Hunter Safety Leaders in Campbellsport Visit Capitol in Support of S.B. 265

NEWS STAFF

A group of Campbellsport hunter safety educators made a trip to Madison on August 23 with the speakers testifying in support of Senate Bill 265, a bill that, if turned into a law, would require hands-on training for hunters needing to pass a safety class.

Leading the charge was 2022 Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (WDNR) Hunter Safety Instructor of the Year, Rick Heisler, a Campbellsport-area resident who has been teaching hunter safety most of his adult life.

Heisler took six fellow instructors with him, and Taylor Muraski and Lindsay Muench testified along with Heisler. State representatives DUEY STROEBEL (Senate) and TY BODDEN (House) also spoke in favor of Senate Bill 265, as well as Fond du Lac County Sheriff Ryan Waldschmidt.

"The testimonies of Lindsay and Taylor were very impressive to say the least," said Heisler. "These two young ladies raised some attention from all those in attendance. It was a pleasure to hear the comments of people regarding the testimonies of the two and also relating to the individuals in attendance wearing the orange Campbellsport Hunter Safety Instructor shirts."

According to the Wisconsin legislature website, Senate Bill 265 "requires the Department of Natural Resources to offer in-person and online hunter education for persons under the age of 18. The bill also requires persons under the age of 18 to attend an in-person field training session and complete a certification exam following completion of the in-person or online course of instruction. The bill also requires DNR to promulgate rules establishing the curriculum, length, and fee for the courses.

"Under current law, DNR must establish a hunter education program and bow hunter education program that provide instruction in the responsibilities of hunters, how to recognize threatened and endangered species, and principles of wildlife management and conservation. DNR is required to offer an online course of instruction for persons age 18 and older."

In Wisconsin, anyone born on or after Jan. 1, 1973, must complete a hunter education course and have a hunter education safety certificate on file to purchase any hunting license in Wisconsin.

Muench, who requires a wheelchair for mobility, was instructed in hunter safety by Heisler and has since become an instructor herself.

Heisler said she's become an advocate for entrenching in-person learning with regard to hunter safety.

"She came up through our program, and I have to tell you, she has become a fantastic instructor, too," said Heisler, who said her experience learning and hunting from a wheelchair is invaluable to the team.

During her and Muraski's testimony, both stressed the importance of maintaining in-per-

Last Wednesday, Aug. 31, the West Bend School District publicly announced that Patrick O'Connor would be the next principal at Badger Middle School in West Bend. O'Connor last served as Campbellsport High School principal the prior three school years.

With school underway as of this publication date, Campbellsport School District Administrator Thomas Wissink said current Campbellsport Middle School Principal Kristi Bachar will serve as interim high school principal.

Bachar will serve in a dual capacity as both the middle and high school principal.

Driving The Body Hard

Dear Reader,

We all take life at a certain pace. Some are chill and let it happen. Others are more deliberate and plan it all out. And then there are those that are riding the winds and tackling the storms with only the illusion of fear. Based on those options, life can be long, much longer, or possibly a little shorter.

There isn't any way to judge which is the better choice because we all punch out eventually at the end of the trail. So the question is, do you want to cross over to the other side pristine and completely intact? Or do you want to leave everything on the field, from nose to toes? Maybe it depends on what you're trying to do – accomplish some good things, or hang out and watch the world go by. Your call.

Recently caught a train. No, didn't all aboard Amtrak. Or make like the Jacks; London and Kerouac to hitch on a fast-running freight. Didn't even take a ride on the Reading, pass go or collect $200. Rather the railway is smaller scale and on a much shorter circuit. We're talking about the Lakeside Limited; a pint-sized locomotive with a teenaged engineer and open-air cars following, filled with tots and adults alike.

What a hot day – 92° on a Sunday just before they shut down for the year. But it was also a nostalgic magical mystery tour from adulthood back to distant youth. There should be a sign – you can't hop on if you're taller than this. A six-footer ducks to squeeze onto a stiff, sky-blue pew. Headroom is sparse beneath a gaudy red ceiling. Best place to stretch long legs is under the seat ahead. Weren't these cars bigger once? Amazing how objects shrink by comparison to your memories.

Another clue is the wobble front to back when anyone larger than a child steps in. A reminder how narrow the wheels are. Of course, the express runs over rails a third as wide as regular full-size tracks. A jostling journey which starts smoothly but rocks the cars with a slight pendulum motion. Surprisingly, a tiny gas engine powers an electric motor to provide ample pull.

It's a short trip around the Fond du Lac park, past the lagoon and remaining chain link fences that once housed a zoo. First introduction for kids to wildlife; a bear, porcupine, fox and white tail deer. It's a brief five-minute roll, through a tunnel where kids scream, just before pulling into the station a minute later.

Easily worth the cheap ticket. Hauling you beyond a few straights, twists and turns. Deep into the good old days.

The Books We Keep

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

Hoping to find a lighter tone than last week's column on the Marion County Record, I'll share a thought I had during production day of last week's paper.

Amid the shuffling of photos and correcting of typos, which is my regular mission each Tuesday, I took a small reflective break and leaned back in my office chair for a moment.

Still a newish homeowner, the rooms in my home – or more accurately the furniture within it – are constantly changing. I am realizing it takes a while to fit your "old stuff" in a "new space" and, sometimes, it just doesn't at all.

Regardless, a large bookshelf has finally found its place in my home office and on it are some books (naturally). I own these books, but I did not place them there (I imagine my fiancée, my dog or one of my two cats did).

I had to laugh looking at the pile, because anyone who knows me closely would probably find this collection expertly curated to my personality and interests.

First, on top of the stack of seven, is Like A Rolling Stone by Jann Wenner. It's a memoir by Wenner, the co-founder of Rolling Stone magazine. My uncle Bob gave me this book, but I've not had time to read it, yet, so it sits atop this mysteriously-gathered grouping.

Below that is The Western Reader, a largely academic book that analyzes western films through the years. This book was for a class I took in college (the university bookstore sticker is still on the side), and I recall, after reading it, that I intended not to resell it at the end of the year. And, so, it remains.

Underneath that is Stories from the Bird Lady, which is a collection of writings and photographs from the late Barbara Harvey. Harvey, who was known regionally as The Bird Lady due to her rehabilitation work with raptors, was somewhat of a local legend around the Horicon Marsh area, and she came up frequently when I was the city beat writer in Horicon. I never got the chance to meet her (though I am positive she spoke at my elementary school when I was a kid), but I've always connected with her mission and admired her dedication to protecting our wildlife.

In the middle of the pile is a book of photographs titled The Beatles Conquer America. Enough said.

The next two books (we've just one left) are fishing books: Northern Pike & Muskie and Fishing For Catfish. Both of these books are probably as old as I am or, at the very least, are reaching three decades. I've had them since I was a child and, for some reason, I never grew tired of looking through them. At least a few times a year, when needing a break, I find myself thumbing through both for suggestions on making my own stink bait or tips for casting.

Then, at the bottom, the base of the seven-book period, is a book published one year after I was born, and it's called How Science Works. Published by Reader's Digest, it's a book that most with children would recognize: it is large, white and filled with photos and graphics on a given subject (I also have one on dogs and dinosaurs, in case you were curious). I have vivid memories of this book, perhaps some of my earliest. While I haven't looked through it in some time, it has been a companion to me for 30-plus years, which is an interesting thought.

In these seven books, I did see myself: a curious mind, an admirer of art and artists and advocates who is, for better or worse, obsessed with the history of pop culture.

Of course, the title of this column does not refer to the books we read, just the ones we drag around with us forever and ever.

These, I realized, are seven of those books, and I will enjoy staring at them for the rest of the life. See you next week

U.S. Constitution, Pt. III

MARY KRIEGER
CONTRIBUTING READER

James Madison wrote the first 10 amendments to the Constitution. Although some have argued that only rights specifically mentioned in the Bill of Rights are constitutional rights, Madison knew that it was impossible to write down every human right and that the future might require new amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

For that reason, he wrote the 9th amendment, which reads, "The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

In other words, the people have more rights than just those listed.

The Supreme Court has decided cases which have supported these additional rights to include the right to travel, vote, keep personal matters private and to make important decisions about one's health care and body.

The 10th amendment states, "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

In simpler terms, this amendment states that the federal government has only the powers given it by the Constitution. If a power isn't listed, it then belongs to the states or the people.

As the need for universal enforcement of rights such as civil rights became apparent, additional Constitutional Amendments were added to the Constitution. These additional amendments are created when either two-thirds of both the House and Senate vote for it or two-thirds of the states request it, or by a convention called for the purpose of amending the Constitution.

A proposed amendment must be ratified by a three-fourths majority in the House and Senate or the states to become law.

The 11th amendment was the first to be passed. It prohibits the federal courts from hearing certain lawsuits against states by non-citizens of that state.

The 12th amendment deals with regulations of the election of the president and vice-president. Note: By law, the president and vice president cannot be from the same state.

The 13th amendment was passed in 1865, the same year as the end of the Civil War. It reads, "Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction."

The 14th amendment covers several different rights. It specifies that states "shall not make or enforce any law that abridges the privileges... deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law: nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws". It describes how representatives are chosen based on the number of adult males in the state. A key part of this amendment states that, "No person shall be Senator or Representative in Congress or elector of President and Vice-President or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath... to support the Constitution

| FOND DU LAC COUNTY SHERIFF'S BEAT |

AUGUST 28: PARAGLIDER CRASH

On Monday, Aug. 28, at 5:43 p.m., the Fond du Lac County Communications Center received a 911 call from a male individual advising he had crashed his powered paraglider into a cornfield near Highway 151 and County Road K in the town of Taycheedah.

The man reported he believed that both of his legs were broken.

Deputies with the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office along with Mt. Calvary Ambulance, Mt. Calvary Fire Department/First Responders, Calumet Fire Department/First Responders, City of Fond du Lac Paramedics and City of Fond du Lac Police Department with their unmanned aerial drone all responded to the area and began to search for the man.

At 5:55 p.m., Deputies were able to locate the man utilizing GPS technology approximately 75 yards into the cornfield.

A resident nearby utilized his farm tractor to knock down the stalks of corn, giving first responders a path to safely transport the man out of the cornfield.

The dastar medical helicopter was requested to the scene and transported the man to Thedacare Hospital in Neenah with significant injuries.

The 34-year-old Fond du Lac man was wearing a helmet during the crash. Witnesses reported to have observed the man losing altitude over the cornfield after hearing engine sputtering.

County Highway K between Highway 151 and the Peebles Trail was closed for approximately 30 minutes while Thedastar medical helicopter was on scene.

Engine failure does appear to be a factor in the crash, which remains under investigation by the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office.

AUGUST 26: HIGH-SPEED CHASE

On Saturday, Aug. 26, at approximately 7:30 p.m., deputies with the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office received information that the Wau-paca County Sheriff's Office had been in a pursuit with a vehicle that was stolen from Illinois.

The chase was terminated when it entered Winnebago County on US Highway 10.

Believing the vehicle may be traveling again towards Illinois, Fond du Lac County deputies monitored Interstate 41 and ultimately located the stolen vehicle at approximately 9 p.m.

Deputies confirmed that the vehicle was stolen and also learned that it may have been involved in an armed robbery in the Plover area.

Deputies attempted to stop the vehicle on Interstate 41 near Lincoln Rd. in the Township of Eldorado. The suspect vehicle disregarded the visual and audible signals to stop and increased its speed and a vehicle pursuit ensued.

As the pursuit continued southbound on Interstate 41, a Fond du Lac County Deputy was able to successfully deploy Stop Sticks on the suspect vehicle, however, the vehicle continued southbound on Interstate 41 through Dodge County and into Washington County.

Troopers with the Wisconsin State Patrol and deputies with the Washington County Sheriff's Office assisted in the pursuit. Ultimately, the suspect vehicle lost control on Interstate 41, south of State Highway 33, and crashed into the median cable barrier.

Both occupants were taken into custody without incident.

K9 Rip and his partner conducted a free air sniff on the vehicle with a positive alert. Located inside the vehicle deputies discovered thousands of dollars in stolen merchandise along with illegal narcotics.

The driver was identified as a 37-year-old woman from Milwaukee. It was discovered she was out on a $1,500 signature bond through Waukesha County for Felony Retail Theft - Repeater.

She was transported to the Fond

| CAMPBELLSPORT GLANCE BACKWARDS |

5 Years Ago September 6, 2018

This week's paper included many pictures and some articles about the terrible storms and tornadoes that swept through the area on August 28. Also included were three maps from the National Weather Service that showed the path of the tornadoes. One photo showed a news crew from Milwaukee getting ready to report on the storm and the damage it caused.

After a few days of rain and flood warnings, a severe round of thunderstorms hit the area. With it, two confirmed tornados in the Eden and Dundee areas and severe winds caused a lot of damage. Electricity was out in the Village of Campbellsport Tuesday afternoon until almost noon on Wednesday. The areas hardest hit, like rural Eden, Armstrong and Dundee, were out of power for a couple days. Armstrong Apples Orchard & Winery didn't have any damage to buildings, but approximately 100 large trees were lost. Owner Lisa Klein said cleanup will take many months. At Second Look Holsteins, a calf building and hay shed were destroyed by a tornado. There were downed trees, building damage, and other damage.

Members of the Campbellsport High School FFA wanted to find a way to help those in need after the storms. With the help of the Campbellsport FFA Alumni, the members made 200 sandwiches to hand out to those community members in need and the workers around Campbellsport. They drove around to find people without power, working on cleaning up their property, and electric company workers. The people received sandwiches, water, chips, carrots, and apples. Remaining sandwiches were donated to the Waupun FFA to hand out in that area, which was also hit hard by storms.

Jim Greicar, the ranger for Camp Long Lake, estimates that more than 500 trees on the 200-acre camp were lost due to the storm last week. Power was out from Tuesday afternoon until Friday.

One example of citizens rising to the occasion to provide a service to people affected by the storms took place at Coustie Bar and Grill in Waucousta. Katie Gruber of Wayne and her two sons, Maustin and Madden, were feeling blessed to have electricity, running water, and little damage to their property. The Grubers housed a family without power, then Katie took to social media and offered her shower and kitchen to anyone in need. Several people took her up on the offer. Katie and her friend, Hollie Nichols at Coustie Bar, set up canisters with a sign saying "free food" on Highway 45 and also made deliveries to emergency workers.

Dundee Mill Day is September 8. The event helps celebrate the old mill and raise money for improvements to the park.

Boltonville's Street Dance will be held on Saturday.

Campbellsport senior Alyssa Dreher and Kewaskum senior Grace Kober led the Campbellsport-Kewaskum Kew-Cats with a 14-over-par 49 at the Brown Deer match. The team is currently third in the conference standings.

A special school board meeting was held September 3 to approve a new preliminary budget, which will be presented to the residents of the district during the annual meeting on September 22. A preliminary budget of $14,661,667 was approved at the May 19 meeting after board members had asked the administration to cut some items to reduce the $14,911,667 budget that had been presented. Administrators were concerned that the budget was too tight and that the district would end up going over. Administrators believed an additional $155,000 would be needed. The newly approved budget is $14,836,667, with a tax levy of

Ethan Sippel of Boy Scout Troop 778 of Mt. Calvary earned Scouting's highest award - the Eagle Scout rank. He is a senior at Campbellsport High School.

When you talk to Wendy Volz Daniels, you can still hear the excitement in her voice. The Campbellsport resident attended the Democratic National Convention in Denver recently. She was chosen as an alternate delegate for Wisconsin. It was a dream come true for her. She became a fan of Barack Obama after hearing him speak at the 2004 convention and Wendy told her husband that she had to figure out how to be at the 2008 convention. After signing a paper this past spring, Wendy was one of 18 people from Fond du Lac County chosen to compete with other people from the Sixth Congressional District counties for five delegate positions and one alternate position to attend the convention.

From July 26 to August 22, the Tim and Rhonda Engel family of Eden hosted a Japanese youth this summer as part of a 4-H cultural exchange program. Minae Tsukui was one of a 41-member delegation to visit Wisconsin and stay with host families for four weeks.

Kelli Schrauth, Luke Ours, Olivia Spartz, and Sam Schrauth have been awarded a Catholic grade school tuition grant from Catholic Knights for the 2008-09 school year.

Representatives from MSA Professional Services and JE Arthur & Associates attended the special Village of Eden meeting on September 4 with proposals for work that needs to be done based on concerns with the sanitary sewer and wastewater treatment plan. Both suggested doing some flow metering and monitoring first to find out how much water is flowing through certain sewer laterals. The board members will look over the proposals and decide how to proceed at their September 18 meeting.

Members of the Campbellsport Village Board learned during the September 8 meeting that the new water rates for the village will go into effect after the current billing cycle ends in mid-September. Residents will see the 32 percent increase on the December bills that the Public Service Commission approved.

Campbellsport's soccer team went 2-1 at the Oostburg Soccer Tournament to win its first soccer tournament in school history on September 6.

Campbellsport Police Chief Randy Karoses credits the work of the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Dept. on the recent railroad switching incident to also clearing up four other events that were under investigation. Nine referrals will be made regarding those four incidents. The 12-, 13-, and 14-year-olds must also deal with curfew violations as the acts of vandalism all took place between midnight and 4 or 5 a.m. The cooperation of a citizen was instrumental in clearing up the rash of vandalism.

The new scoreboard was installed recently at the CHS football field, with additional "stadium-style" concrete bleachers being installed on the east side of the field to accommodate more fan seating. The seating capacity improvements should qualify Dan O. O'Brien Field as a site for WIAA playoff action in the near future.

The theme for the 1998-99 school year at St. Matthew's Grade School in Campbellsport is The Spirit Among Us. The message is one of choices and decision-making based on the presence of God in our everyday lives.

This will be the 30th season of cross country at Campbellsport High School. Three of the top 10 runners in the conference from last year are returning for the Cougars - Jesse Muench, Mike Meilahn, and Nick Martiny.

Cougars Escape With 9-6 Win was the headline for the football game played at Camp Randall Stadium in Madison against Kewaskum. Matt Millonig made a field goal in the first quarter and Clint Beck returned a 27-yard interception for a touchdown in the third quarter. Kewaskum's scoring came in the second quarter with Chris Koth hitting two field goals.

A daughter, Samantha Jean, was born August 20 to Tim and Jenny Jandre of Campbellsport. A son, Brady John, was born August 21 to Kelly and Larry Leider of Campbellsport.

Prior to the regular meeting, the village board inspected a used Wayne street sweeper and then authorized its purchase during the meeting. The sweeper has 4,300 miles on it and cost $7,800. It was purchased with the idea that a snowplow could be attached for dual use.

Invitations have been sent out to 102 former Campbellsport basketball and baseball players for a reunion, the first since 1963.

Father Jan Simon, SDS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad J. Simon, who used to reside in St. Kilian, will conduct his first Mass on September 9 at St. Pius Ten Church in Wauwatosa.

Fred Grossen, custodian at the public schools for many years, announced his retirement as of September 30 to the Board of Jt. School District 23 at the school board meeting held Tuesday night.

It wasn't enough to be humiliated by the Kewaskum Indians last Friday by the score of 26-0, Coach Wienserski found that he is two key players short for the rest of the season due to injuries received during the game. The names of the players were not included in the article.

A daughter, Kari Ann, was born August 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nutter of Campbellsport.

Richard F. Adams, 82, Campbellsport, passed away September 4.

75 Years Ago September 9, 1948

Not getting anywhere during discussion during the Village of Campbellsport meeting and realizing it would be necessary to get technical advice anyway, President Beisbier and Peter Senn offered to drive to Sheboygan to secure the services of an engineer regarding sewer and water on Washington Street.

St. Kilian Parish will celebrate its centennial with special Masses on September 19.

| KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY |

5 Years Ago September 13, 2018

A ceremony was held September 10 at which the Kewaskum FFA Alumni presented a $100,000 check to the Kewaskum School Board. The money is for a new greenhouse at the Kewaskum High School and was donated in memory of Brent Allen Schultz, who lost his life in a car accident in 2014. Brent and Travis Trapp were students at Kewaskum High School and FFA officers. The officers had discussed the need for a new greenhouse approximately three weeks before the accident. To honor Brent's memory, his parents (Kevin and Lynn Thull), the Kewaskum FFA Alumni, and Shelly Oelhafen (KHS FFA advisor) decided to raise money for a greenhouse.

Doors at Kewaskum Middle School opened for the first day of school on Monday as the new building was completed in time for the beginning of the school year.

Tuesday was the first September 11 that Gordon Haberman stayed in Wisconsin since 2001, when his daughter, Andrea, was killed in the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. He spoke at a ceremony in front of the Kewaskum Municipal Building Annex of the events that happened 17 years ago.

On September 7, 1998, Washington County Sheriff's Deputy John M. Schmitt was killed in the line of duty while on his way to assist a Kewaskum police officer who was dealing with an alleged drunk driver who had become belligerent. John was training an officer, and that officer pulled out to pass a vehicle that would not pull over even though the squad car had its lights and siren activated. The squad hit an oncoming vehicle. A total of seven other people were injured, including John's partner. On September 7, 2018, approximately 100 people gathered for a ceremony held to rename Schmidt Road where the sheriff's office is located to John M. Schmitt Memorial Drive.

At the Brown Deer Invitational, the Lady Indian tennis players beat the host school 6-1 in the opening match, then defeated Dominican by the same score. Kewaskum lost the championship 5-2 to Grafton. The tennis team has been on the road the entire season so far; with the first home match on September 10.

Kewaskum's soccer season began with a 3-3 tie against Berlin. The Indians had been down 3-2 with 5:55 left, but Cole Schleiter received a good pass from Will Jens and drilled a goal.

On the volleyball court, Kewaskum swept Mayville 25-12, 25-22, 25-11; and two days later won 25-7, 25-15, 25-19 over Ripon. The Lady Indians are 1-1 in conference action and 6-5 overall.

The Schmitt family represents Kewaskum on the Washington County Trail Sharks Team. The team had its first mountain bike race on September 9. Kendra Schmitt placed first and Skyler Schmitt placed eighth.

Beulah Beisbier, 97, Kewaskum, passed away September 8.

15 Years Ago September 11, 2008

Nominations were accepted during the summer by the Kewaskum School District for the first ever Outstanding Service Award. The purpose of the award is to recognize citizens of the district whose service has gone over and above the call of duty with time and effort in making a difference in the lives of children. Last month, 15 outstanding candidates were selected based on certain criteria. They include Larry Ammel, Walter Bade, Lester Dreher, Gerald Gosa, Joe Harlow, Killian Honeck, Jeaneen Kudek, Tom Larsen, Ted Miller, Ernie Mitchell, Eugene Muench, Dr. Charles Ogi, Clark Pearson, and Dick and Shirley Schlice.

Assemblyman Dan LeMahieu of Cascade will continue to serve the 59th Assembly District after receiving 71 percent of Tuesday's Primary Election vote. He had 4,816 votes to 1,954 for Karl McCarty of Campbellsport.

A routine traffic stop in West Bend on September 6, has the Washington County Sheriff's Department investigating a Kewaskum couple for several cases of identity theft. Both suspects are currently in custody at the county jail. A potential equipment violation caused a deputy to run the vehicle's license plate. The registered owner's name was recognized by the deputy, who then discovered there were active felony warrants for Darrin D. Chapman as well as Melissa K. Anderson, both of Kewaskum. Anderson was driving and was arrested. Chapman was arrested the next day when he returned to the couple's Kewaskum condo. A search warrant of the residence led to seizure of fictitious social security cards, drivers licenses, birth certificates, two computers and two printers. Anderson has warrants from Brown, Rock and Outagamie Counties as well as the local charges. Chapman is being held on charges from Outagamie and Washington Counties.

The Kewaskum School District will try something new this year and turn over the job of cleaning two elementary schools to a professional janitorial service from Green Bay. The outsourcing will move three part-time janitors from Farmington and Wayne Elementary Schools to Kewaskum High School where they will also be responsible for cleaning the district's administrative offices, the Kewaskum Career Academy, and the Kewaskum Fitness Center.

One of the oldest buildings in Kewaskum has a new sign outside, but a familiar face inside. Victoria Feucht is the proprietor of Victoria's Cornerstone Inn on the corner of Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue, formerly Woody's Steak House.

Mike Tuly received Grand Champion for his Light Brahma Bantam pullet at the Wisconsin State Fair last month. This was an open category, which means the Kettle Kountry Kids 4-H member and Kewaskum High School freshman was competing against people of all ages.

The Kewaskum girls tennis team won another meet as the team won the St. Francis Roses Quad. Each Kewaskum player earned either a first or second place medal.

Kewaskum beat West Bend West 21-20 in overtime September 5. The Indians had a chance to win with five seconds left on the regulation clock, but the field goal attempt hooked to the right.

Marion L. Roehl, 87, formerly of Campbellsport, passed away September 7. Diane Margaret Tober, 74, formerly of Florence, passed away September 6. Les Jacob Meinhardt, 87, Madison, passed away August 31.

25 Years Ago September 10, 1998

Washington County suffered a tragic loss on Monday as one of its deputies was killed while responding to assist a Kewaskum police officer who made two calls for back-up when he found himself alone and dealing with an alleged drunk driver who became belligerent. John Schmitt, 31, of Kewaskum, was an eight-year veteran of the department. He was pronounced dead at St. Joseph's Community Hospital from injuries he suffered in a three-car accident that injured several people. The driver of the squad car was a field trainee who attempted to maneuver around a pick-up truck that had not pulled over to allow the squad through. The squad then side-swiped a southbound car and went out of control, rolling over and coming to rest on its roof. The trainee was treated for injuries and discharged from the hospital Wednesday morning.

Kewaskum School District voters said no to the school board's proposed $12 million referendum at the primary election polls on Tuesday, sending the board back to the drawing table. The referendum failed with 953 yes votes (45 percent) and 1,189 no votes (55 percent). Only the Village of Kewaskum voted in favor of the building project as presented.

The Kiwanis Club of Kewaskum's turkey shoot will be held September 13.

September 13 is the date for the annual Early Farm Days.

The Town of Scott may soon have another subdivision within its boundaries. The board gave approval to rezone property owned by Mike Steurwald from A-3 to R-2 to make way for a future subdivision, which would lie west of the Batavia School and border on the developed area on the south side of Western Avenue.

Kewaskum's football team had two goals against Horicon: hold on to the ball and establish a running game. They did both and the result was a 22-8 victory over the Marshmen.

John M. Schmitt, 31, Kewaskum, passed away September 7. Frank R. Ader, 56, Fillmore, passed away September 7. Elnora Doering, 79, West Bend, passed away September 3. Gloria J. Hughes, 65, West Bend, passed away September 6. Norma Gene Hauke, 62, Marinette, passed away September 4.

Corrine Mlodzik

Corrine Mlodzik, age 91, passed away peacefully and comfortably due to congestive heart failure on Saturday, August 26, 2023. During the three weeks period from hospitalization to hospice care, Corrine continually asked one question, "When can I go home?" Corrine is home now.

Corrine was born December 2, 1931, the only child to Adolph and Marie Wahlen in Kewaskum. Corrine married Donald Mlodzik of Montello, at St. Kilian Church near Kewaskum, on June 6, 1953. Corrine and Don owned and operated the Hilltop Laundry in Kewaskum from 1968 to 1983. Due to Corrine's meticulous care and daily attention, the business quickly thrived and earned a well-deserved reputation for being impeccably clean and well maintained. Corrine was a stay-at-home mom and was also active in the local Homemakers club.

In 1995 Corrine and Don moved to Sun City, AZ, to be closer to Kayla and Kody, their only grandchildren. Avoiding the harsh Wisconsin winters was certainly a blessing as well. They moved to Peoria, AZ, in 2020.

Corrine was a faithful member of St. Clement of Rome Catholic Church and a proud member of its Ladies Guild. Corrine enjoyed many hours of crafting and was a long time member of Bell Craft Club and Sundial Crafts in Sun City.

Corrine was preceded in death by her parents and also her husband of 67 years, Donald Mlodzik.

Corrine is survived by her sons, Jim (Terry) of West Bend and Gary (Tina) of Peoria, AZ; and granddaughters, Kayla Mlodzik of Arvada, CO, and Kody Mlodzik of Glendale, AZ.

It wasn't until the last few years of her life that Corrine expressed how much she enjoyed visits with dogs belonging to her neighbors and friends, especially her great-grand pups. She reminisced fondly of her fluffy white farm dog from her childhood, but that was the only dog she ever owned. It was only fitting that her neighbor's dog sensed a need to turn the "wrong way" down the hall, away from a daily routine, to find Corrine at the entry to her apartment in need of medical assistance. In lieu of flowers, memorials and donations can be made to Southern Pup Dog Rescue via US mail to: PO Box 71, Macon, MS 39341.

Private notes of condolence can be sent to the family in care of PO Box 1443, Sun City, AZ 85372-1443.

Her memorial gathering and committal will take place on Friday, September 15, 2023 at 9 a.m. at Sunland Memorial Park Cemetery, 15826 N. Del Webb Blvd., Sun City, AZ 85351.

Fond memories and expressions of sympathy can also be shared digitally at www.sunlandmemorial.com for the Mlodzik family.

Girl Scouts Prepares Girls to be Leaders All as Part of the Fun

Girl Scouts has been building girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place for 111 years. From the youngest Girl Scouts at 5 years old through their teens, Girl Scouts equips the next generation of female change-makers with the breadth of knowledge, skills, and experiences they need to take charge and do good for the world, both now and in the future.

When she's a Girl Scout, she calls the shots. Every girl has their own curiosity, dreams, and talents – so when they come together to decide which of the thousands of Girl Scout badges and activities to try, the sky's the limit. Whether visiting an animal shelter, camping, hosting a dance-off, or directing a music video, they're learning to take risks, trust their gut, and team up with others for good.

Her year of fun, adventure, wonder, friendship, discovery, creativity, exploring, and trailblazing awaits. To join Girl Scouts parents of girls should come on Thursday, Sept. 14, at 7:00 p.m., to the American Legion Post in Kewaskum (1538 Fond du Lac Ave) or contact Kelly at harleychiick@gmail.com.

"Girl Scouts helps girls navigate our changing world and build the futures they want to see," said Denise Schemenauer, Girl Scouts of Manitou Council CEO. "As a Girl Scout, girls can explore new subjects, discover their passions, learn to take smart risks, and become their best, most confident selves – whether they want to become an astronaut, an entrepreneur, a rock climber, a coder, or a cybersecurity agent."

The Girl Scout program is proven to develop strong and effective leaders – among many positive outcomes, Girl Scouts are much likelier than non-Girl Scouts to take an active role in decision-making (80% vs 51%), which is a critical aspect of leadership.

According to a recent study from the Girl Scout Research Institute, Girl Scout alums are more likely than other women to:

- Exhibit courage, confidence, and character
- Attain higher levels of education and management positions at work
- Volunteer and contribute to causes they support
- Be civically engaged and involved
- Exhibit leadership attributes and hold more leadership roles
- Be satisfied with life – personally, professionally, and financially

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

Since my column about my trip to Chile, I have had several readers stop in and ask me about it. They wanted more information about my experiences there and based on my previous article, it only looked like I ate, met people and worked on my Spanish. Besides the wedding and cultural events, I had quite a few awesome adventures.

I will skip over the journey there that took 44 hours and the beautiful wedding and reception for now and talk about one of the places I was lucky to visit. I will preface this to note that there was still a communication issue. Much of the time, I had no idea what we would be doing until we arrived and even then...

Chile being in the Southern Hemisphere is in winter right now. For us, we know that is cold and snow and freezing temperatures. For them, it is mid 50s to 70s, possibly 40 at night and periods of rain. I was told to bring my parka and am glad I did not. A hoodie and raincoat were enough to keep me comfortable through any excursions we took.

One day we visited Valparaíso which is a neighboring city to Viña del Mar, the place we stayed. That was the one day it rained and was chilly however that didn't dampen our sprits in exploring. The group consisted of seven of us exploring the city. We parked at the Naval Club, which the family is a member of and walked and walked and walked. Being the oldest and slowest had me galloping to keep pace. Eventually we made it to our destination, a funicular elevator. This unusual public transit method consists of a cable car which is pulled up and lowered down a steep incline, which is perfect for Valparaíso as the city is built into hills. They look like small boxcars and the ride up was thrilling and a bit frightening.

Once we got to the top, we began our descent on foot. It was not just a walk through a city downhill, it was a stroll through art all over. When I was told there was graffiti in Valparaíso, I thought of what I see in our cities. But it is not graffiti there, it is street art and is everywhere! It is on every wall, every door and even on buses. Their street art started in the 1970s as a form of protest and grew into a city of expression. This art is supported by their municipality in a country where graffiti is illegal in all other cities.

It took us about four hours to make our way down the hills of Valparaíso and we only saw a small portion of the artwork. Some of my favorites include the red door, the piano staircase, and all the depictions of Chilean culture. I didn't even notice when the rain stopped and wished we could have stayed longer. In the 30,000 steps I achieved that day, my cultural experience had flourished.

Memories from Lafayette

KARL MCCARTY
CONTRIBUTOR

There are many memories from old Lafayette School once located on Highway F in the Town of Eden. The following are some recollections from and about students of the one-room schoolhouse that coordinate roughly with a picture from the era.

Snacks from Viola

One memory about Lafayette School for Karl Ryan was his time with Irene Majerus. “We walked home together a lot. Lotta times.” She lived west of the school on the next hill, but still on Highway F. Karl was heading to his childhood home on Timberlane Drive.

Karl couldn’t forget Irene’s mom, Viola (Fitzpatrick) Baumhardt, whose nickname was pronounced “O-Lee.” She was so nice, Karl said. “She never got mad at you. Always asked you to come in.” And the entry was a prize: “Piece of cake. Chocolate cake she made.” How many days would Viola invite him in a week? “Not every day... it could be twice a week.” He concluded the odds for a treat were still a good one.

He also recalls a time when Irene was quarantined in the house. “Irene had something that one time – I couldn’t go in the house for six weeks.” He wasn’t sure, but guessed scarlet fever. “Then she had to stay right in bed, I could look in the window, but that’s all. I remember that.” The Baumhardt house of the late 1930s was much closer on the path home, Karl said. The new house later built on the present property is farther off of Highway F. “It was right next to the road.” So back then it was easy to go up to window when she was sick. “You could hear Irene through the window a little bit.” He added, “I remember [Irene] telling me from laying there she got so sore.”

Karl’s memories of his neighborhood friend are often very pleasant. “Irene was quite a pal for me.”

From Smiths to Santa

In a Fall 2012 letter congratulating Karl and Fern Ryan’s 50th wedding anniversary, Rodney “Ronnie” Smith wrote to the couple reminiscing on the land the couple farmed since the late 1950s. “I remember when Jack and I would walk up to old Lafayette School on the hill and stop in to fill a canister of water for the other children. There was no well at the old school so we all carried water. You have certainly had a lifetime view of Ketter’s and the Smith’s by now!” Ronnie’s point was that Karl ironically bought the farm where students like Karl and the Smiths fetched water.

This image is titled “Lafayette School – South Eden – District No. 1” and was the property of Karl and Fern Ryan, who were given the copy in recent years. In 2023, Karl Ryan validated all those labeled in the photo. The teacher is Myra Hook of Waupun. In front of her is seated Marvin Heimermann, while Karl Ryan sits in front of him with a white shirt and arm elbowed out. In the long row of four against the wall, closest to the camera is labeled “Butch Heimermann, Betty Walsh, Donna Heimermann Voigt and Josephine Thompson Goebel.” The child by himself in the lower right-hand corner is a young Jack Smith. Karl recalls Jack came to Lafayette quiet young, and possibly earlier than age five as this photo suggests.

Another story on Jack Smith (1939-2016) involved Maurice Flood (1887-1967). Jack was just a little guy. “Oh he was quiet. Santa Claus came and he climbed right under the seat. He was just scared of Santa Claus,” Karl said.

Maurice was a bachelor who owned land on F that made an L-shape and also touched Timberlane Drive. Maurice had a good sense of humor and he had a pudgier body type to make him an ideal Christmas helper. “He was just right.” He also may have played at more schools besides Lafayette, Karl added. “He was funny... ’cause of just the way he acted. He knew just what to do.”

Santa brought some presents, not much during World War II, but just enough for each kid. “Maybe an apple, or something like that. He was funny.” Back in those days that was nice because it was something, Karl said.

Although Jack was “deathly afraid” of Santa, one gets the sense Jack himself would laugh about the memory now. For example, even Jack’s wife Bea would banter about the old school days. Dave Majerus recalled Jack would say he was at the top of his class at Lafayette School. Bea countered, “Jack, you were the ONLY one in your class.”

A Baseball Break

Marvin Heimermann was another student of Lafayette. He was born in 1933, attended all eight years of a one-room schoolhouse, and then went to Campbellsport High School around age 15. He said graduation from the one-room schoolhouse included going to Eden (village) to get the diploma. “I went a year and a half to high school. Then I helped my dad, and then we had trucks too. You know my dad? Clem Heimermann.” Clem was a milk and stock hauler. Marvin explained how he came to the Eden area. “I lived just below the hill on V. On the corner of F and V, and you go down below the hill where the barn burned down twice on us.”

His memory was one of games between local one-room schoolhouses. “We played against another ball team... Where I and Karl went to school, I think it was called Lafayette. And then the other school was up the road away.” He concluded it was the one by Vincent Ryan that the baseball game was at. This would be the Ethan Allen School, or what some called the old Flood School. Both schools coordinated the event, “We’d get an afternoon off and play ball.” The girls were spectators. “They just watched. And the boys played. I don’t think the girls ever played like that.” This was the first memory of the school that came to mind for Marvin, who added, “The whole school would watch.”

Did he like Lafayette? “Yeah. At that time.” But he clarified “School is not like it is now.” He remembered Myra Hook as his teacher in the early years, followed by Ms. Schommer. He pronounced the last name “Shoemer” and was very complimentary, as he retained in contact with his last Lafayette teacher even after graduating.

Marvin recalled the families involved, like the Klatts and the Smiths. “I kinda liked it. We had to walk from V up to F up to school. It was just a regular country school. But it was a good school.”

Governor Tony Evers Visits Lomira during School District's First Week

On the first day – Tuesday, Aug. 29 – for Theresa Learning Community, state education superintendent Dr. Jill Underly met with elementary classrooms

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

The School District of Lomira celebrated the first day of school last week Tuesday, Aug. 29, which included a visit by Wisconsin State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Jill Underly on Tuesday morning and Wisconsin Governor Tony Evers the following afternoon, Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Underly stopped by classrooms at Theresa Learning Community (TLC) in part to recognize the school earning a National Blue Ribbon in 2022. She toured the school with District Administrator Ty Breitlow, who also joined her in a game of “Truth or Lie?” with Ashley Van Sciver’s fourth-grade class. Underly also played “The Name Game” with Cheri Reitz’s third graders.

The National Blue Ribbon Program recognizes public and private elementary, middle and high schools based on overall academic excellence or progress in closing achievement gaps among student subgroups.

Underly noted that TLC, also called Theresa Elementary, is a Title I school, meaning the poverty level among students (determined by free and reduced meal counts, Wisconsin Works [W-2], census or Medicaid) is at or above 40%. Title I schools can implement “Title I Schoolwide Programs” which “provide great latitude in organizing operations and allocating funds,” according to the Wisconsin Department of Instruction website.

Dr. Underly said TLC was an example of a school “beating the odds,” utilizing the funding and resources provided through the programs to the result of earning the National Blue Ribbon.

TLC was the fourth school Underly visited as part of her back-to-school tour. She planned to visit more schools the following week as other districts started after Labor Day. The School District of Lomira applied for and received a waiver from the state to begin instruction early.

Breitlow explained some of the reasons for using a waiver in Lomira.

“Student dual-enrollment with institutes with higher-education, earlier intervention with students that struggle academically, which is to say less of the summer academic diminishment, the opportunity to align start dates with our local private and parochial schools, and not having inclement weather push our school end dates later into June were the local indicators that made sense for our Board [of Education] and community to apply for the school start date waiver,” said Breitlow. “We appreciate the ability for local control from the state.”

The energy of Day One remained high going into Day Two, as the district then hosted Wisconsin Governor Tony Evers at the elementary/middle/high school building in Lomira on Wednesday.

Throughout last week, the governor made several stops to schools, medical facilities and businesses, as part of a policy campaign and in celebration of school districts’ first days. Evers, who was formerly the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was a longtime science teacher and district administrator before his career in politics.

“The beginning of the schoolyear is the best part,” said Evers reflecting on his time in classrooms after touring Lomira High, Middle and Elementary schools from roughly 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. “The first day of school was so much fun.”

Evers walked-and-talked with Breitlow as principals, faculty and media (among others) followed along on the school tour.

The governor’s first stop was at a high school civics class taught by Stacey Clark. He told students they were in a “good school district” and noted he was very familiar with the community having grown up in Plymouth and having served as the Oakfield schools’ superintendent.

“I like to go to schools, especially in the beginning of the schoolyear, just to see how they’re doing,” he told Clarke’s high schoolers.

One student asked Evers what his “favorite part” of being governor is.

“The most important part of the job for me is getting out of Madison and talking to people and listening to people about what their concerns are,” said Evers. “Whether it’s going to schools [or] businesses.”

The governor noted to the class that he met with a company in Menomonee Falls and spoke to leadership about their onsite childcare offerings, a topic Evers stressed in conversations throughout his visit.

“We have to make sure people can go to work,” said Evers, adding, “we need to have some way to take care of their kids.”

A Lomira schools student takes a moment to shake hands with Wisconsin Governor Tony Evers.

After the visit at the high school, Governor Evers addressed an assembly of middle schoolers in the cafeteria. He fielded questions on his hobbies and interests outside of government, which he said included biking and spending time with his family. When asked if he had a “best friend,” the governor named his wife. He also told students, when he was in high school, that he briefly played bass in a band.

Evers also answered a student’s question, wondering if there was something he would do differently during his time as governor, by saying there were moments he stood his ground, and he wished he would have tried harder to work with others holding differing viewpoints.

“You have to find common ground,” he said, “and Republicans and Democrats don’t always agree on things. Sometimes, you have to give some and agree to some things that you’re not really excited about in order to get you something that’s a little more important... it’s a trade off. That’s hard, but that’s politics.”

Eighth-grade teacher Shanna Martin thought the Q&A was a great learning experience for the students.

“His visit provided a real-life connection to the lessons the students will be learning about democracy and governance in our social studies classrooms,” she noted.

To end his tour of the school district, the governor stopped in Cindy Paasch’s fifth grade classroom. There, the students gave Evers decorated bookmarks they had made in preparation for his visit.

Paasch said her students were thrilled by the drop-in with some students remarking the governor was taller than they imagined.

“It was a very memorable experience for these fifth graders,” Paasch added.

Evers said afterward that Lomira was an easy choice to include in his back-to-school tour.

“Great school district, good reputation, [they] care about kids and they have great facilities,” remarked Evers.

At one point during the afternoon, Evers told a classroom, he believed, that doing what’s best for the kids of Wisconsin is also doing what’s best for Wisconsin on the whole.

He explained that perspective after the tour.

“Just from an economic [standpoint] how important it is to have an educated workforce, and it starts here. It starts in kindergarten and pre-k,” he said. “Making those investments, then and now, it pays off in 20 to 30 years.”

Juneau Fire Department to Hold 22nd Anniversary Silent Parade

The Juneau Fire & Rescue Department will be hosting a 9/11 Silent Parade on Monday, Sept. 11, at 8 p.m., in the City of Juneau (the Dodge County seat) in honor of the 22nd anniversary of September 11, 2001, when 2,977 lives were lost in a terrorist attack.

Four hundred eleven emergency workers died consisting of 343 FDNY firefighters, including a chaplain and two paramedics; 37 police officers of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey Police Departments; 23 police officers of the New York City Police Department; and eight EMT's and paramedics from private emergency medical services.

Silent Parade participants will line up and begin the procession on South Western Avenue in Juneau, along Dodgeland School. The parade will head north and turn right on West Oak Grove Street (Hwy 26) and proceed east past the Village Garden restaurant up to South Main Street. Then the route turns right at the four-way stop on South Main street passing Kwik Trip and heads South passing the old Dodgeland School, St. John's Church and School and the City of Juneau Cemetery. The parade route then turns left on Cross Street to the Juneau Public Safety Building, to the Juneau Fire Department.

City streetlights along the Silent Parade route will be turned off at 8 p.m. Citizens are encouraged to line the parade route with lighted candles and hold American Flags in honor of all the individuals who lost their lives on September 11, 2001.

The public is invited to a gathering for food and refreshments following the parade held at the Juneau Fire Department in the Public Safety Building.

All area fire, EMS, police, and emergency management departments are invited throughout the state to participate in the Silent Parade. Questions and requests for information are available by contacting Dan Jahnke, Juneau firefighter, at 920-382-6910 (cell) or by email at dj-2317jahnke@hotmail.com.

GOVERNOR VISIT from page 13

Evers also recognized Wisconsin schools' challenges. He noted that wages and credentialing are hurdles, especially for first time educators and smaller school districts. Answering a question about teacher salaries, he said ensuring educators can “put food on the table” is important to his executive policy.

“It's a profession that; we need to give it some dignity,” said Evers. “Especially when times are tough.”

Evers said, again, that childcare for teachers would also help ensure stability for both educator and school district.

“I'm hopeful,” said Evers about the potential of working with legislators on finding ways to implement more childcare options across the state.

In all, it was a busy day for the faculty of the school district, and just the second of the school year, but District Administrator Breitlow was happy to take on the extra energy.

“The School District of Lomira was proud to welcome the governor to celebrate our return to school,” he said. “Governor Evers complimented us on our Top Workplace awards, the National Blue Ribbon School award, and several times about our staff, facility, and district. He engaged well with our staff and students, and I know he inspired a few of our young learners. It was a really great visit.”

of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof.”

The 15th amendment makes it illegal to restrict voting due to a citizen’s race, color or “previous condition of servitude”, while the 16th gives Congress the power to levy and collect income taxes.

The 17th describes how each state, regardless of population, will have two senators. This has proven to be controversial as states like California, with a population of more than 39 million, has the same representation in the Senate as Wyoming, which only has roughly 600,000 residents.

The 18th amendment is no longer in effect. It was passed in 1919 during Prohibition and made it illegal to produce and sell alcohol.

The 21st amendment was passed in 1933 repealed the 18th.

The 19th amendment, passed in 1920, finally gave women the right to vote.

The 20th describes the terms for the President and Congress, stating that a President’s term ends at noon on January 20 of the election year.

The 22nd limits a president to no more than two terms.

The 23rd gives residents of the District of Columbia, although not a state, the right to have their votes for President count in the electoral college.

The 24th makes it illegal to make voters pay a poll tax before voting.

The 25th amendment deals with what can be done if the president dies, resigns or needs to be removed from office. The vice president becomes president in the case of the president’s death or resignation and is acting president if the president submits a written declaration that he/she cannot temporarily perform the duties of the office. In addition, if the vice president and a majority of cabinet members, the house of representatives or the senate declare that the “president is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the vice president shall immediately assume the powers and duties.”

The 26th amendment declares that 18-year-olds have the right to vote.

The final amendment, number 27, deals with congressional salaries. It prohibits any law that increases or decreases the salary of members of congress from taking effect until after the next election. This amendment was passed in 1789 but was not ratified by a majority of the states until 1992. Interestingly, a college student writing a term paper in 1982 found the proposed amendment could still be ratified and started a grassroots campaign.

There have been no constitutional amendments written and subsequently passed since 1971, but several issues have been discussed as potential new amendments over the years. Although many politicians promise to create term limits during their campaigns, no action has been taken, even though this has proven a popular idea among U.S. voters.

While the Constitution states the president must be a natural born citizen and at least 35 years old, it doesn’t list any other requirements. The most important job in the United States has fewer job requirements than most entry-level positions. Perhaps requiring a minimum level of education, and passing a criminal background check, a health physical and a psychiatric evaluation would be a good starting point. Creating a maximum age for elected officials has also been discussed.

Amending the Constitution requires serious thought and the consensus of the majority of elected officials.

Given the current political situation, no new amendments seem likely in the near future.

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

Operation Musky 2023

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

From 1981 to 1987, I did an enlistment for the Wisconsin Air National Guard (WANG) at Truax Field, and I was a weapons loader on the A-10 aircraft. Back in 2000, I participated in a for-fun musky outing with several of my buddies from WANG for the first time, and I have not missed since that year.

As the years passed, our guardsmen numbers declined and many of my friends and family from "deer camp" were allowed to join this group. For the last six years, we have held this outing on the Eagle River chain of lakes and, this year, we had 37 people in our very fun group that stays at The Hiawatha Motel.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 26
HIGH 71, LOW 44

My partner is Jeff Moll, and we fished in his Lund "Alaskan".

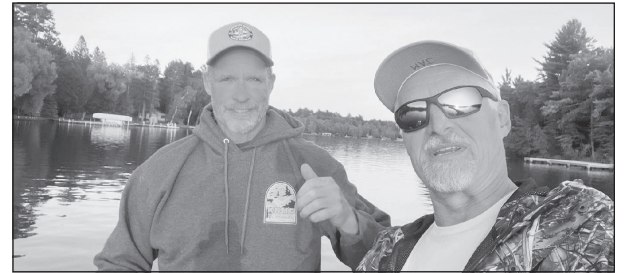

Jeff and I have been hunting and fishing together all of our lives and, in this particular outing, we seem to be incapable of catching a northern pike for "the side bet" or a musky.

Today, we put 12 hours on the water and came in well after dark, caught nothing and had a blast. Our day included no hard hit on a Shallow Raider and a whole lot of laughs along with our usual good food in the boat.

This weekend's meals were bacon, snacks, and barbecued ribs.

Due to the fact that I know I am a failure at catching fish on this annual adventure, I have an entirely different perspective than your typical tournament fishermen and that is how I will finish with this column.

First, throughout the day, I saw fathers and either one or two children that were not part of our group, fishing in simple, 14-foot boats and it was obvious that they were enjoying themselves immensely. These experiences kept reminding me of raising Selina and three stepsons, one of which is in this outing, and the simple boats we had, how much we used them and how much fun we had.

On this particular outing, one of our members has a bad case of cancer and the future is not good. There was no mention of this and both father and his adult son spent the weekend together and made as many positive memories as the adventure would allow. The highlight of my memories and probably for most people was when my boss from the days back in the guard, Gary Jensen, hooked into a big musky while fishing with his son Brian. His grandson Kenneth caught what was a 47.25-inch fish, which was the largest ever in this outing's 30-year history. Kenneth Jensen, I believe, was the youngest person to ever fish this event and it took him and dad to net grandpa's fish as Brian has an arm injury that does not make netting a 20-some-pound musky an easy job.

This three-generation team was so concerned with getting the big fish back in the water that their picture did not turn out real well, but it still tells the story.

The story behind this story is that last year the Jensens lost their wife/mom/grandma to a long illness, and my guess is that Linda helped get that big fish in the net and was smiling just as much as her three favorite fishermen.

I might add that Kenneth, who is like 13, was a huge help all weekend and a very positive, "new person" to the gang.

Mr. Moll and I were up early on Sunday and fishing in a dense fog, we ate some good chow and, as usual, did not register a fish for the group board!

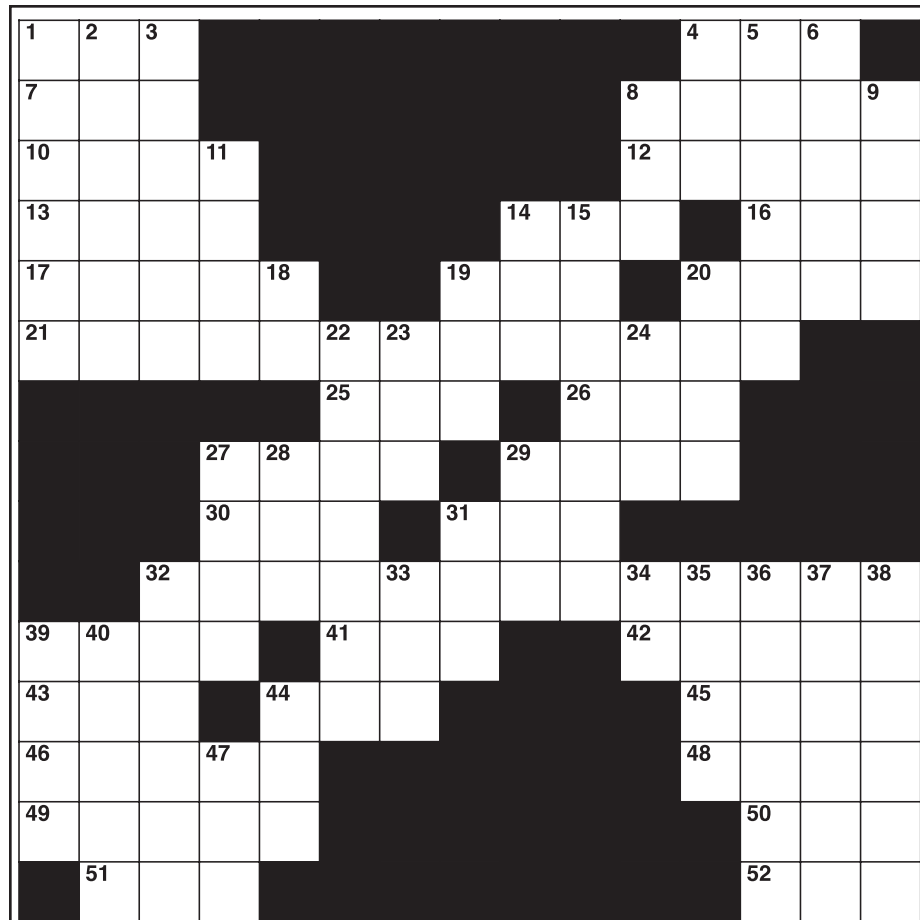

All's well that ends well!

The meeting encompassed a comprehensive presentation on the benefits of the school district to the community, an overview of the 2023-2024 budget, and a resolution aimed at adopting the levy.

The preliminary general fund budget for the district in the 2023-2024 academic year stands at $23,321,054, an increase of 2.05% compared to the 2022-2023 budget.

The budget incorporates a property tax levy amounting to $11,345,491, which will be a 4% increase from last year, but only a 0.4% increase from the 2021-2022 levy.

Kewaskum Board of Education President Jim Leister stated, "The Kewaskum Board of Education's goal is to be a high-quality school district while maintaining a fiscally responsible budget for our taxpayers. Last year we were able to give a 3.5% decrease in the levy, knowing that this year we would probably be returning to the same level we were at two years ago. It's actually pretty amazing that over two years of incredibly high inflation, the school district's levy has basically remained flat during that time period. We have been able to do this while maintaining our facilities, retaining quality staff and personnel, and being in the top 10 percent of school districts in the state in academic achievement. With nearly 60% of other school districts on an operational referendum, we are very proud to have a rock solid financial foundation, top-notch facilities, and achieve our educational goals without needing to go to an operational referendum."

The previous year witnessed a budget surplus due to utilizing the last of the ES-SER federal aid revenue. These supplementary funds were allocated to remove the district's need to short-term borrow to cover cash flow and pay off their non-referendum debt. This decision will save the district over $150,000 in interest payments.

Dr. Mark Bazata, Superintendent of the Kewaskum School District, said "The Board has put the school district in great financial shape not only for this year, but also for the foreseeable future. We anticipate the tax rate for this year will remain the same, or potentially even decrease compared to the previous year. Unfortunately, people don't realize that the school district levy includes money that the school district never sees. For example, there's a projected 40 percent increase in private school vouchers over the upcoming two years, so when taxpayers see their property tax, they don't realize some of that increase is going to cover the cost of these private school vouchers."

Final budget figures will be available in October.

Campbellsport Junior Football Opens with Win

CAMPBELLSPORT JR. FOOTBALL

The Campbellsport fifth and sixth grade football team opened the 2023 season with a 20-16 victory over Winnebago Lutheran Academy (WLA) last Tuesday night at Dan D. O'Brien Memorial Field.

Campbellsport scored on its first three offensive drives to open up a 20-0 lead.

Damien Braund ripped off touchdown runs of 70, 50, and 55 yards to lead the powerful Campbellsport ground game.

WLA threatened once in the first half, but the drive stalled when Sam Mowry picked off a Viking pass.

WLA came storming out in the second half with a drive deep into Campbellsport territory, but the drive disintegrated when Ezra Glover recovered a Viking fumble.

Glover had an all-around solid game with a couple nice runs on offense and he kicked one extra point for Campbellsport.

WLA would make things interesting with two late scores, but the Campbellsport offense was able to get a couple first downs and run out the clock.

The Cougars will host Mayville on Thursday, Sept. 7, at 6 p.m.

Kewaskum Girls Tennis Team Stops Ripon

KHS GIRLS TENNIS

Kewaskum High School girls tennis team wrapped up the month of August by slipping past Ripon, 4-3, on Thursday, Aug. 31.

The Eastern Wisconsin Conference matchup featured several close singles matches.

Because Kewaskum dominated doubles play, the Indians would need just one singles victory to earn the dual meet victory. That singles win came from senior Rowyn Wiedmeyer, who got off to a slow start before turning the match around. Rowyn trailed, 4-1, in the first set, then stormed back to win the set, 7-5. Wiedmeyer stayed strong in the second set, again, winning, 7-5, to earn the straight sets victory, improving her record to 4-1 on the season.

On the doubles side, Kewaskum got victories from seniors Audrey Grensavitch and Kaitlyn Blank at number one doubles, sophomores Izzy Wollner and Hannah Galasinski at number two, and seniors Zoe Heiser and Lauren Ford at number three.

Two more singles matches were just as close as Wiedmeyer's. Number one singles player Liz Erdmann battled hard before falling 7-5, 7-5. At number four singles, Kyli Baka won her first set before dropping the second set, and falling, 10-8, in the match tiebreaker.

The win improved Kewaskum's dual meet record to 5-1 overall, and 3-0 in conference play.

Senior Rowyn Wiedmeyer reaches for a low ball during the early portion of her set against a Ripon opponent. Wiedmeyer stormed back from a 1-4 deficit in the first set to win 7-5. She won the second set by the same margin, earning the match victory.

Kewaskum number-one singles player Liz Erdmann returns one against Ripon. She played her opponent tough, but fell in straight sets (5-7, 5-7).

Number-one Kewaskum High doubles team team, seniors Audrey Grensavitch and Kaitlyn Blank, warm-up prior to their match on Aug. 31. The duo was part of a two-player sweep of Ripon last week, as Kewaskum also won the day, overall. MITCHELL B. KELLER PHOTOS

Indians Fall to Pirates in E.C.C. Opener

KHS FOOTBALL

In the most recent Wisconsin Football Coaches Association (WFCA) high school football polls, Port Washington was ranked number one in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association's (WIAA) Division 3.

The Pirates' offense certainly lived up to that ranking on Friday night, Sept. 1, as they dispatched Kewaskum by a score of 48-3.

In the first quarter, Port Washington marched down their home field and took a 7-0 lead before Kewaskum came back with its only score of the evening; a 24-yard field goal by Hayden Johnson.

The Pirates scored 34 unanswered points before the half and held a commanding 41-3 lead at the intermission.

The Port Washington special teams and defense units contributed to their scoring total on the night with two interceptions for touchdowns and a punt return for a score.

The Indians' offense was led by their ground game with Dylan Soyk carrying the ball 18 times for 106 yards. Everett Donath toted the ball 10 times for 59 yards.

Leading receivers for Kewaskum were Soyk with two catches for 14 yards and Matt Oelhafen with two for 30 yards.

Senior Dawson Stahl passed for 25 yards, and Junior Andrew Reichert passed for 36 yards.

The Indians return home this week for their Parents' Night game versus the Waupun Warriors. Kickoff is scheduled 7 p.m.
