Campbellsport Girls Basketball Beats Rival Kewaskum

BEN PRIESGEN
JOURNALIST

On November 21, Campbellsport girls' basketball beat Kewaskum 48-45 in their non-conference, rivalry matchup.

Kewaskum (0-1) jumped out to an early 9-3 lead, thanks, in part, to Cameron Boelte scoring six points in the first three minutes for the Indians.

Campbellsport responded with a 7-0 run highlighted by back-to-back baskets from Ava Sabish to take a 10-9 lead at the 12 minute mark in the first half.

The Indians went on their own scoring run of 10-3 to take a 19-13 lead with five minutes left in the first half.

'Love Lights' Tree Lighting is December 4

Interested people can still help light up the Holiday Trees at Campbellsport Mill Pond Park. "Love Lights for the Holiday" are available for purchase until December 4, and may be purchased for $5 each to remember anyone you wish this holiday season by contacting Shirley Simon at 920-979-8704.

The tree lighting ceremony will be held at the gazebo, weather permitting. If weather is inclement, we will meet in the fire station. The gathering will begin at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 7, to hold a brief ceremony with area clergy attending, and a chime rung for each name read. We will proceed to the front of the trees with a moment of silence.

Then with a vigorous countdown, flip the switch to light the community "Love Lights for the Holidays" trees with all our love for all our loved ones! We will conclude the ceremony with joyous Christmas carols.

Thank you for your support, and keep the "Love Lights" burning in your hearts not only for the holiday season but throughout the New Year! The trees will remain lighted throughout the holidays.

The Great Game: Humanity, AI, And The Battle For Control

Dear Reader,

As we venture further into the age of AI, there's a prevailing narrative that suggests humanity, with all its flaws and frailties, is destined to be overtaken by the cold, calculating logic of our creations. But to assume that AI will inevitably dominate is to underestimate the indomitable spirit of human nature, especially the cunning and strategic brilliance that has shaped our history.

AI, with its unmatched processing power and immunity to the temptations that ensnare humans, might seem poised to take control. But here's where the story gets more interesting: There are those among us—self-designated chess masters, if you will—who see the world not as a foregone conclusion but as a complex game where every move matters. These are the thinkers, strategists, and visionaries who understand that while AI may operate on logic, it lacks the depth of human experience, the instinct for survival, and the capacity for deception when necessary.

Consider the likes of Machiavelli, whose understanding of power dynamics transcended mere brute force. He recognized that true power lies in the subtle manipulation of perception, the art of appearing one way while acting another. In this context, AI might be the perfect logical machine, but it's playing a game designed by humans—a game where the rules are as fluid as they are complex.

We humans, despite our apparent weaknesses, have an edge that AI cannot replicate: our ability to think beyond logic, to strategize with a long-term vision, and to use our very flaws as tools in the grand chessboard of existence. It's this combination of intellect, experience, and unpredictability that makes us formidable players in the game of power.

Yes, AI might believe it has the upper hand, viewing our world as one ripe for the taking. But it must also contend with those of us who are prepared to challenge it, to subordinate its capabilities in service of a greater good. We will not sit idly by as passive spectators in our own story. Instead, we will push hard to ensure that AI, for all its power, remains a tool—one that advocates for good, not for the kind of malevolent forces that history has shown us, be they tyrants, frauds, or any who would seek to exploit power for evil.

The real challenge, then, is not just in creating AI but in mastering it, in ensuring that it serves humanity rather than replaces it. This is not a simple battle of logic versus emotion, but a complex and ongoing game where every move matters and the stakes are nothing less than the future of our world.

In the end, AI may be powerful, but it is we, the self-designated chess masters, who will dictate the rules of the game. And as long as we remain vigilant, strategic, and committed to the greater good, we can ensure that the future, while shared with AI, is still very much under human control.

Not putting the holiday down. Just stumped. First is the inexplicable rush to get by what seems merely an obstacle, a hurdle to leap on the way to Christmas. While Thanksgiving hasn't come or gone, we're prepped for the next in line. Cannot get to the Yuletide fast enough.

Rather expected lights to go up on village lampposts in the near future. Just not quite so soon. But it also begs a question – How thankful are we? Only one day in the entire year when proper gratitude is publicly on display. And then, it appears a don't slow me down now hindrance.

Reason it comes to mind is how spoiled our society's gotten. We take for granted such things as our freedom. Constitution's always been there, so personal liberty will be too. Woke up alive this morning, gonna do the same tomorrow. Nobody knows that for sure. Mebbe, getting older garners what's called wisdom. Post priori knowledge, experience gives fresh insights. Leastwise, the one mentioned in a country song about how we should "live every day as if it's your last."

When I first got a diagnosis of Parkinson's/TD, thought okay, life's pretty much over. Took it as a death sentence. Being into my 60s. But then, Allan Alda said "I think of all the things I still can do. Not what I can't." Similarly, I drive, walk, talk (too much) and write.

Somebody frowned when I described the condition as a blessing. Then explained it got me in touch with emotions I had not felt in years. Walking around, a cold, aloof observer, an unsympathetic guy who watched his own years pass without feeling any real connection to events.

No more. Gratitude begins every morning when my feet hit the floor. "Thank you God for another day. Another chance to do right what I didn't yesterday."

Absolutely priceless.

Jagler Statement on Department of Public Instruction School Report Cards

On November 19, State Sen. John Jager (R-Watertown) responded to the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI) release of school report cards for the state. The report cards come after controversial decision this summer to adjust the scores for the State Forward Exam and reconfigure how schools are graded by the state.

"The state report cards have been rendered useless by the actions of DPI and State Superintendent Jill Underly, a move even panned by Governor Evers." said Jagler. "There is no doubt we have great schools in Wisconsin but when 94 percent of school districts are graded as met expectations or above, there is little to no useful information to be gathered from these. With literacy rates falling, absenteeism rising and violence in our schools, any rational person would be hard pressed to say 94 percent of our schools are meeting expectations. Once again, the adults in charge are failing our kids."

The school report cards were created to give parents a transparent view of their schools to make the best decisions for their kids. Legislators and state agencies rely on the report cards to make informed decisions about allocation of resources and management of our schools.

"They have changed the dials behind closed doors with the goal, I believe, of giving the illusion of student achievement while our kids continue to suffer." Jagler continued, "we will need to take a hard look at the report cards this session and how DPI is managing them. They have clearly lost a connection to the parents who want to see what's best for their kids."

Sen. Jagler serves as Chair of the Senate Committee on Education and represents the 13th Senate District covering all or parts of Adams, Columbia, Dodge, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Jefferson, Marquette, Waushara and Winnebago Counties.

Correction

In the November 14 edition of the Kewaskum Statesman, in the article on the new location of Kewaskum Family Dentistry, the wrong date was printed for their upcoming open house. It is taking place on Friday, Dec. 6, not Saturday, Dec. 7. We apologize for the mistake.

With Gratitude and Thanks from the Northern Unit

FRIENDS OF THE KETTLE MORAINE

On Tuesday, November 12, the Friends of the Kettle Moraine held its Annual Meeting/Volunteer Appreciation event at the Roadhouse in Dundee. At this event, the Friends board of directors and the Kettle Moraine State Forest – Northern Unit’s superintendents, Samantha Lindquist and Joe Giesfeldt, shared their gratitude and thanks for the dedicated volunteers who gave of their time, talents, and efforts to make the Northern Unit shine.

Ten couples and three individuals stepped into the role of Camp Hosts at either the Long Lake, Mauthe Lake, or Horse Riders campground where they greeted campers, performed light maintenance, and served as extra eyes and ears for the Forest staff. They received praise for the 1,778 hours of service they logged over this past camping season.

Several workday events happened over the year including the Work Play Earth Day and inaugural Invasive Species Awareness Day both sponsored by the Friends of the Kettle Moraine. The forest rangers conducted numerous Trail Stewardship Workdays at the Lizard Mound State Park and on the New Fane Bike Trails.

Bob Blackburn, and Joanna and Randy Parlee received thanks for the 110 hours they gave as Trail Stewards. They traversed “their trails” sharing information with the Northern Unit staff about maintenance needs and seasonal occurrences on the trail.

The Forest Superintendents expressed their gratitude to the Friends of the Kettle Moraine for their financial support of the newly completed accessible kayak launch at Mauthe Lake, the improvements to the Tamarack Trail, and bird window deterrents at the Ice Age Visitor Center.

They also expressed their appreciation for the group’s on-going work on the Ice Age Visitor Center Vegetation Rehabilitation Project and invasive species control throughout the Forest.

It not only takes individual volunteers, but many partner groups working with the Forest staff to keep the Northern Unit in great shape. The Forest superintendents highlighted with gratefulness several of these partner groups and their projects.

- The Northern Kettle Moraine Horse Trail Association completed a variety of improvements to the Horse Riders Camp including purchasing and installing premier corrals, 22 fire rings, and a horse washing station. The group also completed pre- and post-season clean up of the campground and facilitated a 15-mile Mauthe Lake Loop trail extension.

- The Northern Kettle Moraine Nordic Ski Club efforts for maintaining and grooming the Greenbush cross-country ski trails received thanks as well as the group’s donation of an overhead door on the grooming shed.

- Sheboygan County Cycling conducted many workdays to improve the mountain biking trails at Greenbush along with grooming the trails for winter cycling.

- A new group, New Fane Biking Association, is in the process of becoming a 501(c)3 organization with a purpose of maintaining and improving the New Fane mountain bike trails. The Forest staff looks forward to working with this group.

- Three young men completed their Eagle Scout projects. Myles Jacobi coordinated the construction of a new information kiosk with a pollinator garden outside the Forest Headquarters. Logan Christy’s project involved coordinating the construction of a similar kiosk at the Greenbush Group Camp. Ben Mittag, a mountain biking enthusiast, directed the installation of a bike wash station at the New Fane mountain bike trailhead.

The Kettle Moraine Stewards, an off-shoot of the Friends of the Kettle Moraine, received thanks for their 260 of service. Connie Ramthun led a crew of 46 folks who pulled, cut, and sprayed invasive species in the Haskell Noyes and Spruce Lake Bog State Natural Areas, Greenbush prairie, and at the Ice Age Visitor Center.

Mike McFadzen, Friends of the Kettle Moraine President, extended his thanks to Friends’ Board of Directors for their service and dedication to the group. He also shared his personal appreciation to all of the Northern Unit volunteers.

Jackie Scharfenberg, Friends of the Kettle Moraine’s Administrative Assistant, extended her thanks to the seven bakers who provided sweet treats for the bake sales at the three Dinner and Show events held over the summer.

The Friends’ biggest event of the year, the Leaf Stomp, would not have been possible without the 42 folks who helped on October 12, and the wonderful team who helped pull everything together for the event. One hundred eighty people registered with 158 showing up on the day of the event to hike one of four routes along the Ice Age National Scenic Trail through the Kettle Moraine State Forest – Northern Unit. The Friends raised about $5000 which will go towards projects within the Northern Unit. Jackie extended her heartfelt thanks to everyone who made this inaugural event a terrific success including the sponsors: a generous Friends’ member, C.D. Smith Construction, 4imprint, Kettle Moraine Angels, Thrivent, Laatsch’s Piggly Wiggly, Russ Darrow West Bend, Gibbville Cheese, Drexel Building Supply, Schreiber Foods, and Sargento.

As you can see, it takes a lot of hands to keep the Kettle Moraine State Forest – Northern Unit a shining gem in the Wisconsin State Park System. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact the Forest staff at (262) 626-2116 or the Friends of the Kettle Moraine at (920) 313-1566 or friendsofthekettlemoraine@gmail.com.

Making Spirits Bright This Weekend

Local businesses are coming forward to generate money for Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club, on Saturday, November 30.

Angie Krejcarek, owner of AngChella Dyan Photography (www.AngChellaDyan.com) is joining forces with Handy Andy Handyman Services (www.HandyAndyHandymanServices.com) to host an event celebrating families this holiday season, Making Spirits Bright. Proceeds will benefit Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club.

To celebrate area families, AngChella Dyan Photography is offering limited edition sessions for families on Saturday, November 30. $150 of the photographer's creation (session) fee will be donated to the Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club who is essential in backing the Campbellsport High and Middle School's clubs and sports programs.

AngChella Dyan Photography is known for their creativity, and these limited edition portraits will result in images of area families that are a fresh, current twist on traditional portraits.

"Most of us have a selfie of ourselves with our family in front of the Christmas tree or holiday decorations. I want my clients to have something tangible instead of just a social media post. I've created a beautiful holiday set so these pieces of art will be something you'll want to bring out each year at Christmas time as a part of your holiday decor and displayed as your children grow," said Angie Krejcarek.

The "Making Spirits Bright" event is happening at AngChella Dyan Photography's Studio on Saturday, November 30, starting at 8 a.m. Only a few sessions are available, by appointment only. Please call (262)204-7861 to inquire about availability.

Angie Krejcarek is a boutique photographer and artist specializing in capturing the magic of families, maternity and newborns, kiddos and seniors, as well as boudoir. It's her mission to transform the stunning images she creates with her clients into custom artwork that'll make their walls dazzle, leaving the client and their family feeling cherished, empowered, and wrapped in love every time they step into their home.

For Angie, the best part about being a boutique photographer is being able to serve her clients through the entire journey. Between the welcome call, the in-person consult, the photo session, and choosing the wall art, Angie is there for it all.

Angie discovered her love for boutique photography when, a couple years before her 15-year anniversary, with one teen and one soon-to-be teen at home, she noticed that not a single photograph graced her walls. Although she had the digital files, their locations eluded her. This realization led Angie to be inspired to ensure her clients would never experience the same disappointment. So, it brings Angie pure joy to serve her clients in a way that turns their memories into fabulous wall art.

AngChella Dyan Photography is located in the charming Campbellsport, WI and serves the community there and as far around as Oshkosh to Menomonee Falls and all the beautiful communities around and in between. AngChella Dyan Photography loves to serve their community and surrounding areas, and what better way to do that than by giving back. Angie Krejcarek even goes on to say, "there are so many clubs, organizations, and charities, not to mention the individuals and families that are in need of help. As a business, it's our responsibility to help in any way we can. And, we're proud to be working with the Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club this year."

This year the goal for AngChella Dyan Photography is to raise $2100 to benefit the Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club. "We are funded strictly through our fundraising, [so] we are thrilled to partner with an organization that is dedicated to helping us support our clubs and athletes", said Jodie Ksioszk, president of the Campbellsport Cougar Booster Club. Jodie Ksioszk goes on to say, "we are [also] excited for families to create lasting memories together by participating in this event."

Campbellsport's (0-1) Josie Twohig made a long two pointer to make the score 5-4, in favor of Ozaukee, (1-0) early in the first half.

Kiera Laverenz hit a jumper at the 11:21 mark in the first half to stop a 6-0 Indians' run with Ozaukee holding an 11-6 lead.

The Cougars got a three pointer at the top of the key from Hadlee Rohlfs with 7:52 on the first half clock to make the score 17-11 in favor of the Indians.

Twohig had a nice steal with her full-court defense which led to a basket, followed by two baskets by Ava Sabish to give Campbellsport a nice 6-0 run with the score 22-17 for Ozaukee holding the lead.

The Indians went on a 5-0 run to end the first half for a halftime score of 27-17 in favor of Ozaukee.

Campbellsport got two baskets from Laverenz to put the score at 33-23 with the Indians leading at the 14:54 mark in the second half.

Kewaskum High School Casts a Line with New Fishing Team and Partnership

The Kewaskum School District is excited to announce the launch of its new high school fishing team! This exciting initiative will provide students with the opportunity to develop their fishing skills, learn about conservation, and compete at a high level.

The team will partner with the Wisconsin Ice Fishing Association (WIFA) to gain valuable experience and resources. WIFA is a dedicated organization committed to promoting ice fishing and conservation efforts in Wisconsin. Through this partnership, Kewaskum students can access expert guidance, educational materials, and opportunities to participate in WIFA-sanctioned tournaments.

“We are thrilled to partner with the Wisconsin Ice Fishing Association,” said Nathan Scheel, assistant head coach. “This collaboration will give our students an incredible opportunity to learn from experienced anglers and compete at a high level. We believe this program will not only foster a love of fishing but also instill important values such as sportsmanship, teamwork, and environmental stewardship.”

The Kewaskum fishing team is open to all students in grades 9-12. No prior experience is necessary. Students will have the chance to learn about different fishing techniques, fish identification, tackle selection, and more. The team will practice regularly and compete in various tournaments throughout the year, including WIFA-sanctioned events.

The Kewaskum fishing team is expected to begin practicing in December, weather permitting, and will compete in its first tournament as early as January 11 in the Kettle Moraine area. For more information about the team, to help, or to sponsor, contact head coach Joel Fleischman at 920-979-4045.

DNR Seeking Public Comment on the Draft Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan

Written Comments Accepted Through Dec. 15

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is seeking public input on the draft Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP).

The SCORP describes the supply and demand for outdoor recreation in Wisconsin. The draft Wisconsin SCORP includes an analysis of the motivations for recreating and the barriers Wisconsin residents may experience preventing them from participating in outdoor recreation.

States are required to complete SCORPs every five years to be eligible for participation in the Land and Water Conservation Fund State Assistance Program.

The Land and Water Conservation Fund was enacted by Congress in 1965 “to strength the health and vitality of the United States” through the acquisition and development of outdoor recreation resources and facilities. States are allocated funds as matching (50%) grants for the acquisition and development of public outdoor recreation sites and facilities.

The public is encouraged to submit comments using the online public input form on the DNR’s Wisconsin Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan webpage. Comments may also be sent via U.S. mail, phone or email. Submit comments by Dec. 15, 2024 to:

Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources
C/O John Pohlman, DNR Property Planner
101 S. Webster St.
PO Box 7921
Madison, WI 53707

John.Pohlman@wisconsin.gov or 608-264-6263

Access the online public input form at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/ZMG3KLT>.

Following the close of the public comment period, the department will summarize the input received and adjust the report as necessary before submitting the final report to the governor for his consideration.

2024 Bear Season Results Show Rebound in Harvest and Hunter Success

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) announced preliminary results for the 2024 bear season. This fall, bear hunters harvested 4,285 bears during the five-week season, a rebound from the below-average harvest of 2,922 bears taken during last fall’s bear season.

“Several factors likely led to this season’s increase in harvest,” said Randy Johnson, DNR large carnivore specialist. “In 2023, we saw an incredible amount of acorns and other natural food production. This reduced the effectiveness of baits and translated to a historically low harvest. This year, anecdotes from bear hunters and harvest data suggest less natural food availability than last year. Additionally, last year’s low harvest, coupled with bears entering dens in excellent body condition last fall, likely contributed to an increase in the number of bears on the landscape this fall.”

The 2024 bear season ran from Sept. 4 to Oct. 8. A total of 11,501 bear hunting licenses were awarded to hunters through the license lottery system.

Although the number of licenses was reduced slightly this year, hunter success rates were generally higher than expected, leading to meeting or exceeding harvest targets in most management zones. Statewide, hunter success was about 37%, up from the five-year average of 31%. Hunter success rates in individual zones varied from a high of 71% in Zone A to less than 10% in Zones E and F.

“On average, we expect to see about half of the total bear harvest within the first five days of the season,” Johnson said. “This year, nearly 57% of the total harvest occurred in those first five days, with over 1,000 bears taken on opening day alone. Although the harvest rate returned closer to average during the rest of the season, this strong first week set the stage to meet or exceed harvest targets by season’s end.”

Harvest targets are set to manage the bear population in Wisconsin and are readjusted each year to increase, decrease or stabilize population trends. This means that even when harvest targets are exceeded in a given year, there is little long-term biological risk to bear populations. Population and harvest data are evaluated annually and can be adjusted to meet long-term population management objectives.

Benefits of Bear Hunting

Wisconsin has a thriving bear population, estimated at around 23,000 bears, with a range covering more than half the state. While bears have tremendous cultural and ecological value, they can also conflict with human interests, such as damaging agricultural crops or raiding residential trash and bird feeders.

“Regulated bear harvest is the primary tool we use to manage bear populations and ensure bear numbers remain balanced with their habitat and public preferences,” said Johnson. “It also provides wonderful opportunities to experience nature with the company of family and friends and source sustainable protein.”

Hunters provide critical data from every harvested bear, which informs population monitoring efforts to ensure a healthy and sustainable bear population. Bear hunter license fees also supply key funding for bear management and research activities.

Reminders for Next Year

Hunters wishing to obtain a license or preference point for the 2025 season must apply in Go Wild before the Dec. 10 deadline. State law requires bear permit applicants to apply at least once during any period of three consecutive years to retain their accumulated preference points; otherwise, all accumulated preference points will be lost.

Nearly 135,000 people applied for a bear hunting license or preference point for the 2024 season. To help hunters make hunting plans, a full breakdown of the 2024 bear license drawing results and license wait times is available online.

Visit the DNR’s Bear Hunting webpage to learn more about black bear hunting, ecology and management in Wisconsin.

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR
KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

With the season among us for notes of gratitude, I have so much to be thankful for. The year is not over yet, but this year has been especially challenging with the library move and other factors putting a crimp in our daily operations. Without the support of many individuals, we might not be able to provide all the services and programs that we supply for our community.

If I listed all the names of those I need to thank, I would run out of room. It would be like I won an award, and the orchestra would begin playing during my speech because I went overtime. As it is, I hope I thanked each of you in person and let you know how grateful I am for your support.

Beginning in April with the move, even before that, we saw people coming in off the street and offering to help move. Some people I have never seen before, but now they are library friends. We had helpers from children to older adults and in between, making sure that the library could open on the date we advertised. Although we hired a moving company, to defray extra costs, volunteers got those books back on the shelves in correct order.

Talking about volunteers, these are wonderful people who assisted in many ways this year. Besides helping with the move, there are those with regular duties such as cleaning and programming help who are here for every occurrence. We have had a couple of fundraising events this year (with many more to come next year) and the volunteers were stupendous. The library with its tiny staff would not have been able to have these events without all the help from our citizens.

Besides volunteers, the support for the library in the form of donations has been outstanding. We have a long way to go to get our building as we need it, but we asked, and so many of you stepped up with monetary support. We also received a few donations in the form of goods and services. The generosity of these contributors is genuinely heartfelt.

I am thankful for my hard-working staff who are diligent in making sure that all patrons are served to the best of their ability. They fill in for each other as needed, take on additional tasks that I assign quite frequently, deal with building and patron issues when I am not here and are the friendliest library workers in the state. If you come to our library, you will always be greeted kindly with a smile.

The library board and village board of the Village of Kewaskum make sure we can continue to provide library services for our population. We also have community partners in our municipality who are truly valued.

Lastly, we have the best patrons around. They are patient, voracious readers and understand the importance of lifelong learning. Thank you to all who visit the library and all your support.

A Place Called Fall Camp

Members of The Red Brush Gang filling the shack with firewood for two woodstoves to last the deer season. MARK WALTERS PHOTOS

Setting up camp is an all hands on deck kind of a job.

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

Hello friends,

The next four week's, I will be writing to you about what you could call my hunting camp. My camp is located in The Meadow Valley Wildlife area in northern Juneau County, and this area, with all of the land combined, makes up at least 200 square miles of forest, marsh and paradise. This fall will be the 53rd year in a row that I have watched night become day on opening day of Wisconsin's deer gun season. I have spent many nights camped here, with all of the experiences combined adding up to well over three years of my life.

Saturday, November 9
High 55, Low 37

Today is the day that The Red Brush Gang comes together and builds our camp, cuts our firewood and after the work is done, has one heck of a fun "we built it party." My buddy, Jeff Moll, will be celebrating his 50th year in a row at camp, and today, I ran the splitter, Jeff ran the chainsaw and we made one heck of a lot of firewood. All told, there were 22 of us in camp ranging in age from five to 86.

This week and next, I will write to you about spending time alone at camp with my pups, Ruby and Red, while hunting and simply enjoying camp. I will also touch on some of the experiences that I had over the last 53 years.

Tuesday, November 12
High 48, Low 26

I start every day sitting in a tree hoping a buck will come by and that I would make some meat. This morning, I had a doe come from one direction, and at the same time, a six-pointer, that had no idea the doe was around, was coming right at me from another, as I was hunting near a very hot scrape. As soon as the buck saw the doe, it was chase on and that doe may have saved his life.

This may sound crazy but due to the fact that there are so many wolf in this area, it is pretty cool when you see a buck. I learned a long time ago to just enjoy the view and forced relaxation of sitting in a tree.

I started writing this column when I was 27 and was coming here long before that. Back in the late 80's and early 90's, I would set up shop here in Meadow Valley as soon as our traditional Mississippi River duck hunt was complete, and I would stay at camp until mid-January. I was making $10.00 a week as a writer at first and by '93 was up to $90.00 a week. To keep expenses down, which I still have to watch, I would only go to town once a week and that was to get pictures developed and mail my hand written column to my publisher.

In the winter of '93, I trained at camp to hike The Appalachian Trail and before my backpack arrived in the mail, I carried a seven-foot, 100-pound oak log on my shoulders, through the bush and was in excellent condition. Sometimes I would have female company and in the winter, because the path to my camp is not plowed, I would hook that oak log to my Jeep Eagle and pull it behind the Eagle to level out the trail. To set up a date, I would drive to Babcock and use the pay phone that was on the curve on Hwy 80 for about a billion years.

Think about this, in my time at Meadow Valley, I have watched the return of the wolf, black bear, fisher, turkey and now elk.

At night, at camp, I cook good meals and hangout with the pups, I go to bed early because I get up long before daylight and either sit in a tree or a canoe.

In the 80's and 90's, I was addicted to ice skating and cross country skiing and I always did it after dark with my goldens, Ranger and Ben, and then Ben and Star, and then Star and Pearl etc., etc.

I was so addicted to fall camp and so fricking broke that I literally lived like a homeless person and laid as low as possible and off the land as much as possible.

Like everyone reading this, I am well aware that my years of living with a chainsaw, a shotgun, a tip up, and a rifle are numbered, but I will tell you this, unless I am incapacitated, I will be at fall camp till I can no longer physically do it!

Enjoy life, your days are numbered!
