careful when trying to historically locate the postcards they own.

This map of the Town of Forest comes from a portion of a Fond du Lac County map in its 1910 plat book. The Krug family was northeast of Dotyville, east of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and north of what became Highway 23. They resided in the vicinity of Section 9.

Third, how much information did the postman know? There is also the observation of postcard messages. The Dutch example is simple with no message, as the card itself was enough to indicate to the receiver the intended message. Meanwhile the farm picture has a manifesto written on the back. It makes one wonder all the details the post office knew in the 1910s when all those messages had to be postmarked, and subsequently possibly read at the office. Also, just a decade out of the Victorian Age and its quest for privacy, no doubt some were worried about what the postman was reading in an open message. This could be why the Dutch girl postcard has no message, and the

This map of the Town of Forest in the 1910 Fond du Lac County plat book shows a portion north of Dotyville and today's Highway 23. The land of Joseph Krug hugged what became known today as Log Tavern Road. At the time of publication, it could not be verified if it was the senior or junior Krug who owned the 160 acres in 1910, as both were still alive at that time. However, Joseph Krug Jr. would have only been in his early twenties in 1910. The father passed already in 1922. Please note the "Calvary #41" line on the plat map, indicating the postal location matching the postcard in this story.

Krug mailing is signed "From me."

Fourth, be aware of the significance of old postal routes and addresses. This picture might have more to do with the Town of Forest as it is mailed to Joseph Krug. The 1910 plat book of Fond du Lac County shows a "Jos. Krug" with 160 acres in Section 9 in Forest Township northeast of Dotyville. Moreover, his farm runs on the "Calvary #41" line, which was the postal zone matching the postcard's address. Although Jos. Krug is not from Calvary, plat maps of Forest and Marshfield townships are connected in 1910 by the "Calvary #41" line that runs up to Mount Calvary and Calvary in Marshfield Township. "Calvary #41" also covered much of the postal zone in the northern third of Forest Township.

Additional Questions

More questions are still left. Where is this image taken, and can anyone look at the hillsides and make a good guess? Maybe it is Eden Township, but perhaps it's closer to where the Krug Family lived. Also, how is this Alma tied to Mr. Krug?

At the very least, we can appreciate people between Eden and Forest had some edgy humor and were willing to photograph it permanently. It survives 109 years later.

LAND BETWEEN THE MARSHES |

The Last Thresheree

CONTRIBUTOR

The following is a historical piece by contributor Rob Bowe who recalls a thresheree in neighboring Theresa township in the 1950s.

Best I can remember, it was about 1959 when mom's family had their last thresheree. Mom's brother, Arnold Christian, farmed with their stepdad Eddie Zimmermann, on Allen Road, Theresa township. Grandpa Eddie had a monster Oliver "Red River Special" threshing machine. It was bigger than most of the threshers used in Dodge County. I was just 12 years old and in my eyes that piece of machinery was bigger than life.

The Red River Special was a mechanical marvel of whirling pulleys, drive belts, clanking chains and whizzing fan blowers. It shook, it shuddered and the sound it made while running was awesome. It was just the kind of contraption that would capture a young boy's imagination.

"Thrashing" as the old timers called it was hard, sweaty work. It always took place during the hottest part of summer, the end of July into August when the oats turned golden, ready for harvest. Families and neighbors would gather to provide the manpower and the means to get the grain harvested and "in the bin."

In the old days, a grain binder pulled by a team of horses would cut, tie and bundle the standing oats into sheaves, then drop them onto the ground. By the 1940s, tractors replaced most of the horses on field machinery.

A crew made up of men and boys then took the grain bundles (sheaves) and stood them up, grain heads up, to aid drying. This stack was called a shock. A shock usually consisted of six to eight sheaves of bundled grain. The shock stood for several days until it was completely dried out. Then the crop was ready to be threshed.

Meanwhile Grandpa Eddie was getting the Red River Special ready for the first job of the season. During the threshing season, Grandpa and Uncle Arnold would take the big thresher to several farms of those neighbors who didn't have a thresher and made up the crew who helped Grandpa and Uncle get their crop "in the bin."

On the big day, after morning milking and breakfast, family and nearby neighbors on the threshing crew showed up. Many came with their kids. The older girls would tend to the young ones and keep them from being under foot.

There was a sense of excitement in the air. It was a big day. Grandpa noted it was going to be a "hot one," meanwhile the women went about peeling potatoes and prepping the big meal that would feed the threshing crew. Some of the men headed to field to load wagons while others went about helping Grandpa Eddie set up and block the pulley tractor and threshing machine in place.

The big Red River Special sat on the upper barn floor between the hay and straw mows. The bundle/feeder/conveyor hung out of the front door doors facing the pulley tractor. A long drive belt stretched between the tractor's pulley and the threshing machine drive pulley. This provided the power to run the big machine.

The straw discharge blower pipe extended out of the back of the barn about 15 feet, hanging over the barn yard below where a huge straw stack would soon be blown. The grain discharge pipe extended from threshing machine into the granary. The granary was its own little house, a structure about 20- by 20-feet by 7-feet high. A flat board roof covered the granary which sat on the barn floor in the straw mow area. Straw blown into the mow above would soon cover it. The granary had a Dutch door to go in and out. Threshed grain would be stored in big bins within the granary.

The first wagon loaded with oat bundles arrived from the field and was backed in place. Grandpa started the tractor and eased the clutch on the pulley drive into gear. The belt started to turn and the monster thresher came to life. Grandpa watched and listened carefully. When satisfied the machine was running and humming properly, Grandpa Eddie gave a thumbs-up and my dad pitched first bundles into the roaring machine.

The first sheaves were pulled into the beast by giant claws, grabbing and pulling the bundles off the conveyor into the beast. The tractor snorted a bit, belching black smoke out of the exhaust as the governor opened up a bit. The big machine bore down. Hidden flailing knives went to action cutting the twine and stalks up, dropping straw and oats onto the hidden separator racks, shaking below. Deep within the giant machine the process of separating the grain from the stalks took place. The machine rocked and shook a bit, but did not move as it was securely blocked in place.

Once the grain separated from the straw, the fan and blower deep within the belly of the beast sucked up the straw and chafe and then blew it out of the blower pipe into the either the barn's straw mow or a straw stack outside in the barn yard. The threshed grain dropped and gathered in the belly of the beast and was sent by conveyor to either into a gunny sack filler sac or the granary, where we boys shoveled and leveled the grain as it piled up. Bundle after bundle was pitched into the machine and when that wagon was empty, another one was moved into place and the process repeated itself until he last bundle was threshed.

Grandpa was constantly observing and tweaking the machine, checking and making sure the oats were being properly threshed out, oiling whatever needed oil and adjusting the direction of the blower pipe to evenly spread the straw that was blown into the mow or onto the outside stack. Occasionally, the men switched jobs, so one could get a bit of a rest while driving the tractor and empty wagons to field and bring back a loaded one.

Dinner time (lunch) was a big part of a threshing crew's day. It usually was a bit later, around 2 p.m. when the heat of the day was coming in. The later meal gave everyone a chance get out of the heat, relax a bit and eat. The women and girls prepared and served up big plates of meat, potatoes and gravy, fresh greens out of the garden, fresh homemade bread and lots of pie. The crew enjoyed good food and good conversation with lots joking and laughter going on, mostly in German. German was still the language of choice for the older generations.

When the eating was done, the crew went out in the yard and stretched under the big shade trees to rest a bit and enjoy a bottle of beer. I do remember distinctly that the beer was Theresa's own, Pioneer Beer. It was pretty common for a dad to give his son a drink from pa's beer bottle in those days. My cousins, Loren, Fritz, Allen and I hung around our dads, hoping they would offer us a "schluck" of beer. At the time our ages ranged from 12 down to 10, and the political correctness of today's world didn't exist. We got our "schlucks" of beer and went away feeling like we had grown up a bit more that day.

Soon the men went back to work and the threshing continued until it was done or the sun would set. If they weren't finished, they would come back and finish up the next day.

Meanwhile the women and the younger kids would sit down and eat, followed by clean-up and washing dishes. After the women finished the dishes and such, they would pack up the younger kids, go home to do their own chores and start evening milking.

Well, the crew finished all the threshing at Grandpa's and Uncle Arnold's that day. The next morning Grandpa hauled the "Red River Special" to another farm and the process would be repeated until all the farmers who were on the threshing crew had their grain crops "in the bin."

That year, a neighbor of Grandpa's, who had previously been part of the threshing crew for many years didn't help. Instead, he harvested his oats crop with a brand new-fangled, pull-type motor combine. It was fast and required much less man power, than the customary cutting, shocking and threshing of oats and small grains.

During the following winter, there must be a bit of conversation about the new-fangled pull-type combine across the road. By the time the next grain harvest rolled around the following year, Grandpa Zimmermann and two of my uncles had partnered-up and bought a self-propelled combine between them and... it was the end of the line for the "Red River Special."

Overview of the K.H.S. Football Team

KHS COACHING STAFF

The 2022 edition of the Kewaskum football team will be led by a talented but inexperienced group of 15 seniors.

The team elected quarterback Ryan Cook, lineman Cale Fedorski, lineman Sam Gauthier, running back/linebacker Hunter Loser and receiver/back Carson Rolf as captains for the upcoming season. Among the five captains, Loser is the lone East Central All-Conference performer returning, as he earned Second Team honors in the East Central Conference as a defensive lineman during the 2021 campaign.

On offense, Loser leads a talented backfield, which looks to be the deepest part of the team and where many players could see action including: senior Dillan Steger, senior Donny Zillmer, senior Nathan Heller, junior Dylan Soyk, junior Casey Schmidt and junior Nick Deheck.

Up front, the offensive line is led by Fedorski and Gauthier who were both starters as juniors. Fellow seniors Adrian Brinker and Patrick Simpson, along with juniors Braeden Gissal, Luke Graf, Oliver Haydin, Matt Miller, Kaiden Naumann, Jacob Ebert Matt Perales, Cole Rochon, Andrew Simpson and Dakota Waala will look to keep quarterbacks Cook and (junior) Dawson Stahl well protected.

Sophomore Aeden Chojnacki may also see time on the offensive side of the ball, too.

On the outside, Cook and Stahl should have many targets to throw to including Rolf and senior teammates, Owen Parish, Derek May, Brody Kral, Brady Butzlaff and Brady Schultz. Junior wideout candidates include: Bailey Ralph, Mitchell Becker and James Martin. Up and coming sophomores Zach Behn, Sam Ciriacks and Landon Daniel

Kewaskum works together to get the tackle during an exhibition contest against Kiel at home last week Friday. The Indians' football season will begin on a Thursday night as Kewaskum hosts West Bend West at Doc Mitchell on Aug. 18 with kickoff scheduled for 7:30 p.m. BREANNA RICE PHOTO could push for playing time, as well.

Juniors Matt Oelhafen and Oliver Voight will man the tight end position.

Defensively, the Indians will look to stop their opponents with a deep linebacker corps consisting of Soyk, Heller, Voight, Zillmer, Steger, Oelhafen, Schmidt, Rochon and sophomore Everett Donath.

The defensive line will be stout using a combination of Loser, Gauthier, Fedorski, Gissal, Miller, Naumann, Graf, Brinker, Perales, P. Simpson, A. Simpson, Ebert, Haydin, Waala and Chojancki.

The secondary will be fast with the likes of Rolf, Ralph, Parish, Kral, Butzlaff Becker, May, Stahl, Schultz, Deheck, Martin, Ciriacks and Daniel.

The Indians open at home this Thursday, Aug. 18, against West Bend West.

The coaches and players hope to have a big crowd, as Kewaskum is back to football!

Local Golfers Raise Money in Memory of Korth

The National Tavern Keepers Golf Association (NTKGA) raised $2,000 for the Kewaskum Grid Iron Club. The money is being raised in honor of Jonsey Korth, president of the NTKGA before he passed away after suffering a heart attack on the golf course a few years ago.

The members of the NTKGA put together a fundraising golfing match at Hon-E-Kor to raise money in Korth's honor.

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

The Closing of a Chapter

This week's column is going to be all over the map but centered around one thought: Memories and what has taken place since my life partner Michelle Chiaro, who was an ICU nurse at the Gridiron hospital in Hartford, passed away unexpectedly on June 15.

I have been blessed since Michelle's passing by literally hundreds, probably 400, kind acts by friends, neighbors, family and readers of this column, and I want to say: Thank you!

My family held the first Celebration of Life for Michelle, and it was a campfire/picnic event at our home, Michelle would have loved it.

On July 15, Michelle's coworkers had a picnic at Pike Lake state park near Hartford. It was six hours long and planned so that both day and night shift could come. I brought hunting and fishing pictures as well as her crossbow and a beautiful dress that we had a family portrait taken in. Again, Michelle would have been so proud.

I hate to touch on this subject, and I know that I will heal, but I am a mess, and honesty feel like I have lost my mojo.

Michelle was addicted to the outdoors and was a horse woman before I came along, but she immediately got into anything outdoors. Last year she shot her first turkey and was getting a full mount on what is the biggest bird that I have ever called in for someone. My good friend Todd Krueger at Todd's Taxidermy is doing the mount, and I was going to surprise Michelle with it in our living room.

Last Thursday, I headed down to Little Italy, Arkansas, which is where Michelle's family is from and where her final, and largest, ceremony would be held. The drive was quite the adventure in The Chevy Hotel, as I had brought Red along and for the first 400 miles. She had diarrhea. The air conditioning does not work and, let me tell you, it was steamy in Arkansas.

Michelle's funeral was Saturday, and I was given the honor of being one of the speakers. I was a wreck for days, but pulled it off, and one of the stories that I told was of how Michelle saved the life of my golden retriever, Ruby, when she was giving birth back in April. We kept a pup that that I named Red, but she

Michelle Chiaro's turkey. The bird is being mounted and will be proudly displayed in Mark Walters living room. MARK WALTERS PHOTOS

Athletics Lose Last Two Starts

CAMPBELLSPORT NEWS
AUG. 8, 1947

The following are articles from the Aug. 8, 1947 edition of the Campbellsport News. The pieces are largely unedited and display the style and convention used "back in the day."

The last two Sundays have been disastrous to the Athletics as they lost both games, the first game on July 27 to Kewaskum 10 to 1, and last Sunday to Belgium by a 15 to 2 score.

Getting off to a one run lead in the first inning, Kewaskum went on to win with 3 runs in the 4th, 1 in the 5th, 3 in the 7th, and 2 in the 9th.

Marx pitched for Kewaskum, held the Athletics to five hits, while his teammates got 14 off three local pitchers.

L. Bath led the Kewaskum attack with 3 hits while Ketter netted two for the Athletics.

Costly errors at the wrong time settled the game for the Athletics Sunday when they played Belgium.

They looked good in the first inning with one run, but failed to connect again until the ninth.

I. Baumhardt scored twice for the A's while also getting one of the hits and the other to his brother Deanie.

Belgium wasted no time on the game coming up with 6 runs in the first inning and then scoring each inning except for the 6, 7 and 9th.

Gritzmacher led the Belgium hitting with 4 for 6 trips to the plate, Schmidt followed close behind with 3 for 5.

Belles Drop 3rd in League Play

The Belles were in a generous mood Sunday, and because of their mmisplays they handed the ball game to Adell by a score of 8 to 1.

The defeat was the third of the season for them, and they now must win all of their remaining games in order to have an outside chance of repeating as champions.

"Chuck" Schramm was sidelined because of a pleurisy attack and handed the pitching chores over to his nephew, Fritz Jr.

The youthful right hander pitched a steady game and deserved to win, but errors by his mates in critical spots proved too much of a handicap. He pitched a total of 2 and 2/3 innings; allowed no runs, 5 hits, walked 2 and struck out three. Glen Lemke came in from his centerfield past in the 6th and also pitched creditable ball.

Adell collected a total of eight hits with Sauter and Neumann getting two each. The Belles were rationed to a total of 6 base blows with Stan Hodge getting 2 for 4.

On Sunday the Belles travel to Waucousta to meet Herbert Pieper's fighting nine.

wanted to name Rosey. While speaking to all of her many friends and family, I told the story and announced that Red's AKC name would be "Rosey Red Chiaro."

Michelle had many people travel for this day, and it was cool to visit with her former classmates from Good Council Elementary School and Mount St. Mary's Catholic High School out of Little Rock. Of all the people on the face of this earth, I have never met a person that people liked, loved and admired as much as Michelle. There were nurses representing hospitals from all over the United States where she had worked.

I also think I should mention that this was a three-day event, as it was St. Francis of Assisi's Catholic Church's Centennial in this incredible community, which made Michelle's celebration three days of good people spending time together.

Deacon Chris Dorer, you are loved by your community.

I have written about what was becoming an addiction concerning her desire to hunt, fish and camp with me. During the grave-side ceremony, I was quite possibly given the largest honor of my life when I saw that her parents, Vince and Tony Chiaro, who I feel very close to, had made the decision to put a fish, a turkey and a deer on her headstone.

There is not a minute that I don't miss her!

Campbellsport Learning to Work Together on both Sides of Ball

CLARICE CASE
JOURNALIST

The Cougars football team traveled to Kewaskum on Friday for scrimmages against Random Lake and Nicolet.

“Offensively, we still need to get our timing down, as well as play every play to the whistle,” said Todd Wondra, head coach. “Our o-line is still learning to work together and communicate as one unit.”

Wondra believed senior quarterback Mitch McCarty “read the defense well” and threw the ball accordingly.

The defense is still learning to work together, as there are nine new starters. Wondra noted that his boys will need to work on attacking at the hips instead of the shoulders.

“We saw enough good plays that we know it will get there in time,” said Wondra.

The team is looking forward to playing their first game of the season on Friday night in New Holstein. The Huskies finished in the bottom half of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference last season, and were shutout by Lake Country Lutheran in level one of Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association Playoffs.

The Cougar’s first home game will be Aug. 26, as Campbellsport hosts former East Central Conference rival Kewaskum.

Kickoff for both of Campbellsport’s first two contests are scheduled for 7 p.m.

C.H.S. to Induct Two into Athletic Hall of Fame

TOM GRIESEMER
ASSOCIATE PRINCIPAL/ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
CAMPBELLSPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Campbellsport High School (CHS) Athletic Hall of Fame Committee is proud to announce two new inductees for the class of 2022: Jenny Wiesner (2000 graduate) and Joe Stoffel (1994 graduate) are most deserving of this prestigious honor and will join the other 42 members of this club.

The first class of the CHS Athletic Hall of Fame was back in 2013.

If you do not know them, I will outline a few of their accomplishments as to why they were selected. We will honor Jenny and Joe in a manner that they see fit. We will have more information related to any ceremonies as it gets closer. Joe is considering doing his ceremony at a football game and Jenny is considering having her event at a girls’ basketball game.

Jenny (Wiesner) Ballwahn was a seven-letter winner and, especially, excelled at basketball for which she lived and breathed for her entire childhood. She was a member of the 1999 state runner-up team set a state record in number of rebounds in one game with 20. During Jenny’s years, the Cougars were also regional champs in 1998, 1999, and 2000. Jenny was Honorable Mention All-Conference (1998), First Team All-Conference (1999, 2000), EWC Player of the Year (2000) and All-State Honorable Mention (1999, 2000). She is third all-time in school scoring with 960 points and led the EWC

Conference in scoring with 376 points (2000). Jenny is in the top-10 for assists, steals and rebounds for her career. Jenny was also awarded the EWC Player of the Year (2000). The 1999 season was the perfect combination of an amazing coach (Tim Flood) and five starters that had been dreaming of playing at state since freshman year and were willing to put in the work it took to get there. Jenny also ran cross country all four years, (to get in shape for basketball, of course) and had an awesome coach to mentor her and be a positive influence (Mr. Kulibert). Jenny went on to play division two college basketball and coached youth basketball. She still remembers the highs and lows of high school sports and the amazing impact good coaches have on a player’s life.

Joe Stoffel was a three-sport athlete who won nine letters in track, football, and basketball. Joe played a major role on numerous teams. He was the captain of both track and football his senior years. The football team qualified for the playoffs (1992, 1993) and the basketball team won a conference championship (1993). To say that Joe had hop in his step is an understatement. He was the conference champion in the high jump three times (1992, 1993, 1994). His senior year Joe went to state and was the runner-up in the high jump. Joe cleared a whopping 6’ 6” in the process of setting the school record. With those kind of hops, Joe went on to excel in track at UW-LaCrosse. He competed and contributed for four years. Joe was on teams that were twice indoor conference champions, four times outdoor conference champions, and both indoor and outdoor team national champions (1997). Individually, Joe was a two time All-Conference in high jump and three time All-Conference in javelin.

As you can see, these two inductees are deserving members to our Hall of Fame.

This is just one way that we continue to share our CHS story. We are always considering new applicants for the CHS Athletic Hall of Fame. There were no new applicants submitted this past year.

Consider nominating some of the very worthy Cougars from the past. You can nominate an athletic contributor, a player, or a coach who has exhibited excellence in the area of athletics. Simply go to the Campbellsport Middle-High School webpage, select Athletics, and then find Athletic Hall of Fame link located in the central region of that page.
