Kewaskum Village Seeking Relocation of County Monopole

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM

On May 22 of this year, Washington County contractor crews began installation on a monopole in the Village of Kewaskum Municipal Building parking lot. This is the first step in erecting a wireless communications support structure, which is owned and operated by Washington County to serve every public safety department in the county.

The project is expected to be completed by 2026.

The new radio tower is planned for placement in the heart of Downtown Kewaskum, replacing where another tower currently sits. The replacement will extend 185 feet in height.

The Village of Kewaskum has an opportunity to enhance the downtown with the relocation of the Village Hall, Police Department and Public Library, however, there is concern among village officials that the tower will be hindrance to growth.

Discussions about the tower placement have been ongoing between the village and the Washington County Sheriff's Office since 2020. Recently,

A 1929 Model A was parked in front of the Auburn Bluffs Golf Course just outside Campbellsport on Saturday, June 3. The golfers on the course were dressed in clothing from that same era, and they were playing hickory golf with clubs that were used more than 100 years ago.

"It's really a lot of fun. We have quite a good group and quite an active participation here in Wisconsin," said Mike Brown, who, along with Dave Long, co-directed Saturday's outing.

This was the second year the Campbellsport "Southern Copper Cup" hickory golf group held the event. The outing was in honor of World Hickory Day, which is typically held the first Sunday in May.

"World Hickory Day is a celebration that was started in a more southern atmosphere, where it is warmer at the beginning of May 1. We have our event the first weekend of June because we get better weather then," Brown said.

A total of 40 players participated in Saturday's outing, which featured rounds with Gutter-style balls that were used in the 1800s. Players used a variety of traditional clubs, including modern hickory clubs that were used between 1900 and 1935.

"It gives us the feel of what it was like to play the game when they played back in 1890. We have a pretty good crew playing today," Brown said. "It really is fun."

There are hickory golf groups across the country. Wisconsin has one of the largest hickory golf organizations.

"We have a pretty active group, where we can play two or three tournaments a month," said

Seeds of Impact

Dear Reader,

Recently my three daughters held a birthday celebration for me. Prior to the event, they asked all invited to send in a message regarding their insights, perceptions, and role in my life. A book of all the missives was compiled, sprinkled with photographs of many extraordinary families and friends I rode the trails with. It was a magnificently crafted treasure trove of memories.

When reading the messages, what struck me most was how I had affected their lives. So many events and engagements had been lost in my memory since I've pretty much always pushed forward. Their thoughtfully shared reminiscences conveyed to me words and actions that had a profound and lasting effect on their odyssey.

I was reminded of the unknowable impact we all have in our engagements with others. Planned or inadvertent, advice and counsel and the marshaling of available resources can help a person get a leg up on the ladder. Even a positive comment and smile, or a simple question of how one's day is going, can ripple through another person's interactions to still more people on the journey. These seeds are worth planting in the precious days allotted to us.

A bit of prevention goes a long way in minimizing insect and disease problems in the garden. Enlist a holistic approach known as Plant Health Care to manage your ornamental and edible gardens. It starts with proper plant selection and care and ends with using the most eco-friendly controls when problems do occur.

Start by selecting plants suited to the growing conditions. Match your plants to the light, soil, and other growing conditions in your yard. You'll have healthier plants that require less ongoing care and are less prone to pests, helping to increase your gardening success.

Look for and purchase the most pest-resistant plants available. Garden phlox and bee balm are frequently attacked by powdery mildew. Purchase mildew-resistant varieties like Backlight with white flowers, Glamour Girl with hot coral pink

G.A. SCHEINOHA
CONTRIBUTOR

Couldn't ask for a nicer day for the unofficial start of summer. Even though the solstice isn't until June 21, the seasons don't always begin or end by an exact date on the calendar. What worthier reason for a road trip?

No, steered clear of the Dells. Perfect as the weather was for a boat excursion on the Wisconsin River, either upper or lower, maybe even of the splashy Ducks variety, the region is now simply our state's version of New York City on one of its average crowded afternoons. Too many people on suddenly too narrow sidewalks screams pick-pocket's paradise. Years ago, while Mom navigated among the deluge, I kept a wary vigil. Cutting a wide circular swath left to right then reverse to form a bubble of personal space around her, like a bodyguard.

Outing this time was an annual, 170-mile tradition. Started in the Village of Campbellsport to buy floral splays at True Value, back to Union Cemetery to place them at my parents' and maternal grandparents' graves. Then on to where my brother Lee lies in rest out at Sheboygan Falls.

Last leg of the journey up to Manitowoc to visit my paternal grandparents in Evergreen, on a ridge above the river. On misty days foghorns on Lake Michigan are heard within the tree enclosed grounds. The route ended at great-grandfather and mother's burial site. A towering, polished granite slab bearing our family surname, reminder of everyone's limited lifespan.

Sometimes though, the trip is less about destination than ground covered. A blast from the past; spotting a Ford Maverick along the way. Or slipping through present into the future. Everywhere fields stretched and yawned. Some still covered in last harvest's corn stubble, others fresh mown alfalfa. Earth wakes, green again. Even amidst death, there is still burgeoning life.

The Joys of New Jersey

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

There are few states that get more flack than New Jersey.

Perhaps best known for being "Not New York City", New Jersey receives monikers like "the armpit of America" and, in general, folks who have never been there seem to have an inherent disdain for the Garden State. Whatever the reasons, I'm here to flatly state: They are all wrong.

I was fortunate to spend portions of last week in New Jersey, specifically on the Jersey Shore (another oft-mocked locale due to a trashy reality television show by the same name), and after an incredible vacation (including attending a wedding), I'm not exactly sure what the rest of America doesn't like about beautiful sand beaches, access to the ocean and some of the best entertainment, food and nightlife on the planet.

That's not to mention the ride to get there, which in my case wound through Brendan T. Byrne State Forest, which is part of the New Jersey Pine Barrens (home of the mythological Jersey Devil). It's a dense ecosystem of trees, wildlife and immense greenery; there are few areas in Wisconsin that can rival these impenetrable forests, and they are tucked between some of the most populated cities in the country.

This is how humans are, though: we tend to hear something a few times and just sort of accept it as reality. I will admit I was once one of these people who held a lower opinion of Jersey. My judgements of New Jersey prior to ever stepping foot inside the state were pretty low; I thought about crime, pollution and desolation all thanks to the likes of Bruce Springsteen, the Sopranos and below-average situational comedies on television.

I lived in New Jersey for about one year in 2013-14. Admittedly, I was not in the state's most desirable portion, but it did not prevent me from fully enjoying the culture and people within the region. A big reason Jersey ingratiated me quickly was its insanely good food (I'm dead serious), and its abnormally kind residents. Here in Wisconsin, and across the Midwest, we pride ourselves on our kindness and generosity. I think, on the whole, we perform above the mean in this regard, however, there are no more accepting and helpful people than New Jersians. This contrasts with a common perception that East Coasters are rude (which, also, is pretty bunk).

As for that food, imagine a place where every restaurant on every corner has the best sandwich in the world. This is New Jersey. I don't know how they do it, how to replicate it or why more people don't talk about it, but every hoagie of every kind I had in the state was, bar none, significantly better than anything I had here in my home state or anywhere else in the world.

I'll admit, though, that I probably put a little too much value on the presence of a good sandwich. To each their own.

Regardless, before you knock it, maybe give it a shot.

Also, since when was being "Not New York" a bad thing?

See you next week.

Progress Pride Flag to be Flown Statewide in Celebration of Pride Month

Gov. Tony Evers today signed Executive Order No. 204 on June 1, ordering that the Progress Pride Flag be raised over the Wisconsin State Capitol during the month of June in celebration of Pride Month. The Progress Pride Flag will fly over the East Wing of the State Capitol building beginning at noon on Thursday, June 1, and ending at sunset on Friday, June 30. Additionally, the executive order authorizes state buildings and any jurisdiction of the state of Wisconsin to fly the Progress Pride Flag during the month of June.

"As we kick off Pride Month in Wisconsin, we celebrate LGBTQ people in Wisconsin, the LGBTQ community more broadly, and LGBTQ contributions and culture, which are a vibrant, critical part of our state and our country," said Gov. Evers. "We also honor and pay tribute to generations of LGBTQ folks who aren't with us today—those whose stories, voices, and dedication have helped secure the LGBTQ freedoms that, even today, we must work hard to defend and protect.

"As much as today and the month of June is a time to celebrate and honor the LGBTQ community, this is also a time when we recognize the work we have before us and the challenges the LGBTQ community faces still today," continued Gov. Evers. "Anti-LGBTQ words and actions—whether they're happening in Wisconsin or elsewhere—only make our work to keep our LGBTQ kids, families, and communities healthy and safe even more difficult. And to those whose rhetoric, actions, and legislation aims to harm LGBTQ Wisconsinites—especially our LGBTQ kids—this flag flies over the East Wing, just feet above my office, as a signal that I will always stand with LGBTQ Wisconsinites and fight to protect them with every tool and every power that I have."

Gov. Evers also proclaimed June 2023 as "LGBTQ Pride Month" throughout the state of Wisconsin.

June is recognized as Pride Month in Wisconsin and throughout the United States, which originally began as a recognition of and tribute to the Stonewall Uprising in 1969 and has become an annual, month-long celebration and recognition of the LGBTQ community.

Gov. Evers ordered the Rainbow Pride Flag to fly over the East Wing of the Wisconsin State Capitol for the first time in state history in 2019. Since then, the Rainbow Pride Flag has flown over the Capitol each year for the month of June until last year when Gov. Evers raised the Progress Pride

Brown, who has played hickory at different tournaments across the country. “You don’t realize how people look at us when you go to the other states and they talk about Wisconsin. They tell us we really have got it going up here. I tell them I guess it’s maybe because with the four seasons, we are kind of extreme. When it’s golfing time, we are all in.”

For many, the sport is relaxing. Plus, it is affordable, according to Brown.

“A lot of people think it costs more to get involved than it really does. You can buy the common clubs that were mass produced for people back in the 1900s for $10 or $20 apiece. Of course, if you do find a hidden gem, that can cost you a couple hundred dollars,” Brown said.

Brown said the golf attire is not expensive either.

“Except for this vest, this is all from Goodwill,” Brown said, motioning to his apparel. “Putting it all together is half the fun.”

People from outside of Wisconsin traveled to Campbellsport to play in Saturday’s event. Tom Presperin of Naperville, Ill., was one of those people. The 62-year-old has played regular golf since he was 10, but he started playing hickory golf just three seasons ago.

“It’s very different from regular golf; there’s no technology assist,” Presperin said. “There’s a learning curve you have to get through, but for me, once you get through that, it’s much more rewarding because it’s very authentic. It’s the way golf was played 100-plus years ago. It’s very relaxing.”

Presperin has traveled across the Midwest to play hickory golf tournaments.

“When I first told people I was doing this, they asked if I was like a Civil War reenactor. I told them, ‘No, we dress that way, but we don’t know who’s going to win. You guys who do the reenactment, you know who is going to win... this is the way it happened at Gettysburg. Well, this ain’t Gettysburg,’” Presperin said. “We are all trying to win. It’s fun.”

Hickory Clubs

Rather than looking for the club with the newest technology, hickory golfers are usually looking for something they don’t have from a certain era.

Mary Peterson practices putting at a hickory golf outing held on June 3 at Auburn Bluffs Golf Course in Campbellsport.

Brad Korando, a hickory golfer from Pleasant Prairie who golfed at Auburn Bluffs on Saturday, takes it a step further. He has researched the clubs used in different eras and has built clubs that were used in the early days, before any metal was used, by hand.

“I try to make the clubs using the original materials on the exact methods that they used. So, when I make the clubs, there are no power tools whatsoever. I cut the wood with a handsaw,” Korando said.

Korando uses no poly finishes. Instead, he uses all-natural waxes and oils. To create the different color stains, he mixes dyes.

“It helps me sort of connect with what these people were doing in the day. It doesn’t make me golf any better, but it puts a smile on my face,” Korando said.

It takes Korando about 20 hours to make each club. He starts with a slab of hickory.

“I got the wood from the golf course by my house and hickory trees that were planted when the course was new. Whenever they maintain the course, I get their scraps. I let them dry in my garage,” Korando said as he held out one of the clubs. “For this one, I took a handsaw and cut a cube an inch by an inch by about 40 inches long. Then I take knives and I kept going until it was round.”

For the club he was holding, Korando added a piece of ram’s horn to add durability when the club hits the ground. He hardened leather to repair the face of club. A piece of lead adds weight to help give it a better swing. He created the grip from sheepskin and fabric, the same way clubs were made over 100 years ago. For finishing touches, he used pine pitch and linen.

“I’m not a very good golfer at all, but I really am curious about the history of it. I would like to try to experience the game the way it would have been experienced back then,” Korando said. “The best thing, I think, about all of this is everybody just has the mindset of having fun first. It’s incidental that we’re golfing. It is just a fun day.”

blossoms, and the Ka-Pow series that comes in a variety of colors. Look for mildew-resistant bee balm varieties like the Sugar Buzz series in shades of lavender, pink and red, and the compact Balmly series to reduce the risk of this disease.

Provide proper care throughout the growing season. Water thoroughly and only as needed to encourage a deep robust root system better able to absorb needed nutrients and water. Apply water directly to the soil and early in the morning to reduce the risk of disease and water loss to evaporation. Mulch the soil surface with shredded leaves and evergreen needles to conserve moisture, suppress weeds, and improve the soil. This one task provides many benefits to you and your plants.

Avoid over-fertilization. Excess nitrogen promotes lush succulent growth that is more susceptible to insects and disease and may interfere with flowering and fruiting.

Check plants regularly and throughout the season for any signs of insects and disease. Look on the upper and lower surface of the leaves and along the stems. It is much easier to treat a small population of insects or pluck off a few diseased leaves than trying to control large pest populations.

Properly identify the pest. Most insects, more than 97%, are good guys that pollinate our plants, eat insect pests, and help compost plant waste. Knowing the good from the bad and the harmful from those that are just annoying can save you time, money, and frustration. Consult your University Extension’s website, local botanic gardens, and other horticulture professionals for help with diagnosing and treating problems.

And if control is needed, look for eco-friendly options. A thorough cleanup is often enough to reduce insect and disease problems to a tolerable level. Spraying plants with a strong blast of water to dislodge aphids and mites, knocking problem insects into a can of soapy water, or removing spotted leaves may be all that’s needed.

Use barriers like floating row covers to prevent damage from cabbage worms and bean beetles. University research has found that with proper timing these products can also help reduce the risk of squash vine borer, squash bugs, and cucumber bacterial wilt.

If you opt for chemical control, look for an organic or the most eco-friendly product labeled for managing disease or insect pests. As always, read and follow label directions for the best and safest results.

Enlisting a holistic approach allows you to work with nature to grow a beautiful and productive garden.

Kewaskum's Destination Imagination Teams Find Success

BREANNA RICE
JOURNALIST

Students from the Kewaskum Destination Imagination (DI) program recently finished a successful season, as the teams earned awards at regional and state tournaments.

DI consists of students from grades K-12 and allows for individuals to grow in their teamwork abilities and meet students with similar interests.

Within Kewaskum there are three teams that competed in this year's DI program. Middle school students in a group called Knights of the Kitchen Counter, a combined middle and elementary school team named the Cool Chicks and a second grade team called the Music Dogs.

Knights of the Kitchen Counter took first place at regionals and state in both the technical and instant challenge competitions. The Cool Chicks team received third place at the regional tournament in the Fine Arts challenge and the Music Dogs performed in front of family and friends to gain experience for the future.

Knights of the Kitchen Counter team manager Nikki Jones explains that Destination Imagination is an international, project-based program that encourages innovation, teamwork and creative problem solving.

A majority of the Knights of the Kitchen Counter students agreed that their favorite part of DI is spending time with their friends and learning new skills.

"I really like that I get to do things that I otherwise wouldn't get to do at home, such as learning how to use power tools," said Penny, a second year member of the club.

DI offers a variety of different competition categories to choose from each year. Every individual team has the option to decide which category to focus on based off of what best fits their skills and interests.

This year, the Kewaskum Middle School students were tasked with creating a puzzle that had 10 pieces. The team also needed to create two different machines that would assist in solving the puzzle.

"We decided to create a vacuum arm that was able to pick up the puzzle pieces along with a conveyor belt system that worked to make a sword puzzle," explained DI member Claire.

A big part of Destination Imagination is for kids to learn how to problem solve while working with a team.

"The manager can't provide any solutions or suggestions," said Nikki Joans. "All we can do is help generate ideas by bringing in different items to brainstorm and stimulate the creative process."

Nikki also mentioned that the group went to different hardware stores where they observed a variety of tools and pieces of equipment that could be used for their project.

The DI members explained that there is a lot of trial and error when creating the machines. In the fall, the group meets once a week and as competition season approaches they get together twice a week. After a competition, groups are able to take the feedback they receive from the judges and tweak their project for the next time they compete.

"The judges like to see students taking risks and doing something out of the box," said Nikki Jones.

The middle school students felt that their success stemmed from their abilities to work well with each other and build off the ideas of their teammates.

Next year, the students expressed that they would love to see more teams in the community compete.

"It would be great to have more representation from our schools," mentioned Nikki Jones. "It would also be beneficial if we had more volunteers."

The local DI teams are no longer apart of the Kewaskum School District, so members and managers must find their own funding and space for students to build their projects.

"This year going to the Global competition was not on our radar due to the expenses this experience would entail," explained Nikki Jones. "We hope this is something we can do in the future but the trip is definitely a big undertaking."

The Global competition takes place in Kansas City and students from all over the world attend. This year, the middle school team would have had the opportunity to compete at this level but fundraising would have had to be done in advance.

The Destination Imagination members suggest that students should look into the program and give it a try if they are at all interested.

"I didn't know anyone from the team before I joined and I really enjoyed working with them all and becoming friends throughout the year," said Addy from the Knights team.

The Destination Imagination program provides students with lifelong skills and abilities that can be used in many different aspects of the future.

"DI is my creative outlet," said Knights member Claire. "The experiences and friendships I have gained will help me throughout my life and I'm so glad for them. Creating plays and building all the props is so fun! I will continue to do DI next year because I enjoy it so much."

the village proposed alternate sites for consideration, but Washington County indicated the cost of relocation is estimated to be an additional $500,000 to $800,000 and would delay completion of the project, thereby risking public safety.

In response to the village's concerns, Washington County Sheriff Marty Schulteis stated via email:

"Our initial proposal went through the Kewaskum planning commission and village board while the former village administrator was there. The county has already $16,400 invested in the existing Kewaskum tower site for engineering. The county has already contracted with RACOM to build a new 185' monopole at the site and remove the existing tower. Total construction for the existing Kewaskum PD site: $332,153.74 and we have been under contract with our vendor since the planning commission and village board approved the project under the current MOU."

Kewaskum Village Administrator Adam Gitter attended the May 17 Washington County Public Safety Committee meeting regarding the Public Safety Radio Tower Project to express his concerns. Gitter requested the county look at additional sites for the tower. He commented that any hindrance to the development on the municipal site will result in a financial loss of tax base between $1 million and $7 million. Some committee members indicated they were unaware of the village's interest in relocating the radio tower. The committee discussed the timeline of the county's decision and various members expressed it was "too late" to change directions. It was determined that the committee does not have the authority to alter the project and no action was taken.

"The Village of Kewaskum fully supports having the location of a Public Safety Tower in the village," said Gitter. "However, the current location stifles our Downtown Economic Redevelopment and the future growth of Kewaskum as a whole. We are optimistic Washington County will recognize the opportunity to work together in creating a solution that benefits both parties and, most importantly, Village of Kewaskum residents and businesses."

Washington County Executive Josh Schoemann embraced the opportunity to work together.

"The radio tower project was approved in 2021, under different Kewaskum leadership, and has county-wide public safety ramifications," he said. "The contract has long ago been signed and the work has already begun. I understand the new administration and leadership have a new vision for Kewaskum, and the tower placement is not ideal for the downtown development plans they would like to pursue. Washington County stands ready and willing to continue discussions about a long term plan that fits within the village leadership's new vision, while ensuring public safety and holding the taxpayer harmless."

Goodtime Dutchmen to Open 'Music In The Park' Series on June 13

STATESMAN STAFF

The Kewaskum Area Arts Council is pleased to announce the return of the Tuesday Music In The Park concert series, which is set to kick off on June 13 with the Goodtime Dutchmen.

The group formed back in the 1990s by Ralph Thull and is a pure polka band. With Ralph leading on accordion, the saxophone player, the pianist, one of the trumpet players and the drummer are all members of the Thull family.

Ralph was raised with polka music, being the son of Bill Thull whose orchestra recorded a number of polka albums from the 1950s into the 70s. The Dutchmen themselves have recorded several compact discs and play virtually every weekend all over the state. The Goodtime Dutchmen always draw a big crowd at Music In The Park and get folks out of their seats to dance.

The Music In The Park concert is free and takes place in the large shelter in River Hill Park in Kewaskum. Concessions are typically available starting at 5:30 p.m. and the music begins at 6:30 p.m.

The concert will last between 90 minutes and two hours with an intermission. The shelter has picnic tables but many people bring their own lawn furniture.

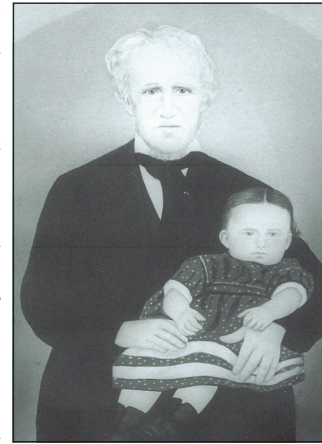

Donations from Kewaskum Women's Club, Kewaskum Firefighter's Association, Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, Gerhartz Studio, Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce and Drexel Building Supply made this year's concert series possible.

They traveled as a group of 140 family members with 59 adults and 71 children. They traveled in cargo ships and had to bring their own food, beds and supplies in addition to the tools and personal items they would need to survive in the wilderness. The trip to New York was 52 days, then to Milwaukee by boat where they bought land, horses, oxen and supplies before walking the final 35 miles to St. Michaels. The families settled in close proximity to each other and built a new community for their families including the St. Michael's Catholic Church and a school. It is a story of determination, persistence, leadership, hard work and the strength of family and faith.

Norbert Dettmann was born and raised in the Town of Farmington attending the Boltonville State Graded School and graduating from West Bend High School. He became an insurance agent for American Family and insured hundreds of families in the community. He was a volunteer and leader in the community all his life. He led the community in consolidating the three one/two room schools and building Farmington Elementary School in 1967 and joining the Kewaskum K-12 system. He served on the first advisory council for creating UW Washington County and served on many other county and State Committees and Boards. He generously gave back to his community supporting the St. John's UCC/New Horizons Church, Boltonville Sportsmen Club, the Boltonville Fire Dept. and the Farmington Historical Society.

Beverly A. Kirchner

Beverly "Bev" A. Kirchner (nee Schubert) of Kewaskum, passed away peacefully on Friday, May 26, 2023, with her family at her side, at the age of 86.

She was born December 20, 1936, in Milwaukee, the daughter of Stanley "Billy" and Dorothy Schubert. She was a member of Good Shepherd Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Bend and graduated from Rufus King High School in 1955.

Beverly was united in marriage to Elton Kirchner on December 27, 1957, and settled in the Town of Kewaskum, where she raised her three loving children.

Beverly enjoyed working with the many people in the community as a Real Estate Broker, since July 1974 through West Grove Realty, Coldwell Banker, Purdential, Shorewest and First Weber Realty; and she retired after 45 years. Entering retirement, she cherished time spent with her grandchildren, and enjoyed bowling on various fall leagues. Bev enjoyed life immensely and was often caught reading a favorite book and tending to her flowers, to attract the many birds she loved to watch - "Whenever you see a cardinal, that's her watching over you - so don't cry for her - but embrace life and all it has to offer."

Those Bev leaves behind to cherish her memory include her husband, Elton, of 65 years; two sons, Mark Kirchner and Russ Kirchner; daughter, Sandra Kirchner, all of Kewaskum; three beautiful and loving granddaughters, Makinley, Harper, and Paige Kirchner, all from Kewaskum. She is further survived by other relatives.

Bev's family welcomed immediate relatives and friends to celebrate her life on Monday, June 5, 2023, from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m., at the Phillip Funeral Home, 1420 W. Paradise Dr., West Bend. A private Funeral Service for Bev was held on Tuesday, June 6, at Good Shepherd EV Lutheran Church, West Bend, with the Rev. Robert Hein officiating. Private entombment will be at Washington County Memorial Park. Memorials can be left in her name to St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

The family would like to extend their heartfelt appreciation to the friends, neighbors, and healthcare staff who comforted Bev in her final hours.

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend is assisting the family.

Check It Out!

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR
KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

The kickoff to the summer camping season began on Memorial Day weekend and we were among many outdoors aficionados taking advantage of the great weather that came our way.

In truth, we began our season this year in the middle of April when the campground opened. It turned out to be a warm sunny weekend, a rarity in the middle of a month of variations of weather including snow shortly after we opened our home there.

When we winterproofed in October of last year, we had professionals take care of the maintenance portion and we, ourselves, made sure the interior was critter proof. I was still apprehensive about rodents getting in, I have heard horror stories from other seasonals, including a recent video footage of a mole that got into someone's trailer. We brought home anything that may have attracted unwanted visitors and put everything else in storage bins or tightly wrapped in plastic.

When we opened the place in April, the only life found, or rather lost, were a few flies on the floor. With a little dusting and unpacking, we were back in business. My husband decided to come up a few days earlier to take care of the de-winterizing himself. I have no clue what that involved, but did read about a few hints that I passed to him, such as making sure to open all the valves in the hot water heater and filling it before turning it on.

The day we officially opened our park model, I arrived a few hours before him. I could finish cleaning, unpacking, and setting up the household as to how I preferred. I knew the water might take a few hours to heat up, but by the time my husband got there, it was still cold. I don't think he listened to my helpful hints and an element in the water heater broke. Although the weather was beautiful, showering in cold water put a damper on the first weekend and we did not stay long.

Between opening weekend and the official start to the camping season, the water heater was repaired. Compared to previous years with the travel trailer, getting ready to camp with that one exception was easy, at least for me. Since we bought the place near the end of last season and spent most of the time cleaning it out, this year it has been refreshing to just come there, do a little work and then relax with friends and family.

The site next to us was sold to a couple and it needed a lot of work. The past few weekends, we have witnessed the new owners do an assortment of chores such as yardwork, power washing the home and discarding many things they didn't want. One day, the neighbors came over and asked us how long it took us to be in the spot we were, relaxing on our Adirondack chairs in the sun. Well that is quite the story.

Enjoy your start to summer!

Wisconsin Dairy by the Numbers

WISCONSINCHEESE.COM

The impact of Wisconsin dairy is undeniable. With more farms than any other state, dedicated dairy farmers who act as servants of their communities, land and animals, and of course, the freshest products in the land, there's a lot to celebrate during National Dairy Month and all year long.

Economic Impact

- Wisconsin's dairy industry creates 157,000 jobs, and every dollar generated by this industry produces another $1.73 in additional revenue for the state.
- Wisconsin dairy generates more than $45.6 billion to Wisconsin's economy – more than the combined total of Florida citrus and Idaho potatoes.

Nutrition

- Dairy foods provide a unique nutrient profile that helps people of all ages achieve greater health and wellness, a great reason to celebrate National Dairy Month. From calcium to potassium, real dairy products like milk contain 13 immunity-boosting nutrients including Vitamins A and D, zinc and protein.
- The protein contained in dairy provides a perfect "pick me up" so you can perform your best during National Dairy Month.

Sustainable Farming

- In America, the dairy industry is responsible for only about 2% of total greenhouse gas emissions and has recently adopted a goal to reduce that even further by 2050.

- The U.S. dairy community is committed to achieving greenhouse gas neutrality, optimizing water use while maximizing recycling and improving water quality by optimizing utilization of manure and nutrients by 2050.
- Sustainability is more than a buzzword – it's how dairy farmers have been around for generations. Wisconsin dairy farmers strive to conserve and improve the environment by incorporating sustainability best practices from recycling water and crop rotation to anaerobic digesters that produce enough energy to power farms and local communities.
- Wisconsin has more than 40 dairy-farmer-led watershed groups that work hard to protect thousands of acres of land and water for future generations. Farmers care about water quality – from the water their families drink to the lakes and rivers they enjoy.

History of National Dairy Month

- Dairy farming has been a main pillar of Wisconsin's economy for more than 180 years.
- National Dairy Month started out as National Milk Month in 1937 to promote drinking milk. In 1939, June Dairy Month became the official title of the promotion and focused on greater use of milk and other dairy products.
- National Dairy Month is an annual tradition that celebrates the contributions the dairy industry makes to the state and the world. In Wisconsin, we celebrate National Dairy Month bigger than anywhere else with on-farm breakfast events and enjoyment of the world's best dairy products.

Farm and Dairy Stats as of April 2023 (per WASS):

- Number of Licensed Dairy Herds – 6,033 herds
- Number of Dairy Cows – 1,268,000 dairy cows
- Average Number of Cows Per Dairy Farm – 210 dairy cows
- Total Monthly Milk Production – 2.64 billion pounds
- Monthly Milk Production Per Cow – 2,085 pounds or 242 gallons
- Daily Milk Production Per Cow – 70 pounds or 8.1 gallons

Milk – A Star Performer

Let's talk milk — Did you know that milk hydrates better than water? Well, it is true. From potassium to calcium, dairy milk is a natural choice when it comes to rehydration. The Dairy Alliance, a leader in bringing awareness about the nutritional benefits of milk, is connecting with consumers for National Dairy Month to educate them on the importance of milk's superpowers in hydration and recovery.

"Dairy milk is one of the most nutrient-dense and deliciously creamy ways to refuel after intense activity," said Geri Berdak, chief executive officer of The Dairy Alliance. "It is America's number one source of calcium and potassium and contains high-quality protein which is key to muscle recovery."

Milk has refueled people for centuries and is the most naturally hydrating real, simple beverage compared to today's sports drinks and non-dairy beverages that contain a long list of artificial ingredients. Milk provides 13 essential nutrients that hydrate and replenish the body, while also supporting immune health and strong bones.

Milk's high-quality protein and taste can't be matched by many plant-based alternatives. "One glass of milk contains 8 grams of complete, high-quality protein that helps build and maintain lean muscle," said Laura Buxenbaum, MPH, RD, LDN, senior director, Health & Wellness at The Dairy Alliance. Research shows water and other beverages restore hydration, milk is found to be more effective by maintaining normal hydration status after exercise, due to its electrolyte content paired with carbohydrates and high-quality protein.

The commemoration of dairy was established in 1939 by grocer organizations sponsoring "National Milk Month." By 1955, it turned into National Dairy Month as a way to promote individuals to consume and buy dairy and stabilize the demand of dairy production. Today, it has transformed into a celebration of milk and dairy as a natural and nutrient rich way to fuel athletic performance.

More information about the nutritional benefits of milk, dairy recipe ideas, and more, is available at thedairyalliance.com.

Seven Ways To Enjoy More Dairy

Dairy benefits the body in various ways. Individuals who may be wondering how to incorporate more dairy into their diets and/or individuals who have been advised to do so by a doctor or nutritionist can consider these handy tips.

1. Sprinkle on some cheese. Cheese has less lactose than other dairy products, making it easier on the stomach for those who may have issues consuming dairy. Consider sprinkling some parmesan cheese on an apple or popcorn for an afternoon snack, or have an ounce of cheddar with a small portion of nuts for calcium and protein.

2. Top off meals. Fruit salads, oatmeal or even a baked potato can be enhanced with low-fat yogurt instead of other fat-heavy or sugary toppings like whipped or sour creams.

3. Add milk to coffee. While some people simply like the taste of coffee served black, adding milk to one's morning or afternoon brew is an easy way to get a serving of dairy each day.

4. Finish your morning milk. Add a full serving of milk to that bowl of cereal. When the cereal is gone, sip the rest of the milk for a sweet treat.

5. Try evaporated milk. Heavy cream can add five grams of fat and 50 calories in just one tablespoon. In lieu of heavy cream, opt for fat-free evaporated milk in soups and other recipes that call for cream. Evaporated milk provides the creaminess of dairy without the excessive calories.

6. Try a kefir smoothie. Fermented kefir has roughly 15 to 20 times as many probiotics as yogurt. Probiotics benefit gut health, so substitute kefir in place of yogurt when making smoothies and other dairy drinks for a healthy boost.

7. Swap your spread. Switch out mayonnaise or mustard on sandwiches for yogurt or ricotta cheese. Add herbs or lemon juice to dairy to amp up flavor.

Hydration

- A glass of milk can make a valuable contribution to fluid intake
- Fluid needs vary but most adults need about 2-2.5L water per day
- This equates to about 8 glasses of fluid with the rest coming from food
- Exercise, high temperatures and some illness can increase fluid needs

One 200 ml glass:

Fluid and electrolytes

- 95 kcal
- 7g protein
- 31 % RI calcium
- 35% RI riboflavin
- 74% RI vitamin B12
- 16 % RI potassium
- 28% RI phosphorus
- 41% RI iodine

RI: recommended intake. Based on a 200 ml semi-skimmed glass of milk, which forms part of the Department of Health Guidelines for Healthy Eating <https://bit.ly/2R4eC2B>. Milk is a source of calcium, protein, riboflavin, vitamin B5, vitamin B12, potassium, phosphorus and iodine.

Dairy Dietary Guidelines

The value of a well-balanced diet is undeniable. An eating plan that includes foods from the various food groups ensures individuals get an assortment of healthy vitamins, minerals and nutrients. Certain foods may need to be avoided by individuals with preexisting conditions, but those without such restrictions can follow dietary guidelines from the United States Departments of Agriculture and Health and Human Services. Those guidelines include various recommendations regarding dairy consumption.

• The USDA notes that the amount of dairy an individual needs depends on the person's age, sex, height, weight, and level of physical activity. In addition, women who are pregnant or breastfeeding will have different dairy consumption needs than women who are not expecting or breastfeeding. Individuals can speak with their physicians to determine how much dairy they should consume, and they also can utilize the MyPlate Plan at myplate.gov. The MyPlate Plan allows users to enter information specific to them (i.e., weight, height, age, etc.) so they can learn how much dairy they should be consuming.

• USDA guidelines encourage most individuals to consume three servings of dairy per day. The organization's Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025 recommend that adults consume the equivalent of three cups of dairy per day. The guidelines indicate that children should consume

2 1/2 cups of dairy per day, with that number increasing to three cups around the time children reach age 9.

• Low-fat or fat-free dairy options are recommended. Low-fat or fat-free products can quell common concerns about dairy products, including that they're high in fat, calories and sodium. The organization American Bone Health™ reports that low-fat or fat-free dairy products provide more calcium, potassium, vitamin A, and vitamin D per calorie. Dairy is a vital component of a well-balanced, nutritious diet.

Individuals with more questions about dairy can consult with their physicians and/or visit www.dietaryguidelines.gov to learn more.

After much discussion, the Eden Board of Appeals voted to grant a variance to Tony Steffes for the remnant of the old St. Mary's Church building on Main Street. The variance was granted to make it an accessory building that can be used only for storage. The initial vote of 3-2 did not grant the variance as statues require at least a 4-1 vote. On a reconsideration vote, with some conditions attached that the original motion did not have, the motion passed unanimously.

During its June 9 meeting, the Campbellsport Village Board briefly discussed the trailer park on Main Street. Mary Enright made a complaint to the board about the condition of her trailer, claiming the owner has neglected it and not made the repairs she requested. Owner Robert Beining told the board he is afraid to go into the trailer because of the dogs Enright owns. The board decided to have the building inspector look at the trailer to determine if there are any violations. Beining has violated the trailer park ordinance. He moved a new trailer to the park without obtaining a building permit and without the building inspector looking at the new trailer. Board members were unsure of how to proceed.

Campbellsport Village Board members discussed the dam near Mill Pond. Alexya Ebert continues to exceed expectations of her doctors. When she was born almost nine years ago, her intestines were growing outside her body; the deformity part of a genetic disorder called gastroschisis. Soon another genetic disorder was discovered: neonatal Marfan syndrome, which affects the digestive system, eyes, and bones. Others born with that condition have died by the age of four. Alexya had gone through more than 250 surgeries in her lifetime. The latest was in January; she had two feet of six-inch dilated intestines removed. She continues to be a medical marvel.

In 2013, the Kewaskum Library Foundation, Inc. purchased the property just to the east of the public library with hopes of one day expanding the facility. Now the foundation would like to receive some money from the village for that property. The lot belongs to the foundation, but the village has maintained the property by mowing grass and removing snow.

Party On The Pavement will be held June 26. Volunteers run the annual event.

Floyd Klug has served the Beechwood Volunteer Fire Department for 45 years. He was presented an ax for serving the department for more than 25 years.

With the formal announcement that Sheriff Dale K. Schmidt will not seek another term as the Washington County sheriff, two people have announced candidacy for the seat: Martin Schulteis and Jason W. Guslick. Schmidt has served nearly 12 years in office. Schulteis is currently the captain of administration at the sheriff's office and serves as the statutorily appointed undersheriff. Guslick has 17 years of law enforcement experience and is a lieutenant at the Washington County Sheriff's Office.

Kennedy Lehn and Maddie Geidel were unanimous selections to the conference all-star team. Also selected to the first team was Tara Theusch. Leah Theusch, Ashley Trapp, and Kaitlin Leitheiser were named to the second team. Receiving honorable mention was Kaitlyn Miller.

Scoring twice in the bottom of the sixth inning, the Kewaskum Indians defeated West Bend East 5-4 on June 11. The win improved the KHS record to 9-2 overall and 4-1 in North Shore action. The Indians had beaten Grafton 8-1 on June 7.

C.H.S. May Students of the Month

CAMPBELLSPORT SCHOOL DISTRICT

Campbellsport High School (CHS) is proud to announce their “Students of the Month” for the month of May.

Congratulations to Kaitlyn Vant Hoff, Kelise Hearden, Lexi Diels and Emersin Wissink for being selected as the CHS Students of the Month in May.

Kaitlyn Vant Hoff

The science department nominates Kaitlyn Vant Hoff as the May Student of the Month. Kaitlyn is in Chemistry and Earth Science this semester.

In Chemistry, Kaitlyn has worked hard to maintain her status as one of the strongest students in her class. But even more important than that, Kaitlyn has demonstrated that she is also a great classmate. She goes out of the way to help others, and she shows infinite patience in working with other students who need her advice. She is a magnificent role model and is truly an asset to our school!

In Earth Science, Kaitlyn is a very independent student with a large heart. No matter her personal feelings and opinions towards a student, she is always willing to assist them if needed. She is a strong advocate for herself and strives to be the best that she can be, no matter the circumstances. Kaitlyn is truly a fantastic student and has been a wonderful addition to our class and school community.

Kelise Hearden

It is my pleasure to Lexi Diels is nominated as “Student of the Month” in May by the social studies department at Campbellsport High School.

Kelise Hearden is nominated as “Student of the Month” in May by the business department at Campbellsport High School.

Emersin Wissink and Kaitlyn Vant Hoff are nominated as “Student of the Month” in May by the science and social studies departments at Campbellsport High School. SUBMITTED nominate Kelise Hearden as a Campbellsport High School Student of the Month.

Kelise goes above and beyond in the classroom, actively engages in class discussions, asking questions and offering contributions that enhance the learning experience for her peers.

In addition to her excellence in academics, Kelise is just a great person to be around. She is such an easy person to get along with and never fails to make me laugh with her quick wit and sense of humor.

It has been a pleasure having her in my classes these past two years and I am excited to see all that she accomplishes next year as a senior!

Lexi Diels & Emersin Wissink

With the school year coming to a close, the Social Studies Department would like to recognize two young ladies from the freshman class who have demonstrated truly admirable qualities that deserve recognition.

From day one, Lexi Diels has demonstrated a unique interest in history. She’s the type of student who asks really good questions, is always willing to contribute, and clearly sees the connections that make history meaningful. You can see her mind working and she doesn’t hesitate to ask if she has questions.

Many students in large classes are reluctant to draw attention to themselves by asking, but voicing that curiosity can lead to whole new levels of understanding. After 30 years of teaching, I love it when a student asks a question I’ve never heard before.

Emersin Wissink, new to the district this year, has not only been an incredible and consistent academic standout, she’s been a model of positivity. If she’s ever stressed, it is never apparent. If she’s ever having a bad day, you’d never know it. There are a lot of wildcards in a teacher’s day, but one thing I know I can count on daily is the arrival of Emersin to class with a smile and a quiet, calm, kind demeanor that never fails to brighten my mornings. She’s always ready to learn, clearly values her education, and is a model of decency and respectfulness.

Thank you to both of you and all the freshmen who have added so much to my classroom this year.

All high school students are eligible for this honor. Students are nominated by their teachers and then chosen by department.

Teachers make their selections based upon attitude, effort, character, interest, and achievement, as exhibited in the classroom and school community. Administration, faculty, and staff are committed to developing future leaders in our community. We want to honor those who are striving each and every day to be those future leaders, who demonstrate this by their positive actions and behaviors.

Flag over the State Capitol for the first time. An iteration of the widely recognized Rainbow Pride Flag, the Progress Pride Flag was created to symbolize the inclusion of marginalized communities within the LGBTQ community. The Progress Pride Flag includes additional stripes forming a chevron pattern that represent LGBTQ individuals of color and the transgender community, as well as those who are living with and who have been lost to HIV/AIDS.

The Progress Pride Flag will once again be flown over the East Wing of the Wisconsin State Capitol this year. The Progress Pride Flag will not disrupt other flags that regularly fly over the State Capitol building. The U.S. flag and Wisconsin state flag will continue flying on the East Wing flagpole above the Progress Pride Flag. The POW-MIA flag will continue flying on the North Wing flagpole as it does every day.

a.m. and lots of mosquitoes. Today I fished alone and Joe and Pete went bass-whacking as I paddled trolled for my first laker. I was dedicated to my cause and tried everything from a flasher/fly combination to several spoons and crankbaits.

All setups had the barbs flattened on the hooks and, basically, what I did was pull lines and paddle a canoe for nine hours straight.

Just as the seventh hour passed, one of my planer boards that had a deep diving crankbait with 1.5 ounces of weight in front of it started wobbling. By God, if I didn't catch me a lake trout.

I am addicted to canoe fishing and to catch my first laker out of a canoe was very cool. An hour later that same setup was hit again, and I caught another with both at about 25-inches.

Lake trout have to be 30-inches to keep, and I was very careful releasing them.

I have to tell you, I felt a very special bond to this place, the people, the ethics and the wilderness were just how I roll and then I go and bonus out and make two new friends.

It was a good weekend!

who have an active policy with an approved insurance provider and submitted correct field and acreage information should anticipate receiving the rebate.

In 2022, Gov. Tony Evers signed bipartisan legislation to create a state-run crop insurance premium rebate for planting cover crops. For this program, up to $800,000, or 160,000 acres of coverage, could be awarded on a first-come, first-served basis. Recipients will receive a $5 per acre rebate on their summer 2023 crop insurance premium for acres planted with cover crops in 2022. In his 2023-2025 Biennial Budget, Gov. Evers proposed funding this program annually to build on this bi-partisan success and support producers utilizing cover crop practices.

Additional information about the rebates can be found on DATCP's website. Questions about these rebates should be directed to DATCPCC@wisconsin.gov.

The first of two caution flags appeared on lap six when Josh Schneiderman of West Burlington, Iowa, spun in turn four. Following the restart, Jordan Goldesberry, who started fifth, used a low move to slip past Blackhurst into second.

As the cushion-pounding Balog caught lapped traffic on lap 13, Goldesberry closed considerably along the low line. The second and final caution flag of the race then appeared on the following lap as Tyler Tischendorf of Waupaca and Ion Stear of Hebron, Ill. make contact in turn third.

Goldesberry continued to hound Balog for the lead over the next six laps before surging ahead in turn four on lap 19. However, Balog battled back to regain the lead on lap 21 in turn two.

On the next lap, Blackhurst reentered the lead battle as Balog, Goldesberry and Blackhurst went into turn three three-wide with Blackhurst emerging in the lead exiting turn four.

As the leaders weaved their way through slower traffic, Balog regained the top spot in turn two as he continued to stick with the high line. Goldesberry remained patient along the low line to move back into the lead exiting turn four on lap 29.

On the final lap, Balog attempted to make one final bid for the lead, but he spun into the wall along the far outside portion of the track in turn four as Goldesberry crossed the finish line at the head of the pack to secure his ninth career IRA Sprint Car Series A-main victory.

"I didn't have an idea we were going to be that good in the A-main," Goldesberry said. "As the race went on, I knew lapped traffic would be a problem running down low. I didn't know if we would be as fast the guys running the top, but luckily it turned out in our favor."

Russel Borland, who started eighth, charged up to finish a career-best second, IRA rookie Brenham Crouch of Lubbock, Texas, started and finished third, two-time IRA champion Scotty Neitzel of Beaver Dam placed fourth after starting eighth and Blackhurst placed fifth.

Polesitter Jace Sparks assumed the top spot on the opening lap of the 25-lap Badger Midget A-main as fifth starter Brandon Waelti of Sun Prairie used a strong start to move into second.

The lone caution of the race appeared on lap five when Tommy Colburn of New Berlin spun in turn four on lap five. Three laps later, Waelti closed in to challenge the low-riding Sparks along the low line.

The leaders remained in lock-step order along the inside groove until Sparks caught the rear of the field on lap 21. Waelti then drifted out of the preferred low line on lap 22 which allowed the third place car of Cody Weisensel of Sun Prairie, who started fourth, to move into second.

Sparks held on over the final three laps to secure his first career Badger Midgets A-main victory. Weisensel placed second, sixth starter Todd Kluever of Sun Prairie placed third, Dalton England of Springfield, Ill., who started ninth, placed fourth and seventh starter Kyle Stark of Marshall rounded out the top five.

Travis Arenz (PDTR-MSA 360 Sprint Cars), Anthony Knierim of Franksville (IRA 410 Sprint Cars) and R.J. Corson of Markham, Ill. (Badger Midgets) each claimed B-main victories.

Ben Schmidt earned top PDTR-MSA 360 Sprint Car qualifying honors with a lap of 13.331 seconds.

Mike Reinke of Howards Grove was the top IRA 410 Sprint Series qualifier with a fast lap of 11.695 seconds.

Todd Kluever collected Badger Midgets fast qualifier accolades with a lap of 14.017 seconds.

The third event of the 2023 PDTR campaign, which was sponsored by Hopf Farms, drew a total of 89 cars, including 27 PDTR-MSA 360 Sprint Cars, 31 IRA 410 Sprint Cars and 31 Badger Midgets

Sylvania

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

This past week, I made some new friends and explored a wilderness area for the first time that I should have checked out 30 years ago.

Pete Wasson is the editor of the Ashland Daily Press and has been a contact of mine as he runs this column, but we had never met. Joe Pribanich is 71, the former city planner of Wausau, a good friend of Pete's and a true wilderness addict. For several years, Pete has been inviting me to an annual getaway to Sylvania Wilderness Area, which is located in the "UP" about 30 miles north of Eagle River.

Last week, I took him up on his offer.

FRIDAY, MAY 26
HIGH 78, LOW 42

My new buddies and I would be bass-whacking out of canoes for both large and smallmouth and the next day I tried for my first lake trout out of a canoe.

This would be a total learning experience, I had never met these guys, I have very little bass fishing experience and Sylvania has a lot of very wise rules as far as barbless hooks, no cans, etc., and this 18,327 acres is basically dedicated to foot and watercraft travel with zero motors in most cases.

Heck, I did not even know how to get to where I was going when I pulled out of the driveway.

What I witnessed on day one was wise campers that deal with skeets and adverse conditions and relish the challenge.

SATURDAY, MAY 27
HIGH 82, LOW 44

I just met Pete last night and Joe this morning.

I do not even know most bass fishing terminology; it is 100-percent catch and release on the lake and these guys were some of the best bass-whackers I have ever met. They can paddle a canoe, toss their weightless Texas Rig set up with a stick bait in the brush and pull-out bass after bass without losing a rig.

Yours truly, on the other hand,

Mark releases a lake trout. Lake trout have to be 30 inches to keep in the Sylvania Wilderness and Recreation Area.

had a lot to learn; failed often but, at days end, understood a lot more than when Pete and I set sail.

Joe Pribanich was at a different campsite than us, and Joe is my newest "I want to age just like him" person. Joe is 10 years older than me and can handle a canoe, sleep on the ground and looks good.

Pete and I tried paddle-trolling for lakers and had no luck, but we caught at least 80 smallies and largemouth bass.

I was extremely impressed watching these two long-time buddies love the day they were living.

I FANTASTIC FANS I

Don Vandrell, Campbellsport Softball

The inaugural Campbellsport News Fantastic Fan is Don Vandrell.

The Lady Cougars' bus driver since 2019, Don isn't just a free ride for the team: He's also one of their biggest fans.

"The kids love him," said Coach Dan Heisdorf, who noted he also brings an element of tradition to what can be a pretty superstitious sport. "Every game he goes to, no matter what sport, he has to have a couple hot dogs."

You also won't see him wearing anything but the color blue (except one time he accidentally wore orange to a game against Plymouth).

"Probably my most embarrassing moment," he said of the error, though the Cougars know where Don's loyalties lie. "I do nothing but support the girls. They are kind of like my kids."

Don has been driving bus for all Campbellsport girls' sports since 2019. He was the driver the year Campbellsport softball made the state tournament (2019).

"My favorite memory of Don is when we made it to the state tournament... and after we won our first game and got cleaned up, he took the team on the bus to Olive Garden which is where the girls wanted to eat," said Heisdorf, who noted that Don's priority is always making a great experience for the girls. "He then found an ice cream place for us and then later drove us down to the state capitol to get a team picture."

Don also recalled the trip to the state tournament, which he hoped to make a special experience for that team.

"We had so much fun," he said. "They decorated the bus and made me feel so much apart of the team. Anbody that had an idea to go someplace or do something, I'd say, 'Let's go!'"

Don's efforts are not lost on the Cougars.

"You can always hear him cheering for us in the stands," said senior Maia Morgan.

"He will wait to make sure we are all in our cars before he leaves the parking lot," added classmate Kyle Krueger.

It's these thoughtful actions that make Don a premier supporter.

"It's not just driving us to our away games," noted rising junior Megan McCarty. "He comes and supports us at all our home games."

For Don, it's all for the love of the community and supporting its youth.

"I've seen these girls go from middle school all the way to seniors, and it just makes me so proud of these girls to see them develop and go on," he said.

Heisdorf is immensely thankful for his support, and is looking forward to more seasons with Don behind the wheel.

"He has been a friend of mine for 15 years, and I appreciate the support he gives the girls in all their sports, but especially softball," said Heisdorf.

As long as the team is happy to have him, Don said he will keep driving as long as he can.

"It's a privilege," he said. "I'll keep driving."

Cougars Fall in Sectional Semifinal

COACH DAN HEISDORF
 CHS SOFTBALL

The Campbellsport softball season came to an end Tuesday, May 30, in a 12-0 loss to Mayville.

The Cougars were only down 2-0 going into the bottom of the sixth behind a great pitching effort by freshman Peyton Hall. Going into the sixth, Hall had only allowed two hits.

After allowing a homerun, double, and a batter reaching on an error, I decided to make a pitching change brining in sophomore Megan McCarty.

A couple more errors opened the flood gates for Mayville as they started hitting the ball hard inwrought to a ten run inning.

Kylie Krueger had two hits and McCarty and Kaitlyn Goebel (double) each had one.

Hall pitched five complete innings allowing four hits and four earned runs.

McCarty pitched 2/3 of an inning allowing four hits and seven unearned runs.

Mayville would win the sectional championship, beating Lakeside Lutheran, 8-6, to earn their first trip to state in 20 years.

Schodrow Earns First Team All-Conference

The Flyway All-Conference meeting was held and junior Sam Schodrow earned a unanimous first team all-conference selection. Schodrow batted leadoff for the Cougars and hit .449 in conference and had 22 hits.

Senior Kinsley Homuth earned second team all-conference. Homuth hit .326 and led the conference in homeruns with four. She was also fifth in RBIs with 16. Senior Ava Sippel and sophomore Megan McCarty earned honorable mention all-conference.

Four seniors also earned Academic All-State. To receive this award, you must be a senior with a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher. Those that received this award were Kovi Hermann, Kylie Krueger, Maia Morgan, and Ava Sippel.

Fassbender Goes Flag to Flag to Bag P.D.T.R. 360 Sprint A-main Triumph

Goldesberry, Sparks claim open wheel night A-main victories

PEDAL DOWN PROMOTIONS CONTRIBUTOR

On a night when nothing but open wheel race cars took to The Plymouth Dirt Track third-mile clay oval in Plymouth, 31-year racing veteran Lance Fassbender of Burnett led all 25 laps on the way to his first Akright Auto Plymouth Dirt Track Racing – Midwest Sprint Car Association (PDTR-MSA) A-main victory of the 2023 season Saturday, May 20.

In the 30-lap Frank Filskov Memorial Bumper to Bumper Interstate Racing Association 410 Sprint Car Series A-main, 2022 IRA champion Jordan Goldesberry of Springfield, Ill. emerged from a thrilling late-race duel with 10-time IRA champ Bill Balog of Hartland and two-time IRA champion Jake Blackhurst of Hanna City, Ill. to claim his second IRA A-main victory of the 2023 season.

Jace Sparks of Crystal

Lance Fassbender of Burnett, who owns the 2008 Plymouth Dirt Track Racing and 2005 Midwest Sprint Car Association championships, earned his eighth career Plymouth Dirt Track Racing 360 Sprint Car A-main victory at The Plymouth Dirt Track in Plymouth on Saturday, May 20.

Lake, Ill. led every lap of the 25-lap main event to notch his first career Badger Midgets A-main victory.

After starting on the pole of the 25-lap PDTR-MSA 360 Sprint Car A-main, 2008 Plymouth Dirt Track Racing and 2005 Midwest Sprint Car Association 360 Sprint Car champion Lance Fassbender jumped into the lead on the drop of the green flag utilizing the preferred low groove, followed by 2011 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Ben Schmidt of Plymouth, who started third, in second.

On lap three, fifth starter Alex Pokorski of West Bend slipped past the high-riding machine of two-time PDTR and five-time MSA 360 Sprint Car champion Kurt Davis of South Milwaukee, who started second, to move into third.

As Fassbender built up a solid lead in the early going, the first of third caution flags in the event appeared on lap six when two-time PDTR and MSA 360 Sprint Car champion Travis Arenz of Sheboygan Falls spun to a stop in turn two.

Following the restart, Pokorski maneuvered past Schmidt to assume second on lap seven. Fassbender caught the rear of the field on lap 12, which allowed Pokorski to cut the gap. While closing in on Fassbender for the lead, a potential career-best finish for Pokorski was derailed when he was collected after rookie T.J. Haddy of Waupun and Chris Larson of Franksville made contact in turn four.

Fassbender controlled the lead after the ensuing restart and built up a half-straight away cushion over Schmidt by lap 22. As the leaders closed in on slower traffic, the third and final caution flew when Kurt Davis hit the backstretch wall on lap 28.

Fassbender was not to be denied on the final restart as he cruised to his eighth career PDTR 360 Sprint A-main victory and 22nd career MSA 360 Sprint Car main event triumph.

Schmidt placed second, seventh starter Chris Clayton of Waldo finished a strong third, fourth starter Kevin Karnitz of West Bend took fourth and two-time PDTR and four-time MSA 360 Sprint Car champion Brandon McMullen of Oshkosh moved up from the eighth starting spot to round out the top five.

"I was actually glad to see that final caution come out because those lapped cars were going to be really hard to get around at the end," Fassbender said.

Polesitter Jake Blackhurst raced into the lead on the opening lap of the 30-lap IRA 410 Sprint Car Frank Filskov Memorial A main. On lap five, fourth starter Bill Balog used the outside groove to power into the lead in turn
