KEWASKUM A'S

The 2023 championship season for the A's has been over for a few months now, but recognition for their successful summer continues to roll in.

In the Rock River League, where the A's took home their first Grand Championship since 2012, the following players were honored for successful individual seasons.

Rock River League

- Sean Menzel – Most Valuable Player & 1st Team Outfield
- Andy Neu – Most Valuable Pitcher & Playoff MVP
- Brad Young – 1st Team Shortstop
- Harry Steldt – 1st Team Third Basemen
- Jared Chesak – 1st Team Designated Hitter
- Mike Aiello – Player of Merit
- Jim Ziegler – Manager of the Year

In the Northeastern Wisconsin Baseball League (NEWBL) the A's took home their first championship since becoming a full-time league member in 2021. The A's were well represented on the all-league teams while Sean Menzel, again, led the way leading the league in average, home runs and RBI's to take home the triple crown.

The Case for South Eden

KARL MCCARTY
CONTRIBUTOR

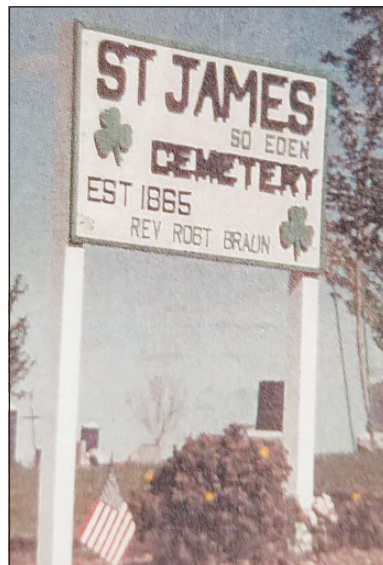

There is a problem geographically within the Township of Eden in regard to its history. It is my hope the following will rectify the inaccuracy and unfamiliarity to our past that occupies the present maps of Fond du Lac County. Without any doubt, it is clear South Eden should be on the map. The following are the logical and historical justifications.

Gap in the Map

Eden Township has only two geographical locations in the existing map within the original township. By geographical locations identifiable on a map, I mean unincorporated areas (like Marblehead) or incorporated villages (Eden) or cities. In the case of Eden Township, only Marblehead and Eden are on the map. One might suggest Twin Lakes, but even if this third location counts, it is rather close to the village of Eden.

Comparatively, the areas outside the village of Eden seem to leave a huge gap until the next mapped locations. First, the entire bottom half of Eden Township has no locations (18 sections or square miles). Because Marblehead (Sections 6 and 7) and the Village of Eden (Sections 8/9 and 16/17) are in the northwest quadrant of the township, there is still the northeast quadrant of the township (Secs 1-3, 10-15) which have no geographical location.

In addition, as you move to northern Ashford Township, the first

Journey Across Time: Exploring the Morality and Possibilities of Time Travel

Dear Reader,

In the ever-expanding realm of human curiosity, the notion of time travel has captivated minds for centuries. The desire to revisit moments with loved ones who've departed or to catch a glimpse of the unfolding future ignites the imagination. However, delving into the prospect of time travel reveals a tapestry woven with moral, ethical, and economic complexities.

The allure of reconnecting with those who've left us is undeniably powerful. Imagine the chance to spend an afternoon with departed friends and family, catching up on the chapters of life that unfolded after their departure. It's a sentiment many share, and it speaks to the profound impact relationships have on the human experience.

Yet, as we ponder the prospect of navigating the corridors of time, ethical questions arise. Would we disrupt the natural order of events? Could altering the past inadvertently reshape the present and future? The delicate balance between nostalgia and the potential repercussions of tampering with time demands careful consideration.

Looking forward poses its own set of challenges. The unknown future, a realm of infinite possibilities, sparks both excitement and trepidation. Peering into what lies ahead holds the potential to shape our decisions in the present, but it also raises questions about free will and the consequences of knowing too much.

While the concept of time travel may seem confined to the realms of science fiction, theories and speculations from brilliant minds like Einstein hint at the tantalizing possibility. However, the practicality of such journeys remains elusive, reminding us that for now, reliving the past remains an unattainable dream, one that can only be realized in a memory and not in reality.

As we grapple with these hypotheticals, it's essential to consider not just the question of "can we," but also the "should we." If time travel becomes a reality, navigating its implications will require a thoughtful approach. Who decides the rules? How do we safeguard against unintended consequences?

In the face of these complexities, one truth remains: The past, present, and future are intricately interconnected. As we dream of conversations with historical giants and glimpses into the years that lie ahead, the ethical responsibility accompanying such endeavors cannot be ignored.

So, while we may not have unlocked the secrets of time travel – yet – the mere contemplation of its possibilities invites us to reflect on our past, make mindful choices in the present, and approach the future with a sense of wonder and responsibility.

G.A. SCHEINOHA
CONTRIBUTOR

Do you talk to animals? Maybe I'm just the odd human who does. Could be a country quirk. More'n likely a personal eccentricity.

One of my father's uncles use to hang his bib overalls on the wash line for the rain to wash. Doesn't get any stranger or rustic than that. Unless you count the time he picked a chicken run over in the road as fixings for Sunday dinner. Till the misus put the kabosh to it. A sight too pragmatic for his own good.

My neighbors, leastwise the farmhands working the calf barns next door probably wonder what inarnation is up with me. Chatting away with the birds. Or saying, "How's it goin' bossie?" to the Hereford steer grazing near the backyard. As if they're gonna reply between rolls of their cud, "Not too bad."

Mind you, this fella isn't Doctor Doolittle. Don't hear any of the critters responding. But I'll never be convinced they lack understanding. Despite the language barrier. Because every creeping, crawling, or flying thing has something we people don't. A priori knowledge. Sheer instinct. They grasp our moods and develop intuitive insights through empathetic context.

Could it be their version of a soul? The Bible says the spirit of the beast goes into the ground while man's returns to God. Figured I glimpsed whatever it is once, when our elderly, nearly blinded by cataracts Lhasa Apso joyfully romped through autumn's fallen leaves.

As for realizing what we're telling them, here's an example. After filling the bird feeder, a request, "Don't poop on the car," was honored by the fowl. Use to sing a Beatles lyric to the hound while she rode shotgun, "Baby you can drive my car." Only to come outta some place I stopped and find Piper sitting in the driver's seat. Unaware it wasn't meant literally. Yet, in her own way, cognizant as all getup.

A New Year

MITCHELL
BRADLEY KELLER
JOURNALIST

Welcome to 2024!

It will be a year of change for this newspaper, although, at a certain point in history, I think every year for several decades could be described this way within the industry.

We've all seen and sensed how "the news" has changed in our collective lifetimes – some of it for the better and some of it for the worse – and for this network of papers the adjustments will continue.

After accepting a role outside the publishing company, I stepped down as editor of this paper in December of 2023. This will be the first major hurdle for the paper to navigate in the new year and, even though it's in a reduced capacity, I am happy to be able to help.

A newspaper does not need an editor (at least, not officially, anyway). As has been the case here, when a paper prints without an editor, it just means that everyone steps up to fill those gaps. Journalists take a bigger role in production, former editors offer their time and energy and the community helps fill in coverage gaps if there are any.

This process is tried-and-true, but it should not last forever.

No, a newspaper does not need an editor, but it benefits greatly by having the experience and leadership in the newsroom.

While we still have plenty of both of those things to go around, one of the first big moments of the year for these papers will be naming a new editor.

Whenever that happens, and whomever that may be, I hope readers will welcome that individual with open arms and help them hit the ground running in coverage of our great communities.

We are still fielding applications for the position, and I welcome anyone with strong writing and organizational skills to apply. No previous newspapering experience is necessary.

Local news has never been more valuable, and we appreciate the honor of putting it together for you! While we transition, we ask for your patience, your kindness and your support.

With those three things combined, we'll be just fine!

See you next week

Silbernagel Group Honors Retiring Employee

STAFF
THE SILBERNAGEL GROUP

After nearly 25 years of serving clients and the community, Gretchen Evans is retiring from The Silbernagel Group to pursue her passions of travel and spending time with her family, enjoying margaritas and Mexican food.

This event was marked by a recent retirement open house at the Silbernagel Group where team members and clients alike wished Gretchen well in retirement and thanked her for her years of dedicated service.

Gretchen was loved by her clients with her exceptional service suggesting annual reviews which is something that is not usually done in the insurance industry. She will be missed by co-workers and clients alike. She is leaving big shoes to fill but is also leaving her clients in the capable hands of Carrie Weyer who has 14 years of experience working with The Silbernagel Group. Carrie will be taking over the Property and Casualty Department in 2024, and both she and Gretchen are excited to pass the baton!

"We wish Gretchen well in her future endeavors!" expressed a staff member.

Washington County Names Significant Permit Fee Reductions

Washington County completed a review of the Land Resources permitting and review fees resulting in significant fee reductions in the 2024-2025 Budget approved by the county board in November. Josh Schoemann, county executive, initiated the review aimed at lowering the overall regulatory cost of home construction and platting, and to mitigate the impact on the price of housing.

The Next Generation Housing (NGH) initiative prompted the review as the county worked with local municipalities involved in NGH developments to change some of the zoning regulations and fees to lower the cost of the homes. The objective is to provide housing opportunities that will allow working individuals and families to remain in Washington County and build equity through home ownership.

"Reducing the cost of development leaves more money in the pockets of homeowners and businesses and furthers the mission of creating an environment for our citizens to enjoy our authentic quality of life," Schoemann said.

Most Land Resources fees will be reduced by an average of 50%, with some eliminated altogether. The county fees affected are primarily in subdivision and stormwater infrastructure review, permits located in the County – regulated shoreland, floodplain and wetland, non-metallic mining, and septic system installations.

The new fees can be found by visiting washcowisconsin.gov/departments/natural\_resources.

Help Us Help You Serve Our Community

Osceola EMR services (emergency first responders) are seeking dedicated individuals, like you, to join our team of exceptional EMRs. As an integral part of our community, this department strives to provide essential emergency services and ensure the safety and well-being of the Town of Osceola, which includes the community residents of Armstrong, Chinatown, Dundee and Waucousta.

At these calls, EMRs will be working closely with Campbellsport EMS and/or Fond du Lac paramedics. Training is provided by the township and classes will be forming soon. Call us today to learn more about this great opportunity to keep our community and neighbors safe. Interested individuals may contact Michael Sterr, Emergency Management director, at 920-212-TOWN (8696) #9.

First Winter Camping Trip

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

When I complete this column, my 22-year-old daughter Selina and I are heading down to Rolling Forks, Mississippi, to camp and hunt hogs and deer in the Delta National Forest.

This is the 34th time that I have written my year-in-review column, and it was an active one.

Tanya Kotolowski is the administrator of Necedah Public Schools. We are good friends, and one year ago she asked me if I would help her create a club for people of all ages: "NOAC" (Necedah Outdoor Adventure Club).

The goal was to bring members of our community together in an outdoor way.

I am the president of NOAC, and we are kicking butt. In 12 months, we have built a beach, had several fun campfire events at my house, a fishing picnic, two beach parties with music, and we always have food. Every other week, I write a post for a community Facebook page, and it has really helped to bring people together and secure finances. We are currently creating an ice-skating rink with lighting and hoping to create a disk golf course this summer.

Early Morning Crashes in Auburn, Investigation Continues

Alcohol believed to be a factor in the initial crash

LT. NICK KAHNKE
FDL COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

On Sunday, Dec. 31, at 1:10 a.m., the Fond du Lac County Communications Center received a call of a one-vehicle accident on Hwy 45 near Sandy Road in the Township of Auburn.

Deputies with the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office and Washington County Sheriff's Office responded along with Campbellsport Ambulance and Kewaskum Fire and Ambulance Service.

Preliminary investigation showed that the vehicle was traveling southbound and entered the west ditch, striking a culvert. The vehicle then overturned several times before coming to rest. There were five occupants of the vehicle, four of which were ejected during the crash.

After being ejected from the vehicle, a 19-year-old Hartford woman was struck by another vehicle. She was drug from the scene and located by Washington County Deputies three miles from the initial crash site. The female was pronounced deceased at the secondary scene. Three other occupants were transported to medical facilities with serious life-threatening injuries. One occupant was transported with non-life-threatening injuries.

Hwy 45 was re-routed for approximately four hours by the Fond du Lac County Highway Department and Wisconsin State Patrol while the Fond du Lac County Reconstruction Team investigated the crash.

The investigation into these two crashes remains active and ongoing, and alcohol is believed to be a factor in the initial crash. The following additional details are being released at this time.

Occupants of vehicle involved in initial rollover crash:

- 19-year-old female operator from Hartford – deceased;
- 17-year-old male passenger from Iron Ridge – transported by ambulance to Froedert Hospital Milwaukee with critical injuries;
- 16-year-old female passenger from Theresa – transported by ambulance to Children's Hospital Milwaukee with serious non-life-threatening injuries;
- 17-year-old passenger from Milwaukee – transported by ambulance to Froedert West Bend with minor injuries;
- 21-year-old passenger from Iron Ridge – transported by civilian vehicle to Aurora Medical Center Washington County with serious non-life-threatening injuries.

If you have any information on either of these two related crashes, we are asking that you contact the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office at 920-929-3390 or the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's tip line at 920-906-4777.

More information will be made public as law enforcement continues to investigate these related crashes.

The sheriff's office appreciates the various first responders and assisting law enforcement agencies across multiple jurisdictions who worked together to locate and account for all involved and assisted our deputies in this complex investigation.

January 2 Update

On January 1, a 19-year-old West Bend man was identified as the driver of the vehicle that struck the 19-year-old female driver of the first crash and fled the scene in his vehicle prior to the arrival of emergency personnel. It is believed that the occupants of the vehicles were known to each other and that they were traveling together. He has been arrested on suspicion of Hit and Run-causing death (Duty to report accident; assistance following accident). He remains in custody in the Fond du Lac County Jail awaiting an initial court appearance. Additional details about the crash and subsequent investigation will become available in the criminal complaint when filed with the court. No further details are expected to be released until that time, as the investigation remains active and ongoing.

D.N.R. Seeking Nominations for 2023 Hunter and Archery Education Awards

Deadline to submit nominations is February 15

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is accepting nominations for the 2023 Hunter Education Instructor of the Year, Hunter Education Group of the Year and Archery Education Instructor of the Year awards.

Current hunter and archery education instructors and hunter education groups that have significantly advanced hunter safety on a voluntary basis through extraordinary service are eligible to be nominated.

“Hunter and archery education instructors are often pillars of their community who continue to advance the sport of hunting through providing high-quality safety training to the next generation of hunters,” said DNR Hunter Education Administrative Warden Lt. Michael Weber. “These awards are important so the program can continue to recognize the great work that our instructors and groups do.”

Extraordinary service can come in various forms, including recruiting new instructors, recruiting new students or hunters, the volume of courses taught or involvement in other activities in their community related to hunter education.

To nominate an individual or group, download the nomination form on the DNR’s volunteer webpage (dnr.wisconsin.gov/Volunteer/InstructorForms) and email the completed form to DNRLSafety@wisconsin.gov by Feb. 15, 2024.

Wisconsin Residents – Check Your Property Tax Bill to Ensure You Receive the Lottery and Gaming Credit

WIS. DEPT. OF REVENUE

The Wisconsin Department of Revenue (DOR) is reminding Wisconsin residents to check their current property tax bill for the lottery and gaming credit. The credit provides direct property tax relief to qualifying taxpayers on their property tax bills. Lottery proceeds are paid into a separate segregated state fund. The lottery credit is displayed on tax bills as a reduction of property taxes due.

To qualify for the lottery and gaming credit, you must be a Wisconsin resident, own a dwelling and use it as your primary residence as of the January 1 certification date of the year the property taxes are levied – in this case January 1, 2023. If an owner is temporarily absent, typically for a period no longer than six months (ex: hospital, vacation, incarcerated), the primary residence is the home where the owner returns. Principal dwelling means any dwelling the owner of the dwelling uses as their primary residence.

To receive the credit, an eligible property owner must file an application with the county treasurer where the property is located or, with the city treasurer if the property is located in a city that collects taxes under state law. A property owner may claim only one primary residence. You cannot claim the lottery and gaming credit on business property, rental units, vacant land, garages, or other property that is not the owner’s primary residence.

If a property owner is eligible for the credit as of January 1, 2023, but their property tax bill received in December 2023 does not show the credit, they may:

- Claim the credit by applying to the municipal (town, village, or city) treasurer where the property is located, by January 31, 2024.
- File a late claim application (if missed the January 31 deadline) with the Wisconsin Department of Revenue by October 1, 2024.

Lottery and gaming credit applications forms are located at revenue.wi.gov/Pages/Form/lottery-home.aspx.

11 sections south of Eden Township have no mapped location. Thus, it's almost the size of a township that expands between Ashford (unincorporated on Highway 67) and Eden Village, for which there is "no place" to locate on a map.

Uneven Distribution in Eden

To understand the discrepancy of mapped locations. Look at the mapped locations in what is and or formerly Ashford Township – this includes Elmore, Saint Kilian, Ashford, Campbellsport and Golden Corners. The source for this is one of the best maps in the country – DeLorme, which has a great reputation for state atlases. The 2020 DeLorme Atlas for Wisconsin still has the same locations on its map within Ashford Township (p.79).

Another township whose borders are filled with five mapped locations is Lomira. It has the villages of Lomira and Brownsville, as well as the unincorporated areas of Knowles (population "not many"), Nasbro, and Golden Corners. Recognize Golden Corners is a significant marker of two townships because it is on the Ashford/Lomira town line.

In contrast, the whole township of Eden has two mapped localities, and that's all in the northwest quadrant of the township.

Population is Not a Requirement

In addition to the above arguments, please recognize when making the case for South Eden, the population of a concentrated area is not required to put a place on the map.

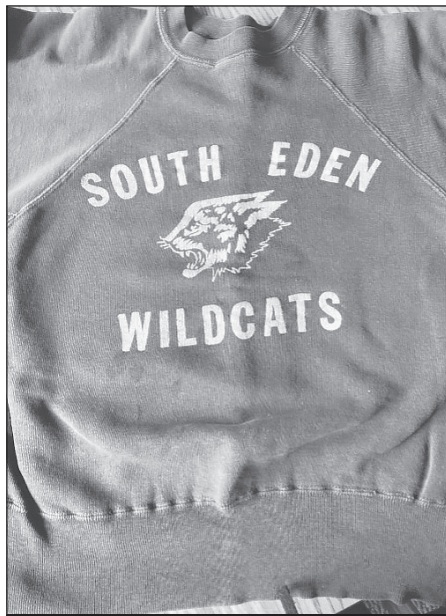

DeLorme Map is still placing Nasbro, Golden Corners and Hamilton on maps. Nasbro is an old quarry company town west of Lomira and north of Knowles. In Golden Corners, the cheese factory isn't even there anymore and it's unclear if people younger than age 50 use the term for the intersection south of Camelot Golf Course.

Meanwhile, Hamilton too was essentially a quarry company town in the Town of Byron on the south side of B but west of 175. Please note a 1944 map of Fond du Lac County reinforces that Hamilton is not on 175 (formerly Hwy 41), but rather somewhat west. I had a recent conversation with someone who lived in those former company houses before they were torn down. This source, Pat Dilling, reinforced the use of Hamilton was not on 175 but rather west of that off of B. Pat lived there for approximately a dozen years around the 1950s and early 1960s, and her location of Hamilton was on the south side of B. At that time, there were more than a half dozen houses there. They are now long gone, but Hamilton is still on the map.

It is important for future generations to know locations that were significant to our past. They also create talking points when one is referencing a place in the vicinity to go. Recognize this piece is supportive of Nasbro, Golden Corners and Hamilton as mapped locations. The point in regard for South Eden is that you don't need a hamlet or five houses together to be on the map.

Written Evidence of South Eden

In addition, South Eden has been documented in use. For example,

Joan Reilly Buerger saved this South Eden Wildcats sweater. As the daughter of Leo and Fern Reilly, she knows her South Eden history. She came to the Campbellsport library presentation on South Eden in October. At the end, she pointed out that she has this historical artifact. "I just want to let you know I have a South Eden Wildcats sweatshirt....But you had to be South Eden. There were 13 of us that had them, and I still have mine. I do not know if it fits or not, but I told Joanie Ryan [Wettstein], a good friend of mine, which is Ray Ryan's daughter – when they moved over there to that side [Eagle Road], she wore one, but I reminded her she wasn't South Eden." However, in defense of Joanie, she lived in South Eden for a while when her parents worked Maurice Flood's farm on halves in the 1940s. Joan added with some humor and truth, "We always knew South Eden was wonderful, and we were very important people." The Wildcats of South Eden originates in the days when St. Mary's of Eden did the CYO plays. This brought back memories of working with Frank and Florence Flood, and Jim and Jeanne Braun. But there was a whole group of South Eden kids "and we all wore the same South Eden Wildcats sweatshirt." Joan added sarcastically, "But there was a few that got in there that really weren't [from South Eden], like I said, that kinda of upset us [jokingly]. But I still have mine." In addition, "when we were in high school, that was your night out – Monday night was a good night. You went to CYO; you often didn't get home very early."

at Shepherd of the Hills, there is a display that honors the artifacts of the old churches from which the parish descends from. Labeled on those relics are items which came from St. James Church. But rather than the label saying "St. James," they are labeled "South Eden." St. James Church lasted from 1865 to 1971, and was located on Highway F but west of V. There was also a prior church located on Murphy's Hill on Scenic Drive. This mid-1800s church was built by early Irish Catholics and lasted until the one built in 1865. In addition, photographs of St. James Cemetery in later years explicitly show the sign at the cemetery said "South Eden." This Sheila Reilly Loehr took this picture of maple syrup made by Mark and Jamie Birschbach. Besides being delicious syrup, it also is proof South Eden is a modern day location – not just one from the past.

A Fond du Lac map published in 1874 shows a large gap between Eden Village and Ashford (unincorporated). However, by this time, the culture of South Eden sandwiched in that area between was already quite established. This vacancy has been maintained throughout the publications of subsequent plat books, is historically inaccurate, and should be rectified.

IMAGE COURTESY: KARL MCCARTY

includes different signs of both the 1990s and early 2000s. In addition, the monument honoring dozens (of those who no longer have their own headstone) clearly labels the site as South Eden.

Another example is the old signs of Phil Majerus's deer pen, which has been called "South Eden Preserve." Likewise, Rick Heisler recalls Elwyn Ketter used the term "South Eden." Heisler also pointed out that Jack Majerus used "South Eden" as a clear definition of where he had lived. Accordingly, Jack's wife Irene had "South Eden" on her license plates so we can safely conclude her position on this topic. Jack and Irene's children still use the term.

The Post Office

Probably most significant in ushering the use of "South Eden" is a source indicating a South Eden Post Office. Richard Bartell of Oakfield has done considerable research on the unique aspects of local history, including post offices. His information preserved shows South Eden as a one-year-wonder of a post office. "Established June 17, 1878, with Samuel M. Kuter [as postmaster] and discontinued October 29, 1878. It was located in Section 20, T14N R18E in Eden

The U.S. government created a surveying and grid system upon the creation of the Northwest Territory in the 1780s. Townships usually were 36 square miles. In time, new villages and cities or unincorporated areas developed over the original township. In the case of Eden, Marblehead's sprung up in sections 6 and 7, and the village of Eden has expanded into parts of sections 8,9, 16 and 17. However, when compared to other townships, Eden has a vast landscape without a mapped location (as shown by sections with an X). In contrast, both the townships of Lomira and Ashford have five mapped locations. Such a vacancy suggests there is room to put South Eden on the map.

Township."

Mr. Kuter matches a Samuel Monroe Kuter (1843-1929) buried in Reinzi Cemetery, whose spouse was Emeline Odekirk (1852-1923). Findagrave suggests they married in 1871, which might explain why Samuel was in South Eden in the 1870s. Odekirk is still a common name in Eden Township, including the name of the cemetery east of F & V's intersection. However, Emeline's parents are buried in Reinzi too, so this branch of Odekirks might have been more partial to Fond du Lac than Eden.

So why was Emeline buried in Reinzi? The 1880 publication, The History of Fond du Lac County, was very helpful. In a paragraph on James J. Odekirk, it defines the early settler who came from New York after marrying his wife Almira Kelyer in 1846. This source explained that they had two children, Alice and "Emma (now Mrs. S. M. Kuter)," (p.986-7) This citation matched Emeline Odekirk with her father, but also explained Emma had three deceased siblings: Harriet (1847-1847), James (1848-1853) and Julia (1857-1857). This was interesting, as the father of these three children are buried with his three prior deceased children at Reinzi Cemetery. However, this is also the same man ("J.J. Odekirk") who in the 1874 plat map owns the farm around what today is known as Odekirk Cemetery. The information brings up the predicament of where a farmer should bury his child in 1847 when there was no fitting place nearby for burial. Thus, all of James J. Odekirk's children are buried in Reinzi, and not on his farm on highway F east of V, even though that has become known as Odekirk Cemetery. Did he choose Reinzi because there was no closer option in 1847?

Now, back to the concept of South

Campbellsport native Chelsea Schmidt feels she has found her calling teaching abroad. Chelsea has been teaching at Gunangdong County Garden School in China for three years and she loves it. She teaches English to third grade students and is one of the approximately 150 international teachers at the school. Chelsea graduated from Campbellsport High School in 2009 and earned a degree in elementary education and special education at UW-La Crosse. She taught for two-and-one-half years in Wisconsin before taking the position in China. The school is a boarding school with about 80 percent of the students living there during the year. Sitting on approximately 82 acres, the school has about 4,300 students and 600 teachers.

David Mowry, a Campbellsport Village Board trustee, served his last meeting as a board member. He will be moving out of the village.

At the Village of Campbellsport meeting, Dustin Brown of D&D Precision Cuts asked the board for an advance on his fee for cutting trees in the village. He had been hired in August to cut down ash trees in both parks, and had originally told the board the job would be finished some time in October. He is still working on the project. Brown said the job is bigger than he "was picturing" but said the job will get done. The board voted unanimously to wait to pay Brown until the job is done.

Village of Campbellsport President David Krebs gave a progress report for 2018 and looked ahead to 2019 in a column this week. David said the transition from a lead wastewater operator in the sewer department to contracting the operation to Midwest Contract Operations has been smooth. He said the village improved financially in 2018 and that should continue this year without any major unexpected expenses.

Make Eden Great Again was Cory St. Mary's slogan when he took over the village of Eden presidency in April 2017. In his 2018 progress report and looking ahead to 2019, Cory said he knew one person could not accomplish things without the support of the village board and community. He thanked everyone for their hard work. The $1.1 million sewer project replacing the main sewer line and laterals made a big impact on the village and difficult for day-to-day operations. Road work will begin in March on Fond du Lac Avenue and Main Street.

Pictures of the Campbellsport News Christmas Coloring Contest appeared in this issue. Winners were Drake Andrew in the 0-3 age group, Easton Ernisse in the 4-7 age group, and Ellie Sippel in the 8-12 age group.

The St. Matthew's preschool and daycare youngsters had a mission to brighten the day of Epiphany, January 6, for the School Sisters of St. Francis who live at St. Joseph Convent. Little king lunch bags were made and a treat was placed inside. Through donations and memorials, 202 bags were distributed.

Members of the Campbellsport Board of Education voted to extend school by one day because of the snow days accumulated in December. Students will now be attending classes on Tuesday, June 9. In addition, the board approved eliminating the early release scheduled for May 13, meaning students will attend a full day of classes that day. The district had three snow days in December. At this time, the district had enough instructional hours to meet state mandates. The board was worried there would be more snow days in the future since it is only January.

Chris Schanen had questioned almost a year ago why there were two blood drives for two different organizations in one week since a person can't donate blood more than once every eight weeks. He knew something better could be organized with a little work and determination. With the help of the Campbellsport Lions Club, Chris set up a blood drive donation schedule that alternated donation dates with the BloodCenter of Wisconsin and the American Red Cross. The Campbellsport Lions Club pays for the marketing materials, pocket calendars, and promotional signs for the blood drives. Other local sponsors include the American Legion, Immanuel Lutheran Church, Hometown Bank, and the Knights of Columbus. A blood drive will be held January 15.

Campbellsport's wrestling team rallied from a 33-12 deficit to beat Shawano 39-35 in the opening dual of the Port Washington Duals on January 3.

There will be competition on the April 6 Campbellsport School Board ballot to represent the Town of Forest and the Town of Greenbush. Mike Bowe has filed papers and will be opposing previously announced Nick Schneider. Bowe operates Bowe Implement near Mt. Calvary.

On Monday evening, the Campbellsport Village Board unanimously approved the purchase of a 1999 Pierce Quantum Aerial Ladder Truck for the Campbellsport Fire Department in the amount of $468,846. The quoted price was $475,852, but the Village took advantage of the prepay options on the chassis and aerial ladder unit that saved some money.

At the Campbellsport Village Board meeting, Village President Rick Heisler provided the board with an update from Wisconsin Central Ltd. Railroad of a possible track abandonment, which would include the West Bend-Kewaskum-Campbellsport-Eden route.

Wrestling Alumni Night will be held January 5. The Cougars will host the Indians of Kewaskum in a non-conference showdown. All Cougar Wrestling Alumni will be admitted free of charge and will be honored before the varsity match.

During December, the Family and Community Service Organization of Campbellsport High School sponsored a drive for mittens, gloves, scarves, and hats. A total of 707 items was collected, exceeding the goal of one item donated for each student and staff member. The items were donated to Friends Aware of Violent Relationships, the Bethany House, and the Salvation Army. More than 500 items were collected during last year's drive.

Jennifer Sterr's design was chosen from a field of 94 entries for the Village of Kewaskum's 125th Anniversary celebration. Jennifer receives a $1,000 prize package for designing the winning logo. The Kewaskum Historical Society held the contest. Sponsors of the prize package were Dairy Queen, Fifth Quarter, Hon-E-Kor, and Tannies Ace Hardware. Submissions included computerized images as well as hand-drawn designs. Judges chose the winner based on how the overall concept reflects Kewaskum, its history, and the spirit of the village.

A group of Kewaskum High School show choir alumni gathered on December 31 at KHS to watch current members of the Noteables rehearse. This is the second consecutive year that a show choir reunion was held during a December 31 rehearsal.

On January 5, the Kewaskum High School Mock Trial team competed in the Franklin High School Mock Trial Competition. The KHS team finished third out of 28 teams, going a perfect 3-0, defeating Oregon, Nicolet, and Whitefish Bay. KHS will have three mock trial teams competing at Regionals on February 9.

The Kewaskum Women's Club presented the holiday decoration awards. Award winners included Tony and Sue Butschlick, Jim and Sue Heisdorf, Terry and Sue Heberer, Shelley Hebert, Richard and Jenifer Blank, Mike and Jenney Fusek, Lawrence and Pat Moye, David and Ellen Otter, and Richard Kapfenstein.

A time of giving was demonstrated by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce. The members have been busy lately. They knitted hats and scarves, which were given to the Kewaskum Elementary School. The organization also made two monetary donations - the $40 Chamber member Sarah Tye collected in tips while face painting at the Chamber's craft show and the $447 collected during the Chamber's Cookie Hunt was donated to the Kewaskum Community Pantry.

Dairyland Seed has announced the national and state winners for its annual Corn Silage Yieldmaster Contest. First place for the Wisconsin Corn Silage Yieldmasters award went to Murph-Ko Farms, Inc., located near Eden, with 36.85 tons/acre with HiDF-3510SSX.

Of the three Kewaskum wrestlers who reached the semi-finals of the Mid-States Classic, Eric Bauer won his weight class of 160. Tanner Goeman placed second at 170 and Braden Maertz placed third at 145.

Kewaskum's boys basketball team earned its first victory of the season on December 28, beating Living Word 70-62.

The Lady Indian basketball team placed third at the Kiel Tournament on December 28.

U.S. Senator Russ Feingold listened to constituents at his Washington County listening session, which was held at the town hall in the Town of Farmington on January 5. According to Feingold's staff, approximately 20 people from the county attended, with topics including financial bailout and the economy, labor issues, job creation, terrorism, and education issues.

Enrollment in the Kewaskum School District is expected to increase by four students for the 2009-10 school year. The school's finance committee was also told at the meeting that there is an anticipated $910,410 increase in the district's revenue limit, which could ultimately mean a tax levy of $9,630,010.

The Town of Kewaskum has three people running for two supervisor positions. Incumbents Allen Hron and Daniel Schmidt will be opposed by Glenn G. Goodearle. In the Village of Kewaskum, trustee Kevin Scheunemann will try to unseat the current village president, Andy Pesch.

Kewaskum native Rochelle Pennington's book, An Old Fashioned Christmas, concentrates on Christmases from the 1930s, 1940s, and 1950s. With help from her son, Nicholas, Rochelle was able to finish the book in just under three years.

Playing in the Bradley Center was a great experience, but the varsity Lady Indians lost a 40-36 heartbreaker and the varsity boys team fell 55-42. Both teams played against Beaver Dam.

A lack of execution by the Lady Indians led to a 43-34 non-conference loss to Random Lake on January 6.

Kewaskum's wrestling team placed fourth out of 57 schools at the Lourdes On The Waters Wrestling Classic in Oshkosh December 29 and 30. Cody Seibel was champion at 189. P.J. Krueger at 285 and Matt Buker at 215 placed second.

A son, Ranen James, was born December 22 to Jenell Thierfelder and Jason Enright of Kewaskum. A son, Lewis Charles, was born December 23 to Christa and Jesse Williams of Kewaskum. A son, Cody John, was born December 29 to Chad and Jill Smith of Kewaskum.

The Kewaskum Indians garnered their fifth victory in six games as they defeated the Campbellsport Belles 42-20 in front of a good-sized crowd of fans. The Kewaskum Papposes came out on top of the Belle Juniors in a battle that was nip and tuck until the closing minutes. The score is not known.

Frankie Yankovic, better known as America's Polka King, is from Cleveland, Ohio. He and his Yanks, as well as Sammy Madden, a former graduate of Boys Down, and his famous radio and recording orchestra will make a personal appearance at Schwartz Ballroom in Hartford on January 20.

Ella Eberle, relief operator at the Kewaskum exchange of the Middle States Telephone Company of Wisconsin, Inc., retired on December 31, in accordance with the company's policy on retirements.

Washington County's new and re-elected officials took office on January 3. Alvin Bunke, Barton, is the new undersheriff selected by Sheriff Naumann. The new sheriff also re-appointed the special deputies who had served under Sheriff Ray Koth. Included is Carl Schaefer of Kewaskum.

Two members of a family sustained minor injuries and a third suffered from shock when an oil burning furnace in the basement of the Jos. Mayer home on First Street in this village suddenly exploded with terrific impact Thursday evening.

Kewaskum firemen responded to a chimney fire call at the Otto Bartelt farm in the Town of Auburn. The only damage was a cracked chimney.

A son, Eugene, was born January 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Ebert of Kewaskum.

Regina Kleinhans, 92, Elmore, passed away January 4. Albert Wernicke, 65, Town of Wayne, passed away January 4.

me as much as I need them. Red will be two in April, and I have decided to have pups with her. I am currently looking for a tough-as-nails stud that has it together mentally as well.

If you know of a good stud or are looking for a pup let me know.

JUNE 2023

The group of people that make up our duck and deer camp, as well as many other fun events in a years' time, headed north of the border for our annual fly in fishing trip. My dad started this back in 1982 and myself, as well as my brother Mike, were there then and still are.

We have so much fun that it is almost unbelievable and the scenery and total isolation is right up our alley.

I got my start as a writer back in '89 while I was working in this industry for the same fly in "Chimo Lodge and Outposts."

OCT. 2023

Montana elk hunt!

I have to admit, I am now also addicted to the mountains and elk/mule deer hunting.

I returned this past October for nine nights in the mountains of chasing elk, being very physical and loving every moment of it. Very bad luck came my way when on opening morning of my hunt a pack of six wolves moved in to the mountain range that I was hunting and after that I did not see a sign of an elk.

With snow on the ground and elk leaving a large track each, day it became more obvious that I was hunting something that was not there.

NOV. 2023

Deer camp is like duck camp, which is like our

Canada trip.

A large group of people get together that really enjoy each other and give it everything that they have to harvest as many bucks as possible.

From northern Juneau County to parts east, west, and north a wolf population that is unmanaged is taking out members of the deer herd in the deep forests and marshes.

Our group of 21 hunters harvested one four-point buck.

DEC. 2023

One of the proudest periods of my life, Selina graduated from UW-Stevens Point with a degree in fisheries and aquatic sciences and another in water resources. She also obtained a minor in soil science. Selina also earned The Chancellor's Leadership Award, which, until I was at the ceremony the night before graduation, I had no idea how big of a deal it was.

In closing, there were 36 trips that I did not write, my health is excellent and like when this column started back in 1989, I just keep moving forward.

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS FOR EXCLUSIVE NAMING RIGHTS FOR THE NEW FOND DU LAC COUNTY OUTDOOR FAIRGROUNDS STAGE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Fond du Lac County is seeking proposals from a public or private business/association that engages in substantial business in Fond du Lac County, for the exclusive naming rights for a new outdoor performance stage to be located at the Fond du Lac County Fairgrounds, 520 Fond du Lac Avenue, Fond du Lac, WI. The outdoor stage shall be used during the Fond du Lac County Fair held in July as well as for other approved events/uses during the year. The purpose of this Request for Proposal is to associate a public or private business/association name with the outdoor performance stage. This opportunity will create a partnership between the business/association and Fond du Lac County.

Current funding sources for construction of the outdoor stage are not sufficient to complete the stage. This Request for Proposals is seeking a minimum of $300,000 for the exclusive naming rights of the stage. The naming of the stage will comply with the Fond du Lac County policy on naming rights (Appendix A) located on www.fdlco.wi.gov. The successful proposer will enter into an agreement with Fond du Lac County for a term of 15 years.

Please visit www.fdlco.wi.gov for the complete RFP and requirements. Questions related to this request for proposal and instructions to bidders maybe requested via email to Erin.Gerred@fdlco.wi.gov. Proposals will be accepted until 2:00 pm, January 18, 2024.

Fond du Lac County reserves the right to reject any and all proposals and the right to disregard all nonconforming proposals. If the project is awarded, it shall be awarded to the proposal that will best serve the interests of Fond du Lac County.

On December 28, Campbellsport lost, 44-57, to Sheboygan Falls.

The Cougars (3-8, 1-4) held a 22-16 lead at the 6:30 mark in the first half over the Falcons (4-6, 2-3).

"We started off [with good] attention to our details, and our energy continued into the early part of the second half," said Head Coach Ethan Elliott.

Campbellsport was leading, 29-28, at the halftime buzzer.

Campbellsport went on a 5-0 run to start the second half for a 34-28 lead at the 14:33 mark.

Sheboygan Falls used its full-court pressure to go on a 20-0 run over the next 10 minutes to take control of the contest. The Falcons jumped out to a 48-34 lead.

The Cougars ultimately lost, 44-57, but they were supported by their alumni during the evening, which were welcomed guests for Alumni Night.

Ethan Pickering's 10 points led Campbellsport on the evening. "It was great to have the Campbellsport basketball community to come out support our teams on a special night with our alumni being celebrated," said Elliott.

Campbellsport goes on the road to start the new year at Lomira on January 5.
