A joint meeting between the Village of Kewaskum Board of Trustees and Kewaskum Library Board members took place on Monday, Jan. 9, with both sides appearing to be at a crossroads on how to proceed with the current shared-facilities building project.

West Bend City Administrator Jay Shambeau, who was Kewaskum's Village Administrator from 2006-2008, was present to moderate per the request of village officials.

"I'm happy to help be a part of the discussion, but I don't claim to be an expert on your topic or your issues," said Shambeau clarifying his role as a facilitator.

For the next 80 minutes, the roughly one-dozen village board, library board and Kewaskum Public Library Foundation, Inc. members discussed what's become a standstill regarding the shared-facilities building project between the village and the library.

Prior to the meeting, the village was planning to move forward with a two-story (plus basement) three-departmental building, which would house the Kewaskum Police Department, the village administrative offices and the library. Per this plan, the current Annex Building would be demolished, and the shared-facilities building would be erect-

Changing of the Guards, Dornbrook Excited for Next Chapter as Chief Dowland Takes Reins

Retired Campbellsport Police Chief Tom Dornbrook signed off on Jan. 3, and new Chief Andrea Dowland was sworn in the next day

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

For someone who spent more than four decades in law enforcement in the State of Wisconsin, one could reasonably assume that former Campbellsport Police Chief Tom Dornbrook might feel bittersweet about his retirement.

That was not the case.

Instead, when former Fond du Lac (FDL) County Sheriff's Deputy Andrea Dowland was officially sworn in as the village's next Chief of Police on Wednesday, Jan. 4, Dornbrook said he felt relieved.

"When she was sworn in, it was a weight lifted off my shoulder," said Dornbrook roughly 48 hours after he officially retired from his post. His last day was Jan. 3, but he has remained by Dowland's side during her first days and weeks to help the transition.

That metaphorical heaviness rising off Dornbrook's epaulets was not due to ennui or animosity. Instead, the former chief was reassured that Campbellsport – a place he called home both in his younger years and the last five as the police force leader – had found a trustworthy and reliable successor in newly appointed Chief Dowland.

"I'm anxious for the department to move forward," said Dornbrook, who has known Dowland for years. He said her track record with the FDL County Sheriff's Office speaks for itself, but he added that her familiarity with Campbellsport and her demeanor will make for a good fit between the department, the village and Dowland.

When the plausibility of retirement started to become an inevitability, Dornbrook said he phoned Dowland and asked her to consider applying once his decision was official.

"I thought it would be a good place for her if she was interested, and that's the way it worked out," recalled Dornbrook. "I've been telling everyone: She's young, she's ambitious, she's intelligent, and I think she's going to be a chief with new ideas; better than I was. She's going to improve our department. I wholeheartedly mean that."

Dornbrook said with change in leadership should come improvements. He noted that when he joined the Campbellsport Police Department (CPD) five years ago, he viewed the department as having an accessibility issue.

"Nobody had access to the police department," said Dornbrook, noting that it was not uncommon for a citizen to arrive at the police station only for there to be no cops. "We opened it up. We created a reception area, we hired an administrative assistant... and I think that was a big thing that we did from day one."

In the last half decade, Dornbrook said he was proud of modernizing other parts of the department, as well. Under his leadership, the CPD has invested in new squad and body cameras, new radios and was able to solicit a donation for active-shooter defense materials like body armor. Recently, Dornbrook said he was pleased to get the Campbellsport School District back up-to-date with state regulations regarding school safety and active shooter preparation, as well.

"That's the stuff we did that I really liked," said Dornbrook, who also added that – under his watch – communication with the school and village boards and the community-at-large also increased substantially.

Looking ahead, Dornbrook will stay plenty busy with his other current roles: He serves as a Fond du Lac County Board Supervisor for District 9, and he said he plans to run for local office in Campbellsport. He currently lives in the village.

"I have a soft spot for this community," admitted Dornbrook, who credited Campbellsport residents for making the village a pleasant place

Dream-Triggers

Dear Reader,

A photograph, a letter, a lock of hair when held at night can become a dream trigger of sorts. You picked up a photo of yesteryear, or reread an old letter from someone once dear, or held a lock of hair once gracing the head of someone you loved. Iconic pieces can represent memories from different times of our lives.

And then you fall asleep. The dream trigger takes effect and you walk into a state of recall with a seemingly real you interacting and engaging with real someones from a long time ago. You're exploring a new adventure with them, because while the time has passed, everything has changed. You encounter a world of high drama laced with excitement and a curious mixture of danger and romance. Time is no longer relative and forever is a concept that lasts until it doesn't.

Poof! The morning sun and new yet familiar faces beckon. A dream trigger comes once in a blue moon. When it does, it's a savoring that adds to what you were and what you are becoming.

Say it ain't so. Starsky and Hutch are 79. In a London newspaper interview, David Soul said, "I don't think Paul and I could run around like that anymore."

Paul Michael Glaser continues to perform, though he spends more time behind the camera as director. David moved to England, where he sings and acts in theatre. When asked if he misses the role of Ken Hutchinson, David replied, "The show wasn't that good. It just caught the imagination." In this leastwise, he's correct. Talk about a pop culture hit.

Underclassmen at CHS, Linda, a brunette and her blonde friend, Janet, aka Cricket, who hung out together in the halls between classes were referred to as Starsky and Hutch by The Cougar's Roar, our high school paper.

David Soul continued, "And the car. I'd like a car like that." Apparently, he isn't the only fella. Some guys are now doing knockoffs of the Flying Tomato. Turning their '74-77 Torinos into spitting image replicas. Right down to the wheels and irrepresible white stripe. Back then, an identical model at Service Motors boasted 600 HP and baselined at $6,995. Someone tooled around Fond du Lac in the same vehicle. If you tuned into CB radio, you heard "Control One to Zebra Three." – a line straight from the TV program. But not the follow-up – "See the man at ..."

The rest made do with what we had. Including a 19-year-old Starsky wannabe with a '76 Maverick which only shared a common (Ford) manufacturer. How could a country boy be unimpressed by the jazzy, urban cool of the cop buddy series? The 302 Warhorse V-8 under the hood let him squawk the tires while he zipped through Campbellsport, feeding the fantasy.

Time flew, as always. Now the whole scene of "hit the streets" seems a lifetime ago. Yet a few of us boomers are still down with that.

Last week, in my first column of the year, I wrote that I had planned to keep rolling with a prompt that asked, "What is a newspaper?"

I hope readers will allow me, even this early in my so-far-brief 52-week run, to put that on pause until next edition.

Instead, I wanted to write about Buffalo Bills football player Damar Hamlin, who went into cardiac arrest on national television last week, Jan. 2, during a Monday Night Football game while his team played in Cincinnati against the Bengals.

For readers unaware, the 24-year-old's heart stopped after an in-game collision, and he required life-saving efforts from first responders (members of the Bills' athletic training department) on the field. The game, which was only in the first quarter at the time Hamlin collapsed, was postponed and then cancelled.

As of print time, Hamlin was reported to be returning home after receiving care at a hospital in Cincinnati for roughly one week. He's been able to communicate and is expected to continue his recovery.

In the immediate aftermath and the days following the shock of what transpired, speculation started on what the National Football League's (NFL) actions would be.

For the record, there is nothing inherently wrong with wondering about the logistics such an event would cause to an enormous organization like the NFL. Knowing full well that everyone with an iota of compassion had his or her mind on Hamlin, it was okay to speculate and express curiosity about the next steps.

What was not okay was some folks' presumption that the NFL, with all its billions of dollars, could not simply cancel a game because it was "far too important" to the season's outcome or to its bottom line. In particular, rich charlatans in suits on television thought it an opportune time – when it wasn't clear if Hamlin would survive – to prognosticate on their platforms that the NFL would force the Bills and Bengals to replay the contest in short order.

The NFL, which has had a checkered history on "doing the right thing", did the right thing, and flatly told the minority of talking heads that: No, even we are not more important than someone's life.

This last weekend, football continued and the regular season officially ended; though, the Bills and Bengals only played 16 games, while the other 30 teams played 17.

And did it matter?

No.

In the grand scheme of things, even a culturally defining entity like the NFL is pretty low on the list of Most Valuable Things, and that's coming from someone who watches the game every week and interned for NFL Films.

I'm glad common sense prevailed, and I hope the universal support for Hamlin and his recovery is a reminder that life is a lot more important than football.

See you next week.

to work, live and play. "They are good people. The citizens are good citizens. That's why I think [Campbellsport] is a good fit for Andrea. She's a good person, she will be good to the citizens and she's not going to be a chief that sits behind a desk. She's going to do all the things good police do, and I think she's very capable of that."

For Dornbrook, closing his career in the Kettle Moraine is a bit like coming around full-circle. For 13 years in the 1960s and 70s, Dornbrook was a village resident.

He graduated from Rosendale High School (now Laconia) and moved up in the law enforcement ranks from a "dually authorized" sheriff's deputy, to a sergeant with Waupun until he earned his first chief position with the Brandon-Fairwater Police Department. He was hired as Campbellsport's full-time chief in 2017.

While he will remain local and has additional plans to serve his community and county in the future, Dornbrook was still incredibly thankful to countless people throughout his nearly half-century wearing the badge in Wisconsin.

"I'd like to thank the village board that hired me," he said. "And, I'd like to thank the citizens of Campbellsport."

December Students of the Month

CAMPBELLSPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT

Campbellsport High School is proud to announce their "Students of the Month" for the month of December.

Congratulations to Chloe Bania (Fine Arts), Sawyer and Spencer Immel (Social Studies), Owen Blevins (Physical Education) and Isabella Sperfslage (Math) for being selected as the CHS Students of the Month in December.

Chloe Bania

The Fine Arts department is proud to nominate Chloe Bania for student of the month for December. The band program had four seniors graduate out of the low brass section after last school year, and Chloe volunteered to move to tuba at the beginning of this school year. This selfless decision has benefited the band greatly and she has improved very quickly in her new role. It is absolutely essential that a band have a solid low voice foundation and we are very fortunate to have a dedicated band member put in so much work to benefit everyone. She has gone beyond our expectations, and we can't wait to see what the future brings!

Sawyer & Spencer Immel

In the past several months, Campbellsport High School has nominated some truly exceptional individuals for Student of the Month recognition, several of them being members of the freshman class. The Social Studies Department would like to add two additional freshmen who have earned this distinction - Sawyer and Spencer Immel. Following the pattern of their previously recognized classmates, both of these young men have remarkably mature academic skills, and whenever strong academic skills are accompanied by intense focus, work ethic and value for education, impressive achievement is the natural result. Beyond that, they always conduct themselves respectfully and respectfully, displaying strong leadership skills that make them an asset to the classroom and to the school community, in general. As we're nearing the halfway point in their first year of high school, it's very encouraging to know that Sawyer and Spencer, along with the other freshmen who have been selected as Students of the Month, will be growing and applying their inspiring skills to the benefit of every classroom and extracurricular/co-curricular program they're a part of for the remainder of their high school careers. We're proud to add them to the list of our standout Cougar students!

Owen Blevins

The Physical Education Department is proud to announce their "Student of the Month", Owen Blevins. Owen is in the Strength and Conditioning class, where he has been dedicated to physical wellness. His hard work and dedication has been noticed by his teachers and his peers. He comes to class and pushes himself to get better every day, putting his impressive work ethic on display. He also does a great job working with his peers which helps develop a positive and conducive learning environment. Over the past month or so, I have noticed Owen and his group of friends working together and developing a comradery that makes it fun to come build a positive community. His hard work and dedication does not stop there. When other students rush out of the room to go change, he offers his time to help clean up and make our workout area neat and orderly. I have nothing but respect and admiration for Owen. Keep up the good work, Owen, and good things are coming in your life.

Isabelle Sperfslage

Finally, Isabelle Sperfslage is the Math Department "Student of the Month". She is currently one of four freshmen who is currently enrolled in Geometry and Algebra 2. Izzy is an exceptional student who stands out for her curiosity, self-discipline, work ethic, and attention to detail. It's a privilege to have her in class for her ability to problem solve and craft well-articulated responses that are accessible to her peers and oftentimes offer a unique perspective that I wouldn't anticipate. Set your goals high and keep up the great work, Izzy!

All high school students are eligible for this honor. Students are nominated by their teachers and then chosen by department.

Teachers make their selections based upon attitude, effort, character, interest, and achievement, as exhibited in the classroom and school community. Administration, faculty, and staff are committed to developing future leaders in our community. We want to honor those who are striving each and every day to be those future leaders, who demonstrate this by their positive actions and behaviors.

Notes from the Campbellsport Village Board Meeting

BREANNA RICE JOURNALIST

The Village of Campbellsport held its monthly board meeting on Monday, Jan. 9, with all members in attendance.

To begin, Police Chief Andrea Dowland was welcomed at the meeting, as it was her first full week on the job.

Dowland was sworn in prior to the meeting but will be at Village Hall this Thursday, Jan. 12, at 6:30 p.m. for a pinning ceremony.

The new chief gave her first official report and announced that she will be engaged in a lot of training in the upcoming weeks but is planning to host a meet-and-greet around the first week of March to get to know more members of the community.

"I will be pretty busy the next few months," stated Dowland. "But, I am grateful for how welcoming and supportive everyone has been so far."

Outdoor Rec. Plan

Village Administrator Charlie Kudy gave a brief update on the Outdoor Recreation Plan regarding the parks within the village.

The goal of this plan, according to Kudy, is to take a deeper look at the parks and public spaces in Campbellsport to help decide on future developments and improvements.

"Developing these areas will help us apply for more grants in the future," stated Kudy.

A seven person committee will hold meetings between this January and August to work on creating goals and ideas for the upcoming years.

A motion was made and approved to allow for Kudy to appoint a steering committee for the Outdoor Recreation Plan.

Later in the meeting, members approved resolution 23-1 authorizing Administrator Kudy to apply for a Vibrant Spaces Grant for Fireman's Park.

"The $50,000 grant we are hoping to get is for downtown areas and Fireman's Park would qualify for that," explained Kudy. "This would help us plan for what we want the space

Library Events

Activities at the Campbellsport Public Library

220 North Helena St. • P.O. Box 405
www.campbellsportlibrary.org
 920-533-8534

Greetings from the Campbellsport Library!

We wish you all a happy and healthy new year! This community is so wonderful, and we are thankful for all that you do to help us throughout the year. This month we are feeling extra blessed as two different community groups have come forward and are working to raise funds for our library in January. These fundraisers help support book purchases, summer programming supplies, audio books, DVDs and much more. Check out how you can support us through these fundraisers below:

- This month Kohn's filling station in Campbellsport is Fueling it Forward for us. Pump gas at pumps seven and eight during January and two cents of each gallon will be donated to us at the library.

- Jennifer Thompson and the Pampered Chef are also helping to raise support us this month. Use the link www.pamperedchef.com/party/libraryfund2023 to browse the Pampered Chef Catalog, and shop from the comfort of your own home. You can also stop at the library to look at the catalog and a variety of the new items on display. Pampered Chef will donate 15% of the sales to the library and Jennifer is going to match that, so, 30% of sales will go to our library! Feel free to pass the link on to family, friends and anyone who loves to cook and bake.

Story Time at the Library

Children ages 3-6 are invited to join Ms. Azra at the library for story hour every Wednesday from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Children will enjoy reading stories, making crafts and participating in other themed week activities. Story hour offers the opportunity for young children to socialize with others and also encourages growth in language development, motor skills, and helps to promote a love of learning. Children and families are welcome to stay after story hour to play and explore at the library.

- Jan. 25 – Aliens

Childrens Movie – 'Rumble'

Music of the Great Masters

Attention music lovers! The library is looking for three more patrons to join retired music teacher, Dave Dahlke for a free, music education series titled "Music of the Great Masters." Dave will discuss works and pieces by musical masters such as Chopin, Beethoven, Bach, Mozart and more. Classes will be held in the library basement for one-hour a week. Individuals who are interested in this free class can join by calling the library at 920-533-8534 or by signing up at the front desk. Dates for the class will be set once we have enough participants. (Hopeful-start date was on Wednesday, Jan. 11.)

Food for Thought Cooking Club

The library is excited to announce that beginning this month we will be starting a new cooking club at the library. If you enjoy sharing and trying new foods, this is the place for you. "Food for Thought" meetings will take place on a bimonthly basis on the fourth Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. On Tuesday, Jan. 24, we will be exploring the wonderful world of soup! Interested parties should bring along their recipe and a soup to share with others. To get a head count for this event, interested patrons should sign up at the front desk, or call the library.

Monday Movie of the Month

The Monday Movie of the Month for January 30, will be "Mrs. Harris goes to Paris." The film tells the story of a widowed cleaning lady in 1950s London who falls madly in love with a couture Dior dress and decides that she must have one of her own. After she works, starves, and gambles to raise the funds to pursue her dream, she embarks on an adventure to Paris which will change not only her own outlook, but the very future of the House of Dior. This 2022 historical comedy-drama film stars Lesley Manville, Isabelle Huppert, Lambert Wilson, Alba Baptista, Lucas Bravo, Ellen Thomas, Rose Williams, and Jason Isaacs.

Washington County Commuter Express Re-design Workshops Planned

The Washington County Highway Department would like public involvement on potential changes to the Washington County Commuter Express (WCCE). Two workshops in an open house format will be held this month:

- Tuesday, Jan. 17, from 5-6:30 p.m., at the Washington County Government Center Room 113 A & B, 432 E. Washington St. in West Bend.
- Monday, Jan. 30, from 5-6:30 p.m., at the Jack Russell Memorial Library – Community Room, 100 Park Ave. in Hartford.

The WCCE is fully funded with Federal grants through the end of 2023. Employment transportation needs for county residents and employers have shifted since the pandemic and transit options for a WCCE re-design in 2024 will be under consideration. Public input at the upcoming workshops is being sought as to where commuter transportation should be available and which WCCE options work best for users of the service.

PLEASE NOTE: Changes to the Shared Ride Taxi Service are not being considered at this time.

If you have any questions, please call the Washington County Highway Department at 262-335-4435. The Washington County Highway Department is appreciative for your patience and understanding as we strive to provide a safe public transportation network that is well-maintained, accessible and enhances safe traffic flow and mobility, commented a staff member.

Check It Out!

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR
KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

We have lived in our house almost a quarter of a century and have amassed a lot of stuff. Our house is large and we have plenty of storage. I remember moving in and thinking that we would never fill all the closets and cubbies and drawers. We have not. There is still an empty drawer in one of our bathroom vanities. But the rest is full and we have come to a point where we are contemplating downsizing.

Ideally, we will move to a place half the size of what we have now, if not smaller. This move will probably be anytime between two and five years. Plenty of time to get rid of everything we will not need, right? Doubtful. To be truthful, I have been cleaning out the house a little at a time for a while. But it does not seem to have made a dent in our belongings. I could use help.

There are multitudes of books, podcasts and websites on the topic of decluttering. I read an article in Psychology Today about the joys of downsizing. Some highlights were the ability to walk down memory lane, feel generous when you are giving away your items and that less is more. This can be an overwhelming task, or for some, super simple which reminds me of my grandmother. She had a large house and it was orderly and always as neat as a pin. When they moved from Wisconsin to California, I don't think it took her more than a month to get rid of what she didn't want.

Years ago, at a different library, I had a program about decluttering. It was very well-attended, especially during a time when it was advised to get rid of possessions that did not give you joy. The presenter was good but I felt somewhat judgmental especially when she stated that no one needed more than five books in their home. I will disagree with that until the day I die.

There are professional organizers for hire to assist you with the job of decluttering. Kewaskum Public Library will have a program on this topic presented by professional organizer Kelly Weltin. Kelly is a master organizer and has made a career out of her passion. The program "Why We Keep Our Clutter" will go over how to determine which things matter and how to get rid of everything else. Kelly will be at the library on Monday, Jan. 23, at 11 a.m. Registration is recommended and can be done in-person at the library, by phone, email or the online calendar at kewaskum-wi.whofi.com/calendar/event/8304. This program is the first in our end-of-life planning series. Other topics include funeral and estate planning.

I hope you can join us, whether you plan to downsize soon or in the future. I know I will get a lot out of the program and can't wait to use Kelly's tips to begin the next stage of my life.

Health Department Offers Radon Test Kits for Radon Action Month

During National Radon Action Month, the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department is encouraging citizens to test their homes for radon by offering free test kits to residents. We are asking residents to bring a non-perishable food item to our department in exchange for a free test kit. All items collected during outreach events will be donated to a local food bank. Please note that postage on the test kit is not included.

Radon is a naturally occurring odorless, colorless gas found in rock and soil. Radon is the second leading cause of lung cancer, claiming the lives of an estimated 20,000 Americans each year. In Wisconsin about one out of 10 homes has high radon levels.

The radon test kit is easy to use and only takes a few minutes to set up. Once you open it, the kit stays in your home for two days. Then you will package it and mail it to the lab for analysis. The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the U.S. Surgeon General strongly recommends all homes be tested for radon. Homes with radon levels of four picocuries per Liter (4 pCi/L) or higher should be remediated. If you choose to have a mitigation system installed, it is recommended that the system be installed by a certified mitigation professional.

Kits may be obtained at locations at the dates and hours listed below. Test kits may also be obtained by mailing a $5 check made to Ozaukee County to cover postage to the following address – Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department, 333 E Washington Street, Suite 1100, West Bend, WI 53095; or Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department, 121 W Main Street – Room 246, Port Washington, WI 53074.

Certified Environmental Health staff will be handing out the kits and answering questions at the following times and locations:

- Friday, Jan. 13, from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at Mequon City Hall.
- Friday, Jan. 20 & 27, from 8:30 a.m.-12 p.m. At both office locations listed above.

More information as well as a list of certified radon contractors can be found at www.lowradon.org. Certified Environmental Health personnel are available at 262-335-4462 or 284-8170 to answer your radon questions.

to look like in the years to come.”

Finances

The board discussed the idea of switching the Village's bank account from a general fund sweep account to an analysis hybrid account.

It was stated that there won't be much of a difference in this change, but the switch allows for all of the money within the account to earn interest. The hybrid account was also said to be protected more.

A motion was made and approved for the Village to change accounts and earn interest on all money rather than just a portion of it.

A fire on January 8, destroyed a building owned by Valley Hydro Excavating, LLC of Campbellsport. The structure, an 80-foot by 200-foot pole shed, which was used as an office and for heavy equipment storage, is considered a total loss. The only employee in the building was able to exit without injury. The cause of the fire is unknown and is being investigated by the Campbellsport Fire Department and the Wisconsin State Fire Marshal. Sixteen fire departments provided assistance.

Later that afternoon, the CFD responded to a garage fire in the Village of St. Cloud. The cause of the fire is believed to be electrical and is not suspicious. The fire was contained to the garage, owned by Phyllis Hochrein, and no one was injured. Assisting were the departments from Mount Calvary, Town of Calumet, City of Fond du Lac, RIT Team 3 and the Fond du Lac County Highway Department.

The Campbellsport High School varsity dance team had an amazing day at the Oshkosh West Dance Invite on January 6. The team came home with first place in hip hop and third place in pom. There are 18,000 teams from 40 countries worldwide competing.

A front-page article explained to readers the changes that occurred at the Campbellsport News within the past year. The bottom two inches on the front page spanning from left to right will now be available as ad space and be in full color. This will allow more pages of the paper to be in color. Most of the other changes were behind the scenes. One was how the paper is put together... instead of cutting out everything and pasting the items on a sheet and all of the pages then taken to the Mayville office to have plates made and those plates driven to the printer in Ripon, the paper is now put together electronically and then uploaded to the printer.

Students at Shepherd of the Hills Catholic School near Eden performed scenes from the book "The Hat" by Jan Brett. One scene had some students pretending they were pigs while talking to Hedgie the Hedgehog.

The 23rd annual Campbellsport-Eden Community Roast will be held February 2. Every year, the group roasts two couples, and their friends and families share with everyone in attendance the funny and sometimes misguided things the couples have done in their lives.

Members of the Campbellsport Tiger Scouts earned their Tiger Paw awards recently for completing the requirements in the handbook. They included Derrick Strack, Benjamin Lloyd, Kegan Bartell, Jacob Lavrenz, Dayne Kissinger, and Dylan Wiedmeyer.

Shepherd of the Hills Catholic School has released plans to offer a before-and-after-school child care program for the upcoming 2008-2009 school year.

The Lady Cougar bowlers traveled to Ledgeview Lanes in Fond du Lac on January 7 for a meeting with Kewaskum and St. Mary's Springs Campbellsport beat Kewaskum 5-0 and Springs also 5-0.

Campbellsport's girls basketball team defeated Kewaskum 55-38. The Lady Cougars are now 6-5 overall and 5-2 in conference action.

The boys basketball team recorded its first conference win of the season with a 72-69 overtime victory over Kiel.

A son, Blake Joseph, was born January 2 to Dean and Sarah Heltemes of Eden. A daughter, Skylar Karen Kloth, was born January 5 to Christopher Wayne Kloth and Nicole May Daniel, of Campbellsport.

The Campbellsport Village Board at Monday evening's meeting approved by motion formulation of a new ordinance, No. 255, to deal with a number of traffic situations, including Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue restrictive parking covered by Ordinance No. 10.1280B, which will now be deleted. The Board approved a referendum and referendum wording for adding fluoride to Village water with the following wording: "Do you favor the adjustment of fluoride in the Village of Campbellsport to prevent dental decay?"

A public information meeting is scheduled for January 13 to discuss the planned reconstruction of WIS 67 in Campbellsport. Jeanne Marchant, design leader, and Todd Becker, project manager, for the Wis. Depart. of Transportation, will discuss the project and answer questions from area residents. Reconstruction of the roadway between Main Street and Sheboygan Street is scheduled in 2000.

Questions over a handshake agreement made for a sticky situation at Monday night's Campbellsport School District Board meeting. When the district purchased the Bartoli property for future possible school construction, they thought a "gentleman's agreement" was reached between Administrator Joe Berton, School Board President Bill Marchant, and the Bartoli family that the family could rent the land until the school district needed it. During the meeting, Geraldine Bartoli said she was under the impression the Bartolis could use the land for five years at $40 an acre. Board President Norbert Rentmeester said four of the current board members were not on the board at the time of the agreement and the agreement should have been in writing. The board decided to give the Bartolis the benefit of the doubt and will rent the land for four more years at the agreed upon $40 per acre.

Joseph L. Bonlender has announced he is a candidate for the school board seat being vacated by the retirement of Neal Straub, who presently represents the Town of Ashford. Bonlender will be opposing Jerry Ninnemann, who had announced earlier.

The Campbellsport wrestling team entertained a packed Parents' Night crowd with an emotional 37-31 dual meet win over the fourth-ranked Waterford Wolverines on January 2.

Fire, believed to have been started by an electrical fault, was discovered about 6 a.m. on Tuesday by Adolph Ullrich, a local mail carrier. The estimated loss at the Bauer Bros. elevator, a structure completed in 1945, is $15,000. The article states the structure damage is estimated at about $3,000 and the loss of grain stored in the elevator at about $10,000; there was also loss of machinery. The entire loss was covered by insurance. Mr. Ullrich was picking up the mail thrown off the early morning train when he looked up and saw smoke pouring from the top of the elevator. Mr. Bauer today announced the rebuilding would begin just as soon as a crew could be engaged and the material gotten together. It is necessary to do this in order to get at the stored grain as the fire wrecked all the equipment necessary to move the grain about.

The annual stockholders meeting of The First State Bank was held on Monday at the bank. All directors were re-elected including L.J. Uelmen, F.L. Scheid, F.P. Thiel, Dr. O.F. Guenther, John J. Pesch, Corney P. Schill, and John Terlinden. A good report was given. The report shows a very large increase in the number of loans made from previous years, a total of 1,016 for $928,880, which includes mortgages.

The Campbellsport High School band and glee club are planning a widely varied and entertaining concert to be presented January 20.

Dates for the 1948 Fond du Lac County Fair have been set for August 11-15.

Harry Lueders was re-elected fire chief and only a couple of other changes were made resulting from the annual election of officers. Clarence Kudek was elected 1st assistant chief; Ed Rudolph, 2nd assistant; Charles Van De Zande, secretary; Marvin Barnes, treasurer; and R.J. Hensen to the board of trustees for a three-year term. New members include Joe Klotz, Richard Koenigs, Paul Becker, Lester Butschlick, and Tom Garabaldi.

Sparks from a burning chimney set the roof of the John Bast home afire Monday, causing several hundreds of dollars in damage when the fire ate through shingles and roof boards. Damage was confined to that area.

Mary Fleischman, 74, Town of Ashford native, passed away January 11.

The library, in this plan, is to be on the top floor. Kewaskum Public Library Director Lori Kreis stated that dozens of community members, after hearing about the initial plans, took umbrage with the library's location up a flight of stairs.

"I had people screaming at me because we were going to be on the second floor," said Kreis.

Kreis also stated the library staff, board and Foundation – based on initial plans for library expansion that started nearly two decades ago – had hoped for more square footage than the current project was offering.

Village Trustee Nate Wendelborn expressed frustration that, after months of approving designs, he only recently heard about the library board and Foundation's concerns. He added that, per the village's plan to fundraise the projected $9 million cost for the building, the library would leave the village and police department hanging if it backed out.

"This is roughly a $9 million building, and the library is responsible for one-third of that," explained Wendelborn, adding that fundraising might be more difficult for the village if the library is not involved in the building. "You hamstringed us on who we can go out and get to benefit that building."

Wendelborn and the other present village trustees also noted that – should the library seek its own separate facility – that it would need to budget the additional costs for utilities and other expenses.

"How are you going to fund that?" asked Wendelborn.

Village officials added that a petition, which was facilitated late in 2022 and placed inside the library

Juli Hesse, in foreground, of the Kewaskum Library Board takes notes as Village Trustee James Hovland, Village Clerk Tammy Butz and Deputy Clerk Tocarra Theisen, all pictured from left, listen in on the joint discussion between the library board and village board. and local businesses, asking patrons about their desires for the future library space, seemed to be a "lightning rod" for discontent in the project.

"When the petition was introduced, it created this thought that [the library board] wanted to fund a separate library and, now, not matter what we do, it causes a hindrance to our ability to fundraise," said Village Trustee Fuzz Martin, noting that the village's plan in raising capital wrapped around messaging of the new building being a "joint facility."

Kreis said the petition was only meant to gather information and to honor the library's stated mission of expanding community space. According to its members, the Foundation, a non-profit organization that benefits the Kewaskum Public Library, started the petition.

The former PNC Bank branch at 1225 Fond du Lac Avenue in the Village of Kewaskum. The Kewaskum Library Board is considering this space for a future library, though the idea is in its infancy.

"It wasn't anything to 'stick it to the board,'" said Kreis, quoting a previous statement from a village official.

Toward the end of the meeting, an added wrinkle was thrown into the ring: the recent closure of the PNC Bank branch at 1225 Fond du Lac Ave. Members of the library board expressed interest in this location as a possible public library.

"I think we should put it on hold until we find out what goes on," said Trustee Richard Knoebel, noting the potential sale of the former PNC Bank building might not be feasible until March or later in the spring. "We're not going to get this done tonight, and we're not going to get this done in the next month or two."

While at times the discussion teetered on contentious, Shambeau and all present members of the represented boards did express optimism on a conclusion, but not in the present. By the meeting's end, it was clear that more discussions would be necessary to move forward with a shared-facilities building project.

"You've got your concerns, and we've got our concerns," said Knoebel to members of the library board. "And we're not gelling, at all."

The village board moved into closed session for the remainder of the meeting.

OUTDOORS from page 16

Here is where things get a little interesting.

We knew we were going to knock some geese out of the sky as, simply put, we were hunting the only open water in the area. We were going to let the first flock pass after we became comfortable but, that was not in the cards, and Seth and I each picked out a goose and sent it to heaven.

The show put on by Arrow and Flower retrieving all of these birds today was amazing. Breaking ice, swimming, climbing out of the ice, grabbing the bird, jumping back in the open water and then swimming to Seth with their mouth full of a goose would have been a great show for T.V.

It was darn cold; the mirror on my truck had said 6-degrees. The kind of cold where, if a hunter falls in the water with waders – even if it's only mid-thigh deep – he or she has trouble.

So, Seth and I have been so busy that we have not even hardly had time to shoot the bull and, just like that, here comes another flock, and I smacked one and, so far, we had not missed a bird.

The pups fetched the goose, we sat, another flock flies by and Seth drops one and still no missing. After 10 minutes of hunting, we are down to our third and last bird that each of us can shoot, as the limit it is three-per-man.

About 20 million mallards put on an aerial show for us, we waited 10 minutes, a flock flew by and neither Seth nor myself missed. After another beautiful retrieve, Seth and I took out lunches and shot the breeze while watching the goose and duck show.

When we got up to begin the journey back,

Lady Cougar Bowlers Are 7-1

CHS BOWLING

In their first match after the holidays, the Campbellsport Cougars bowling team traveled to West Bend to face the West Bend Saprtans on their home lanes.

The Cougars came out hot in game one with a 179 but quickly cooled off in games two and three with 120 and 139.

Game four saw a lineup change, and the Cougars found their mojo. They threw a 209 and made the match even at 2-2.

The Cougars won game five with a 164 but took a nap in game six with only a 131.

The match stood at 3-3.

West Bend West has a young team that is constantly improving and not to be taken for granted.

The Spartans were giving the Cougars a challenge, and the Cougars stepped up, finishing with 161, 187 and 200 to win the match, 6-3, for their seventh win of the season.

The Cougars had been suffering from injuries all season and this week wasn't any different, except they had a new injured bowler in Taylor Muraski, who had sprained her ankle playing club volleyball. Muraski is the Cougar's leadoff bowler and a good one at that. She decided to bowl with a stiff ankle and still managed to lead the team from her lead-off spot but struggled with single pin spares with a compromised delivery.

Brianna Thompson led the team again. She filled 18 of 18 frames with 16 strikes and nine spares counting her 10th frame fill balls. This was Thompson's second match in-a-row filling 18 of 18. Thompson currently leads both the girls and boys Conferences with an 88 fill percentage.

Olivia Boegel and Maddy Grunwald also complemented Thompson's perfect night well. Grunwald filled 10 of 14 frames and Boegel filled nine of 16 frames. Aubree Koenings chipped in filling eight of 14 frames.

Stats for the match were as follows (strikes-spare-total frames): Taylor Muraski 4-3-14; Olivia Boegel 4-5-16; Hannah Thelen 2-1-7; Capri Constantineau 0-2-7; Aubree Koenings 4-4-14; Maddy Grunwald 6-4-14; Brianna Thompson 11-7-18.

my chest waders were frozen like cement.

The following day I hunted alone, hiked out in the dark, the open water had frozen over and I only had one chance at shooting. I was hiding in some cattails on the ice, I leaned back to shoot, and as I was firing, I fell backwards through the ice. I dropped my goose, did not get another shot and all's well that ends well.

Maybe on this hunt, Dick Emerson was helping.

Thanks, Dick!

King Pin Honor Scores

LYNN SERWE
KING PIN LANES

With the first half of the bowling season in the books, now is the time to recap honor scores from it.

Jeremy Schrauth had the hot hand rolling not one, but two perfect 300 games. The first came on Monday, Oct. 24, and was his most special honor score to date. Schrauth's son, Carson, was right behind him and got to see him throw the last three balls. It was the first 300 game that Carson got to witness live and, definitely, a moment that he won't forget. Schrauth's second perfect game came on Monday, Dec. 19, and was part of his impressive 763 series (248-300-215). He has been bowling for about 40 years and has accumulated 16 perfect games in his bowling career. We wouldn't be surprised to see more honor scores from Jeremy, yet, this season.

On Monday, Nov. 7, Chris Medinger rolled his second 300 game of his bowling career. The night started a little slow for him with a 183 before he buckled down to throw a perfect 300 the second game. Medinger told himself to slow down, get the ball outside and to keep his head down be-

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

Cold Weather Goose Hunt

MARK WALTERS
 COLUMNIST

This December, I was driving on the interstate near Deforest in mid-December – headed to my good friend Dick Emerson's funeral – and I had just written about Dick the week before. Dick and Molly Emerson are the couple that helped me become a writer. I kept noticing, literally, hundreds of Canadian geese flying all over.

Dick's funeral was in Deforest, and I had a brainstorm and decided to call Seth Steinhauer, who is 33, a solid member of our group of very fun people and asked him where the heck I could hunt in this area. Seth is an arborist with Bugg Tree Care and has been an active waterfowl hunter since he was old enough to legally be a waterfowler. Seth has two Chesapeake: Arrow, who is 8, and her daughter,

Flower, who is 3. Seth Steinhauer is more into using a kayak than a motor, which is something that I have a lot of respect for. SUNDAY, DEC. 18 HIGH: 25. LOW: 6. This would be a very interesting and fun hunt for both of us. First, Seth was dragging a kayak loaded with decoys, and I was pulling an Otter Sled a good half-mile. Next, we dragged our rigs on just-thick-enough ice about 400-yards and then dogs and men immersed themselves in water while wearing chest waders. Then, we set decoys and, finally, we hid in cattails next to each other and began our hunt. Today was opening day of the late Canada goose season and, let me tell you, I made the right call when I chose Seth Steinhauer. The conditions were kind of brutal and, to hunt where we were, you had to travel on foot. It was somewhat dangerous and, despite the fact that we were near Madison (meaning lots of people), we did not hear another shot for our entire hunt.
