Governor Evers Visits 'Little Folks'

Wisconsin Governor Tony Evers stopped by Little Folks School House in Kewaskum last month, Aug. 16

LITTLE FOLKS SCHOOL HOUSE

There was much excitement at the Little Folks School House in Kewaskum as Governor Tony Evers and his staff visited the morning of Wednesday, Aug. 16.

The topic of discussion was "Childcare Counts," a grant program that Little Folks has participated in over the past three years.

The governor toured all five classrooms, taking time to talk to the teachers about their careers. He also spent time talking to the children and took interest in what they were learning. The governor even took part in one of the classroom's show-n-tell sessions.

Dodie Sargent, owner of the Little Folks School House, explained what she has used the grant funds for and how they have benefited the staff, children and families. There were many upgrades made, new equipment purchased, staff bonuses and wage increases and tuition assistance for fam-

4-H Girl Gives Back at the Pantry

ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

Last week, 11-year-old Molly Kedroske handed out pork items to families in need at the Kewaskum Community Pantry.

The pantry had purchased a pig from Molly through the Washington County Fair. When it was time to distribute the pork at the pantry, Molly volunteered. When people came for food she explained the process of raising her animal, and then handed out the final product.

"It was really cool, and she was really fantastic," said Kristin Marx, who is on the board for the Kewaskum Community Pantry. "She was very enthusiastic, and she helped us a lot."

Molly, who is a member of the Boltonville Firecrackers 4-H group, gave the pork to families at the pantry last Tuesday and Thursday. Each family was able to select one item, which had been packaged and frozen, with large families receiving more. There were pork chops, pork roast, breakfast links, bratwurst, ribs and bacon.

"As people came in, I explained to them this is the pig I showed at the fair. His name was Bear," said Molly, who is in sixth grade at Kewaskum Middle School.

She trained Bear from about March through July.

"He was like a big puppy dog. I took him out every day, walked him around so he could get used to walking," Molly said.

By fair time, Bear was about seven months old and weighed 280 pounds.

At the fair, Molly received the Reserve Champion award for showmanship. She was surprised to win the award.

"He held his head up really nice and looked really presentable when I showed him in the ring, but at home he would never do that," noted Molly, who has shown animals at the Washington County Fair for three years.

Are We The Hope Or The Despair?

Dear Reader,

As parents, we want to give our children a happy childhood. We want them to be introduced to the world in a beautiful and truthful way. In fact, one of the greatest gifts that parents can give their children is a happy childhood.

PATRICK J. WOOD
Publisher

We want our children to grow up with compassion. We want our children to grow up loving the people in the world around us. We want them to have compassion in their hearts for our fellow man. Some of our children make it that way and some don't.

Those that don't may end up with violence in their hearts. And as Isaac Asimov once wrote, "Violence is the last refuge of the incompetent."

At some point, can't we as adults grow up and act as inspirations for our children and the next generation – rather than showing them the wreckage and violence in the world and lack of respect and disregard for another point of view that is out there right now?

G.A. SCHEINOHA
CONTRIBUTOR

Along about the time when school started, least-wise as September wore on, our garden, a sizable patch of earth sprouted potatoes. The bus no more than stopped at driveway's end than there Dad was in his bib overalls and straw hat, in the thick of digging them up, pitchfork planted cautiously to avoid piercing the russets.

Had scarcely deboarded and inched down the graveled path towards the house as he hollered, "Change out of your good clothes." We knew what came next. Gathering the taters into bushel baskets for the trip down into the cool dark cellar through the storm doors flung wide. Back in a far corner, Dad had built a bin out of plywood and 4 x4's, where we dumped our loads.

Between his spuds and Mom's baked loaves of bread, fresh from the oven, hot slabs sliced off, butter melting across the fluffy surface, they kept a passel of eight always hungry offspring fed. In their own way they trained us to be responsible (as adults and parents) the value of working hard and the rewards reaped if we did.

Of course, my oldest sister wasn't having any of that. Plunging our hands into the dry crumbly soil meant getting dirt on them. An action easily squared away by a good application of soap and water. We barely began the harvest before she announced, "I'll go make supper." We always kidded they must've switched babies at the hospital since she was the standout in a blue-collar family.

The fourth-grade teacher grumbled about dirty fingers, noting dark smudges beneath closely cropped nails. "I live in the country" wasn't sufficient explanation. "That's no excuse," she merely scoffed. One of the older Cleanliness next to Godliness crowd who didn't grasp – we learned as much doing chores at home as anything they ever taught in the classroom.

Your Birthday Song

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

Do you know what the number-one song was on the day you were born?

If not, no worries! There's an app for that.

And not an app (though I'm sure there is) as much as a website. And, truthfully, this information has always been pretty easy to look up; before the internet, music charts were regularly published in newspapers as well as monthly, quarterly and annual listings.

But it is even easier now.

There are probably a few dozen websites eager to provide this information, but one of the simplest is mybirthdayfacts.com. Enter any date and users can get some choice details about what happened therein. For instance, gas was $1.19 the day I was born (which was pretty high, for the time).

On that same day, the number-one song in all the country was "Nothing Compares 2 U" by Sinéad O'Connor.

I've known this detail for a little more than a decade, and, as only makes sense, I've been familiar with the song my entire life.

After learning it was "my birthday song" as an adult, I grew a newfound appreciation (and borderline obsession) with the tune, and I grew to admire most of O'Connor's musical career.

For anyone who doesn't recall, this song was a massive hit. It was largely a vehicle for O'Connor's voice; with extraordinary range, power and confidence, O'Connor blasts through verses and choruses making what would otherwise be a melodramatic slog an intensely unique and beautiful five minutes (incredibly long for a hit-single in 1990).

Born in Dublin, Ireland, O'Connor was just 23 years old when she recorded "Nothing Compares 2 U" – a song originally written by Prince and released by his band The Family on the group's sole eponymous release in 1985.

O'Connor's version saturated the airwaves, and it was honored as the top world single of the year by Billboard.

The lyrics shares the perspective – through a first-person narration – of a love left behind.

"It's been seven hours and 15 days," O'Connor sings in the opening line, "since you took your love away."

The remaining prose illustrates a narrator in an obvious state of depression, unenthused and despondent by otherwise regular tasks or hobbies. Going out and eating dinner at "a fancy restaurant" does little to help her mood.

"Nothing compares to you," O'Connor repeats twice in the simple, soaring, two-line chorus.

The sonic build-up, classical instrumentation with synthesized modern sounds, creates a feeling of flying or, maybe more accurately, falling; much like the narrator is in allegory. She's "like a bird without a song" (borrowing cues from vintage heartbreak songs from the '40s and '50s).

Even a visit to the doctor does little to help our anxious narrator.

"Guess what he told me?" O'Connor sings twice, the second time with a harsh vocalization on the first word (in case someone wasn't paying attention). "He said, 'Girl, you better try to have fun, no matter what you do,' but he's a fool."

The climax of the song comes in the final verse after an instrumental interlude.

Throwing her voice up and down octaves (in a way that only Irish singers seem to be able to do), O'Connor leans deeply into the narrator's final plea.

"All the flowers that you planted... all died and withered away," the verse starts, before O'Connor's voice sings that she's, "willing to give it another try."

The song ends on the chorus: "Nothing compares to you."

Sure, maybe it's a strange song for a 33-year-old man who grew up in a forest to love, but obviously there were millions of others enthralled by O'Connor's performance, as well. The music video, too – which was just O'Connor in close-up, dressed in black, singing the song while tears streamed down her face – seems to be burned into my brain and has added to the song's staying-power.

Especially knowing its time and place coincided with my existence, it's an interesting thought to think of my mother hearing the song while carrying me in the weeks leading up to my birth. Or, perhaps, during the snowstorm in which I came home (in May, mind you), maybe the tune blasted in the car speakers as I slept in a car seat in back.

Even before I knew it was a number-one hit, I've always been drawn to this song and to music that came out in the late-80s and early 90s. It's nostalgia, of course, but it's the nice version of it.

As songs follow us our entire life, their value to us changes, and I like that about music, and it's why I still adore this song.

Sinéad O'Connor passed away on July 26 of this year.

I thought of writing this article back then, but it was oddly kind of difficult. I guess maybe it didn't feel appropriate.

I heard "Nothing Compares 2 U" on the radio recently while driving through the country hills surrounding where I grew up. It was apropos and reminded me that, while I am quite sure no one cares about my birthday song, that I could at least share with others their birthday songs.

Learning about mine has offered nothing but entertainment and joy, and hopefully you'll find some in learning about yours (and feel free to share them with me!).

*See you next week
So long, Sinéad*

CLARICE CASE
JOURNALIST

I have been rewatching the T.V. show New Girl and in season two, episode 25, one of the characters, Winston, sees a badger, Bucky Badger, in a cage on a luggage cart surrounded by members of a team outside a hotel. Winston is star struck because he is seeing the mascot he has on a sweat-shirt. Later in the episode, Winston steals the badger to use in a prank gone wrong.

The question I asked myself after this scene, and so many others, is "Why?" Why is our fine state of Wisconsin so often referenced in television and movies? What is Hollywood's obsession?

I'm a bit late to addressing this question, as a quick Google search led me to an article on the website VolumeOne written in 2016 by Ty Anderson. He mentioned Wisconsin Public Radio had discussed the topic, relaying, "it seems that whenever Hollywood wants to create a character with a wholesome background or banish someone to a horrible place – they end up with Wisconsin."

At the time, the Wisconsin Historical Society also had an exhibit titled, "Wisconsin Goes Hollywood," displaying the representation of our state in television and film.

Excluding the likes of Happy Days, Laverne & Shirley, and That '70's Show that were set in Wisconsin, there is an abundance of references and

Glenbeulah Native Supports Versatile Missions while Serving at U.S. Navy Helicopter Squadron

Lt. Izack Ohman, a native of Glenbeulah, supports versatile missions while serving at Helicopter Sea Combat Squadron (HSC) 3

MASS COMMUNICATION SPECIALIST 1ST CLASS BRYAN NIEGEL
NAVY OFFICE OF COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Ohman joined the Navy four years ago. Currently, Ohman serves as a Naval aviator.

“I joined the Navy for a lot of reasons,” said Ohman. “You’re only young once, and I wanted to be able to do something interesting with my life and not have a traditional nine-to-five job. Growing up in a small patriotic town, it just seemed like the right thing to do. I also had a few family members who helped guide me in the right direction.”

Ohman attended Plymouth High School and graduated in 2015.

Skills and values similar to those found in Glenbeulah are similar to those required to succeed in the military.

“I grew up on a farm in the middle of nowhere,” said Ohman. “Hard work was necessary in order to be successful is something I learned growing up.”

These lessons have helped Ohman while serving with the Navy.

Members of HSC 3 fly and maintain helicopters for the U.S. Navy. Navy helicopters are able to perform many different missions. In general, some of the most common operations include search and rescue, air assaults, medical evacuations, supply transport and hunting submarines.

This year commemorates 50 years of women flying in the U.S. Navy. In 1973, the first eight women began flight school in Pensacola; one year later six of them, known as “The First Six,” earned their “Wings of Gold.” Over the past 50 years, the Navy has expanded its roles for women to lead and serve globally and today our women aviators project power from the sea in every type of Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard aircraft. Our Nation and our Navy is stronger because of their service.

As a member of the Navy, Ohman is part of a world-class organization focused on maintaining maritime dominance, strengthening partnerships, increasing competitive warfighting capabilities and sustaining combat-ready forces in support of the National Defense Strategy.

“The Navy is important to national defense because we are a power projection and promote American values overseas,” said Ohman.

With 90 percent of global commerce traveling by sea and access to the internet relying on the security of undersea fiber optic cables, Navy officials continue to emphasize that the prosperity of the United States is directly linked to trained sailors and a strong Navy.

Ohman and the sailors they serve with have many opportunities to achieve accomplishments during their military service.

“I’m most proud of earning my ‘wings’ as a naval aviator,” said Ohman. “It was a goal I had for a long time and it took me several years to achieve it.”

As Ohman and other sailors continue to train and perform missions, they take pride in serving their country in the United States Navy.

“To me, serving in the Navy is about providing my patriotic duty to my country in order to ensure my friends and family are safe back home,” said Ohman.

Ohman is grateful to others for helping make a Navy career possible.

“I would like to thank my parents, Dave and Barb, because they taught me a lot of valuable life lessons growing up,” added Ohman. “I would also like to thank Cary Edmonds for being a mentor to me growing up. He gave me life lessons that I still use to this day.”

Farmington Historical Society Celebrates Oktoberfest at Saxonia Open House

The Historic Saxonia House and beer cave (located at 421 HWY H) in Fillmore was open for visitors on Saturday, Sept. 16, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and local storytellers from the Fillmore area were on hand to share stories of their pioneer families.

The Saxonia House, which served as a residence as well as a community center, was built in 1855 by the Klessig family. It is a rare example of the German 'fachwerkbau' construction (timber frame construction). There was also a brewery on the property and the beer was stored in a cave that was open for viewing.

Early settlers from the Saxony area of Germany began to settle in the Town of Farmington in 1846 and included the Beger, Degnitz, Gruhle, Gollammer, Geidel, Albinger, Braatz, Weinreich and Jaehnig families, members of which were on-hand to tell their ancestors' stories.

Historian Dr. Michael Besch, who published The Saxonia House: Preserving the Past, Building the Future in 2021, was also at the open house to answer questions and sign books.

The event was hosted by the Friends of the Saxonia House and the Farmington Historical Society.

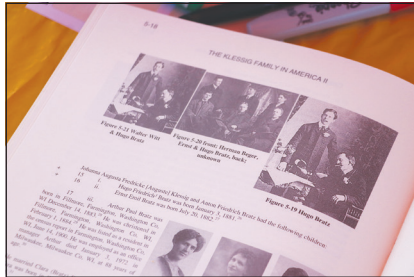

For more information on the Saxonia House or the historical society, e-mail questions to farmingtonhistory017@gmail.com.

Family descendents of Fillmore-area founders were on hand for the Open House to share stories of their lineage and of the Saxonia property.

Lineage books, family trees and a history entitled The Saxonia House: Preserving the Past, Building the Future by Dr. Michael Besch, were on display and Besch's book for sale as part of Saturday Open House on Sept. 16.

K.H.S. Agriculture Program Wins Award

ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

Shelly Oelhafen, an agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at Kewaskum High School (KHS), has received the Outstanding Secondary Agricultural Education Program Award for Section 10 in the State of Wisconsin.

The program that Oelhafen runs at KHS was chosen from 35 schools in southeastern Wisconsin that make up Section 10. The annual award is part of the Wisconsin Association of Agriculture Educators organization.

In all, there are 10 sections in Wisconsin. Oelhafen is now preparing to compete against the other nine sections for the state title.

This award recognizes a combination of the whole program, combining the classroom, FFA and supervised agriculture experiences.

At KHS, Oelhafen offers unique classroom experiences, featuring extra field trips, a greenhouse at the school, live animals in the classroom and bringing in guest speakers. For the past three years, high school students from West Bend have had the opportunity to take Oelhafen's classes because they aren't offered at their school. In addition, the FFA program at KHS is very active. Oelhafen and the FFA students are often seen in the community offering petting zoos and things such as a rabies clinic.

At the county fair each year, FFA students show animals they raised. The students also volunteer at an ice cream stand at the state fair to raise money so that FFA students can go to conventions and conferences.

"In the last 10 years I have been at Kewaskum High School, we have come a long way in growing the program. There has been an increase in students in all my classes. We used to barely be able to get 15 kids to sign up for the class, and now we are at 30 and almost overflowing year to year. The kids are excited about the program and are wanting to try the different classes," Oelhafen said.

In 2021, Oelhafen was named the Outstanding Agriculture Educator for Section 10.

In 2021, Oelhafen was named the Outstanding Agriculture Educator for Section 10.

Iona Joyce (Davidson) Schmidt Parrish

It is with great sadness that her family announces the passing of Iona Schmidt Parrish, age 98, on July 17, 2023, in Phoenix, Arizona.

She was born to Russell and Orra Davidson on October 25, 1924, on the Davidson family farm near Lind in Waupaca County. Iona attended Maple Lane Grade School and Waupaca High School. After graduation, she enrolled in Waushara Normal School, attaining her teaching certificate.

Her first job brought her to Spring School in 1943, a one-room schoolhouse on Hwy. 28 in the Town of Wayne, where she taught for two years. While attending a dance at the Lighthouse near West Bend, she met Lloyd Schmidt, a handsome young man in a dark green sweater. They would marry on June 5, 1945, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Wautoma.

Iona and Lloyd would purchase the Schmidt family dairy farm on Hwy. B and go on to raise seven children in a loving and caring home. After her children were in school, Iona would return to teaching, attending summer school at the University of Oshkosh and was awarded her Bachelor degree in Elementary Education in 1971.

For over 20 years, she would put that training to use teaching hundreds of students at Elmwood School, a one-room schoolhouse in Jackson, and kindergarten in Campbellsport, Kewaskum, and Wayne. Iona loved teaching kindergarten, because "children are so eager to learn", and she provided a strong foundation for her students' future success in education and life. Meeting past students around town, she could remember their names and would always tell them how proud she was of their accomplishments. Every student could recount the joy they had in her class, especially the circus, put on every year for their parents, and where each child could choose their act. Many of her previous students would request Mrs. Schmidt when their own children went to kindergarten, ensuring they enjoyed the same enriching and positive school experience.

Iona happily retired from teaching in 1984. When Lloyd retired from farming, they finally had a chance to travel, making road trips to visit their children, family and friends around the country. As education was so important to Iona, they were able to attend the high school graduation of almost all of their grandchildren.

Cruising Alaska with her brother, Arlen and Yvonne Davidson, was a highlight of their travels, as was the road trip through Canada with Arlo and Joy Markestad, her daughter, Barbara's, parents-in-law. Iona also enjoyed vacations with her daughter, Mary, to Hawaii and St. Maarten and many winter escapes to Arizona and Florida.

In addition to teaching, Iona was the Kewaskum school board clerk and a long-time member of St. Bridget's Catholic Church, and later Holy Trinity Catholic Church. She volunteered at the Food Pantry, enjoyed bowling with her team at the Lighthouse Lanes, loved a good sheephead game, was an avid Green Bay Packer and Milwaukee Brewer fan, and baked the BEST butterhorns ever!

After Lloyd passed away in 2002, Iona was fortunate to winter in Arizona and enjoy her family there. While at a dance in Glendale, she met another handsome man, Wiley Parrish, who would become her second husband on March 11, 2006. She and Wiley lived at his home in Murphysboro, Illinois and continued to winter in Arizona. They travelled the country for class reunions and Navy ship reunions, as well as a trip to Ireland, where they both kissed the Blarney Stone. They loved to dance and continued until well into their 90s.

Iona is survived by her second husband, Wiley Parrish, and his daughters, Deatrice Owens (John) and Wilene Hanna (Bob) of Murphysboro, IL; and her children: Vernon (Carolyn) of Phoenix, AZ, Milton (Jackie Rittmann) of Colonie, NY, Barbara Markestad (James) of Athens, AL, Thomas (Yolanda) of Denver, CO, Lenard of Ft. Wayne, IN, Mary (Herb Christie) of Phoenix, AZ, and Jeffrey (Jennifer) of Clearfield, UT; 16 grandchildren: Bruce (Linda), Brian (Beverly) and Brice (Lee-cel) Schmidt, Gustav (Erin) and Allison Schmidt, Sara Markestad, Kari (Matt) Sims and Jean (Eric) Suarez, Ericka DeJesus, James Schmidt and Mary (Tom Stauffer) Schmidt, Jon Christie, Michelle (Joe) Hall, Coryna, Abigail and Jerald Schmidt; 25 great-grandchildren: Sawyer (Hanna), Shayla (Frankie Alvarez), and Sydney Schmidt, Brianna, Brandon, Brice, Kyle and Benjamin Schmidt, Kay-dance, Krisalyn, Klarah, Kevin, Katriel, Kaitlyn and Kameron Schmidt, Fallon Fay, Jacob Markestad, William Sims, Aiden and Gavin Suarez, Isiah, Neomi and Dominic DeJesus, Milani and Ayla Schmidt, and Blake Hall.

She also is survived by her cousins: Daisy Matthais, Carol Brasch, Leon (Joan) Brasch, Delmar (Ona) Schoenick, Keith (Bonnie) Schoenick, Bill Flesch; sister-in-law, Doris Davidson; and many nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her first husband, Lloyd Schmidt; granddaughter, Brenda Schmidt; great-grandson, Skylar Schmidt; great-granddaughter, Olivia Sims; her parents; brothers, Justin (Aldine & Eunice), Arlen (Carolyn & Yvonne), Arden, Daryl (JoAnne) and Sidney Davidson; and sisters, Verna (Claro) Hansen and Enid (Edward) Cechvala.

Iona lived a long, fulfilled life and felt blessed to have her family. In a last note, she wrote "What a loving and caring family I have. I love you all - Mom". She will be remembered for the enduring love and commitment she gave to her family, the significant and lasting impact she had on her students, and the kindness and generosity she extended to all. May she rest in peace.

Visitation: Iona's family will greet relatives and friends at Holy Trinity Catholic Church (331 Main St., Kewaskum) from 9 a.m. until 10 a.m. on Saturday, September 23, 2023.

Memorial Mass: Will follow the visitation at 10 a.m. Interment will be at St. Bridget's Cemetery following the Mass.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Iona's name to the Kewaskum Community Food Pantry or the Kewaskum Youth Scholarships (KEYS).

Myrhum-Patten Funeral & Cremation Service has been entrusted with Iona's arrangements. Additional information and Tribute Wall may be found at myrhum-patten.com.

Max D. Rosplock

Max D. Rosplock, age 93, passed away on the family farm in the Town of Scott on September 9, 2023, with his two daughters by his side.

Born on March 31, 1930, at home to the late Max Frank and Caroline M. (nee Mahnke) Rosplock in Milwaukee. He was baptized Max David Rosplock and was the eldest of five children. Max attended Milwaukee Public School grades 1 thru 8. He attended Catechism class at Holy Redeemer Parish. After grade school, Max attended Boys Tech, but sometime before finishing there, Max applied for an apprenticeship with the Milwaukee Carpenters Union. He was accepted and he applied his skills even with one eye due to a birth injury.

Max was hired by Jeffer's Mill Work of Milwaukee. He earned the title of Master Cabinet Maker and later Mr. Jeffers' made Max a foreman in his company. While Max was working as a Cabinet Maker and Foreman, Max's friends were enlisting into various Military Branches due to the Cold War situation. Max was American proud and applied to all branches of the Military even the Coast Guard in Milwaukee on Lake Michigan; however, Max was turned down due to his birth injury to his eye. On September 7, 1951, he joined the Carpenters Union Local 344. It was during the early 50s that Max bought land in the NW part of Milwaukee near 92nd and Hampton Ave. His intention was to build a home for his parents. Max built a two-story, four-bedroom cape cod home having no electricity nearby or even running city water. He was a Charter Member of St. Margaret Mary in 1955.

He met Grace Maxine Kreiger on the steps of the Milwaukee VA Home and the two started dating and the two were married on October 12, 1958. Max continued to work for Jeffers, until one day he took a new job with a large construction company. He began working on big projects such as the First Wisconsin Building, in its beginning, the Milwaukee Post Office in Downtown, St. Mary's Hospital on the Lakefront, Quad Graphics and the Westbury Bank on Main Street in West Bend.

In the spring of 1968, Max and Grace bought the farm in the Town of Scott. The family moved there in August of 1974. Max was a hobby farmer. Even though the farmhouse was not completed, the home was filled with love. Max retired from Berghammer Corporation in 1995 and thought he would have more time to do projects on the farm. He continued to hobby farm until Grace's health was a concern. Yet Max continued to work on projects around the farm and for his family. Max loved spending time with his family, especially Christmas. In August of 2021, Max was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer. From that point on, he stood strong and lived his time left here with us with courage and an unending amount of love for us.

Those left to cherish Max's memory include his two daughters, Linda Sue (Mark) Enright and Jane Anne (Robert) Foeckler; five grandchildren, Nicole (Todd) Krahn, Daniel (fiancé, Nicole Meloy) Enright, Patrick Enright, Lauren Foeckler, and Jacob Foeckler; three great-grandchildren; two sisters, Dorothy Clayborne and Florence Murr; two sisters-in-law, Kathleen Krieger and Sharon Fullington; cousin, Bonnie (Dennis) Walling; nieces and nephews; other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents and wife, Max is preceded in death by his infant son, Stephen Rosplock; two brothers, John Rosplock and David Rosplock; brothers-in-law, Robert Murr and Jim Fullington; cousin, Norman Mahnke; parents-in-law, Phillip and Cathrine Krieger; other aunts, uncles, and close friends.

Visitation: Max's family will greet relatives and friends on Wednesday, September 27, 2023, at St. Matthias Catholic Church, N1081 County Road S, New Fane, from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Mass of Christian Burial: A Mass of Christian Burial will follow visitation for Max at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, September 27, 2023, at St. Matthias Catholic Church, N1081 County Road S, New Fane, with Father Patrick Magnor saying Mass and leading us in prayer at the Burial immediately after in the church's cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family would like you to plant a tree in memory of Max or donate to a Veterans organization of your choice. A celebration of Max's life will take place at a later date.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral & Cremation Service has been entrusted with Max's arrangements. Additional information and guest book can be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

I’m sure that at least one of your favorite shows has a reference. In fact, my Google search also led me to a website, wimovierefs.com, dedicated to listing every reference people have found in television, movies, books, and music.

There are so many shows I have watched with a submission on this list that I don’t even remember, but one I very clearly remember having multiple references, as confirmed by this list, was ICarly. I am unable to determine why this one show mentioned us so many times. Does someone have a personal connection to Wisconsin or are we simply used for laughs? Why not pick on another state?

The movie list is even longer. From Titanic to Home Alone to Wayne’s World and, again, many, many more, they all mention Wisconsin.

Just two characters that I immediately remembered being from here are Davia on Good Trouble and Pam on Archer. I’m sure you all can recall some more.

And we all know that T-Pain song (right?), “Can’t Believe It,” where he sings, “Put you in the mansion, somewhere in Wisconsin.” This one lyric even led to the creation of Wisconsin Fest hosted by T-Pain himself starting in 2022 at The Rave.

Now, not all the references are meant to be malicious, but enough of them are. Can we complain though?

Adding fuel to the fire are people like Charlie Berens who are embracing, and slightly exaggerating, our Wisconsin and Midwest culture. And it clearly works! His successful career all started with a few minutes-long videos sharing odd news stories called The Manitowoc Minute.

Yet, a local star writer and producer, Rob Schrab, doesn’t seem to explicitly incorporate his roots into his work.

As much as I’d like to see another state become Hollywood’s punching bag, maybe we should take all the attention as a compliment.

They wish they were us.

When Fr. Durnin’s Mom Stopped By

KARL MCCARTY
CONTRIBUTOR

According to the St. Mary Parish Directory published in the early 1970s, Fr. John Durnin (1894-1971) was in Eden from 1934 to 1939. Here are a few stories about the priest.

First, it’s important to remember how personable Fr. Durnin was. Karl Ryan recalled Fr. Durnin as nice, friendly and easy to converse with. He was the type of priest that was comfortable coming into your home, and would “sit and talk to you.” Karl was born in 1932, so this is the first priest he remembers. By 1939, Karl was only seven and wasn’t even serving mass yet. So looking back at age 91, he’s impressed with Fr. Durnin’s ability to socialize with kids. Even at a young age, Fr. Durnin could relate to him.

He also recalled the reverend’s height. “He was a tall priest.” Although this comment might relate to the fact that Karl is Irish short and he was a young child at the time. “He’d come over and stay a while; mom [Violet Ryan] would make him cookies.”

Another important key element of Fr. Durnin’s tenure in Eden was his mother Margaret (1867-1947), who lived with him in the parsonage. “She took care of the house in Eden.” This was particularly convenient, because Grandma Ellen McMahon Ryan (1857-1945) lived with her son Maurice and his wife Violet, and their children. In time, Fr. Durnin’s mother (and housekeeper) would connect with Grandma Ellen. Fr. Durnin made regu-

But Molly’s biggest reward might have been gaining the experience volunteering at the pantry.

“She got to learn about how the food pantry works, how the donations come in and how they help the families,” said Molly’s mom, Heidi Kedroske.

“I think it just was a really nice experience. It felt really good to help people,” said Molly, who is the one who came up with the idea of working at the pantry. “Everyone was really nice.”

In addition to handing out food, Molly helped organize the shelves and bag items last week.

“I hope they will have me back. I would like to do more volunteering at the food pantry,” Molly said.

ilies in need of financial aid.

Governor Evers recently called a special session for the Wisconsin State Legislature to address the state’s chronic workforce challenges, including but not limited to initiatives to stabilize the state’s child care industry, expand paid family leave, invest in higher education and support high-demand workforce sectors.

While at Little Folks, Governor Evers stated he had heard from many daycares that if they didn’t receive resources, they would most likely have to close their doors. Little Folks School House is a nationally-accredited five-star rated daycare, but even Sargent noted that there have been times she considered having to close down a classroom or alter hours due to staff shortages.

Evers has proposed making his “Child Care Counts” program permanent as part of his proposed budget with an investment of $340 million. The program funding was not included in the 2023-25 biennial budget passed by the legislature and signed by Evers earlier this year, and without the influx of funding it is set to end in January 2024.

According to a report from the Century Foundation, if the Child Care Counts program ends, 2,110 child care programs across the state are projected to close, resulting in more 87,000 children without child care in Wisconsin and the loss of more than 4,880 child care jobs. The report also said that the lack of child care access could have a $500 billion economic impact across the state.

Governor Tony Evers meets with the namesake of Little Folks School House daycare in Kewaskum. He visited on Wednesday, Aug. 16.

5 Years Ago September 20, 2018

Appearing in this edition was a photo of people enjoying some time on the beach at Tiki Beach Resort. With fall approaching, the temperatures are getting cooler, but the thermometer registered the 80s that day.

Steve Rose gave a presentation at Campbellsport Public Library during a showing of his documentary titled Only 16: A Tale Of Two Billy's. Steven and his wife, Charlene, shot this documentary about the death of Charlene's brother, Bill Farr, and the couple's close friend, Billy Strassburg.

During the Campbellsport School District's annual meeting on September 17, area residents approved the proposed tax levy and the purchase of a small portion of land. The land purchase was done to clear up a clerical error that the district was made aware of this year. A small triangle portion of land on the north side of the Campbellsport Middle/High School property was never legally deeded over to the school district. It's .337 of an acre with a few pine trees and the Welcome to Campbellsport sign on it. The district has been mowing the property and using it as part of the practice field for football. Dylan Homuth made eight tackles, sacked the quarterback once, and recovered a fumble.

During a special meeting on September 22, the Campbellsport Village Board approved two referendum questions that will be put on the ballot for the November 4 election. Both relate to the possibility of a village administrator. This is something the board has been talking about, but it needs to be approved by the electorate before the board can create the position and possibly hire someone.

A study was done last week to see if the Emerald Ash Borer has moved into Fond du Lac County. Although EAB was found in some trees near Newburg in Washington County in late July, that was not the reason for the Fond du Lac County testing. This testing was already scheduled as part of an ongoing state-wide detection effort.

After a lot of discussion and some objections, the tax levy for the Campbellsport School District's 2008-09 school year was approved on a 23-12 vote. Many area residents were at the annual meeting to voice concerns over the consistent increase in the tax levy the last few years. They wondered if the board could reduce the budget to lighten the tax burden. Residents approved the tax levy of $7,822,552, with an $8.59 mill rate.

The only loss was to Greenbush 5-3, but that was overcome in the next meeting with Greenbush when the Campbellsport girls won 12-2.

Fire believed to have been caused by an electrical short, caused a loss in excess of $15,000 to the feed grinding and mixing building of Bauer Brothers early Monday morning, and kept local firemen busy for almost two hours before being brought under control. The $15,000 consists of building, machinery, and a great deal of feed and minerals that had been piled in the mixing building. Crews are busily cleaning up in preparation to the rebuilding.

Only 428 voters went to the polls on Tuesday.

More than 400 members filled St. Kilian's Church at St. Kilian on Sunday and overflowed onto the grounds when the parish marked its centennial on September 19.

Next Thursday, September 30, will mark the date of the organizing meeting of the Band Boosters. This organization is not in competition with the Mothers' Club, since its sole aim will be to aid the high school band.

Last winter, local resident Bret Richards received a call from someone who needed a home for a chocolate labrador retriever. Bret said he would take the dog, but would donate it to the Dogs2DogTags program, which trains dogs and matches them with veterans. The caller said the plan was perfect. Bret's daughter, Jessie, owns Full Throttle Kennels in Campbellsport and has trained numerous dogs for the Dogs2DogTags program. She and several dogs she trained have appeared on Petco's 4Outdoors program, featuring Brett Favre. Torre Willadsen founded Dogs2DogTags. He had trained bomb-finding dogs and handlers for the U.S. Marines. One of the handlers lost parts of both legs while on patrol in Afghanistan. His dog helped with his recovery and the idea was born. The July proceeds at Blue Door Coffee Co. of $2,152 went to Dogs2DogTags.

Over the past month, Harold Mueller has been walking from his Kewaskum home each day to work at Reigle Family Park. The 87-year-old construction worker has been in the excavating business since 1953. Two generations have followed in his career footsteps. His son, Nick, now owns the company that Harold started, Mueller Excavating. Nick's brother, Tom, works for the company as does Nick's son, Dusty. One-year-old Rory, Dusty's son, is already fascinated with the equipment so he may become the third generation in the business.

The Kewaskum Fire Department will hold an open house at the fire station on October 11. Everyone will have a chance to meet firefighters in gear, take guided tours of the station, and inspect the facility and equipment. EMS staff will be available to check blood pressure of those who choose to take advantage of the opportunity. Youngsters will enjoy the pretend fire drills and learning the proper way to crawl, check doors for heat, and find a way out of a building.

With Maela Olla finishing fourth and Alyssa Butz fifth, the Kewaskum girls cross country team placed second at the Dave Drexler Invitational in Hartford.

It was a rough week for the Kewaskum tennis team with a 5-2 loss to Plymouth and Two Rivers/Roncalli.

Facing conference leader Kettle Moraine Lutheran, the Kewaskum volleyball team played well in spurts but it wasn't enough as the Chargers won the match in three games: 25-10, 25-16, and 25-10.

The Kewaskum Plan Commission heard ambitious plans for the expansion of a downtown business and development of a commercial planned unit developing in the village's Tax Incremental Finance District. Commissioners with a sweet tooth quickly sent plans on to the village board with a favorable recommendation for approval regarding The Candy Tree. The business plans to add a four-foot addition to connect the business to the residential structure, according to owner Christine Jung. The upper level would be an apartment and the lower would be an expansion of her sales floor. Regarding the PUD, Gary Gavin presented plans that would construct seven 60'x90' buildings on four acres. The 5,400-square foot building would be built as a shell, leaving the inside open so that tenants could construct to suit their needs and use as much space as they need.

A West Bend man received non-life threatening injuries in a one-vehicle rollover crash that happened on Highway 28 near the Village Kewaskum on September 20.

Tina and Mark Thull of the Town of Farmington were frequent customers at Morning Glory Coffee and Conversations in West Bend. One day as Tina went to get her morning coffee, she noticed the owner wanted to sell and retire. Tina thought it was a perfect fit since her daughters worked in restaurants for quite a while and a daughter-in-law is a culinary artist with pastries and wanted to do a business like Morning Glory Coffee and Conversations. Only the ownership of the business changed; the name and menu stayed the same, although the Thulls are adding items to the menu.

The Kewaskum School District is dedicated to helping area students learn and thrive in a safe educational surrounding. This involves all aspects of schools, including playgrounds. Over the summer, Farmington Elementary School had all decayed wood mulch removed and replaced with rubber mulch, thanks to a FES PTO donation that helped make the transition happen all at once instead of gradually for the school's playground.

Auditions, tryouts, and call backs have been completed. The Kewaskum High School cast of Once Upon A Mattress is busy practicing and will be performing November 8, 9, and 10.

The Kewaskum tennis team squared off against Kewaunee on Tuesday and won 5-2. Kewaskum winners included Nellie Baum, Amie Chaloupka, Kelsey Goetsch/Anna Gitter, Liz Staeger/Crystal Lepp, and Cassie Prom/Lauren Smith.

A November 3 referendum will ask taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District two separate questions. The first is to approve a $17 million school building and renovating package that includes reopening Beechwood Elementary School. The second is to support a recurring referendum allowing $200,000 in excess revenue to be collected each year to maintain a new corridor addition, linking the middle school to the high school and fund operations and maintenance of Beechwood School. When the school board met last Thursday, the motion passed 4-2. Lisa Maul and board president Jean Goeden voted against the motion and Mary Andera was absent from the meeting.

The beginning of the 1998-99 school year brought a new principal to St. Lucas Lutheran Elementary School. Mark Kahrs is also the teacher of the upper grades.

Following months of thought and much discussion, members of the Kewaskum Fire Department voted at the September membership meeting to discontinue sponsorship of the Firemen/Legion picnic and parade held each year in July. Fire department members will instead focus their efforts and attention on the annual July 3 fireworks presentation. At this time, the Legion and Fire Department intend to continue the annual raffle.

Christine Thelen has been promoted to Milwaukee brewery plant manager for Miller Brewing Company. She is a 20-year Miller veteran. With the appointment, the Kewaskum resident becomes one of only two female brewery managers among the nation's top brewing companies.

After much discussion regarding walkways for the proposed new subdivision that had been approved by the Kewaskum Plan Commission, the Kewaskum Village Board came to a decision to send the plan to a public hearing, with a neutral recommendation.

On August 31, Saint Lawrence Seminary High School senior Lucas Martin of Kewaskum was installed as a minister of communion during Sunday Mass.

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR
KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

It is hard to believe that our camping period has just a few weeks left before we need to winterize, close up and leave it for six months. We had a great season with lots of good times, laughs and memories to hold on to.

One such memory involves our golf cart. We have had our golf cart for approximately four years, bought used, nothing special but it works for us. This year, it stopped charging fully and my husband made some adjustments to cords and the battery charger, but the charging has still been sporadic. Thankfully, we never ran out of power while driving but that didn't stop my apprehension.

We were able to stay at our camper home for an extended period around Labor Day weekend and had family visiting on various days. One warm afternoon, I was exhausted from the events earlier in the day and was napping in our bed. That didn't last long as I swear there was a squirrel chirping loudly outside the window. When I told my husband about it later that day, we didn't dwell on it. However, the next day we were sitting on our deck, and we heard the same chirping. He said it was a bird, but it was so close to us and so loud, it did not make sense being that we were not in a tree and couldn't see any birds above.

Later that day, his son and nephew came over and we all heard the deafening noise. They said it was coming from our golf cart and my stepson proceeded to disable the horn, which never really worked anyway. It was fine for a while, but the chirping started up again. By then, I was sure it was something screwy with the batteries. They still thought it was the horn and removed the fuse. All was fine.

Until the next day. We were hanging out with a large gathering of my husband's family at a cabin they rented for the weekend. Lo and behold, the chirping went off again. Someone said it sounded like an animal and they proceeded to flip up the cart and check its undercarriage for life. Nothing – whew because that caused me and several other family members to freak and run down the field away from the cart.

The following day, my sister and brother-in-law came to visit. We were munching on snacks on the deck and chirp-chirp-chirp went the golf cart. I had given up at this point and was actually searching for golf carts for sale at our campground. My brother-in-law got up to inspect and found, in the dash, a grey treefrog. These creatures are chameleon-like and can change colors to match their environment. Even though he pointed it out, we could not see it easily. After much laughing and disbelief, the treefrog was set free from his weeklong hide-away and hopped away on his next adventure. I have not heard that chirp since.

FR. DURNIN from page 9

lar weekly visits out to the Ryan farm a half-mile east of St. James Church. Karl recalls it was “usually in the middle of the week because on weekends he was always busy.”

One way Ellen Ryan might have bonded with Fr. Durnin and his mom was through mourning. It was during Fr. Durnin's tenure when Ellen's husband William (1854-1935) died. Reverend “J.D. Durnin officiated,” according to the old news story put on findagrave.com, and some of the pallbearers were John Hillebrand (1879-1949), Charles Murphy (1878-1956), Thomas Flood (1863-1947), Edward Flood (1871-1959) and George H. Flood (1869-1957). Perhaps the funeral helped Fr. Durnin's mom and Ellen Ryan connect.

The Ryans were typical South Eden Irish. Patrick Ryan and Rose Cahill came from County Longford in Ireland to Eden. They had many children, including four Ryan boys (one of which is William) and two daughters, Julia (1849-1922) who married a McEvoy, and Mary (1861-1932) who married a Timblin. One of William's sons was Maurice, Karl's father. This Irish background was seconded by their Roman Catholic priest, as Durnin is an Irish Celtic surname.

For a specific memory, Karl remembered Fr. Durnin's mom was so scared of storms. “Her I remember a bit. She was so afraid of thunder and lightning.” He added, “I remember her standing by the door, throwing her arms up in the air [when thunder struck]. I was on the couch, dying laughing.”

Did Fr. Durnin's mom know he was laughing? “Oh, I think so... It was so funny, she'd throw her arms up in the air.” In this memory, even his dad was busting out laughing. Father and son were right there in the house, located in the north end of South Eden, and on present day Timberlane Drive. At this location, the hills of South Eden start to flatten out. Perhaps the thunder and the sight line to see the lightning was a bit much for Mrs. Durnin. However, in defense of the laughter, Karl clarified it was meant to be good natured. “Cause I remember laughing on that couch.” Maurice was also sitting there in agreement, “He thought that was so funny.”

Unfortunately, Fr. Durnin left Eden. “I don't know why he didn't stay.” Karl's point was that Father was very well liked, personable, and fit in well. “Pa missed him when he left. They always came every week. Grandma Ryan [Karl's term for his mother Violet] missed him too.” And so did Ellen. “We kinda felt bad when they left because he was a nice priest.” It's a reminder of the days when the priest could take the time to visit in the small parishes. A seat at the parishioners' kitchen table was just as valued as attendance in the pews.

lence as the rice is tall and thick. Next, I realized I had forgot to bring a lighter. I was going to cook my meals on a single burner camp stove. That idea flamed out and my diet would be cheese, a two-pound stick of garlic-flavored bear sausage and apples.

On occasion, I would get burned by teal flying at Mach 8, and I had no cares, as the pups and I were very happy for a multitude of reasons.

Late in the afternoon, I came to the conclusion that, due to the fact that I had two inches of muck in the bottom of the canoe, I would not be able to use my sleeping bag as I would destroy it. I decided that, when day became night, I would keep wearing my chest waders, roll up in a tarp and live like royalty.

I have to admit, I had a flock of six teal fly by and I missed two true bunny shots, I also have to admit, I did not care.

With three minutes of legal hunting left, I had a pair of teal land in easy range, but I could not shoot them on the set and let them swim into the wild rice.

When legal shooting ended, I cased my gun, opened a beer and watched about a billion-wood duck and mallard come to what is their rice paradise for the night. While watching my version of T.V., a raccoon swam by, and Ruby wanted to chase it.

I laid on the deck of my canoe wearing chest waders and a rain jacket with my tarp on top of two inches of muck and realized, at the ripe old age of 62, this is living.

The next day, I stayed put until 2 p.m., did not get a shot, pulled my decoys and paddled back to my new truck.

There will be plenty of shooting on upcoming trips.

Sunset

The end of a successful trip.

Waterfowl Seasons Open Around the State

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds waterfowl hunters to prepare for the opening of the regular goose and duck hunting seasons in September.

Regular Goose Season

The statewide daily bag limit is three birds. In the Southern and Mississippi River Zones, the three-bird daily bag limit applies for the first portion of the season and increases to a five-bird daily bag limit for the holiday hunt.

Regular Canada goose season structure is as follows:

- Northern Zone - Sept. 16 to Dec. 16.
- Southern Zone - Sept. 16 to Oct. 8, Oct. 14 to Dec. 3, and Dec. 16 to Jan. 2, 2024.
- Mississippi River Zone - Sept. 16 to Oct. 8, Oct. 14 to Dec. 3, and Dec. 16 to Jan. 2, 2024.

While afield, hunters must carry proof of their Canada goose harvest permit. Acceptable methods of proof include a paper copy, Go Wild-generated PDF displayed on a mobile device, an authenticated Wisconsin driver's license or Go Wild Conservation Card. Registration of Canada geese is no longer required.

Regular Duck Season

Regular duck season structure is as follows:

- Northern Zone - Sept. 23 to Nov. 21.
- Southern Zone - Sept. 30 to Oct. 8 and Oct. 14 to Dec. 3.
- Open Water Duck Zone - Oct. 14 to Dec. 12.

The daily bag limit statewide is six ducks, including no more than:

- Five merganser, of which two may be hooded mergansers.
- Four mallards, of which two may be a hen.
- Three wood ducks.
- Two black ducks.
- Two redheads.
- Two canvasbacks.
- One pintail.

Per Fish and Wildlife Service regulations, the daily scaup bag limit by zone is as follows:

- Northern Zone - 2 scaup/day - Sept. 23 to Nov. 6 and 1 scaup/day Nov. 7-21.
- Southern Zone - 1 scaup/day - Sept. 30 to Oct. 8, Oct. 14-19 and 2 scaup/day Oct. 20 to Dec. 3.
- Open Water Zone - 2 scaup/day - Oct. 14 to Nov. 27 and 1 scaup/day

Nov. 28 to Dec. 12.

Youth Waterfowl hunting weekend will take place on Sept. 16-17 and will have the same daily bag limit as the regular duck season.

Licenses and stamps required for duck hunting include a Wisconsin small game license, a Wisconsin waterfowl stamp and a federal migratory bird stamp. The federal duck stamp costs $25 and can be purchased at a U.S. Post Office. Hunters will also have the option of purchasing the federal stamp at DNR license vendors for an additional $3.50 surcharge. The purchase will be noted on their license, but the stamp itself will arrive in the mail later.

Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI)

Wild waterfowl can be infected with the avian influenza virus without showing signs of disease or becoming ill. The DNR recommends the following precautionary measures be taken:

- Avoid handling sick or found dead birds.
- Prevent dogs from contacting sick or found dead birds.
- Wear rubber gloves when handling game.
- Field dress in ventilated areas.
- Always wash hands and equipment thoroughly with soap and water.

This strain of HPAI has not been shown to pose a food safety risk. However, hunters should always ensure proper handling of game meat and harvested birds should be cooked to an internal temperature of 165°F. Do not let hunting dogs consume any raw game meat or found dead birds.

Harvest Information Program

Waterfowl and other migratory bird hunters must also register each year with the federal Harvest Information Program (HIP), placing them on a list of hunters that may receive a survey regarding their harvests. HIP registration is free and can be done at the time of license purchase or added later if a hunter decides to pursue migratory game birds.

State licenses and stamps, permits, and HIP registration are all available through Go Wild.

For more information regarding complete waterfowl hunting regulations, hunting hours and helpful tips visit the DNR's Waterfowl Hunting webpage.

Kewaskum Falls to Ranked Rival Plymouth

KHS FOOTBALL

The Kewaskum football team hit the road last Friday to play at Finke Field in Plymouth to face their conference rival Panthers. Plymouth came into the game ranked fourth in Division Three football.

The Panthers jumped out to a 14-0 lead after one quarter, the second touchdown coming as time expired in the period.

Plymouth added two more touchdowns in the second quarter, the last on an interception return at the end of the half.

Brett Shutter added to his night with his fourth touchdown on a 55-yard run in the third quarter.

The Indians did avoid the shutout on a seven-yard scamper by quarterback Andrew Reichert with four minutes left in the contest.

The final score was in favor of Plymouth, 7-35.

Leaders for the Indians' offense were quarterback Andrew Reichert who went 12 of 20 passing for 114 yards.

The running attack was led by Dylan Soyk with 55 yards on 13 carries.

Top pass catchers were Bailey Ralph with six grabs for 50 yards and Landon Daniel with three receptions for 46 yards.

Leading tacklers for Kewaskum included Nick Deheck (7), Dawson Stahl (4), Dylan Soyk (5), Oliver Voight (5), Everett Donath (7) and Matt Miller (4).

Next up, the Kewaskum Indians host the Berlin Indians for a rare Thursday night game at 7 p.m. at the Doc Mitchell Athletic Complex.

First-half Shootout Favors Vikings as Cougars Drop First Flyway Contest

It was an exhilarating opening half in Campbellsport last Friday night with the football Cougars hosting the Winnebago Lutheran Academy (WLA) Vikings, as the two teams combined to score 42 points in quarters one and two, but it was the visiting Vikings earning the "W" by a score of 14-35 by game's end.

The Cougars (4-1, 2-1) still got plenty of production from their running game, particularly lead back Benjamin Timm, as Campbellsport logged 259 yards rushing (173 for Timm).

While taking the loss wasn't ideal, Campbellsport Head Coach Todd Wondra said he was encouraged at times by the offensive line play.

"The guys sustained their blocks, and we got on the second level with our blocks, which gave our backs opportunities to make moves and do what they do," said Wondra, referring to two long touchdown runs by both Ben Willacker and Timm.

WLA's (5-0, 3-0) five-man committee of rushers, including quarterback Sam Loehr, proved problematic for the Cougars, as did Loehr's big night through the air (he threw for 143 yards on six-of-nine passing).

The biggest difference between the two teams on the night were errors: Campbellsport lost three fumbles to WLA's none and the Cougars allowed a kick return for a touchdown.

"We played a good team... and had way too many mistakes," said Wondra. "We'll go back to work... and clean up our stuff."

The loss pushes WLA into a tie with St. Mary's Springs for first in the Flyway. Campbellsport sits in second with Lomira at 2-1.

While even one loss can mean the difference between a championship and otherwise, Wondra is looking at the silver lining, and hoping the setback can be a motivator.

"Hopefully they remember the feeling of defeat and use it as motivation to not go through it again," he added.

Campbellsport will play next against St. Mary's Springs at Fruth Field in Fond du Lac this Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23, with kickoff schedule for 1 p.m.

Benjamin Timm leads the Cougars' charge out of the locker room and onto the field before the game on Friday, Sept. 15. Players from the Campbellsport Junior Football program formed the tunnel. Campbellsport lost to W.L.A., 35-14. CLARICE CASE PHOTOS

The Campbellsport boys varsity had one of their best showings of all time at the Sheboygan Lutheran Crusader Challenge on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

The Cougars (86 points) placed second to Kohler (55 points), a team that is ranked second in the state in Division Three.

Going into Tuesday, Campbellsport and Kettle Moraine Lutheran (KML) had each beaten the other once during the season. The Cougars were able to edge KML (third place/96 points) by 10 points at the Crusader Challenge.

A faster start for the Cougars paid off with each varsity runner having a better time than last year.

The Cougars placed five runners in the top 15 to win the junior varsity (JV) boys title with the low score of 30 points.

It was the second year in a row that Campbellsport won the meet.

Only 68 seconds separated the top five runners on the team.

The girls varsity team took 16th out of the 26 schools that participated.

The rugged Sheboygan Lutheran course was especially difficult for our first year runners, but everyone on the team ran some of their best times of the season.

Morgan Flasch earned a medal finishing in 22nd place.

The JV girls had an incomplete team. Maddy Kreis had her best time of the season, and Lorelei Walker and Payton Temperle had their second best times.

Braund Scores Five Touchdowns

CAMPBELLSPORT JUNIOR FOOTBALL

Damien Braund scored five touchdowns as the Campbellsport Junior Football team remained undefeated with a 38-20 victory over, previously undefeated, Laconia. Braund didn't waste any time as he scored on a 65-yard run on Campbellsport's first offensive play.

The score remained 8-0 at halftime as the second quarter was a battle of field position.

The third quarter started with Braund stepping in front of a Laconia receiver and racing 65-yards for a pick six.

Campbellsport and Laconia traded touchdowns to end the third quarter as Braund had a beautiful 40-yard scamper.

The fourth quarter was a back and forth battle with both teams scoring two touchdowns; Braund had two more touchdown runs of 55 and 60-yards.

The offensive line of Bryson Zimdahl, Owen Brandt, Jackson Mueller, Declan Flaherty and Mason Nichols did a fantastic job of opening up holes for the Campbellsport running backs.

Ezra Glover was four out of five in PAT's (point after touchdown).

Campbellsport now sits all alone in first place as they host Lomira this week.

Kewaskum Girls Tennis Defeats Kiel on Senior Day

KHS GIRLS TENNIS

The Kewaskum High School girls tennis team celebrated Senior Day by defeating Kiel, 7-0, on Thursday, Sept. 14.

Prior to the meet, Kewaskum's seven seniors were honored and were presented with gifts from their younger teammates.

Head Coach Brad Preder thanked the seniors for their dedication, work ethic and leadership. He also noted that they have represented their team, school, and community in outstanding ways.

The celebration continued when play started, as Kewaskum would control all of the matches. Kiel was shorthanded, with only six varsity players, so Kewaskum shuffled its lineup so all the senior varsity players would have a match to play.

One junior, number one singles player Liz Erdmann, would be in the lineup for Kewaskum. Erdmann improved her conference record to 4-1, with a convincing 6-0, 6-0 victory.

The rest of the varsity lineup were seniors, and they did not disappoint.

At number two singles, Rowyn Wiedmeyer also earned a 6-0, 6-0 victory. Wiedmeyer improved her record to 7-3 overall on the season.

Lauren Ford and Zoe Heiser, who have a 9-3 record playing doubles together this season, split up to play singles on Senior Day. Ford and Heiser each earned victories to make it a clean sweep of the singles matches.

On the doubles side, seniors

Audrey Grensavitch and Kaitlyn Blank were victorious as well. Blank and Grensavitch, who serve as the team's captains, have played at number one doubles all season. They improved their record to 3-2 in conference.

The win improved Kewaskum's record to 7-4 in dual meets on the season, including 4-1 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Kewaskum Sharks Win First Game of Season

KEWASKUM YOUTH SOCCER ORGANIZATION

The U10 Kewaskum Sharks kicked off the 2023 fall season against the Richfield Rampage on Saturday, Sept. 9. It was a perfect morning for soccer and both teams were ready to play.

After many attempts on goal, the Sharks were the first to connect with the back of the net.

Benson Stahl made the first two goals of the game, the second with a great assist from Parker Hug, putting the Sharks in the lead, 2-0, at the end of the first quarter.

Emslee Rabuck and Matthew Brown played some awesome defense and kept the ball out of Shark territory in the first half.

Logan Watzlawick and Louie Berres followed suit, each scoring with some sweet shots in the second quarter, ending the half, 4-0.

Richfield started off the second half with a lot of energy and were able to score four goals on the Sharks.

Parker Hug had an amazing quarter, scoring two more goals for the Sharks keeping the lead, 6-4.

Laila Roethle was a force to be reckoned with, playing some aggressive offense.

Both teams gave their all.

The Sharks worked hard as a team, made some great passes, and Logan Watzlawick was able to slide one past the Rampage goalie.

Richfield followed up with two goals, keeping the game close.

Benson Stahl scored a hat trick of three more goals for the Sharks, ending the game with a Shark win, 10-6.

Gridiron Teams Win Three of Four at Cedarburg

KEWASKUM GRIDIRON

This past Saturday, Sept. 16, all four Kewaskum Gridiron Indian teams traveled to Cedarburg to take on the Dawgs. The eighth, seventh and sixth grades all came away with victories, while the fifth grade team battled hard but lost their first game of the season.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade Gridiron Indians took care of business coming away with a convincing 32-0 victory over Cedarburg.

On the first play of the game, Jace Wichtoski stepped in front of a Cedarburg pass and intercepted it.

On the ensuing possession, the Indians got a couple of first downs and then on a fourth down play, Levi Whitfield broke off an electrifying 33-yard touchdown run making several cuts and breaking several tackles. Blake Staral added the two-point kick to make it 8-0.

The Indians added another score before the half with Landon Scheel carrying the load on the drive and capping it off with a short touchdown run, and Staral was again true on the two-point kick to make the score 16-0 at halftime.

The Indians received to start the second half and used their run game again to march the ball down the field, this time Wichtoski rushed it in from 11-yards out and with another Staral two-point kick, the Indians opened up a comfortable 24-0 lead.

The defense continued to play solid, not allowing the Cedarburg offense to get much going.

The final score came in the fourth quarter with Scheel adding his second rushing touchdown of the day to bring the final score to 32-0.

Wichtoski was the rushing leader on the day carrying the ball nine times for 71 yards and a touchdown. Whitfield completed six out of 11 pass attempts for 67 yards, hitting Wyatt Luedtke for a long 30-yard completion.

The Indians defense had a solid team effort with many contributors including interceptions by Wichtoski and Michael Missall, sacks by Easton Sabish, Jude Johnson, Jack Brucker and Issac Nielson, and several tackles for losses by Quin Dornacker and Evan Soyk.

The eighth grade improved their season record to 2-1.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade Gridiron Indians played a tightly contested game and came away with a solid 12-8 victory over Cedarburg.

Both of the Indians touchdowns came from Ryland Ciriacks, both on long touchdown runs.

The defense hung tough all day with several nice plays in the backfield by Lucas Zeeb, and Porter Reis was all over the field making many tackles and also coming away with a fumble recovery.

August Vorwerk also came away with a fumble recovery for the defense.

With the win, the seventh grade team improved their record to 1-2 on the season.

Sixth Grade

The sixth grade Gridiron Indians stayed unbeaten on the season coming away with a 22-12 victory over Cedarburg.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 6-6 with the Indians touchdown coming on a run by Henry Ogi.

The Indians opened it up in the second quarter, scoring two touchdowns, one on a connection from Ogi to Carson Eilbes and then Ogi finding Cade Wichtoski to open up a 22-6 lead at halftime.

In the second half, the defense held strong to hold the lead and hang on for the victory.

Defensive highlights included Malahki Schneider coming away with a sack, fumble recoveries by Cole Kertscher and Owen McHenry, an interception by Wichtoski, and some nice tackles by Paxton Boeldt.

Besides the touchdowns, on offense, Micah Peck had a nice 30-yard run.

The sixth grade team improved their record to 3-0 on the season.

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade Gridiron Indians battled hard, but weren't able to contain Cedarburg's running game in a 22-6 defeat.

Cedarburg jumped out to a 14-0 lead in the first half. This was enough to defeat the Indians as Kewaskum's offense could not get rolling.

The first half ended with a boost for the Indians as Charlie Ogi intercepted a pass on the last play of the half.

Cedarburg tacked on another rushing touchdown late in the third quarter, making the score 22-0.

The Indians defense continued to fight despite the score securing two more turnovers in the fourth quarter, fumble recoveries by Ogi and Decker Schutz.

They were paced by Ogi and Schutz who each had four tackles, as well as Caleb Thull who added three tackles and a quarterback sack.

Late in the fourth quarter, the Indians' offense showed sparks of life as Easton Junk got loose on a dive play and rumbled 40 yards to the Cedarburg seven-yard line. This set up an Ogi touchdown run the very next play making the final score 22-6.

The fifth grade's record stands at 1-1-1.

The Gridiron Indians next game action will be on Saturday, Sept. 23, with all of the teams again playing at home. The eighth grade will kick things off at 9 a.m.

K.H.S. Boys Soccer Pulls Off Win Against Cougars

KHS BOYS SOCCER

A win is a win. Saturday, Sept. 16, Kewaskum traveled to Campbellsport for the men's soccer game. A sloppy effort at times, but the Indians were able to pull out the victory. There were moments when Kewaskum would string together some quality, but for the most part, it was unforced turnovers with breakdowns in formation and positioning.

The first half had Kewaskum controlling for the most part and were able to carry a 3-0 lead into halftime.

With good energy out of the gate, the Indians pushed the Cougars defense hard to start and after a couple Charlie Gambino crosses that skirted past the goal, Eli Steinbauer stuck one home six minutes into the game.

Twelve minutes later, Hayden Johnson was able to beat everyone to a loose ball, send a cross into the box where it deflected onto the right foot of Charlie Gambino who slammed it into the back of the net.

With less than three minutes left in the half, Braydin Gell worked the ball down to the end line and was able to cut a ball back into the box past the diving goalie and a failed clearance from Campbellsport allowed Colton Rabe to put in the rebound.

The first half definitely felt like it should have been a bigger lead, but with unnecessary turnovers and some mix ups in formational positioning Campbellsport was allowed to remain in the game.

The second half was a frustrating adventure to begin.

The first twelve minutes saw Campbellsport put Kewaskum on their heels and create the better chances. Campbellsport eventually brought the score closer at 3-1 when an attack was allowed to bust through the back line of Kewaskum and little to no effort to recover from the team put the Indians' goalkeeper in the unenviable position of a one-on-one with the attacker who was able to score.

After that, Kewaskum was able to rattle in five unanswered goals from Hayden Johnson (unassisted), Hayden Johnson (assisted by Charlie Gambino), Mac Hasse (penalty kick), Tyler Kehres (assisted by Braydin Gell), and Luke Grover (unassisted).

With only one more goal needed by Kewaskum to activate the mercy rule, Kewaskum got really unorganized and pushed too hard to get it. Too much individual play and not enough moving the ball as a team saw turnover after turnover that could have allowed Campbellsport back in the game.

The defense of Kewaskum held up just enough with a person who doesn't normally occupy that area.

With tougher tests next week, Kewaskum has some work to do to clean up some sloppy play.

Waupun is traveling to the Doc Mitchell Complex on Tuesday, Sept. 19, after print time, for the Indians third conference game.

At 0-2 in conference Kewaskum, is in need of that first win to put some pressure on the teams at the top.

Then a trip up to the always tough Kiel Raiders for a Thursday, Sept. 21 contest. A couple of wins would bring the Indians back to .500 at 5-5.

K.H.S. Boys Soccer Wins Another Non-Conference Game

It was a great learning game for the Indians of Kewaskum when the Mayville Cardinals came to town Tuesday, Sept. 12.

A young team that is currently rebuilding after losing their core nucleus from last season, Mayville fought the whole way but just couldn't compete with Kewaskum.

The Indians controlled from start to finish not allowing Mayville to mount any sort of attack and played back on their half of the field for the vast majority of the contest.

Defensively, Kewaskum played sharp, not allowing any breakaway attempts in the first half and only two in the second half resulting in only one save for the Kewaskum goal keepers.

Captains Hudson Curtin and Austin Loehr were rock solid in the central defense cutting out any attempted attack or clear out by Mayville and then distributed the ball in the Indians' counterattacks.

With such a lopsided affair, it afforded Kewaskum's defenders to take calculated risks offensively which was rewarded with a number of shots on goal and ultimately saw Austin Loehr put home a goal of his own off a great corner kick cross from Mac Hasse.

Right away in the first half, this game was in Kewaskum's control with unassisted goals from Mac Hasse and Hayden Johnson to have the Indians up 2-0 within the first eleven minutes. This early lead allowed the coaching staff to play around with the lineup and get some of the more inexperienced members of the team some valuable varsity playing time.

Jett Schreiber, defensively, and Tyler Kehres, offensively, really stood out. Schreiber, trying out a new position for him, really took to the outside back role with good decision making and natural anticipation to stop any of Mayville's attack attempts.

Kehres once again demonstrated his innate ability to be in the right place at the right time. With a demonstration of pure speed, he was able to beat the Mayville defense to the ball, and with a first touch precisely drive it into the back of the net past a keeper that he had guessing the wrong way.

All told, the Indians put up four goals in the first half for a 4-0 half-time lead. It was a dominating performance that saw numerous Kewaskum shot attempts and great all around team play.

The second half was more of the same for the most part.

With the smell of blood in the water, though, Kewaskum got a bit sloppy and tried too hard to get more goals.

The passing and field positioning broke down allowing for an easier time of it for Mayville to defend.

They still couldn't figure out the defense of Kewaskum that saw seven or eight different guys in the back and a couple more in the defensive midfield, but Kewaskum didn't have as many quality looks in the second half.

Changing up personnel regularly may have messed with the cohesiveness, but it did allow for different players to work with one another. This was demonstrated by senior Jacob Parodo sending in a high arcing cross into the box that found an awaiting freshman Colton Rabe who scored his first varsity goal.

Of course, the regulars still wanted to contribute with Mac Hasse putting home a beauty of a left-footed shot off a cheeky little chip into the box from Hayden Johnson.

It was maybe the first true complete game from the Indians who looked good throughout.

Still a work in progress, but that progress is now being seen on the field and on the scoreboard.

A tough challenge ahead with a trip to Campbellsport on Saturday, Sept. 16, but with another well rounded effort and a good few days of training the team's confidence is sure to be high.
