Village of Kewaskum Seeks Construction Manager for New Building

ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

At the Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Oct. 3, Village Administrator Adam Gitter presented the most recent conceptual drawings of a new 27,000-square foot municipal building that will house the police department, public library and village offices.

The plan is to tear down both the current municipal building on First Street and the municipal annex building and replace them with one large building located where the annex currently is and stretching east to cover a portion of the municipal parking lot. The latest drawings are of a two-story building, which features a stone veneer and large glass windows.

The board voted 6-1 at last week's meeting to seek a construction manager for the building project. The construction manager will help determine cost estimates for the project, which are not yet known.

The board had previously decided to move forward with constructing one new facility at that location.

This latest plan shows that the municipal parking lot would have 69 parking stalls, a loss of 34 parking spaces from the current 103 stalls. A previous plan had a loss of 10 stalls.

That was a sticking point for Village President Dave Spenner, the only one to vote against the motion to seek a construction manager.

"My concern is that I don't think the sequencing is in the proper order. I think that we built community support to the loss of 10 parking spaces, and then for us to rush to the next step of having this construction manager without checking back in with the community should not be the next step. I would have preferred for us to look at what the community has to say about the change in impact to the parking," Spenner said after the meeting.

To add space, there is a possibility that the village could add parking stalls behind the Main Street businesses, according to Gitter. To do that, the village would need to get easements from all the building owners.

The Building

The village board had previously decided it wanted to go from two buildings, the current village hall and the municipal annex building, to one shared facility located where the annex is.

"The board said they wanted a 9,000-square-foot footprint, and also wanted to maximize the amount of shared space that we have," Gitter said.

Village departments worked to achieve that goal, with each department making some compromises.

The new drawing has village offices encompassing 1,730 square feet, the police department with 5,670 square feet, the library with 6,316 square feet and 13,476 square feet of shared space, according to Gitter. In a report from 2020, space needs were determined to be about 12,693 square feet for the library, 7,285 square feet for the police department and 1,710 square feet for village administration.

In the conceptual drawing that was presented at last week's meeting, the library is located on the second floor, while village offices are on the first floor. The police department is split between the first floor and the basement of the proposed building.

A large glass area on the first floor is the village board room, while the second floor offers a large community room where large groups could gather. Also on the second floor is the library, kitchenette, restrooms and study room. The library plans to raise funds to cover at least a portion of the new facility.

Tracing Family Roots

One man's journey to fill out his family tree

ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

In 1993, when John Henry Coulter-Vorpahl Jr. was at a Vorpahl family reunion, he heard a rumor that his family was Polish. The family's surname supposedly had been something like Vorpinski or Vorpalski.

John Henry wanted to know if that was true.

"I started researching. Well, we are German. We are not Polish," John Henry said.

John Henry continued researching. He wanted to learn more about each of his ancestors. Before long, as he did more genealogy research on the Vorpahl family, he started looking at the Coulter side of his family. He found that there were some incorrect names on that side of his family tree.

"I have to do that side too, because I can't have this wrong," John Henry said.

Since then, John Henry has been finding information about his ancestors. He has acquired hundreds of photographs and loads of information about all his relatives. He has photos of his great-grandparents, great uncles and great aunts from both his mother's side of the family and his father's side of the family. Extended family members are in the collection as well.

John Henry knows who each person is, when they were born, when they were married and how many children they had. He knows when they died and where their graves are. He knows where they worked and what their personalities were like. He knows personal stories about many of them.

He researches each of them in his home office. Then he carefully takes notes and files the information on his computer.

"I put it in the system and back it up. Then I print off new sheets and file it. So I don't forget anything, I follow the same steps each time," John Henry said.

Integrity

Dear Reader,

Vince Lombardi, arguably the Packers' greatest coach of all time, once said that "Winning isn't everything; it's the only thing." But I am sure that had he been asked, he would have added one important word: Fairly.

"Winning fairly."

At times we see attempts to cheat in football. For example, a receiver tries to cover up the fact that he really didn't catch the ball, or a defender acts as if he didn't interfere with an offensive player's opportunity to make a reception. Fortunately the replay cameras don't lie and those individuals usually don't get away with it. But we all bear the scars of some incredibly bad calls against the Packers (like against Seattle).

Other would-be cheaters use drugs to enhance their performance, thus camouflaging their true ability. Lance Armstrong, one of the world's best-known cyclists, comes to mind. All of his titles were vacated and he was banned from cycling for life after his extensive doping was discovered. There also is some question about whether he used a small electric motor to give his bicycle extra juice on the tough climbs.

Recently an American Grand Master chess player admitted to cheating in previous matches. While disclosing his wrong clears up a few artificial wins he may have stolen from the true winners, it doesn't restore his integrity, nor does it convince anyone he would never again cheat to win.

Winning when cheating is not really winning. The cheaters, both in sports and in life, are the real losers, regardless of whether their wrong is exposed.

Deep Time and Ice Age Memories

The Kettle Moraine State Forest – Northern Unit's Evening with Nature Series continues with Deep Time And Ice Age Memories. The program is scheduled on Thursday, Oct. 13, starting at 7 p.m. at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center is located at N1765 Hwy 67, Campbellsport, which is a half mile west of Dundee. The evening's presenter, Herman Bender, is an independent researcher, writer, and editor with a background in geology and an amateur astronomer with decades of experience. He is nationally and internationally published in many fields of study.

For further information, contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is 920-533-8322 and is open Wednesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

G.A. SCHEINOHA
CONTRIBUTOR

Where has summer gone? Wasn't so long ago this parcel overflowed with a happy, laughing, boisterous crowd who celebrated Independence Day.

Today I sit at a table beneath a shelter on the brow of the slope at Campbellsport Firemen's Park. Now the only sound is the scratch of pen across paper, while the wind ruffles the page. Words inch along like fuzzy black caterpillars.

If it wasn't for the overhang of conifers edging the drive and entry into the park, it'd be pretty much a commanding view; a straight shot down Main Street. Though the sight would've been slightly different back in the day.

Oh, the trailer court is still there but across the street then sat Gipper's bar. Next to it Hensen's Apparel, the local newspaper's office flanked by Schlaefer's Hardware, and the optometrist. Woody Kleinhahns ran the True Value Hardware. Followed by Ben Franklin, the bakery and Heldt's drugstore. Meyer Ford occupied what's now Drexel. Their used car sales lot just across the way.

When you crossed Main Street, there was Graphic Imaginique. Proceeding came the First State Bank, Twohigs Funeral Parlor and Furniture Store. Next to Ray Weis' tavern, Thelen & Janous garage, the American Family Insurance and on the corner, the Bauer, later Amber Hotel. The feedmill fronted Brigham Hixon lumberyard and Jaycak Implement completed the tour.

The buildings are the same. Though the names have changed along with the businesses. Despite the changes, this town is where I lived through childhood. No matter that I left 45 years ago, the village calls me back to its embrace. That siren song in my ears brought me here to write these words.

Someday I'll return for good. Take up more permanent digs in Union Cemetery, along with my parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles. Yet even then, my spirit may roam these parts. Once and forever home.

Washington County Anti-Crime Plan Referendum: Our Children's Safety is Priceless

On a beautiful, sunny Friday, I was looking forward to going out to lunch with some of my mom-friends. I was very pregnant and this might have been one of my last opportunities in a long time before I had my fifth child.

As I chatted with one of my good friends, she looked down at her phone and said to me:

"You have a kid at Slinger Middle School, right?"

"Yeah, why?" I responded.

She informed me that her husband, who is on the SWAT team at a local police department, got called for a "tactical situation" at the school. My mind instantly thought of the tragic Uvalde, Texas shooting just three days prior.

I immediately got up and called the school just to get a constant busy signal. I called my husband, mom and step-dad, as I sped down HWY 60 to get as close as possible. Everything was blocked, and I felt helpless.

There was then word that parents were supposed to meet at the bowling alley for further information. At this point, I didn't know what to expect.

As I saw the crowd of terrified parents gathered together, I squeezed my way in to try and hear any tidbit of information. We slowly found out that it was, thankfully, nothing serious and everyone was safe.

But, I was still very anxious to hug my 12-year-old daughter, who I was sure was just as frightened. After waiting in a line of cars for over an hour to get to the school, I decided it would be quicker to take the 3/4-mile walk.

My 38-week pregnant body started running (actually waddling) in my flip flops to reunite with my sweet girl. By about 3:30 p.m., I had her safely in my arms.

I'm so grateful for the quick response of the school staff, the police and all other departments who were involved in keeping the kids safe. I was quite impressed and proud of our community, especially after hearing how things were handled in the Texas shooting.

But, I did recently find out that there was a special training for law enforcement just 10 minutes down the road at the Washington County Fairgrounds. This is not to discredit their amazing response, but it does put a different perspective on things.

What if that training had not been going on? Would the response time, and the way things were handled, have been the same?

For me, I would give anything to ensure my children's safety at their school. Having more police presence in the schools, so that we can feel more secure about the environment our children are in, I believe is a good thing.

Thank you to Sheriff Schulteis, County Executive Josh Schoemann and the County Board for not just doing enough to get by but giving us the chance to fund a robust plan.

Ask yourself, what is a safer community and safer schools worth to you?

I say it's priceless.

ite pastime for John Henry. He likes to work on it when he has vacation from his job as a manager on duty at Fox Brothers Piggly Wiggly in Saukville. That is when he has time to really sit and concentrate.

“I memorize things. I like to know dates and names, so I wait to work on it until I have time to do it,” explained John Henry, who is 55 years old.

He uses Family Tree Maker software to organize the data on his computer. But he doesn't go to the internet for information.

“People always tell me to do things online. I don't do that. I really have only had to go to relatives, courthouses and historical societies to get information. Most of it is firsthand information,” John Henry said.

As he researches, he sometimes comes across misinformation, like an incorrect date or a misspelling.

“I don't like to change things unless I know for sure that it's right. I like to see documentation,” John Henry said. “I try to verify everything the best that I can with accurate information. I just don't want to be the person spreading wrong information.”

To get that, he goes to cemeteries and takes photos of headstones.

“People are always questioning dates. And cemetery stones don't lie, so I take pictures of them so I have them,” John Henry said.

He also has things like marriage certificates, First Communion records, death certificates, obituaries and newspaper clippings.

He has come across some amazing coincidences in his work.

For example, he wanted to display the engagement and wedding pictures of his Vorpahl grandparents, so he had the photos enlarged. Then, he went to the Antique Mall in Kewaskum to get picture frames for the photos. He found two frames that were exactly what he was looking for, so he brought them to the cashier.

“She told me that etched in the glass was 1924,” John Henry said.

He couldn't believe it. That was the year that his grandparents were married.

John Henry lives in an old Cream City brick farmhouse on Orchard Valley Road in the Town of Farmington.

The house itself is packed with history. The John Henry Coulter-Vorpahl Jr. will share photos and genealogy information with the public on Sunday, Oct. 16, at 1:30 p.m. at St. Michael Parish Hall, 8883 Forest View Road, Kewaskum. The public is invited; there is no fee to attend the event, which is presented by Farmington Historical Society.

kitchen has exposed logs from the original log cabin home built in 1840. On the floor in another room are marks where an altar and pedestals once stood when church services were held inside the house. The basement has meat hooks from back when the house was a working farm.

The house is decorated with antiques and collections that John Henry has acquired over the years. Many of the items are family heirlooms.

“When my grandpa died, my grandma wanted me to have things. She gave me a lamp and some stuff. I didn't appreciate all that stuff back in 1987, because I was just a young boy. All the stories and stuff that I could have learned from them,” John Henry lamented.

He now treasures each of those items. He uses the collection of items and photos to research the past.

“I am so lucky my Grandma Vorpahl lived to be 88. She wrote on the back of all her cardboard pictures, so I was able to know who they were,” John Henry said.

Many of the photos are displayed in frames throughout his house. But he also has hundreds of photos with detailed information that he stores in organized boxes in another room of this house, which he calls the Genealogy Room. The room is filled with organized boxes and photos, all labeled

Washington County Caregiver Coalition Offers Caregiver Day of Renewal

The Washington County Caregiver Coalition wants to give our community caregivers a break from caregiving by offering them a Day of Renewal. Family Caregivers frequently give... their time, their strength, their energy, their ALL. Caregivers must find time to take care of themselves and their own health to be effective caregivers to those they love.

This day of relaxation and rejuvenation for family caregivers will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 2, from 9:30 a.m. – 3 p.m. at Cedar Valley Retreat Center, 5349 County Road D, in West Bend.

Caregivers can take part in a number of activities including chair massages, reflexology, reiki, acupuncture, mini-facials, mini-manicures, essential oils, paint rocks, or give wood burning a try. Caregivers can enjoy the beautiful scenery at Cedar Valley by walking their trails (weather permitting) or by sitting in a comfortable chair and watching wildlife from the indoors. A delicious lunch will be provided to caregivers.

The closing presentation will be Journaling for Resilience, presented by Amy Hackman, Washington County Community Health educator at Advocate Aurora Health Care. Amy will teach participants the fundamentals of journaling as well as the benefits of journaling for stress management and self-expression. Each participant will receive their own journal and pen for the activity. The day will end with door prizes (must be present to win).

Pre-registration is required on a first come first served basis. Limited space is available. Registration fee is $5. Registration (name, address, phone, email address) and $5 payment is due by October 28. Make checks payable to Washington County Treasurer. Mail to WCCC c/o ADRC of Washington County, 333 E. On October 14, the School Sisters of St. Francis will hold a ceremony of dedication and blessing of a memorial monument for its former St. Joseph Convent in Campbellsport. The convent closed in 2015.

Dundee Sportsman's Park will be the site for the Dundee Fall Color Car and Craft Show.

September Students of the Month at Campbellsport High School have been announced. They include Ryan Schneeberg, Raleigh Biertzer, Ashley Dreikosen, and Trevor Ramthun.

Andrew Johnson, publisher of the Campbellsport News, was elected vice president of the National Newspaper Association board of directors last Saturday in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Susan Rowell is the president of the organization and publisher of the Lancaster News located in Lancaster, South Carolina. NNA is an organization made up over 2,000 community newspapers that aims to preserve, enhance, and promote community newspapers across the United States.

Waupun was the opponent for the Cougars football team and Campbellsport won the Homecoming game 38-14. The Cougars did all their scoring in the first half, leading 24-0 after one quarter and 38-0 at halftime. Dylan Urban and Connor Kissinger accounted for all five Campbellsport scores. With a 4-4 conference record, the Cougars will travel to Plymouth on October 13 to wrap up the regular season.

Campbellsport's volleyball team needed just three games to beat Waupun on October 5. The two seniors on the team were honored: Kaitlyn Schill and Catrin Homuth.

The golf season came to an end for the Kewaskum-Campbellsport Kew-Cats at Sectionals. The team just missed its goal of finishing better than it did in Regionals (397) with a 399. But Coach Amy Uhlig was pleased that the girls had advanced to Sectionals. Campbellsport's Alivia Wisnefske finished her high school golfing career on a high note, shooting a 43-50-93. She tied for 22nd place overall. Alyssa Dreher, a sophomore at Campbellsport High School, placed 34th with a 48-50-98.

The Cougar girls finished third with 79 points at the Cougar Invite held October 5. Campbellsport had five runners in the top 25. Ava Sippel took third in 14:21. Two seconds later, Elli Scannell placed 14th. Morgan Yahr took home 18th place with a time of 15:12. Izzy Bente's time of 15:31 gave her 25th place. The top finishers for the Campbellsport boys were Ike Grahl, 20th, 18:40; Connor Hamm, 44th, 20:05; Sam Grahl, 45th, 20:09; Jared Engel, 51st, 20:44; and Cole Kreis, 70th, 26:10.

Harold Mapes, Jr., 87, West Bend, passed away October 5.

Grahl graduated from CHS in 1987 and is currently a school counselor at Sturgeon Bay High School and a mental health therapist at Counseling Associates of Door County. He said it took about six months to get the first draft done because he knew what he wanted to say. Skinny Boy is a very personal book and includes details of Gary's family life. Grahl is in the process of writing a second book, but this one will not be personal; this one will be a young adult fiction book.

Campbellsport School District will be getting $148,000 less state aid this school year than last school year. This information was learned by the school board at its October 15 meeting.

The Campbellsport Lions Club made two donations of $1,000 recently. One was to the Van Beek family of Campbellsport. Two-and-one-half-year-old Isaiah was diagnosed last December with Acute Myeloid Leukemia. The other was to the family of Eden resident Tony Sabel. The college student at UW-Whitewater was injured in a snow tubing accident earlier this year.

Placing eighth overall out of 45 teams at the agronomy judging contest held at World Dairy Expo was the Campbellsport FFA judging team of Vicki Ziebert, Peter Schultz, and Scott Felton. The dairy judging team of Brittany Rentmeester, Jessica Urban, and Rikki Ruplinger placed 46th.

It was a victorious Homecoming football game for the Cougars as Campbellsport shut out Two Rivers 20-0.

The Campbellsport soccer team shut out Kewaskum 2-0 on October 11. The first score was Neil Scannell with an assist from Paul Flood. Kevin Flood scored the second goal with Pat Kelley getting the assist. The Cougars defeated Two Rivers 4-2 on Monday.

A son, Porter Nicholas, was born October 3 to Nick and Stephanie Klotz of Campbellsport. A daughter, Natalie Laura, was born October 3 to Henry and Jessica Wagner of St. Cloud. A daughter, Sadie Jane, was born October 1 to Brad and Gail Homuth of Campbellsport. A son, Evan Patrick Lucas, was born October 2 to Melissa Kleinke of Campbellsport.

Alma A. Kollmann, 87, Fond du Lac, passed away October 8. James R. Crofts, 49, Eden, passed away October 10.

25 Years Ago October 9, 1997

A beautiful October day and vibrant fall colors were the backdrop for the dedication ceremony of the Bob Wilke Memorial at Columbus Parc in Campbellsport last Saturday. Friends and co-workers were in attendance as speakers paid tribute to the former Campbellsport Police Chief and founder of the Campbellsport Neighborhood Blockwatch Program. The rest area and memorial are located at the entrance to the hiking trails at the park, along the Milwaukee River.

During the Campbellsport School Board meeting, Dennis Glaeser, director for the Center for Accountability and Assessment for CESA 5 and 6, made a presentation on the future State Standards and School Accountability testing. Testing in the past has been norm-based, which essentially means comparing students to each other in the final results. The new state testing standards would "raise the bar" according to Glaeser, and expect more from the students and teachers alike.

Jack Smith was honored on October 3 for his 40 years of hauling milk. He began hauling bulk milk to Sealtest and Bordens in Milwaukee for Jim Whitty on October 12, 1957. On March 1, 1979, Jack purchased the route of Jack Majerus and hauled milk to Stella Cheese in Campbellsport and later to Baker Cheese and Farmers Union. He has driven over 900,000 miles.

King Nick Kreif and Queen Kelly Kleine were crowned at this year's Homecoming Dance on Saturday night.

Coming off a somewhat disappointing Flyway Conference Meet last week, the Cougar boys cross country team snapped back with a fifth place finish at the Omro Invitational on September 30, defeating seven teams. Campbellsport's best finish was 14th in 18:25 by Jesse Muench. Mike Melahn finished 16th in 18:50. Nick Martiny was 23rd in 19:15; Scott Rademann, 24th in 19:16 (personal best) Ben Discher, 51st in 20:46; and Steve Galligan, 61st in 21:45.

Although the Cougar football team took an early 6-0 lead over Laconia, Campbellsport couldn't stop the powerful Spartan running game and lost 20-6.

The Lady Cougars improved their conference volleyball record to 4-1 after defeating Lomira 15-11, 15-2 and 15-3. Becky Immel served strong for the Cougars with 15 for 15 perfect serves.

The Broncos won the flag football title. Members of the team included Ryan Thiede, Taylor Lenz, Kyle Witt, Brandon Serwe, Scott Tucker, Pat Marquardt, Adam Petersen, Collin Tarras, Josh Bortz, Justin Bialk, Josh Ruplinger, Ben Hafermann, Cassie Volm, Casey Voss, Tim Schmitt, and Mitch Tarras.

A daughter, Ashley Marie, was born September 24 to Raenell and Dean Emmer of Campbellsport. A daughter, Cheyanne Lee, was born September 24 to Vickie and Glen Renderman of Campbellsport.

Sister Idwina Thuecks, 98, Campbellsport, passed away October 5.

Following its custom of former years, the Campbellsport Lions Club will again sponsor a Halloween party for the kiddies of the community. A parade starts at 7 p.m. from the pump house to begin the festivities. Prizes will be awarded for all around best dressed boy or girl; the best boy or girl comedy character; and prizes for groups of two or more.

Due to the lack of interest by the original subscribers of the Ten Pin corporation, it looks like Campbellsport will not have bowling alleys unless some private interest moves into town. A meeting scheduled for October 2 was postponed to October 10, but only about one-third of the subscriptions showed up for the meeting, making it impossible to do any business. The directors plan to call another meeting to decide whether or not to continue the plans; and if not continuing, how to pay the expenses already incurred. Unofficially, the secretary reported there was about $250 in outstanding indebtedness.

Wisconsin Conservation Department, through F.G. Wilson, superintendent of co-operative forestry, has announced the appointment of Adrain J. De Vriend of Sheboygan as district forester in charge of farm forestry work in the counties of Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Washington, Ozaukee, and Dodge. He is located at the headquarters office of the Kettle Moraine State Forest on Mauthe Lake.

The Kewaskum Village Board unanimously accepted the resignation from the library board of Margaret McFadden during its meeting and named Juli Hesse as her replacement. Village President Kevin Scheunemann has also requested the resignation of Connie Zemlicka, but she declined to resign and wants to present her case to the village board; that is expected at the November 6 meeting. Emily Goad, who is the director of the Kewaskum Public Library, does not want Zemlicka removed. Goad said Zemlicka is an integral part of the library board, knowledgeable and respected.

Reigle Family Park in Kewaskum became official on October 12 as paperwork was signed at the Schloemer Law Firm in West Bend. The Reigle family donated 31 acres to the Village of Kewaskum to become the new park. The land is assessed at $649,000.

For the past 50 years, members of the XYZ card club have been getting together on Wednesday mornings and playing sheephead in Kewaskum. The club was organized on October 11, 1967, by the Rev. Schowalter, who was pastor of Peace Church at the time. The group started out meeting in the Peace basement. The name XYZ stands for Extra Years of Zest. Currently, five of the 54 club members are in their 90s.

Kewaskum High School has set the 2018 graduation ceremony date. The date of Friday, May 25, was chosen based on two surveys that went out to parents, as well as input from the district administrative team and C.D. Smith, the company that is working on the building project at the school.

The Kewaskum Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts are holding a food drive this week. They distributed bags recently and ask that participants have the filled bags set out before 8 a.m. on Saturday. The food will be delivered to the Kewaskum Area Community Pantry.

Scoring three goals in 15 minutes and holding Campbellsport to just one goal during the entire game put a 3-1 victory in the books for the Kewaskum soccer team on October 12. The game was the final conference contest of the season. The Indians finished the season with a 7-12-3 record. Coach John Kenworthy said the victories tied the record for the most recorded wins the team has had in school history.

The Kewaskum football team scored 22 points in both the first and second quarters, and seven points in both the third and fourth quarters as the Indians beat Waupun 58-14 in the final game of the regular season. Kewaskum was awarded the two seed for the playoffs and will host New London on October 20. Kewaskum has a 9-0 record and New London is 6-3 as the two head into the Level 1 game of the Division 3 playoffs.

Justin Reck ran an incredible race during the East Central Conference Cross Country Meet on October 14. He won the meet with a time of 17:21.97, 10 seconds faster than the number two runner.

The Town of Kewaskum's plan commission recommended at its October 15 meeting to table action on approving a conditional use permit for Donald Stern. The permit would have allowed Stern to operate a salvage yard, recycling center, and auto wrecking yard on 4.3 acres of a 24.83-acre parcel with agricultural zoning on East Moraine Drive. Stern wants to revamp the property, including giving a new name to the company, Evergreen Recycling. More than 50 residents attended the meeting, and an overwhelming majority favored allowing Stern to operate the recycling center. Neighbors in a nearby subdivision voiced concerns over the issuance.

Rain didn't dampen the enthusiasm for the KEYS annual run/walk as 957 registered for the event that raises money to provide scholarships for students at Kewaskum High School. Official winners were Matt Thull and Terri Bodden.

Salem United Church of Christ in the Town of Wayne will conclude a year-long celebration of 150 years in ministry with a noontime anniversary dinner. Salem UCC was originally formed in 1857 as Evangelische St. Jacob's Reformed Church. The congregation's first home was a log cabin off what is now State Highway 28, about two miles from its present location. The present sanctuary was built in 1879.

The Fillmore Fire Department First Responders accepted the donation of a pediatric jump kit from the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club on October 15. The kit has specialized equipment used to treat medical emergencies and trauma in children from newborn to age 18.

Christina DeGroot and Tyler McElhatton are the Kewaskum Kiwanis Students of the Month for October.

Kewaskum's conference titles for volleyball has come to an end. Prior to this school year, the Lady Indians had won three straight conference crowns. However, the new winner of the conference isn't a stranger to winning that title; it's just been from a different conference. Waupun also has won six Division 2 State titles in the past eight years. Regionals began this past Tuesday and Kewaskum was scheduled to play Mayville.

The unbeaten football season continues for the Indians, with the latest victory being a 21-14 score over New Holstein. Kewaskum now has a 6-0 conference and 8-0 overall record. The team is assured of at least a tie for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title.

A son, Jett Garrett, was born October 4 to Patricia and Kevin Schreiber of Kewaskum. A daughter, Eliza Mae, was born October 5 to Kelli Jo and Greg Anderson of Kewaskum.

LORI KREIS
KEWASKUM LIBRARIAN

What a wonderful time of year we have entered. There are the beautiful colors of changing leaves, the smells of hot pumpkin drinks, tastes of fresh crisp apples and the delightful period of the annual budget season.

One of my job responsibilities as library director is to prepare the library budget for approval from the boards. It is a satisfying task, making sure that after I update line-item amounts, the bottom numbers add up correctly and match. The hard part is getting the information for items that change each year in a timely fashion.

This year is a little tougher. Although COVID-19 hit two years ago, the supply chain issues for libraries has recently made a deep impact on us. Book prices have gone up more than 12% mainly because of the printing costs. Something new the library saw this year was shipping costs. Previously, we were not paying for shipping from many of our vendors. Earlier this year, we switched to a different book vendor for most of our products because of the prices. They are bulk shipping to keep costs down, which in turn means we may be receiving new releases later than their on-sale dates. It is a compromise I decided was worth it to keep costs down.

In the 2023 budget I am requesting a little more money for books, something I have not done since I started here. That increase is intended to cover the cost of rising prices and shipping while ensuring our patrons have the items they want. I am also planning to increase our digital resources budget. When I signed the library up for hoopla early last year, I had no idea it would be so popular. I plan to add more funds into that program and add a few more resources that will be educational and entertaining for the community.

Another change to my proposed budget is to attempt to keep my tax levy request to the village either flat or decrease it. I know our residents are facing rising costs in many ways and I will do my part to not add to that. The library will receive an increase in our county disbursement for library services for non-served residents. If you would like more information about that, please stop in and we can have a conversation about how those funds are determined.

If you are a library patron and look at your receipts after you check out, you should notice that at the bottom of each receipt it shows you how much you have saved by using the library. With rising prices, you should also notice an increase in that number. Some people see savings in the thousands! While working on the budget, I thought of that number and how the library does provide an excellent, no fee service for all. My goal is to have the library budget approved, saving money for our citizens, and providing more for all in 2023.

W.A.S.A. Lightning Wheelchair Rugby Team Fundraiser at King Pin Lanes

The Wisconsin Adaptive Sports Association (WASA) Lightning Wheelchair Rugby team will be holding a Bowling Fundraiser on Saturday, Oct. 22, at King Pin Lanes in Campbellsport. The team is inviting the public to come and help make a difference in the lives of persons dealing with spinal cord injury/disease, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy and traumatic brain injury. Through generosity and support the WASA Wheelchair Rugby team will continue to participate in this life-changing activity and compete for another season.

Why is the team coming to Campbellsport? In 2007, Campbellsport High School graduate Tony Sabel of Eden had a snow tubing accident while he was just out having some fun with classmates at UW-Whitewater. Tony crushed two of his vertebrae in his spine. After recovery and rehab from his injury

Tony went back to UW-Whitewater and completed his schooling. Being an achiever and needing an outlet for his pent up energy Tony chose to join the former Milwaukee Iron Rugby team. Today, in addition to playing, he is a WASA Board member. Tony, along with some of his Lightning teammates will be bowling in the event.

The proceeds generated in this event will be used to benefit the Wisconsin Adaptive Sports Association.

People are invited to attend the event on October 22 to meet these outstanding athletes and help them to reach their fundraising goal. Friends can come to have some fun and bowl. Groups and individuals can also be lane sponsors, donate a raffle basket or item, or make a monetary donation. The day is guaranteed to be inspiring and enjoyable, point out the organizers.

More information or to make lane reservations or contributions are available by stopping in at King Pin or calling 920-533-8392. More information about WASA is at www.wisconsinadaptivesports.org.

Alzheimer's Association Fundraiser Walk

Nearly 400 walkers on teams from across the area participated in this year's Walk to End Alzheimer's in Fond du Lac County at Moraine Park Technical College on Oct. 1.

The Walk is anticipated to raise more than $82,000 to fund research and local services in Fond du Lac County, including support groups, education, information and referral services, care and support, advocacy efforts and a 24/7 Helpline - 800.272.3900.

"The Walk to End Alzheimer's plays a critical role in advancing our mission in the fight against Alzheimer's and other dementias," said David Grams, Executive Director, Alzheimer's Association Wisconsin Chapter. "We're grateful for how the local community rallied together to raise awareness and funds to support our mission. We thank everyone for their unrelenting dedication to helping us end Alzheimer's."

The Walk was chaired by a four person team including Beth Atkinson Schultz, social worker; Dan Weidert, retired wildlife biologist; Pam Sippel, director of operations, Boys & Girls Club of Fond du Lac and Penny Collin, kindergarten teacher, Fond du Lac School District.

More than six million Americans are living with Alzheimer's disease, a leading cause of death in the United States. Additionally, more than 11 million family members and friends provide care to people living with Alzheimer's and other dementias.

In Wisconsin, there are more than 120,000 people living with the disease and 198,000 serving as caregivers. In Fond du Lac County alone, more than 2,200 individuals age 65 and older are living with dementia.

Donations can still be made to the Walk to End Alzheimer's through December 31 at act.alz.org/fonddulac.

Development Planned for Kewaskum T.I.F. District

ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

C.D. Smith signed an offer to purchase about 15 acres of land in the Village of Kewaskum's Tax Incremental Finance (TIF) District 3.

"We will have a mutually agreed upon developer's agreement as well as closing by the last date in April," said Kewaskum Village Administrator Adam Gitter.

The land, which is located near the intersection of Trading Post Trail and Highway 45, will be purchased from the village for $1, according to Gitter. The land is zoned M-1 limited manufacturing.

The decision was made in closed session on Oct. 3; details are not yet public. Gitter said he could not comment on what type of building is planned to go in the lot.

"There are a couple options that people have come to us for. They are sometimes building for themselves, sometimes building for others and sometimes building for ownership and then leasing," Gitter said.

The transaction will help the village in the long run, as the village's TIF District 3 helps pull TIF District 2 out of debt.

"In the 2021 budget, the village has approximately $224,000 worth of TID debt on levy. So, the taxpayers are paying for that," Gitter said.

Development will take that burden away from taxpayers in the future.

"The village is excited to be working with C.D. Smith on this project. We have already had our closed-door meetings with them, and they are bringing a lot of experience and knowledge to any potential project that might go in there," Gitter said.

Village Matters

Action during the regular Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Oct. 3 included: swearing in of Deputy Clerk/Deputy Treasurer Tocarra Theisen; approval of a new driveway policy; and approval of a Family Dairies USA Agreement.

FAMILY ROOTS

Sharing Information

John Henry has become his family's genealogist. He works on the genealogy of various family lines: Coulter, Doms, Byrne, Kenney, Vorpahl, Plitzkow, Theusch and Grassold. Many of John Henry's ancestors from the different lines lived in Kewaskum, Wayne or Farmington.

"I have everything in binders for the Vorpahls and the Coulters," he said.

Every year, he brings those binders with the most updated information to his family reunions.

They are large reunions. One recent family reunion had 152 people attend.

John Henry is the middle child of five. His mom is from a family of 12, and his dad is from a family of 10. John Henry has 45 Coulter cousins and 31 Vorpahl cousins, for a total of 76 first cousins.

John Henry will share his genealogy information and photos with the public on Sunday, Oct. 16, at 1:30 p.m. in the St. Michael Parish Hall, 8883 Forest View Road, Kewaskum. The public is invited to the program, which is presented by the Farmington Historical Society; there is no fee to attend.

CONSTRUCTION

cessing and storage space for the police department are located in the basement. Police vehicles would enter the garage from a ramp off First Street.

In an effort to meet the needs of the community, the building features restrooms that can be accessed from outdoors. In addition, a kitchen on the first floor has a window that can be used to serve people outdoors.

"One thing that has been clear to me this entire time is that it needs to be a community-oriented project, and we have been hyper-focused on that at all times. There isn't a conversation we have about this building where we don't ask, "How does this affect our residents and our businesses?" Gitter said.

Appleton Xavier, 6-3, 6-2. Kewaskum's top doubles tandem finished their season with a very solid record of 13-5.

The other Kewaskum entrant to earn a victory in the subsectional was junior Lauren Ford. She defeated Scarlet Gaertig of Saint Mary's Springs Academy 6-2, 6-4. Lauren's bid to advance to the sectional came to an end with a 6-0, 6-3 defeat at the hands of Charlotte Bullard of Kohler.

Kewaskum's number one singles player Molly Freund came close to advancing. Freund faced Madison Thill of Sheboygan Falls, whom Molly had defeated a couple of weeks earlier. In the subsectional, Freund and Thill split the first two sets. WIAA tournament rules call for a ten-point tiebreaker in that case. Thill prevailed in the tiebreaker to earn the victory, 2-6, 6-3, 10-6. Molly Freund was one of Kewaskum's top athletes and hardest hitters, usually faced the opponent's top singles player, and always battled hard, right through her subsectional matchup.

At number four singles, senior Mackenzie Steiner was extremely competitive as usual. Steiner and Reese Brooks of Ripon met up in a close match, with Brooks winning a first set tiebreaker, then going on to win 7-6 (7-1), 6-3. Steiner took a three-match winning streak into the subsectional, before seeing her season come to an end with an 8-7 record.

Kewaskum's other two doubles teams saw their seasons end with heartbreaking defeats.

The number two doubles team of Kaitlyn Blank and Audrey Grensavitch, both juniors, have been steady all season. Blank and Grensavitch dropped their first set against Katelyn Story and Paige Kouba of Ripon, before storming back to win the second set. But the Ripon pair prevailed in the tiebreaker, to advance with a 6-4, 2-6, 10-5 win. Kewaskum's Blank and Grensavitch finished the season with a record of 9-8.

Seniors Jade Johnson and Rylie Dwyer came on strong late in the season to earn the number three doubles spot at the subsectional. Johnson and Dwyer also went to a third set tiebreaker, in their match with Emily Schoerer and Katie Schueler of Howards Grove.

The tiebreaker turned into a marathon. Unfortunately it didn't end in Kewaskum's favor as Howards Grove prevailed 6-3, 3-6, 14-12.

Although it's tough to see the season come to an end, the Kewaskum girls should be incredibly proud of their efforts, and their success throughout the season.

The girls were extremely dedicated, had a lot of fun, and learned a lot in the process.

backwards, I would not have known this bear had crossed the swamp.

I tried doing a 180 in my stand and two things went wrong: My safety strap stopped me, and I hit my gun on a branch. I dropped to my knees on the platform, and I swear I said this to myself:

“Lord, why did you have to make this so hard?”

I was shooting my BAR 300, and I let a bullet fly, and I thought I dropped him but could not tell in the marsh grass. Ten seconds later, he lunged forward and was gone in the willows.

I could actually see the tops of the willows moving, picked a small opening and, when I saw black, squeezed off another round and was confident my bullet had hit its mark but could not see the bear.

Another 10 seconds goes by, and I can see the willows moving further away, but I cannot see the bear. I picked an opening and, when I saw black, let another round fly, and, again, could not tell if I had made a hit.

I climbed down, went through waist deep water on the back side of the willows, and worked my way towards where I was hoping he would be laying with a visibility of about five feet.

The first thing I saw was a big head, and I knew I had my bear. The hunt was over. The emotions were incredible, and I let out the loudest war-whoop of my life.

Joey Dushek, Joey Snodie, Nathan Potter and I had the task of getting 310-pounds dressed of black bear on a 3/4-mile lug back to the truck.

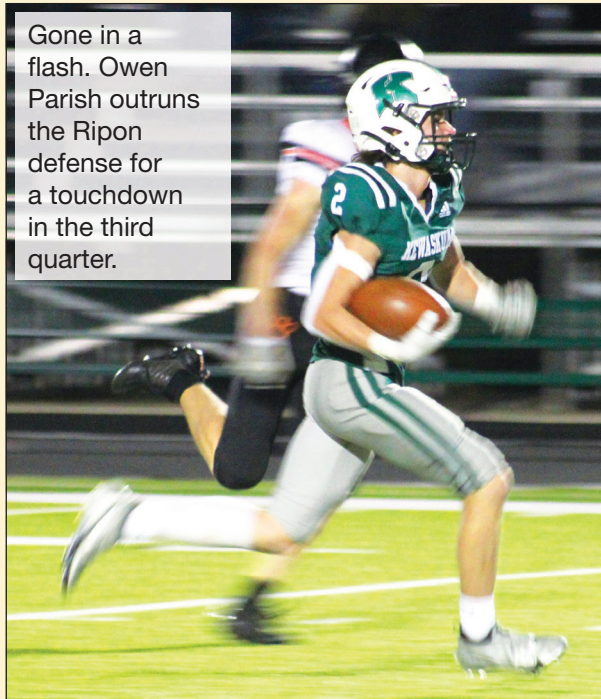

This animal will be honored as a rug, and the meat will be consumed. In other words: very little will not be used.

I miss my bear hunting partner, Michelle Chiaro!

K.H.S. Soccer Keeps Fighting

COACH CHUCK GROVER
KHS SOCCER

October 3

Monday, Oct. 3, was a rough night for the Kewaskum men's soccer team.

A quick goal from Winnebago Lutheran Academy (WLA) got things off to a poor start and the Indians could not get the wind back into their sails. Kewaskum was a bit deflated throughout and Winnebago Lutheran Academy exploited that with good effort of their own all over the field.

Kewaskum wasn't without some good moments though. The passing, when strung together, was controlling and had WLA chasing.

It was when the Indians tried to play too big with long balls and solo runs that they let WLA off the hook. When the second goal of the first half was scored the Indians lost their composure and panicked a little which got them out of shape. The positioning was scattered, and they seemingly wanted to tie the game up with one strike. At half time though it was only a 0-2 deficit.

With Kewaskum still in the game a quick start to the second half could have forced some pressure on WLA. There was a quick start but unfortunately not by the Indians. WLA scored their third goal less than a minute into the second half. Kewaskum continued to try to create chances, but a disciplined opponent thwarted them all.

The internal parts of Kewaskum's midfield left some holes allowing WLA to get off a number of shots on goal, one of which found the net in the 63rd minute making the score 4-0.

Continuing to fight until the end Kewaskum was able to create some chances and eventually did get off the shutout by a great individual effort by Charlie Gambino. After making a run to the middle of the field and receiving a pass at the top of the penalty area, he was able to dribble right through three defenders to find himself one-on-one with the goalie and deftly finished by putting the ball past him into the goal.

With only a minute left in the game though it was too little, too late and the game ended in a 1-4 defeat.

Still a lot to improve on for Kewaskum's young men's soccer team and a short time to do it in as the season is already coming to a close.

October 6

The score is not indicative of the game. A 0-0 tie may sound boring and without excitement but Thursday, Oct. 6, in Ripon was not the case.

With good possession play Kewaskum had them in control for most of the first half. Not a lot of shots generated due to a stifling Ripon defense who like to "park the bus" in front of their goal defensively making it tough to navigate through for goal scoring opportunities.

When playing a team that plays that style, it is imperative to utilize the outside portions of the field to force the opponent to vacate the space in the middle of the field. The chances the Indians did generate were utilizing that tactic.

Ripon, on the other hand, utilized a counter-attack strategy with big clearances and long balls over the top of the Indians back line.

In the first half that did not work very well with a firm wind into their face, aiding Kewaskum and holding up the Tigers attacks. The switching of sides for the second half changed that.

The direction change in the second half helped Kewaskum as well. With their possession and shorter passing style of play the wind in their face was an advantage and didn't have as many passes run away from Ripon's quick turf surface as they did in the first half.

Some changes to player positioning got a couple of good chances especially for Denali Fellenz later in the second half. Moved to the outside wing position he found himself crashing the near post with the ball after beating the left back from Ripon off the dribble.

An errant shot ended the scoring chance, but life was back into the Kewaskum offense.

A furious final five minutes had both teams feverishly trying to get what most likely would be, the deciding goal. It would not come for either side.

As the state playoffs rapidly approach the Indians still are hoping for a home regional game. No matter where the playoff games are, the Indians will have to get their offense to the level it was at the beginning of the season and continue to shut teams down defensively.

This Thursday is the final home game of the year and a chance for a second-place finish in the East Central Conference with Kettle Moraine Lutheran heading to Doc Mitchell Stadium.

The coaching staff will have to get the team firing at its best from here on out.

There will be a home playoff game for Kewaskum on Thursday, Oct. 20, at 7:00 at the Doc Mitchell Stadium against Luxemburg-Casco.

"Saturday night it took us a little while to get going," said Campbellsport Head Coach Todd Wondra. However, the Cougars got it together by the fourth quarter and defeated the Laconia Spartans 35-0.

The Cougars scored once in the first quarter taking a seven point lead that was unchanged until the third quarter when they scored again.

"Offensively we started slow, but made some adjustments at halftime that helped us be more efficient in the second half," said Wondra.

The scoreboard read 14-0 at the beginning of the fourth quarter, but by the end of the game it read 35-0 thanks to the Cougars scoring three more touchdowns and Luke Pendowski kicking three more successful extra point attempts to go five-for-five on the night.

"Our defense played pretty good all night and were able to keep Laconia in check for the most part," Wondra said. "Our kids played physically all night and were ready for the challenge."

Wondra acknowledged the hard work put in by Ben Timm who ran for a total of 192-yards after 32 attempts and scored one touchdown, and Mason Willacker who scored two touchdowns himself and ran for 121-yards.

In the final conference game of the season, Campbellsport will play Lomira (1-5) at home on Friday for senior night.

"We'll be honoring a great group of seniors this week as they take the field at home for possibly the last time," Wondra said. "I just want to thank these seniors for everything they've done for me and our program."

The game begins at 7 p.m. on Friday, October 14 at Dan D. O'Brien Field.

ROUNDUP: Gridiron Teams Split with Cedarburg

KEWASKUM GRIDIRON

The Kewaskum Gridiron Indians were in action on Saturday, Oct. 8, as all four levels played host to the Cedarburg Dawgs.

The eighth and sixth grades suffered close defeats, while the seventh and fifth grade teams came away with victories.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade team played to an 8-8 tie at halftime before Cedarburg scored on their first possession of the second half and then held off a late drive for the Indians.

As a result, Cedarburg earned a 14-8 victory.

The loss dropped the Indians' record to 3-3 on the season.

The Indians got on the board first with a touchdown on their second possession of the game with Eli Ogi scoring from 13-yards out. The score was set up by a 39-yard run by Kingston Grisolono.

The Dawgs answered towards the end of the first half with a score of their own to tie it up at 8-8 at halftime. Cedarburg controlled the ball in the second half with their opening drive taking up nearly the whole third quarter, as the Dawgs punched in another score.

The Indians final possession started at their own six-yard-line, and they were able to drive down to the Cedarburg 15-yard-line before turning the ball over on downs.

On the final drive, Kyle Haim hit Grisolono for a 60-yard connection and then Grisolono – on a halfback pass – hit Cole Loser for a 30-yard gain.

Haim finished 9/19 for 120 yards passing on the day with Grisolono leading the way with 60 yards receiving. Anthony Coleman and William Koch each had three catches.

On defense, Grisolono came away with an interception and also had a tackle for loss along with Chase Heinonen, Jack Krenzke and Kage Weseman.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade team played a great all-around game and came away with a resounding 56-6 victory to improve their record to 4-1-1 on the season.

The Indians had many scoring contributors on the offensive side of the ball with Jace Wichtoski returning a kickoff for a touchdown and also adding a rushing touchdown, Michael Missall had a rushing touchdown, Carter Unger had a receiving touchdown and Superior Torres added a 60-yard rushing touchdown.

Blake Staral converted on all seven of his two-point kick attempts.

The defense played great all day and even got into the scoring party by adding two touchdowns of their own with Wyatt Luedtke coming away with a pick-six and then Easton Derge forced a fumble that was recovered by Evan Soyk in the endzone for a touchdown.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade team struggled in the first half but mounted a comeback in the second half. They still fell short, suffering a 20-14 defeat, which dropped their record to 3-3 on the season.

Cedarburg jumped out to a 20-0 halftime lead before the Indians controlled the game in the second half but just couldn't get over the hump.

Ryland Ciriacks scored both of the touchdowns for the Indians on the day while Porter Reis had some nice runs and Logan Zak had a couple of nice catches as well.

On defense Reis also added some nice tackles to lead the Indians on that side of the ball.

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade team kept their undefeated season going, coming away with a 21-0 victory to improve to 6-0 on the season.

The Indians offense was led by Henry Ogi who scored all three of the Indians touchdowns. Cole Kertscher also had some nice runs to contribute to the Indians offense.

On the defensive side of the ball Owen Rabuck forced a fumble that was recovered by Ogi, August Vorwerk had a quarterback sack and other players that contributed key plays & nice tackles were Caleb Bosselman, Rabuck, Cade Wichtoski, Cooper Norville and Charlie Ogi.

All four Gridiron teams will be playing this Saturday, Oct. 15, as eighth-grade playoffs begin. At the time of this writing, the opponent and location of the games were not yet known. Please check out the Kewaskum Gridiron Facebook page for updates regarding the playoff schedule.

Success on the Bear Hunt

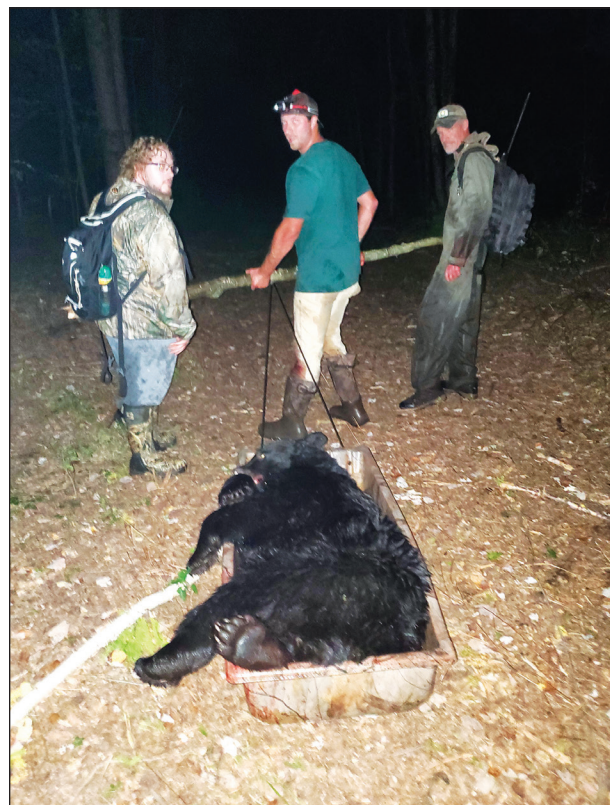

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

This week's column is about a successful conclusion to my 2022 bear hunting season that has absorbed large parts of my time, thought and pocket book since I began running baits in northern Juneau County – as well as southern Jackson – on April 15th.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 20

HIGH: 82. LOW: 53.

The first thing that I would like to say is that –

like winter camping/ice fishing, deer camp, paddling a canoe and gardening – bear hunting is something is that I am simply addicted to and, in reality, it is not so much harvesting a bear as it is chasing a bear.

Today would be the 14th day in a row that I sat in a tree and the 158th day since I started the multi-mile task of hauling baits. In that time, my life partner Michelle Chiaro passed away and, what was my largest group of papers – Portage, Beaver Dam, Wis. Dells, Baraboo, Reedsburg and Mauston – let my column go one week after Michelle's passing. The loss of that group, which had run me on a weekly basis since 1992, has kicked my financial backside.

The loss of Michelle has taken the happy-go-lucky part of my soul away.

The 46-mile round trip drive is pure paradise; the heavy lifting and, most importantly, the beauty of the forest, swamp, and its inhabitants is what has kept me from having a break down.

Three weeks ago, a new bear started hitting one of my baits. It was a heavy-bodied male with a huge head. It removed what was maybe a 220-pound female, who was coming in during daylight hours, before the season started. This male was very smart and was coming to my bait each night; 10 to 60 minutes after I climbed down from my tree, and I simply did not know what to do to get a shot other than to keep hunting.

Today, I climbed into a mature oak tree where I have a view of a swamp as well as my bait, which is placed near a forest edge. In 99% of these situations, if anything happens, it will be at the bait.

I might add that, as a pass time on these hunts,

Mark Walters with his trophy black bear. Walters had been working baits for five months to set up this harvesting opportunity.

I was writing out thank you cards to what is literally hundreds of friends, relatives and readers concerning the loss of Michelle.

So, it has been a few minutes since I looked behind me, and I actually cursed myself for that mistake. When I did, I saw the big male, and it was instant stress.

The range finder would later tell me that it was at 96-yards – he had crossed the entire swamp in the open – and was 12 feet and moving from a dense willow stand.

Had it been 10 more seconds before looking

Indians Dance Past Ripon on Homecoming

STEVE TENNIES
 HEAD COACH STEVE TENNIES
 KHS FOOTBALL

Friday night was the annual homecoming football game at Doc Mitchell Athletic Complex, and the host Kewaskum Indians hoped to maintain a tie atop the standings in the East Central Conference (ECC).

The Indians did just that with a 28-6 win over the Tigers from Ripon.

The opening drive for the Indians was smooth and efficient as senior Hunter Loser found the end zone with 10:27 remaining in the first quarter. Carter Curtin nailed the extra point, and it was 7-0, home team, before everyone had taken their seats.

Ripon controlled the ball for much of the first quarter, though a Derek May interception deep in Indian territory prevented a Ripon scoring opportunity mid-way through the first.

The Indians would score again early in the second quarter, as Ryan Cook found Dillan Steger for a 25-yard touchdown pass to put the hosts ahead 13-0. Curtin was true.

The Indians' defense held again, and it was 14-0 Kewaskum at the half.

In the third quarter, Kewaskum was able to use the long-strike passing game of Cook to bolster the lead to 28-0. First, Cook found junior Bailey Ralph down the middle of the field for a 20-yard touchdown throw, and then, on the next possession, Cook found Owen Parish, this time for 67-yards. Curtin added the two extra points to go four-for-four on the night.

Ripon would manage a touchdown in the last minute, but, by then, the dance had already begun.

Kewaskum's defense was stout again. The Indians were led by May

K.H.S. Tennis Faces Final Battles at Sectionals

COACH BRADLEY PREDER
 KHS TENNIS

The performances of sophomore singles player Liz Erdmann, and the doubles team of Isabelle Thomas and Rowyn Wiedmeyer, highlighted Kewaskum's showing in WIAA subsectionals and sectionals.

The action took place on Oct. 3 and Oct. 5, at the SportsCore in Kohler.

Erdmann opened play in the WIAA Division two subsectional with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Ava Koerner of Waupun at number two singles. The win advanced Erdmann to a matchup with Andrea Hicks of Sheboygan Falls.

Hicks had handed Erdmann her only conference loss of the season back on Sept. 15, but with her season on the line, Liz was able to top Hicks 6-4, 6-4. This triumph advanced Erdmann to the sectionals two days later.

The sectional would open with a very tough matchup for Erdmann. Freshman Kate Jannette of Appleton Xavier prevailed 6-1, 6-1.

Jannette's overall record heading to the WIAA State Tournament was 25-1. But Erdmann's day and season weren't finished.

Next up, she would play for third place in her bracket. Liz would finish strong, defeating another freshman, Melanie Pellegrino of Kohler 7-6 (7-5), 6-0. Erdmann finished her season with an impressive 14-6 record.
